First Years at Lasell, 1898-1902, from The Journal of Guy M. Winslow

Edited, with an introduction, by

Donald J. Winslow,

Professor of English at Boston University and a member of the College Board of Trustees

On October 8, 1895, a young graduate student at Tufts College began keeping a journal, which he maintained irregularly for seven years, from his twenty-fourth to his thirty-first year. The last entry is dated September 21, 1902. Guy Monroe Winslow had become twenty-three years old on the July 1 preceding his autumn beginning of the journal. The plain, brown common-place book opens with an account of his work for the Gypsy Moth Commission and a list of his summer reading: Haekel's India and Ceylon, Darwin's Origin of Species, Jerome K. Jerome's Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow, Gray's Anatomy, and others. The preceding June he had received his bachelor's degree at Tufts College.

Guy M. Winslow had come from a little village in northern Vermont, Barton Landing (now known as Orleans), where his mother and step-father (Cryen B. Ordway) had enough to do to take care of their two younger children (Earl and Marion) without sending any help to Guy, her third child by Dr. James Monroe Winslow, a physician who had died at thirty-six leaving her at twenty-eight with three children, Inez, Evelyn James (E.J.), and Guy. Step-father Ordway had his own children too. If Guy went on with graduate work, he must do it on his own. His uncle Will Glidden and Aunt Bell were helping; he was living with them in Somerville and had left Bates College after one year in order to have the benefit of the aid offered by his relatives, who lived on Porter Street, near Tufts College. It had been a pleasant enough arrangement. Perhaps the main difficulty was the preoccupation of Uncle Will and Aunt Bell with spiritualism, but this too was to provide material for his journal. Guy was not the only young graduate student in biology who became interested in spiritualism; other Tufts students, particularly his companion in biology, Fred (Fritz) Lambert, as well as some of his instructors were interested in exposing the spiritualists. They used to attend the meetings at the Spiritualist Temple (now the Exeter Theater) on Exeter Street in Boston, where they would on a Sunday evening sit in the front row with opera glasses. On at least one occasion he and Lambert attended a private seance for their own devious purposes.

The graduate work in biology and the anti-spiritualism were two sides of the same coin. Another growing interest in the young man's middle twenties was how to make money fast. This is how the Old Glory Gold Mining and Smelting Company comes into the journal. "Old Glory" is a frequent theme, reaching its noisy climax in a stockholders' meeting in March 1898. Where there was almost no money at all, it is hard to see where investing could become a major project. But money could be scraped together by borrowing from members of the family and by earning a little in reading gas meters in Boston and Somerville.

Along with many discussions on academic matters, reading new books and making comments on them, there were the many opportunities for concerts, lectures, and plays in Boston and Cambridge. Guy's cousin, Jennie Powers, a highly intelligent young girl, lived nearby and frequently went on walks with him, when they had serious discussions on the meaning — or lack of meaning — of life. The Music Hall, the Boston Museum, and the Tremont were centers for famous entertainments, everything from Sousa's Band to Henry Irving and Ellen Terry. Life was full of new things to see, to hear, and to read. And when the opportunity came along, he could attend an operation at the Massachusetts General Hospital, for his scientific interest took a strong leaning toward medicine and surgery.

Throughout this relatively brief journal (there are one hundred and one entries on two hundred and fifty hand-written pages), there is a concern with getting a teaching position, particularly so in the latter part, when he finally goes as an instructor in science to Lasell Seminary. He had considered — perhaps more accurately, been considered for — teaching positions in high schools in Amherst, Malden, Milton, and New Britain, at "a new normal school at Lowell," and there was a vacancy at Oberlin College, but his advising professor at Tufts, Dr. J. S. Kingsley, "says that only a strictly orthodox Congregationalist can get in there so there is no hope for Lambert and me." There had been a chance for a summer trip to Jamaica with Dr. Kingsley, for scientific research, in 1897, but that did not work out. Instead, on August 30, 1897, he went "by wheel" (bicycle) from Fitchburg, Mass., to Windsor, Vermont, about ninety miles, where he stayed for a brief visit with his step-brother, Bert Ordway, now a Universalist minister, and attended Bert's services, one in prison, where "the singing of the song 'Where is My Wandering Boy' was very harrowing." Then he went on to Barton Landing and helped with the haying.

In considering jobs, he preferred to stay at Tufts or to get a fellowship elsewhere. He did stay on another year at Tufts (1897-1898) and completed his Ph.D. in biology in 1898. His doctoral dissertation was The Chondrocranium in the Ichthyopsida, in simpler terms the cartilaginous skull of the salamander. The enlarged models he made in connection with the dissertation are still on exhibit in the American Museum of Natural History in New York City. In December 1897, lacking the necessary ten dollars, he was unable to go home to Barton Landing for Christmas. On July 2, 1898, he says, "Lambert has located in Auburn next year at a salary of $800. I have applications out at Vincennes, Ind., Portsmouth, N.H., Lasell Seminary, Tufts et al." In September he went to Lasell, where his early experiences were excruciating for the bashful young man amidst giggling, even younger, girls. He could hardly have guessed in that first difficult year, longing as he did to escape into medical school training, that he would spend the next forty-nine years of his life at Lasell, becoming principal, finally buying the school from Dr. Bragdon, and eventually becoming president of the incorporated Lasell Junior College. But in September 1898 he was twenty-six years old. The girl he wrote to, Clara Austin of Barton Landing, was still at Smith College. The last entries in his journal were made months apart and were mainly summaries of those first three years at Lasell. By 1902 his brother E. J. was married to Emma Austin and established as a teacher in Auburn, Maine; his step-brother, Bert Ordway, had married Helen Austin, the third of the daughters of Judge Austin of Barton Landing. His older sister, Inez, had obtained a teaching position in Linwood (Whitinsville, Mass.) in 1897. She remained unmarried and in later years served Lasell as a part-time publicity agent. His much younger half-brother, Earl Ordway, and half-sister, Marion Ordway, were both to be closely associated with Lasell in later years. Guy was to marry Clara Austin, who had come to Lasell as a teacher of Latin and English, on June 10, 1903. But the young man's journal had long since been set aside for the briefer kind of pocket diary, more suitable to a busy young man dividing his time between science teaching at Lasell Seminary and studying and instructing in histology at Tufts Medical School.

The following entries from Dr. Winslow's journal are those of particular interest to Lasell. It should be remembered, in reading of his embarrassment in serving at the table, that he was only twenty-six years old at the time and quite inexperienced in the more sophisticated ways of life in a girls' finishing school. Material in brackets has been supplied by the present writer.

I came to Boston and applied for the place here at Lasell. Then after being elected to it I came down on my way home. I came back to Somerville last Friday, Sept. 9th, found Aunt Bell sick again, packed up my goods and came here to Lasell yesterday, Monday, p.m. Mr. Rich [former science teacher] came out today and showed me the apparatus and took me over to the Riverside grounds. He gave me a good many pointers and considerable consolation.

Tonight, after eating only three meals in the institution I had to sit at the head of the table and serve. And on they came with the soup. Now soup is thin stuff and good to fill 'em up on so I was generous at first when, lo and behold, the bottom began to loom up before I got three-quarters round. I tapered down the doses gradually and left only a bit for myself. Of course, the room was so hot that my face got red in the operation. Think of it, eleven girls, and one stylish man to wait upon.

Well, next came the meats and hanged if it wasn't a fish and some sort of beef. The first two orders were fish. Then my ordeal began. Do I know the anatomy of a fish? No one would ever suspect it from the way I carved that poor beast tonight. But finally I sawed off enough hashed fish to make up the two plates and sent it on. The next four were compassionate and all ordered beef. Then came Mr. Raymond's order for fish. I tried a new game. Instead of trying to saw squarely through backbone and ribs, I scooped off one side and made a fairly good job of it. The room was awfully hot. Then a few more orders of beef and another order of fish and it was over. I took beef for mine.

Then came the pudding. I was beginning to learn my job, for I made it come out almost exactly. That was easy. Then fruit closed the supper. — Memorable supper — to me. But after all a good one. It will be "worth money" to me someday to be able to do this trick.

After supper Mr. Bragdon gave us a talk in Chapel. Some of it was so good that I must put it down.

He said:—Now when you have a few moments to spare what are you going to do? Write a long letter home? Don't. Just write a card saying "Got here safely and all right. Will write more Sunday."—Don't write feelings. Keep them to self. Wait a few days. Don't be too intimate with new friends at first. They may be all right but you do not know it yet. Have proper reserve. Do not give out all of your secret life yet. Be courteous and kind. Be friendly as possible yet with a reasonable reserve. Next find someone more homesick ("with more sea-shore around her eyes") than self and be of service to her. Learn to give out and it will return with a sweetness like that of our example, Jesus.

Then go into Gym. and dance. But if your parents would not wish you to dance do not do so. Have the moral courage to do as they would wish you to do. You will see why when the time comes when you do not have a father and mother to guide and advise.

He talked of other things; blinds, electricity, gas, trunks, mail, etc. He made them laugh by several witty sayings and impressed them with what certainly appears real sincerity and good sense.

I am nicely situated in a cozy little room with all that I need to do good work—except sufficient time, and I shall have to make the best of that. So here goes.—

Nov. 6th, 1898. Sunday.—Rainy.

Today has been a peculiar day for me. I seem to be getting some much needed, if also very severe, experience. My embarrassment grows a little less, I think, but it is slowly for even yet, after nearly two months residence, I seldom pass a meal without having my ears burn so that it is noticeable and a cause of sport to the girls.

The experience is very hard. It requires all my courage, sometimes, to go to meals. During the first six weeks here I lost fourteen pounds from the nervous strain.

Today, feeling considerably discouraged at this unpleasant state of affairs, I have been reading over my journals since begun in '95. The recollection of past difficulties reconciles me to those of the present. For with the arrival of new obstacles some of the old have been left behind.

Last year I was sighing for an opportunity to earn money as fast as I was spending it. Now I long for a release from the strain of being laughed at. Next year it will be something new perhaps.

My work in teaching is quite pleasant, and of much value to me. It gives me more confidence in myself and helps me to express myself more perfectly.

This is a part of my previous training which has been very weak, therefore I value this opportunity the more highly. The strain upon my nerves has not yet proved too great for my courage. I have blushed it out and hope for better things in future.

Parts of my work which I do not particularly like are saying grace at table and conducting chapel exercises. These functions are out of my proper field, for my religious views are such that I cannot conscientiously and freely take up the position which is necessary to a thoroughly sincere performance of these duties. However, my poverty may pardon me in conforming to requirements where no more serious harm is to result. But my honesty to myself would prevent a continual occupation of such a position.

Oh, but what friends I have in Dr. Bates [George A. Bates, professor at Tufts Medical School and an Auburndale resident] and his wife! They are like inspiring angels and their house a city of refuge to me in my lonesomeness and trouble. When I once get over blushing there will be much here which I can thoroughly enjoy. It may be slow in coming but once attained it will not have to be repeated, I trust.

Jan. 19, 1899.

Since last recording events in this much neglected journal I have lived two months and a half. Thank heaven that at the end of five months more this year of agony will end. Never in my life have I suffered as during the past four months from the mortification of blushing. Poor fool that I am, it may console me that if there is any virtue in a changeless disposition I have it. For only last Sunday and Monday my violent blushing almost drove me from the dining room. I shrink and cower before the criticizing sneers of these girls as though I were a criminal of the worst description. And they hate me for it, as I do myself. . . .

It makes me ashamed that I have such a strong desire to get away from this place, when I compare my opportunity with that of some of my friends. But it is a fact that my constant desire is to get away from this. Almost anything seems preferable. Farming for a living alone; a mercenary business life; anything to get into an inconspicuous place and be at ease to work. It isn't the work I dislike, but the feeling of embarrassment. It crushes all my ambitions for place or fame or position,—except the reputation for honesty. I am bound by my debts and my agreement for the year; mortgaged to endure torture.

Perhaps it will make me grow to live this way. If this is the way to grow, however, I will stop growing at the first opportunity. Life in Hell is worse than none.

Yet there is much that I really enjoy in this purgatory. My opportunity for study in quiet; getting a start on my debts; getting stocked up with the paraphernalia of civilized society; and getting a little more insight into the business affairs of men and nations. Like every young American I dream of a future usefulness in business and a possible influence in politics.

June 19, 1899.

Six months have gone and the school year is ended. Today I am packing up my goods preparatory to leaving for the summer. My plan now is to spend three weeks at Woods Hole and the rest of the time at home studying medicine. I have practically engaged to return here next year at $650. and found. The last three months of my stay here have been quite pleasant months, though I am not yet entirely master of the situation at table. In general I can keep a cool head but occasionally I get nervous and suffer accordingly.

Lambert has accepted the offer of Tufts to return as instructor at $600.

Tomorrow I expect to be initiated into Phi Beta Kappa and Wednesday attend Commencement exercises.

The most important event in my private life during the last six months has been the determination to study medicine, if I remain here at Lasell. It looks like a long hard task but there seems to be nothing more promising in view just at present.

Jan. 9, 1901. Lasell.

Today we reopen at the Seminary. Clara, Miss Chandler, Miss Nelson and I arrived in Boston at 8 o'clock last evening.

During the past year and a half in which no entries have been made in this journal many interesting and a few important events have taken place.

I have reduced my creditors to four in number: W. I. Powers $360., Abbie Winslow $150., Mary Ordway $150., and E. J. Winslow $100. I have taken the first year's medical work except for dissecting and am well started on the second year's studies.

Each year I have obtained an increase of $50. (only) in salary.

After some effort I have succeeded in having Miss Kendrick given third place on the Chapel list.

More than all Clara is here, and the rest needs not to be written.

During the summer [of 1900] E. J. and I bought a lot at Willoughby and built a boat house while camping opposite.

I have applied for a position in N.Y. City and taken the examinations there.

Bert was married Nov. 27, 1900. E. J. got the Auburn position, and on his way back there this winter came to apply for a position at Melrose. Have not yet heard from him. . . .

My associations here at the Seminary have been most pleasant of late. All the lady teachers have been most kind and friendly. And with slow gains I am overcoming my embarrassment.

Each year gives me more assurance and power. I take up my work again confident in my ability — other things being ordinarily favorable — to maintain a higher standard of work than ever before and to grow faster.

With Clara for partner I accept gladly and hopefully the difficulties before us and promise myself an honest effort to keep well, and to grow, and be of use.

Not yet, even, after two years and three months of Lasell life, am I able easily to sit through my meals when the rest have left my table and so make me more conspicuous than usual. I am becoming convinced that these traits of character are too fixed to be worth fully overcoming by force. Time will make a gradual change and the pressure of my situation will slowly mold me, but the cost is enormous.

Medicine is more in my line. Thither will I bend my footsteps and brainsteps.

Medicine and surgery.

In the few remaining entries young Dr. Winslow writes more of his study of medicine and of his work at Lasell. One day closes with the remark, "According to the rules of the 'Senile Club' I must now retire, 10:40." He is briefly ill and in the Seminary "Hospital," where he receives a "splendid bunch of violets" from the girls of his table as well as pleasant notes from the teachers. He reads Eben Holden, To Have and To Hold, and Her Boston Experience. He loses the New York position. Under August 15, 1901, he writes: "C. C. Bragdon has practically sold out to Prof. Jewett, and sisters Kendrick and Witherbee are gone." The Jewett episode developed into something of a major crisis in the history of Lasell. Perhaps some day the story can be told at length of the litigation and subsequent founding of the original Mt. Ida School by Mr. Jewett with the money he won by his suit against Lasell. This story is not included in Dr. Winslow's journal, but there are a number of surviving memoranda he wrote on the subject.

His journal contains many family notes and the story of his first ride on the Boston Elevated Railway. In 1902 he was offered an instructorship in anatomy at the University of Michigan, but Dr. Bragdon then offered him $1500. and living so that he resigned from the Michigan position before he actually went there. At the same time he was "practically offered" a position as instructor of anatomy at Johns Hopkins at $600 but could not afford to accept it. Times had changed. Opportunities were open on all sides, even including the New York high school place.

On Sunday, September 21, 1902, he writes: "Clara and I arrived here at Lasell last evening. Both of us in better flesh than formerly — she 103 lb. and I, 142. We plan to do a good job on our debts this year. With good health and no unexpected expenses we shall be able to make ourselves very nearly even with the world by next June. Here's hoping we be so." This is the last entry in the journal, and clearly the academic year 1902-1903 was a successful one, for young Dr. Winslow and Miss Clara Austin were married, in Barton Landing, on June 10, 1903. His small pocket diary for the year 1903 contains these brief entries for Wednesday, June 10, and Thursday, June 11: "Married at 10 a.m. Took 1:09 train for Boston. Stayed at Hotel Nottingham. Met Comstocks. Saw Williams about portmanteaus. Took S.S. New England at 10:45 — sailed at 11. Kept in harbor till 4 o'clock by fog. Sailed." Nine days later, with H. H. Powers' University Tour, they arrived in Liverpool and began their summer tour of Europe. Success had clearly arrived and whatever fixed traits of character remained with the young man, his and his wife's future years were already claimed for Lasell.

CLASS NEWS

Mabelle Whitney has mailed to the Alumnae Office a decorative Lasell Seminary seal. The motto and symbols are burned into wood. Miss Whitney spent the summer months in Maine and has returned to Sunny Shores Villas, a retirement home in St. Petersburg, Florida.

1906

Marie Cogswell Gelinsky is now a resident at The Presbyterian Home, Ontario (Malheon County), Oregon. Her son, Mr. Charles Gelinsky, adds "She is enjoying excellent health, her daily cross-word puzzle — but she just got tired (at age 81) of keeping her own house and getting meals. We flew East for her 50th Class Reunion — and we may be in Auburndale for the 60th!"

Mary-Florine Thielens Peeples x-'06, president of The Chicago Alumnae Club, sends an accounting of her summer activities: "My three-month trip was marvelous — Spain, Greece, Vienna, Portugal, Rome, a month in Paris and the special 750th anniversary of Magna Carta in London and Runnymede. I already have given three lectures: more scheduled. As usual, I took many pictures in color. I love to sew, and will soon be busy making up the many materials I brought from Paris, Rome and Greece. Right now (early October) sister Elizabeth (Thielens Miller) is enjoying a cruise to Norway and Sweden: I am getting ready to attend the D.A.R. Diamond Jubilee in Washington."

September 1965

Dear 1914-ers,

First to reply to my recent postcard inquiry was Esther Underwood Evans. Esther is bedridden with advanced emphysema, but her letter of September 9th was cheerful: gave news mostly of her husband, the famous Charles "Chick" Evans, who continues to play an excellent game of golf!

Recently Chick celebrated his 75th birthday: the following quote is from the Chicago American of Sunday, July 18, 1965:

"Chick started caddying at the age of eight and is the only amateur to win the Western Golf Tournament. We couldn't possibly list his many records, but two stand out in my mind. One: he didn't play in the Western Golf this year because, 'I'll be at Esther's bedside all day. She has been bedridden for a year and a half. Esther and I will spend the day admiring each other.'

"The other is the scholarship fund for Caddies which Chick started thirty-five years ago and to which some 50,000 individual golfers have contributed. The first Evans Scholar is a Vice-President of Rand McNally. There are 50 scientists, 60 teachers, 34 doctors, 37 lawyers — but a few of the nearly 17,000 to have been helped by these scholarships."

What a great man loves our Esther Underwood, Lasell '14!!!

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Myrtle Brix Spangler whose husband, Mr. Harrison Spangler, died on July 28, 1965. Mr. Spangler served as National Chairman of the Republican Party in 1943-44.

Sympathy is extended to Dr. and Mrs. Lyndon McCutchen (Gladys Wilkes) in the loss of their daughter, Mary, on October 19, 1965.

Anna L. Cornwall x-'16 was retired in October after serving 25 years as an executive of the Massachusetts Society for Aiding Discharged Prisoners.

Kay Forgie Holman's note to "The 1920 Flappers" was written at Reunion time:

"I have been reminiscing just a bit for I believe in the theory — Reminisce if you will, but don't live in the past. In that vein, I today have been thinking about Betty Stephens Fuller, Peg Perley Downey, Jimmy James Morrison, Kay Rice Broock, Jo Florence Preusse, Marg Hardy Chandler, Maude Tait Moriarty, Helen Prince Russell and my wonderful roommate, Glad Keniston Hughes. I am sure the girls today don't have the fun we did — viz. sneaking sandwiches from the delicatessen via knitting bags.

"We live in Hackensack, New Jersey (17 Maple Avenue), where my husband has a storage and long distance moving business. Our younger son is in the business also and lives nearby — three of his four children are Lasell prospects (I hope). Our older son was lost in the War.

"I hope you are — as Mrs. Martin would say — 'well and happy'; that life has been good to you and that we may meet again at Lasell. Our 1920 Class Motto was 'Others'. I am sure we have all tried to incorporate the meaning in our various services throughout the years. Very best wishes to all."

Later in the summer a Memo from the Desk of: Kay Rice Broock brought a change of address: Apt. #206, 1750 Tiverton Road, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan; and the added note: "The enclosed belong in the archives of Lasell. While packing to move, I found them among my most precious bits of nostalgic memorabilia." The "enclosed" were 1918, 1919, and 1920 concert programs of the Seminary Glee Club, for which Kay served as Leader and Business Manager.

Doris Brown Bergin writes: "Enclosed is a snapshot of Thelma Blossom Ross and myself taken in Thelma's lovely garden in Santa Barbara, California."

1924

Helen Earl Potter x-'24 writes: "May I extend a cordial invitation to all Florida bound Lasell friends. We are now located at 1043C, Apt. 3C Avon, Hillsboro Mile Avon Apts., Pompano Beach, Florida, and we are listed in the telephone book: Charles F. Potter. We continue to enjoy the summer months in Stonington, Connecticut, — just five minutes from the Mystic Seaport Museum."

1925

To continue from the August issue: I'll try to give a "thumbnail catchup" on classmates who attended our 40th reunion:

Barbara Cushing Jenkins, as enthusiastic and versatile as ever, is on the go constantly between the homes of her three sons, who are all married and living in New England. Each of her boys has served his country in a different branch — Army, Navy, and Air Force. Bobby enjoys entertaining her six grandchildren and regrets that there is only one girl to sew for. However, she knits like a professional and her home is a lovely example of old New England charm filled with her own hand hooked rugs and interesting antiques. Bobby also keeps active in a Music Club, Woman's Club, Arts & Crafts League as well as in church work.

Martha Fish Holmes lives in Auburndale almost on "campus", her doctor-husband maintaining his practice in Boston. Martha has three children. Her oldest son, Edgar, graduated in June from Boston University Medical School. Her second son, Stephen, is a teacher and coach at Browne & Nichols School, Cambridge. Lovely daughter, Ann, is now Mrs. Jean Pierre Flatt and lives in Lausanne, Switzerland. Her husband is teaching in a medical school and Ann teaches 4th grade in an English-speaking school. Martha and her husband flew to Switzerland in August.

Estelle Jenney, now secretary to a firm of architects in Boston which designs churches and schools, was another Swiss traveler last year. She visited Interlaken, Berne, Lausanne, Lugano, Weggis and Lucerne; also going by mountain railway almost to the summit of the Jungfrau and by lake steamer to Castle Chillon — what a breathtakingly beautiful trip — she says. Estelle has a 15-year-old foster daughter in Korea, who is studying to become a nurse. They write every other month. Estelle finds this a rewarding experience.

Martha Wilcox Hills lives in Auburndale. Her husband passed away in 1960 and Martha is now a busy secretary to the V.P. of the Newton Savings Bank. Her oldest son, Duncan, was married last year and now lives in Conn. Her youngest, Peter, attends Boston University.

Age does not seem to slow down or change our Helen Black Sprague — she is still running full steam ahead. She lives life to the fullest and with enthusiasm. Among her activities she maintains a large and very beautiful home in Old Lyme, Connecticut, where she is president of the Republican Club. She is kept very busy flying back and forth to Florida to visit daughter Sally, mother of two sons aged 9 and 6. Helen's son, Rockwell, graduated from Harvard and Boston University Law School and is now a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association. He was married in 1964 to Rose Lee Thorn-dike. Helen and her husband are, at the present time, "doing" Europe so more from this busy Lasellite later.

Dorothy Hagadorn Taylor claims that age has got her down but from all appearances she belies this. She appears to be the charming and witty Dot as of yore, and is still playing tennis.

"Nabbie" — Helen McNab Willand, ever thoughtful, ever efficient, seems not to have changed with the years. She keeps busy with community and church activities. She has one son, Allan, who is connected with the Bell Telephone Labs in Holmdel, New Jersey.

Helen Wahlquist Wolcott leads a very busy life in Granby, Connecticut, where she was recently elected to the office of Town Clerk. She runs her own Collection Agency and Income Tax Service. All this as well as maintaining a lovely little five room ranch style home complete with garden. Helen's husband passed away several years ago. Helen tells us that she is also active in the Society of Descendants of Henry Wolcott and attends the annual reunions.

Ginny Smieding Fenn now lives in Marblehead, says she is just "housewifing" and I am sure a very gracious one. She is married to James Pierce Fenn and they have a married daughter, Elizabeth Fenn Spiess.

Ruth Shepard Parmenter now lives in Shrewsbury, Mass. She has three daughters and two grandsons. She keeps in close touch with our Alma Mater as two of her daughters are alumnae — Janet and Linda.

Dorothy Keeler Stewart is one of our modern day business girls — doing IBM data processing. She claims though that she is looking forward to retirement in Pemaquid, Maine, and hopes to resume her artwork.

Lois Bryant Warner is still continuing her secretarial career but now in the field of education. While finding her work in a boy's prep school most interesting, she too is looking forward to retirement — probably in the south. She has one son, a recent Citadel graduate, who is now in Korea.

Subsequent issues will bring interesting news from girls who were not with us at the 1965 June Reunion.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Marion Brown, whose husband, Mr. Louis Schlosser, passed away in 1964. Their son, John, is carrying on the firm, the oldest drugstore in the state of Illinois.

Madeline Roth White and "Herb plan to be in Auburndale for 1926's 40th Reunion. Do hope many classmates will be there!"

On September 11, 1965 in Peoria, Illinois, Maris Jacqueline Bloom, daughter of the late Mariesta Howland Bloom, was married to Mr. Donald S. Logan. Mr. and Mrs. Logan are now residing in St. Louis, Missouri.

Doris Wilson Lehnars x-'28 and Alice Graham x-'28

The Class of '29 is still on the move. We have a new address for Jean Smith: Mrs. Arthur K. Orne, DuPont De Nemours (Deutschland) G.m.b.H., Bismarkstrasse 95, Postfach 2528, 4 Dusseldorf, Germany. In a note to "Zip" Daggett Wilson, Jean writes, "Art has left for Germany. I shall stay here until I hear if we will have an apartment or house, then get busy with the packing — manage one or two trips to Maine in between. Can't wait to tell you about my house guests now asleep upstairs — no less than June Pankhurst Pfeffer and husband, George. A grand surprise for me — they are on route from New York to Georgia. She hasn't changed a bit — full of pep!"

Conkie Chalmers Harlow, bubbling over with good news, dropped in at Ronnie's early in June for a very short visit. She was on her way to Logan to pick up eldest daughter, Dee Harlow Virtue, and new grandchild, Cynthia, from North Dakota and whisk them down to Providence for younger daughter Frances's graduation from Pembroke. Fran, an honor student, was vice-president of the Senior Class. Conkie and family were privileged to attend the traditional token Graduation Service held in the 1775 Meeting House prior to Commencement exercises on "the green."

Conkie is looking forward to a year in Europe. Sailed in late August from Montreal for Scotland. There a visit with relatives at Crief — on to Edinburgh — then the London ferry to Copenhagen — visits with a niece in Belgium and a friend in Nuremburg — on to Switzerland and Italy.

Dorothy Hayward Sutherland has joined the grandmother group with the recent birth of her grandson. William O. DeHart, Jr., "just the happiest little fellow ever." Dot and husband unfortunately ran into the rainy season while they were in Europe, plus the floods in Germany. The last week of vacation proved sunny and warm.

Kay Braithwaite Woodworth writes that daughter Sally is happy and busy at the New England Conservatory, and enjoys the experience of city living. Kay and Bill have sold the Nauset Haven cottages and are now located in a new home in East Brewster (Box #102).

And to prove "hobbies" are rewarding: Alice Pratt Brown "wore a different small orchid each day and won the club championship (golf)!!!"

. . . R.C.C.

Shy Murphy Mackes — wife, mother, grandmother — declares that for her "life is happy, busy, full." One son, French Donald Mackes, is married and has two children; John David Mackes is still in college. Shy is busy as a leader of Retreats and Schools of Prayer and interdenominational speaking engagements. She sends love to all.

Marjorie Hubler Kiefer's older daughter, Susan, is now Mrs. David William Fisher and the proud mother of David H. Younger daughter, Nancy Jo, is continuing her education at DePauw University.

Clare Hightower Moore and husband have enjoyed several trips to Europe in recent years. Their children, Kathleen and David, Jr., are married. Clare is busy with work for her church, Y.W.C.A. and the Historical Society.

1931

Ruth Bee Jackson, currently serving a fourth year as Regent of the Putnam Hill Chapter DAR (Greenwich, Connecticut) is state chairman of Genealogical Records for the fifty-six DAR Chapters throughout the State of Connecticut. In addition, Ruth is recording secretary of the Greenwich Woman's Club and of the Greenwich Hospital Auxiliary. Ruth's name is to be found in the fourth edition of Who's Who of American Women.

1933

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Virginia Ogden Hayes and to Eunice Bassett Ziergiebel. Mr. Carl I. Hayes passed away in early August; Mr. Ziergiebel died in September 1965.

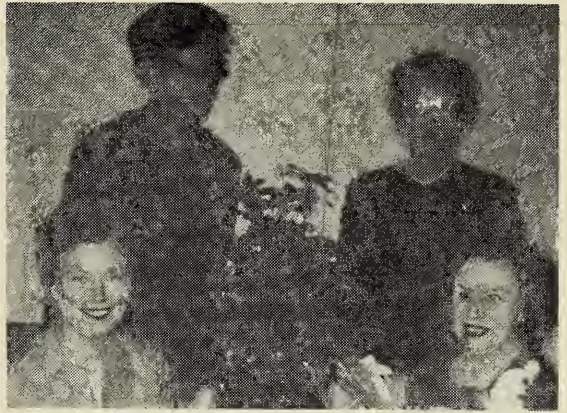

1935

Here's the balance of news (condensed) from Reunion letters. Please bear in mind that these letters were written in the spring of 1965, so refer to last year's activities.

Lydia Barnes Smith writes: "To keep out of mischief, I am attending graduate school at Assumption College in Worcester. This semester I'm taking two courses on Saturdays — the housework is never caught up. Couldn't possibly do all this without my patient, understanding husband. My mother lives with us and gets along quite well for her ninety years."

Ginny Bascom Fay x-'35, who lives in the next town to Lydia (Boylston, Mass.), has three children: Andrew, 18, who will attend Worcester Tech in the fall; Douglas, 15, a sophomore at Wachusett Regional High; and Betsy, 7, a second grader. Ginny teaches Physical Education at Paxton Center.

Jane Brackley Starbird sent her message from Apopka, Florida. She says, "Ed and I have a busy life, working — playing when friends visit us from up-country. We manage to take a month's vacation each year in Maine, visiting my family and in the fall, hunting. When I get real homesick, I fly to Maine for a few days. My folks are still going great guns at age 80. Father operates the factory in Stong, making toothpicks, golf tees, yo-yos and what not. If any Lasell friends come this way, please drop by — would love to see them. Visited with Martha Parsons Lindsay in St. Pete. It was so good to see her, to gab incessantly, to catch up on classmates.

"Just a year ago last December, Jim was transferred to Oklahoma City," writes Dot Charlton Greely. "He is manager for design and construction of Kerr-McGee's offshore drilling and production structures. We spent a few mad weeks house hunting, made the final decision on Christmas Day. Jim goes to Europe frequently, and on one trip this summer I shall go along. Ann enjoys O.S.U., lives in a sorority house and is 'having a ball'! Jimmy is a too active Boy Scout."

Son Allison and daughter Elizabeth keep Marion Cleveland Head busy in Groton, Mass., where she also works five days a week as secretary to her husband, the alumni secretary at Lawrence Academy.

Lynne Dippel Reed x-'35 recently moved from Needham to 50 Keats Road, Millington, N.J. Lynne has two children — Dave, 18, and Connie, six.

At the very last minute Eleanor Gebelein Greene, a busy gal in Laconia (N. H.), cancelled Reunion reservations. Golfing and antique decorating are her hobbies; she is a member of the Woman's Club, Garden Club, League of Women Voters, and is out-going president of the New Hampshire Lasell Club. She writes: "We spent the winter in Sarasota, away from the New Hampshire cold and wind. We also enjoyed a Caribbean Cruise. In addition to an electronics business, my husband has an interest in a local travel agency and has the Muzak franchise in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. Our daughter, a graduate of Dana Hall, has attended Centenary Junior College and plans to transfer to a four-year university. Our son is vice-president of Browning Laboratories, my husband's business. He graduated from Noble and Greenough and attended the University of New Hampshire."

Lucy Johnson Black's letter proves she hasn't changed a bit; she still has that zest for living. She says, in part: "We are now living on an Army Post, where my husband is Post Engineer. We find military life gay and interesting. Only twenty miles from the Border, we have travelled a great deal in Mexico and have had marvelous fishing trips on the Gulf of California. Do wish I had timed my yearly trip home to Virginia so I might join you all for Reunion." Lucy's son, William, is now married and lives in Norfolk, Virginia.

From Akron, Ohio, Esther Joslyn Gross writes: "We are very happy that our son Gil is now located in Rochester, N.Y. There were seven long years at college for him. Just thrilled to have a granddaughter. Will be attending her baptism and christening on June 20th — we are to be Godparents. At my age — I'm finally taking up golf — played in a league for the first time last summer; am doing better this year. Bowling is my real fun."

Living in Needham is Margaret Lane Packard x-'35. Margaret is a housewife, mother of a 16-year-old son, and cataloguer at the Needham Library. Her hobby is weaving, which she learned under the direction of the late Myra Davis, Lassel '95-'97.

Pauline Kelly lives in Waltham, and is executive assistant at The First National Bank of Boston.

Lib Swett Mills, vice president of Lakewood, Inc., was unable to join us at Reunion for the date coincided with the opening of Maine's famed summer theatre. Lib enclosed an attractive folder of the Skowhegan resort, founded by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Swett (Fancher Sawyer x-'11). Lib's son, Michael, is twelve years old.

Pat Meyer Gere sends news of herself and children: Bill, married two years, a marine engineer for Humble Oil Co. in Texas; Dave, a Lt. in the Air Force, stationed in Tacoma, Washington; Christine, whose engagement was announced in May, is a freshman at Jackson. In May, Pat and Chris flew to Texas to see Bill's new son, Scott Bradford.

Kay Peck Dietler, mother of three and grandmother of one, says, "I'm doing a little gardening, church work, Garden Clubbing and as much golfing as I can get in. We've had two wonderful Western vacations at a ranch near Rifle, Colorado. Please remember our classmate Phyllis Stuart Rosebery, who bravely fought a hard battle with cancer. She left a grieving husband, three dear children, her parents, a brother and sister Caroline Stuart Scantlebury, '46."

Living in Arlington, Virginia, Polly Philbrick Gritz writes, "We are driving to California in late June or July to see our daughter and her family — our one grandson. I live near Marjorie Stuart Olds who was tied up and robbed a year ago while working in a baby shop. She survived. My daughter, Tanya, an 11th grader is considering — among others — applying to Radcliffe. If she should be accepted I may visit Lasell from time to time. Give my best to those who remember me, and a special 'Hi' to Anne O'Brien, Pat Meyer and Puff."

Lauren Ray Collier
Grandmother: Rachel Whittemore
Bernhardt '35

Eleanor Ramsdell Stauffer, who was in Auburndale in January to celebrate the arrival of her first grandson, Charles Stauffer II writes as follows: "Our most exciting news of course was the arrival of the baby. His daddy and Mommy live in Framingham. Our second bit of news is that we will be moving to Lewiston, Maine (10 Champlain Avenue). Charlie has been appointed Chairman of the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics at Bates College, starting September 1st. He'll also be Professor of Chemistry and Department Head of Chemistry. . . . I'm still just a housewife — busy with college activities. I chaperoned our college singers again this year on their spring tour — a great group of 50 boys and girls with beautiful voices. Oh, yes, I've taken up painting — have reached that age, you know!"

Sally Swanson Dahlberg, Executive Vice President of the West Hartford School of Music, was heading for North Carolina the day of Reunion. She says, "It was a privilege for me to return to Lasell for Alumnae Council Weekend. Lasell's progress is so wonderfully in step with 1965." Sally's daughter Susan, Lasell '64, is attending Southern Connecticut and plans to teach art.

Peg Weber Hodges, x-'35, medical assistant to Dr. E. A. Harris, has two sons; Robert, a senior at University of Alabama and Alan, a freshman at Birmingham Southern College, planning to be an Episcopal minister. "Robert was Federalized and went with the National Guard to protect the marchers from Selma to Montgomery. If he makes a tape recording of his experiences, I will send one to Lasell's History Department."

In California, Rachel Whittemore Bernhardt is still working at the Title Insurance and Trust Company. She wished that she could be at the luncheon, but a trip East is out this year. My sister instead is coming to California for a visit with her husband and child whom I've not met. Say hello to all."

. . . B.H.B.

When considering a private school for a daughter of high school age, do give a second thought to Wykeham-Rise, Washington, Connecticut. A friendly welcome will be extended by the Admissions Officer and Registrar, Josephine Moore Gulnac. Josie called at Lasell in late September; visited with Mary Blatchford Van Etten, Helen Beede '21 and "Mac" McClelland. We managed a quick glimpse of snapshots of the Messrs. Gulnac, both students at Syracuse University. The February Leaves will carry a picture of them and sister Jill.

Well deserved awards continue to be bestowed on Adelaide Shaffer Campbell x-'36. The Society of Real Estate Appraisers' board of governors (Chicago) has awarded her the Senior Residential Appraiser designation.

Attainment of the S. R. A. membership designation requires extensive practical appraisal experience, ability, knowledge of the current real estate market and adherence to the Society's code of ethics. Only 3600 appraisers of the Society's membership of more than 16,000 throughout the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico have qualified for this designation which carries the professional endorsement of the Society.

ATTENTION ALL '36-ers! Ginny Hausler Heath reminds you "June 1966 brings Reunion. Hope to be in Auburndale."

Mary Elton Remig reminds us that Mabel Taylor Gannett '95 will celebrate her 90th birthday on November 7, 1965. Mrs. Gannett toured the World's Fair via wheelchair and "enjoyed a hot pretzel." Luke's note continues — "I am looking forward to a trip to Jacksonville; the occasion: the 60th wedding anniversary of my parents. Our Bill, 26, is stationed in Pearl Harbor; Roy, 23, will be married in June '66. Frequently see Ruth Rothenberger, the busy and popular Dean at Ursinus College. My very best to all who remember me."

Priscilla Greene Quirk x-'39, on vacation at her summer home in Rangeley, sends a new address: 20 Cottage Farm Road, Cape Elizabeth, Maine. She writes: "Thought you'd be interested to know a bit about my family. Older son, George, is a graduate engineer and employed by the Monsanto Chemical Company. He lives in Wilbraham, Massachusetts, with his wife and year-old son, George IV. Stephen has completed a science major in college and is now doing graduate work in the field of education, with a career in teaching and school administration in mind. Deborah is serving a two-year stint as an Ensign with the Navy Nurse Corps. She is stationed at Charleston, South Carolina."

Patricia Taylor Henderson lives at 6 Garrison Road, West Falmouth. She is working as a secretary at the local high school. Her oldest child is attending college and the other two are in the Falmouth schools.

Peggy Card Suydam writes that her oldest boy, Nardi, is a senior at Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Illinois. Bryce is a freshman at Colgate University, and Peter is a sophomore at Kent School, Kent, Connecticut.

Mildred Straw Slaunwhite reports a new address: 5927 Marra Drive, Bedford Heights, Ohio 44014. Daughter Janet is a 10th grader majoring in Home Economics; Roger is in the 9th grade aiming for College; Bruce is grasping the fundamentals of grade #1.

From the Fitchburg (Mass.) Sentinel dated October 4, 1965 we quote the following regarding Shirley Marks Tuck x-'42.

"Mrs. Sherry M. Tuck of 168 Electric Avenue, Lunenburg, is among prominent American women to be listed in the 1966-67 issue of Who's Who of American Women.

"The wife of Dr. Herbert A. Tuck, she has been a resident of this area for 14 years and has been active in many civic and professional activities. She is past president of the Fitchburg Smith College Club and of the Women's Auxiliary to the Worcester North District Medical Society. She has also served as past public relations chairman of the Women's Auxiliary to the Massachusetts Medical Society.

"In addition, she has been co-chairman of the Heart Fund Drive for the Town of Lunenburg, a patron of the Fitchburg Museum of Art and a member of the Massachusetts Mental Health Association, the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women.

"Mrs. Tuck is an alumna of Smith College and Western Reserve University and attended Fitchburg State College where she received her certification to teach. She obtained her master's degree in education from Boston University where she was a teaching fellow in counseling and psychology.

"She has served as guidance counselor in the Wayland Public School, as psychotherapist at the Shirley Industrial School for Boys and as counseling psychologist at the Counseling Service at Boston University. She is presently a doctoral candidate at B. U. and is consultant clinical psychologist at Cushing Academy, Ashburnham.

"Included in her professional affiliation is membership in the American Psychological Association, Massachusetts Psychological Association and Pi Lamda Theta (the national honorary women's sorority in education). Other memberships include the American Personnel and Guidance Association, the National Vocational Guidance Association, the American School Counselor Association and the Association for Counselor Education and Supervision. She has been an officer in the American Personnel and Guidance Association for Boston University.

"Mrs. Tuck was born in Shaker Heights, Ohio, but claims New England as her real home since she attended preparatory school at Lasell Junior College.

"She is presently interested in exploring the needs, interests and goals of adult women and believes that life is an exciting and ongoing process in which people can achieve new intellectual, social and professional goals in their mature years."

An October "prospect" was Catherine Fitzgerald, daughter of Virginia Nestler Fitzgerald x'42. Ginny and daughter toured the campus with Miss McClelland. Ginny is now living at 57 Rolling Woods Drive, Trumbull, Connecticut; older son, Paul, is a sophomore at Georgetown University; Jimmie, a high school sophomore; Catherine is booked for September '66 college entrance. Twin Jeanne (Nestler Dart x'42) has a new address — 7314 Camp Alger Avenue, Falls Church, Virginia.

Priscilla Redfield Potter, a current director of the Board of Management, sent a picture of son Christopher and added: "This is a far cry from the baby picture we failed to submit in 1946. Chris is currently working for Vappi Construction Company hoping eventually to follow in his father's field of architecture. Peter is an associate of Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson & Abbott and also has his own firm of Robinson and Potter who, while they will tackle anything, drawing the line only at dog kennels, seem to be heading toward specialization in church building.

"Twenty-two years, it hardly seems possible, particularly as Nan Mondello Stramondo's hair is as shiny black as ever and Jean Perry Thompson's smile never fades. What have the years brought me? First of all, peace of mind in spite of these so-called tension years. I am grateful to Eleanor Hoag — literature can be an ever present friend, twenty-four hours a day; to Barbara Ames Picard, although I left Dr. William Winton's lab at the New England Medical Center to be married and have never become a registered technician, my interest in the field of medicine has grown and led me to many varied contacts in the volunteer field; and to Miss Emelie Berkeley, not only for giving me the gift of that time saver, shorthand, but for telling us 'patience is a virtue, possess if you can; it's seldom found in woman and never found in man.' (If this should find its way into print I shall have to see that my husband and son do not see it because they are, of course, the exceptions that prove the rule.)

"A dear friend through the years has been Alatheia Agulia Moon '42. Al now holds a very important position with the New York State Board of Education. As a friend there is no equal.

"We built our house here in Wayland while Pete still had three years of Harvard undergraduate school and two years of the graduate School of Design ahead of him.

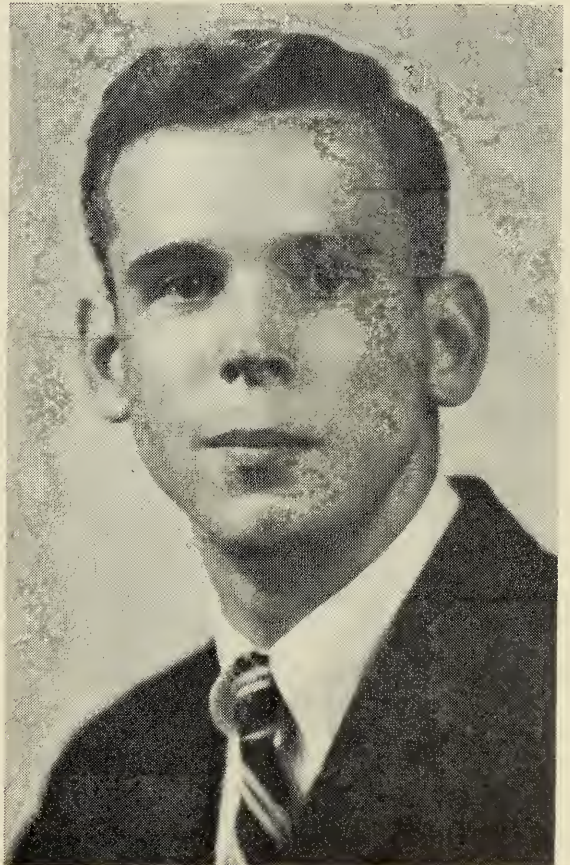

Here we have remained and have enjoyed adding a room or two every few years. I call it our topsy house — it just grew. It defies classification as to type or architecture but we like to think it has that elusive quality — charm. We have found much happiness here in Wayland and welcome Lasell friends at any time."

Hi, Classmates,

In response to my plea in the last issue of the LEAVES that more of you write, I heard from two classmates. Next time, please let's hear from more!

Pat Frangedakis Pitcher (R.F.D. #2, North Parish Road, Turner, Maine) hopes that by our 25th reunion her family will be settled and that she can get back for the festivities. "We are living on a 75-acre farm — Dr. Winslow and family spent summers here years ago. Our project this year is a swimming pool. Would love to see any of you when in this section of Maine. Have been doing a bit of substitute teaching in all grades through high school. In the winter, the family ski constantly. Ira teaches ski school and I'm assistant ski patrol leader. Does anyone know the whereabouts of Mary Keating? Occasionally I see Jackie Campbell Lombard."

Jane Mehaffey Wolfe's husband, Len, has accepted a position as Science Curriculum Coordinator in Boston. So, they have recently moved to Brockton where her new address is 649 Pearl Street. Jane writes, "I've been teaching at the Adult Education night school — a Gregg refresher course and a beginners' knitting course. While in Rhode Island, I served as treasurer of the local alumnae club. They are a most friendly group. Sorry to have missed our 20th reunion."

I'll be selling books at the Alumnae Bazaar — Tuesday, November 16th at Winslow Hall. The Bazaar is much fun — a great money-raising project. See you there???

. . . Betty Rhind Lee, Secretary

Gloria Boyd MacDougall has been appointed sales representative in New Canaan for Chryson's Ltd., of Burbank, California, manufacturers of Christmas cards and social stationery. Since last fall she has been an assistant teacher at the New Canaan Country School. Gigi is active in the New Canaan YMCA, serving as chairman of last year's "Complete your Y" newcomers' committee and currently as a member of the board of directors and co-chairman of the membership committee. For the past three years she has been advisor of the present 11th grade girls' Hi-Tri-Y group. She is also a member of the Junior League of Stamford, for which she originated the Community Calendar now published weekly in the Advertiser. Gigi has two daughters — Lorne, a student at the Masters School; and Carolyn, an eighth grader at Saxe Junior High School.

Bernice Coyne Boon simply has "to tell you how much I enjoyed the 20th Reunion. Opening the dorms was just tremendous! I am already looking forward to our 25th!"

Margaret Brickett Sawyer x-'45 has no idle moments. She is attending Boston University School of Nursing, working for her B.S. degree, is employed part-time at the Natick Visiting Nurse Association, works as a water safety instructor with the Red Cross and last, but by no means least, has four children, ages 9 through 16.

Mrs. Trevisan babied every one of her 7 children but never her Maytag.

ATTENTION: Readers of LIFE Magazine — issue of September 10, 1965.

If the above picture "looks" familiar — it is. Mrs. Trevisan (Nancy O'Rourke) holds Lisa and Neil (with lollipop) and is smilingly surrounded by Glenn, Lori, Cherie, Jan, and Julie. Statistically the advertisement continues "with 7 children to wash for, Mrs. Trevisan hasn't had time to pamper her Maytag. As a result, it's been turning out from 18 to 25 loads a week for years."

Our thanks to Nancy for her help in getting permission to share this picture with her many Lasell friends.

Nancy Stupak Parker's most recent assignment was to proofread the latest book of her author husband. The "Complete Book of Skindiving" written by Eugene Parker was published in August by Avon Books. Incidentally, the Parkers and three daughters — Laura, Amy, and Rebecca are skindiving enthusiasts. Their address: 205 Evergreen Road, Severna Park, Maryland.

From Kay Poore Hamel
A recent letter to Dona Fenstamaker (Mrs. Charles W. Lyon III), 305 Garland St., Davison, Michigan; forwarded to 612 Wharton Drive, Marion, Indiana, has been returned. New address, anyone???

Shirley ANDERSON

105 Sycamore Lane

Wallingford, Pennsylvania

Children: Chrissie 12/28/53, Girl Scout, Flute lessons, "A" student; Bob 6/29/55, football and baseball Little League, terrific athlete, "A" student; Kim 6/10/57, Brownie, full of fun; Carol 1/2/61, kindergarten, little imp.

Shirley is busy with P.T.A., Sunday School, Scouts. She has also kept up with art; has exhibited water colors in New Jersey; now to study at the Wallingford Art Center.

Corrine CAPONE:

Mrs. Laurence McGuigan
161 Prospect Avenue

Revere, Mass.

Children: Laurine 7/20/52, wants to go into teaching; Karen 12/2/54, wants to be a Med. Sec. — Lasell here she comes; Brian 10/31/56, a future football player for Notre Dame.

Corrine has been a substitute Home Economics teacher at the local high and elementary schools; Corrine couldn't make 1964 Reunion but did manage dinner with Kathy Mahoney Schofield, and Jan Gray Palin at the Colonial Inn, Lynnfield.

Joan CASWELL:

Mrs. August J. Casper
R. D. 2, Sacandaga Road
Scotia, New York

Children: Susan Mary 4/4/62, and Robert August 2/3/65.

When Joan and Augie were married in 1960 they settled in Scotia in their own home and started an ambitious remodelling project which included every room except the living room — this they hope to complete this winter. Two active children take priority over "remodelling" time. Several times a year the family gets back to New Hampshire; last summer visited Corky Buffum Hall '48 and family in Concord, Mass. Corky was Joan's senior sister at Lasell. Joan passed along the news that Martha Buffum Wilde and family were living in Horseheads, New York. Her husband works for Corning Glass, and they have 4 children, including twins.

Mary DEARBORN:

Mrs. Henry C. Haig
6 Rita Road

West Peabody, Mass.

Children: Judith Anne 4/8/61 and William Drummond 5/21/65

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daly with Chrissie, Bobby, Kim and Carol (Shirley Anderson '49)

Betty FELKER:

Mrs. Stuart Hancock
29 Rockland Road

Concord, New Hampshire

Son John 9/13/54. Betty keeps busy with civic and political organizations in Concord. Her husband just completed his 4th term in the New Hampshire legislature, and also operates an insurance agency. Betty says she spends most of her summers at Ogunquit, Maine, where frequently she sees vacationing Lasell classmates. She and Ann Fletcher Wilson have had many good times together.

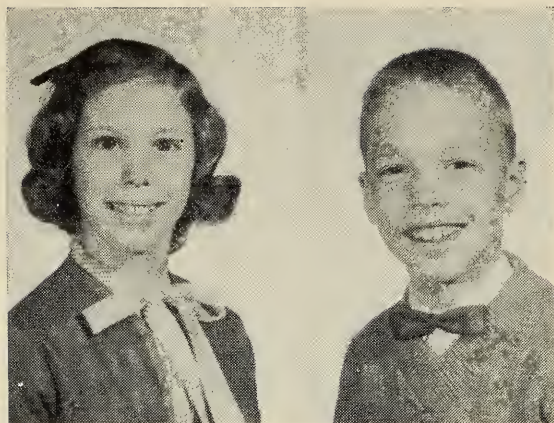

Boots POTIER:

Box 188

Forestdale, Rhode Island

Children: John Jr. 8, Damien Jeffrey 7, and Hillary Lisa 3.

To bring us all up to date on Boots and her family. They gave up the Women's Retail Summer Sportswear Business at Narragansett, Rhode Island, 7 years ago. Left Warwick, Rhode Island, in April 1961 and moved into a new home of their own design located on the Massachusetts border about an hour's drive from Lasell: Boots we hope to see you next reunion. In 1964, the Greys bought another 150-year old home on Nantucket for summer use and rent it in the winter to school teachers. Boots has many, many activities. She has been singing for the past 7 years with the Rhode Island Civic Chorale, has membership in three Garden Clubs, and presently is co-chairman of the Christmas Greens show in her area. Works annually on the church's Christmas bazaar, teaches two weekly classes in Christian Doctrine, has joined the hospital aid and is co-chairman for hospital decorations for this season coming. Also, continues to sew, knit, and assist with home decorations, and hopes this year to learn tray painting and rug braiding. Boots worked with the Democratic Women's organization for 2 years; is serving 2 years with the Republican Women's Club. Husband John has been P.T.A. President for the 3 schools in the area — Boots has been his private secretary and switchboard operator during his term of office. She has seen Woodie Lockwood several times. Woodie is now Mrs. Eugene Tessier, 59 Hope Avenue, Warwick, Rhode Island.

The Davis Twins — Peggy and Matthew

Boots closes her letter with fond wishes to everyone and extends a cordial welcome to visit in Nantucket, 41 Fair Street.

... K. P. H.

P.S. For news of Kay herself: "We had a delightful summer. A "long weekend" to Massachusetts and New Hampshire stretched into a five-week vacation. We had beautiful weather while at Lake Winnepesaukee, — returned to Princeton for a few days; then off for three weeks in Midland, Michigan. Labor Day weekend we actually stayed home — accomplishing many domestic chores and working in the garden. David has started kindergarten this September. How shall I begin to take advantage of free time!"

Nancy Lawson Donahue sends word of the arrival of her ninth child, third daughter, Tara Elizabeth, on April 16, 1965. Straw continues: "We are still going strong, as you can see. Gail, our oldest, is now 10 and a second mother. Our years in Washington with President Kennedy were fabulous — a never-to-be-forgotten period in our lives. We have returned to Lowell — settled in an 18-room house — a wonderful setup for our family. The children now speak half English, half Spanish. We have a Colombian woman and her 12-year-old son living with us. I keep busy with the family and also find time to serve on several local Boards, play tennis, and now have taken up track running with Dick. We get up at 6:30 each day and run and walk the track at a nearby park for a half hour. On Saturdays the children join us."

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Nelson, Jr. (Mary Anne Otto) and their children (Carol Anne, 9, and Teddy, 5) enjoyed a lengthy summer vacation at East Falmouth on the Cape. Ernest's parents, originally from Wellesley, have the good fortune of owning a summer home with historic significance. It is a refurbished schoolhouse from which Sarah Orne Jewett wrote "Country of the Pointed Firs."

A recent note from Mary Anne tells more of the busy Nelson family schedule: "Last April we were hosts to state senators for cocktails and dinner before a Sales Tax debate held at the Acton (Mass.) high School. Ernest served as moderator; Senate President Maurice Donahue and Mr. Joseph Cass, of the AFL-CIO, were pitted against Senate minority leader Philip Graham and Senator William Randall of Framingham. The panel discussion was sponsored by the Acton JAYCEES, for which Ernest is state director. For the year 1965-66 I have been asked to serve as a member of the Advisory Committee for the Children's School of Science."

Zerlina Lewis Barnett writes that she is taking a one-year course in dental assisting and finds it most interesting and challenging. She has five children, including twin girls.

Meredith McKone Krieger has a new address: R.D. 1 Knickerbocker Drive, Belle Mead, New Jersey. Her husband was transferred to the New York City area in January 1965. Son Bob is in the 7th grade.

Ann Hollett Munro gets together with other Lasell girls through the Long Island Lasell Club. Joan Wolfe Wickham x-'49, Barbara Milne Lynch, Joeyna Raynal Rearwin '52 and Cynthia Platz Latham all live nearby. Ann also had a wonderful visit with Pauline Donaldson Converse in August.

Joan Nelson Peterke's third son, Detmar, was born on April 2, 1965. Her husband's parents came from Germany to visit the Peterkes for the summer and become acquainted with the three boys, Erhard, Reiner, and Detmar. It was the first time Werner had seen them in ten years.

Ann Mitchell VanDeusen reports that she is employed at a bank in Millerton, New York. She enjoys her work but finds it curtails her participation in community affairs. Her three boys are in school; are active in sports; play the drums and are members of the town band. Ann enjoyed a visit with Helen Hamilton Croot recently.

The 15th Reunion proved a marvelous affair. The new schedule — alumnae reunion on campus the weekend following Commencement — is a great one! It is highly recommended that YOU definitely plan to attend our 20th — and by all means, register as a resident! Friendships were renewed, strengthened, and new ones made among our class members who had so many memories in common. News of family and jobs and community activities brought us up-to-date, and it was a weekend filled with good food, good fun and good chatter. The Nifty 50's who were on hand in June included Helen Panesis George, Carol Wolcott Godbout, Lois Schaller Toegemann, Pat Smith Weare, Sabra Turner Stockdale, Dot Pinkham Collins, Jean Davies Stanley, Jackie Temperley Dey, Joan Wallace Billings, Gloria Warner Farrell, Molly Catterson Zimmerman, Margot Bergstrom Semonian, Shirley Reeves Fletcher, Sally Hughes Fasick, Barbara Chipman Will, Joyce Davies Harrison, Mary Lou Dunham Weyand, Dot Goehring Rourke, Lil Reese Roche, June Handleman Gilmartin, Jackie Paulding Hauser, Shirley Richman Miller, Ann Holiday Vincent, Marilyn Munson Farrar, Shirley Moulton DeVore, Jan McGoughran, Sally McConnell Burnett, Nancy Houde Dyer, Joan McKinney Aldrich, Helen Kovalinas Ierardi, Marguerite Nahigian Sarkisian, Lynn Snook Rauscher, Claire Dodge Davis, Marilyn Newhall Kendall, June Spottiswood Beaulieu, Jean Applegate Rockwood, and Joan Baum Deutsch.

From the questionnaires we learned that the "longest married" classmates are Nancy Bean Lord and Joan Secor Rier, both of whom were married on June 24, 1950, twelve days after graduation! A surprising statistic is that 1950's reported 245 children are almost equally divided: 122 boys and 123 girls. Honors for the most children goes to Regina Kempton Reynolds, x-'50 who has eight, Marilyn Shaunessey Daley, x-'50 with six; five children each: Joan McKinney Aldrich, Marilyn Munson Farrar, and Chim Talbot Swartz. The newest baby girl of those present at Reunion was Julie Weare, age 8 months, daughter of Pat Smith Weare, and the youngest baby boy was Andrew Farrar, son of Marilyn Munson Farrar.

Long-distance travellers were Jan McGoughran of San Francisco, and Sally Hughes Fasick, our loyal class president, from Metairie, Louisiana.

But whether from far or near, Newtonville or Nashville, everyone agreed it was worth the effort to meet again the classmates who shared those two wonderful years when WE were Lasell.

News from the returned questionnaires:

Joan Baker and husband, Major Norman L. Paul, USAF, live in San Antonio, Texas. They have four children — Deborah, 12, Norman, Jr., 10, Nancy, 8, and David, 6.

Barbara Baldwin Smith and family recently moved to Amherst (Mass.) from Longmeadow. Doug is manager of McCallum's in Northampton and they have just completed a new home at 29 Aubinwood Road. The Smith children are Sharon, 13, Larry, 12, and Nancy, 9.

Marilyn Bartlett Erratt (412 Wilson Drive, Midland, Michigan) is the mother of Bruce, born in March 1959; and Andrea, born in June, 1965. She and hubby, Richard, and young Bruce love skiing and spend many weekends at their cabin near Boyne Mountain. During the spring season, they enjoy fishing there as the cabin is on a fine trout stream.

Roberta Cummings Banks is another classmate living in the midwest. Bobby, husband, David, and children Karen, David and Lynn live in Kansas City, Missouri, but previously lived in Hopkins, Minnesota. Bobby writes that while in Hopkins she was a Junior Girl Scout leader; served as president of the Hopkins Welcome Wagon Club, and taught a Sunday School class.

After eight years in Pittsburgh, Joan Darwent Ross has returned to New Jersey. She and husband Jon and children Suzanne, Kristine, Jonathan and Pamela now live at 137 Old Carriage Road, Cherry Hill.

Phyllis Farr Blanton is the mother of Linda, 12, Jack, 11, and Jamie, 10. The Blantons have moved into a new home; their address: P.O. Box C, Brandon, Florida.

Rosemarie Gschwander is Mrs. Albert Giarrusso and lives at 44 Plymouth St., Montclair, New Jersey. Rosie enclosed a copy of the November, 1964 Coronet Magazine, in which she wrote a colorful article about her career as secretary to a New York advertising executive. She and Al have travelled extensively in Europe and in the Caribbean. They recently bought a 34-foot colonial cabin cruiser and cruised to Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket last summer.

Lorraine LeClaire Ridgeway and family live at 52 Steiger Drive, Westfield, Mass. Renee and Carl have two children, Leslie, 7 and Carl William III, 4. She writes: "Carl and I have had many hobbies — we've gone through the boating phase, the sports car phase, the square dancing phase and most recently, ballroom dancing. We took lessons for three years; won a few contests and have given a few exhibitions in ballroom dancing. Carl is a pharmacist, co-ordinating three drugstores, and I've found myself doing window trimming, decorating, and sign painting. Two of my neighbors are Lasell gals, so occasionally we share "school-talk". Joan Wallace Billings and I make an effort to get together at least once a year. She is my daughter's godmother; Carl and I are god-parents to one of her daughters. Sorry I missed seeing you at reunion — but I'll be with you for our 20th!"

Jacquelyn Temperley Dey has been named director of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at the Manchester YWCA. From the newspaper account we quote: "A graduate of Plymouth State College, she has taught physical education at University of New Hampshire, Babson Institute, the Winsor School in Boston, and Rundlett Junior High in Concord.

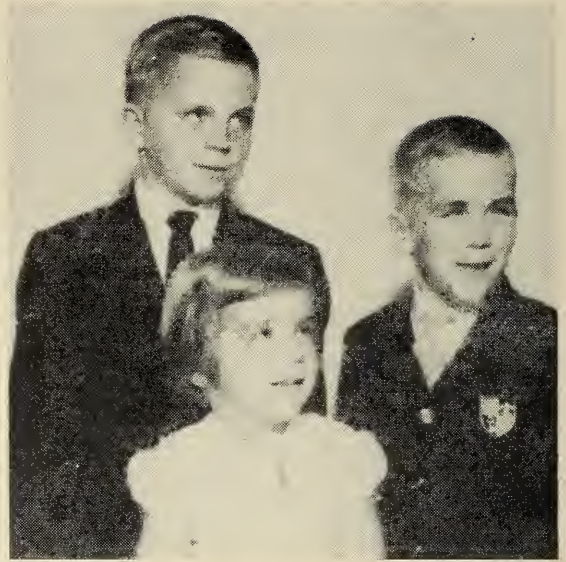

"Mrs. Dey, a professional swimmer, has toured the United States with Sam Snyder's Water Follies. While connected with Babson Institute, she assisted with an experimental Mother-Tot Learn to Swim Program. She served on former President Eisenhower's Physical Fitness Staff. Mrs. Dey has done graduate work at Boston University, Wellesley College and Keene State College."

Please remember to keep in touch. Send news and new addresses to:

From Janet Fornoff Hauber: "My husband, Hal, has quite a harem. Jill Ann, born July 31, 1964, joined three sisters, Kathy, age 9, Karen 6, and Nancy 4."

Barbara Adams Borden's "claim to fame" continues in the field of art. Schools and libraries have displayed bricks from Boston's red-stone front structures which she painted with white tempora and colors, each brick in the collection a miniature painting of a Massachusetts scene. Now, however, Barbara reaches for expressions in less detailed manner, responding excitedly to challenging hunks of old wood, gnarled, invaded and with aberrations and designs that she traces with color-tones. Perhaps the result will be a deer, or figures of a man and woman walking toward the sea, or even the famous image of little John-John saluting the late President Kennedy, which she etched and painted on a thick piece of wood shaped to the outline of the child and his immortalized tribute to his distinguished father.

A number of her pieces were exhibited at both the South Shore and Wellesley Arts Festivals this summer; in the fall her work was displayed at a Cohasset gallery.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Barbara Fausel Warren, whose husband, Bob, died on August 16, 1965.

Good books for good reading fill the shelves and lay temptingly on display tables at the Yokefellow Bookshop at 52 Hollis Street, Framingham, Mass. It's a pleasant, friendly place, and browsers are invited to examine books at their leisure. There is a large children's section; the hobby selection offers a fascinating variety. Adding to the attractiveness of the shop are the exhibits of paintings by local artists. Owner and manager of this pleasant Framingham spot is Marilyn Davis Comins.

"A grand reunion — our first in 12 years" describes the Memorial Day (1965) weekend for Jean Weeks Hanna and Mary Lou Burke Alexander. The Hanna family were guests of the Alexanders in Ponca City, Oklahoma.

Norah Horsfield Maling has submitted her resignation as a director of Lasell Alumnae Inc. In early August, Norah and family moved to Poughkeepsie, New York, 52 Kinry Road. George was transferred to the local IBM offices.

Class of '57: WHERE ARE YOU? Silence may be golden at times, but eight years of it is long enough!

Recently we visited with Miss "Mac" at the Alumnae Office. For us it was sad to view the many "missings" on our class address list; to find almost non-existent family photos.

You are all busy with young families and jobs — howze about some pictures of the bedlam? and with you in the midst??

Is 1957 ready to throw in the towel? We secretaries aren't! Don't bury us in the lone prairie with dead letters.

Remember all the gab sessions in the smoker; waiting for mail at The Barn; snatched hands of bridge between classes; the boy-friends — we don't have to give up this chatter just because we are a postcard apart. Come on now . . . let's GET A LITTLE ACTION HERE!!!

WE ARE WAITING. . . .

Pat Howe Bassett
4 Merrill Road
South Natick, Mass.
Nancye Van Deusen Connor
28 Pilgrim Road
Wellesley, Mass.

P.S. October 12th:

We tried an "experiment" — chose names at random and mailed one hundred letters with return postcards enclosed. As of this writing, we have received thirty replies. Wouldn't it be terrific if we could have a nice gabby write-up every issue of the "LEAVES"?

Cindy Clark Rose and husband Phil have their home in New Canaan, Conn.,

and are very busy with YMCA work—"just dedicated a new $1,000,000 building!" They are pleased as punch about the whole thing. Cindy must have some time to herself this year with Suzanne, 6, in first grade, Eric, 5, in kindergarten, and David, 2, at home. They vacationed on Southport Island, Maine, for three weeks this summer.

Jani Coulter Langmaid is practically a neighbor of Joan Stanford Chase in Alexandria, Va. Seems there are many Lasell gals in the D.C. area these days! Jani's two sons, Shaw, 4, and Ben, 2, keep her hopping. Husband Brad has been traveling to the Far East (just returned from Turkey) for a government agency.

Lucile Martel Huggins is in Basking Ridge, N.J., with husband Bob and two daughters, Debbie 5, and Carol 3. She's promised to call and keep us in touch when she is visiting her folks in Mass.

Carol Crandall Stiles wrote such a nice long letter! She has really been moving around. They are about to relocate for the 9th time. Along the line she has lived near Marion Reuttle Niesbet and Elaine Richardson LeFevre '56.

Charlene Sargent Kiley is a new mother. Kurt James Kiley "our pride and joy to say the least" was born May 2, 1965. Charlene sent news that Lillian Ting Zau lives in Hong Kong with her three adorable boys and visited Boston last March. The Kiley's are still in Wakefield, Mass., and "love our home more each year!"

The busiest mom in Lindenhurst, New York is Rosalie Sucher Schneider. She had three children in two years — Billy, and twins David and Paula ("named for Paula Ristau Trespas, who is also Billy's god-mother").

Joan Pethybridge Thompson also has started the P.T.A. route! Sherry just started first grade, but she's still kept busy with Scotty who is "all boy and BROTHER!" Joan keeps in touch with Ann Fry Murphy and Sandy Bristol Walters. As a matter of fact, on the 4th of July, Joan and Betty Apgar Lott (and her three boys) visited Sandy. That must've been quite a gathering! Sandy is a busy gal indeed — she is involved in a Woman's Bridge, chairman of Newcomers Gourmet Foods group, and a bowling league. All this in addition to caring for Scott 6, and Susan 2.

It's amazing to hear the things some of our classmates have done these past years. Nathalie Towne Fisher and husband, Jim, are city dwellers in Manhattan. She does research work in the blood field for Pfizer

Diagnostics and has had some papers published in medical journals. Ambitious Nathalie, who continued her studies at New Hampshire University, is accumulating graduate credits at New York University in Immunology. She also adds — "Love to hear from alumnae in the area!"

Dorothy Ziehler Roettele is busy with an interior decoration business; and is about to open a linen shop in connection with it. How's that for an enterprising gal? To top it all off, they are "hopefully going to Europe in the Spring on a buying trip".

Sheila Cronin Sullivan went on to Lesley and there met her lawyer husband, Bill. She taught school for a few years and is now "retired" with two children, Elizabeth 2, and William 9 months. Audrey MacAdam Lowe keeps in touch and is living in Ithaca where husband, Jack, is a member of the Veterinary School staff.

Sheila Levine Uram and Stu "thought long and hard about leaving the East and finally did it last December". Their new home is at 5245 Cedar Glen Circle, N.E., Canton, Ohio. Stu is a research engineer; they have two daughters, Linda 3, and Sarah 1.

Joan Deshefy Patenaude is in Glastonbury, Conn. with her family of two "cherubs" — Christie 4, and D.J. 2. They had a wonderful vacation on Prince Edward Island. Joanie is active in the Junior Women's Club, but "family and home take up most of my time and energy."

Lynn Johnson Johnston is another gal who has had her share of relocating. An army wife, she was in Munich, Germany for three years and their two children were born there — Debbie, 5, and Sandy, 4. Then Illinois was their home while Alex completed graduate school — then on to West Point where they built their home in Highland Falls. Unfortunately, they leave in June when Alex "is likely to go to Viet Nam" — Lynn will spend this time in Connecticut.

That's about it for now. Isn't it great hearing from so many? Keep the news coming and we'll pass it along.

Fondly,
Pat and Nancy

1959

After a vacation-visit with MacDonal relatives in Michigan, Janice Whitman MacDonal and Stuart, with sons, Stuart Jr. and Scott, returned to a new home at 20 Kathryn Lane, Holliston, Mass.

Sally Flowers Brigham has this recent word from Eva Krummel x-'60, now Mrs. Gearhard Roselieb: "Have been receiving the LEAVES ever since I left the College. I do enjoy the magazine tremendously. My husband has completed his law studies; has earned a Doctor's Degree in Political Science. We have two sons, Michael and Markns. Boston is so very far away — but whenever 1960-ers are vacationing on the continent — a warm welcome awaits them with us." Eva's address: Vienna — Adolf Gstottner.

Carol Santurjian Murphy writes: "After a marvelous honeymoon in Nassau, we are finally settled in our new home — 6 Fairbanks Road, Chelmsford, Mass. Alan is completing work for a master's degree in Physics at Northeastern: in the spring I shall work part-time as a school psychologist — received my Master's at Boston University."

Joyce Wheeler has been appointed to the faculty of the Wisconsin Conservatory School of Ballet, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Joyce received a Bachelor of Science degree in Dance at the Juilliard School of Music; has taught modern dance for the Milwaukee Modern Dance Council and has given several master classes for teachers and advanced students in the Milwaukee High Schools while working toward a Master of Arts degree in performance and choreography at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

Ronna Zucker Uhrman has a new address: 2493 Windy Hill Drive, Pepper Pike, Ohio. Ronna keeps busy. The Uhrman's and Barbara Solov Cohen and husband enjoyed a delightful reunion on the weekend of July 4.

Censored at The Alumnae Office — before forwarding to Betty Hood Russian — was a postcard from Charlotte Clinton Clark dated October 2, 1965. The message read in part: My husband, Bill, and I are ending a wonderful three-week holiday in Paris. We have toured England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Lichtenstein, Austria, Italy, Monaco and France.

Joan Brodalski Dubois thoughtfully forwarded a tru-color photo of her wedding party. One of the bridesmaids was Marie Halachik. Joan is living at 1521 Irene Street, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, where her husband is currently attending Lehigh University. Joe, a candidate for a Ph.D. in mathematics, has been awarded a National Aeronautics and Space Administration Fellowship.

Jane Parsons Dolbier (Mrs. William M.) moved in August to a home at 21 Sherwood Road, Attleboro, Mass. Shortly after, she had delightful visits with Jane Kendri-gan and Lynn Kiefer Abel.

Melinda Neal Daniels writes to the Class of 1961: "Hope this letter finds you all well and happy. We are now in Aiken, South Carolina, and will be for the rest of our time in the USAF. Only ten months to go, then we return to Connecticut where my husband will establish a law practice. We are most enthusiastic about our future "new" life. During the past winter we rented an apartment in the heart of the New Orleans French Quarter for the entire Mardi Gras Season. What atmosphere! We had a glorious time.

"Here in Aiken I work for an attorney three days a week and teach knitting at a department store on the other two days.

"I agree with what Nan Sparks Hunter wrote in the last issue of the Leaves. More of our classmates should write. We had a very close class and should keep in touch."

We quote from The Hartford Courant of Thursday, April 22, 1965: "The discovery that paper clips were contaminating laboratory specimens at Hartford Hospital has earned a 24-year-old cytology technician the hospital's first $100 suggestion award. Miss Jay Zglenicki of 56 Fairmount St., New Britain, solved the long standing mystery in the cytology laboratory.

"About 10 per cent of the 1200 microscope slides prepared each week became clouded by a film growth that obscured the cellular detail of the specimens. This often meant a new smear had to be prepared — doubling the cost to the patient and wasting the time and effort of physician and technician.

"Miss Zglenicki, a 1961 graduate of Lasell Junior College joined with staff doctors and physicians from other hospitals in their hunt for the cause of contamination. She discovered that paper clips, especially copper clips, used to tag the slides were causing the film.

"The technician, who has been working in the lab for almost four years, won the $100 with her suggestion that no more paper clips be used."

Betty Hood Russian tells us that seven classmates attended the September wedding of Irene Tuttle in South Portland, Maine. Chris Shier and Noel Craig were bridesmaids. After a wedding trip to Jamaica, Irene and husband, J. Theodore Morine, returned to their new home at 56 Mill St., Woburn, Mass.

Marie C. Halachik is teaching Business Education at the Dedham High School.

Carol Curtice McKay requests a correction to the news item which appeared in the August issue of the Leaves. Carol reports: "I am not a salesgirl at Strawbridge and Clothier, Philadelphia. My fine education at Lasell (retailing major) plus two years of excellent merchandising experience (assistant buyer) at B. Forman Co., Rochester, New York, enabled me to obtain a position as the Training Director of Strawbridge and Clothier's Ardmore store. I train new employees, retrain regular employees, conduct fashion shows and meetings on numerous subjects and do some work in the public relations area. It's an extremely interesting job and a wonderful store."

"My Lasell roommate, Lynda Blount, was present at my wedding in August 1964 in Rochester, New York. Roy and I are now living in Philadelphia, 3817 Spruce Street, Apt. 711. He is studying for a Master's Degree at the Wharton School of Finance."

Carolyn Dodd has been appointed a teacher in the Foxboro elementary school system.

Barbara Alford recently received her B.A. degree in education from the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Conn., and has since accepted an appointment to a second grade teaching position in the Prospect, Connecticut, school system.

Geraldine Crivello received her B.A. degree in June from the University of New Hampshire. She was named to the Dean's List for outstanding academic work during her last semester. Geraldine majored in microbiology with a minor in chemistry.

Harriet Shapiro is teaching in an elementary school at Merrimac, Mass.

Pamela Litchfield x-'63 graduated from Syracuse University with a Bachelor's degree in Fine Arts.

After a rewarding and stimulating eight-week summer vacation in Europe, Carol Boyle is presently employed as a medical secretary in Warwick, Rhode Island.

Mary McDermott has been enrolled in the University of Bridgeport's Cause II Program. All those participating will be employed in offices of the Connecticut State Employment Service and with youth employment and work centers, upon completion of the seven-week program.

Jeanne Chase Peckham writes: "We are enjoying our home at 35 Norwood Street, Sharon, Mass. Joel teaches English in the high school — I am head teacher of a private kindergarten at the South Walpole Methodist Church. In addition, have a dancing studio each afternoon in my home. These activities, plus Girl Scouts, bowling, and teaching Sunday School, provide no idle moments. Lasell's development plans sound exciting."

The College gratefully acknowledges a gift to the library from Nancy Guttman.

Elaine Nastri LaCava and husband, Bob, are living in Waterbury, Connecticut, where Bob is teaching and studying for his master's degree. Rosalie Adduci, house president at Conn, surprised Elaine in June by giving her a baby shower, at which nine Conn roommates were present. Result — much merriment and chatter!

From St. Luke's Hospital comes the report that Judith Howell x-'64 received a "Capping award for general excellence. Microbiology award."

Burnley Dame is married to Mr. Philip L. Graham, Jr. Burnley writes: "My husband graduated magna cum laude from Harvard in June 1965 and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He is now enrolled at Harvard Law School. I am employed at the Lamont Library, Harvard, and am continuing my schooling under their night extension program. We are living at 900 Memorial Drive, Peabody Terrace, Apt. 713 South, Cambridge, Mass."

Cheryl Joki has successfully graduated from the Burbank Hospital School of Medical Technology and is a candidate for the November examination to be given by the National Registry of Medical Technologists.

Jane McKee writes to:

Dear Lasell,

I would like to bring you up to date on my activities. Love my job with John Hancock. In November 1964 I was promoted to Trainee Claim Approver; in May '65 to Claim Approver. The work is fascinating.

Sally Hemenway x-'64 and I share an apartment at 252 Newbury St., Boston. Jeri Ramsbotham "has a great job with a cancer research surgeon in Hartford.

I am busy with wedding plans — the date: December 27. Arthur and I will be in Boston until June; he is a senior at Boston College School of Law.

Remember me especially to Miss McClelland, Mrs. Kavanagh, Dr. Packard — and, of course, Mrs. Whitney and Converse House.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic P. Gray, Jr.
June 5, 1965

Mrs. Gray is the former Barbara Bates
'64, daughter of Thelma Macfarlane
Bates '32

To Mrs. Ruth Kneisel, Carolyn Otten sends a report of her summer's vacation.

"My trip behind the Iron Curtain was fascinating beyond words. The Russian people were very friendly and quite helpful. I found the language barrier no problem whatsoever, except when I wanted to get into a good political discussion. I was quite pleased to visit the satellite countries.

Roumania and Hungary are so free: the standard of living is way above that of the Soviet Union. The first time we drove down the main street of Bucharest what should we see but a housewife trotting home from the grocery store with two boxes of Kellogg's Cornflakes.

"I did manage to spend two weeks in western Europe. Travelled with two other girls to Munich, Berlin and London. Promptly fell in love with London and can't wait to get back there.

"By this time Miss Josephs would probably have me hanging from the Wolfe Hall balcony. Just realized that I have started two paragraphs with 'T'. Maybe she will forgive me since I haven't been near a typewriter to do any serious letter writing for three months. It might take me three years to get a B.A. degree, but I will never regret my secretarial training. American University is fantastic. I have been accepted with sophomore standing. Many of my secretarial credits were transferable. I know I shall be very happy here. Have enrolled in the School of Government and Public Administration. This semester I'm taking two history courses, two government courses and a sociology course. Have a grand total of 20 books which are required reading and many other 'recommended' texts. Think I'll head for the nearest optometrist. Have seen Debby Caplan and Hetty Magill. They seem to be happy here too.

Judith Baker will spend a year working and studying in Israel. She was one of 125 chosen from 1500 applicants in a competition sponsored by Sherut-La'am, an Israeli agency.

Beverlee Pembroke is now Mrs. John H. Hill Jr., 248 Elm Street, Montpelier, Vermont. She is employed as a secretary in a Montpelier law firm; John is with IBM Corporation.

Nancy Burrough is employed as a medical secretary to Dr. Dwight Harken of Boston, a specialist in open heart surgery.

Elisse Allinson is continuing her education at Lesley College, Cambridge, where she is preparing for work in elementary teaching.

WITH THE CLUBS

Reorganization meetings have been held within three areas during the fall months of 1965. Prior to the opening of College, PORTLAND (Maine) alumnae, as well as Lasell Seniors and Freshmen with their mothers, were invited to a Coffee Hour at Valle's. Gertrude Hooper Ring '32, Pat Kelsey Scharf '54 and Lynn Jannicky Neilsen '54 were in charge of arrangements.

Saturday, October 9th, was the date selected by co-chairmen Cora Pratt Gillett '39 and Betty Phillips Dick '40 for a luncheon at the CHICAGO Athletic Association. President Mary-Florine Thielens Peeples x-'06 greeted the 42 alumnae present, with a special welcome directed to Jessica Talbot Tucker x-'97 and Kristin Harper '65.

Former Chandler House roommates, Joan Lambert Laffin '47 and Mary Ellen Roberts Gill '47, served as hostesses at a luncheon on Saturday, October 30, at the Schrafft Motor Inn, ALBANY, New York. Campus representatives were Miss Muriel McClelland and Marjorie MacClymon '32.

Annual October luncheons were sponsored by the CONNECTICUT VALLEY, EASTERN MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, PHILADELPHIA-SOUTH JERSEY, PITTSBURGH and SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA Clubs. FAIRFIELD COUNTY graduates and former students enjoyed an evening get-together at the Trumbull home of Sally Taylor Murray '49. From RICHMOND (Virginia), Emily Crump Ramstetter '29 reports that a downtown luncheon was substituted for the postponed July picnic.

The annual Silver Tea of THE GREATER BOSTON CLUB was held on campus on Sunday, October 3, 1965. Newly-elected president, Terry Brossi Ciarcia '55, announced there will be a sale at the Shady Hill Thrift Shop in April; a Wine Tasting Party is scheduled for May. Bradford Bruce Bredehoft was the jovial host at Grandmother's (Mildred Strain Nutter '17) annual August picnic at the Cape. Assisting Brad were hostesses Helen M. Saunders '17 and mother, Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55.

Jean Warren Tredwell x-'57, president of the LONG ISLAND Club, reports a successful May Luncheon-Fashion Show held at Jericho's Maine Maid Inn. Sunday, May the 12th, was the date of the annual tea to welcome 1965 Freshmen and their mothers. The fall Luncheon was held on November 20th at the Red Coach Grille in Westbury. Other officers of LONG ISLAND are: Vice-president, Virginia Johnson Irwin '52; Treasurer, Margaret Angus Christman '53; and Secretary, Allison Haff Burrows '62.

The following officers have been named for the 1965-66 season for WORCESTER COUNTY:

President: Rose Marie Ravalese Ermilio '55

Vice-president: Sonja Baker Carr x-'57

Recording Secretary: Donna Jensen Poirier '57

Corresponding Secretary: Judith Smith Smith '57

Treasurer: Betty Scrimgeour Reney x-'46

Ways and Means Chairman: Helen Wood Queenan '54

Nominating Chairman: Joan Conley Eid '56

From RHODE ISLAND'S recording secretary, Claire LaLiberte Adler '53: "The annual Coffee Hour for current students was held on September 9th at the home of Marjorie Morrison Coburn '17. In October and November there were workshop meetings in preparation for the Christmas Co-op Sale held on Thursday, November 18, at the Unitarian Church in Providence."

WESTERN MASSACHUSETTS opened the 1965-66 season on Wednesday, September 29th, with a buffet supper at the Wilbraham home of Sandra Smith Swain '56. The October meeting was held in Somers, Connecticut; Bernice Cunningham Smith x-'26 was hostess. A white elephant auction was scheduled for November; Eugene Wessels, safety engineer at Western Massachusetts Electric Company, will be the guest speaker in January; a flower arranging demonstration has been planned for February. Lucinda Hodskins Lindgren '60 will open her home to club members on the evening of March 30th. Guest speaker, John Parker, has chosen the topic: "New England Ghost Houses — Their Legends and Architecture." Lasell's Director of Admissions, Marie Kaden '53, will meet with the area group on April 27th at the home of Midge Leary Hacker '47.

FROM THE ALUMNAE

We quote, in part, from "Dateline Douglaston" of a Long Island weekly:

"A gracious lady, wearing a gold lamé dress enhanced by two white orchids, and with an upsweep hairdo that was in style even when she was a young lady in Omaha, Nebraska where she was born, celebrated her 90th birthday on Sunday, November 7, 1965. She was Mrs. H. I. Gannett (Mabel Taylor), a long-time resident of Douglaston.

"The Happy Birthday reception was held at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Elton of Bayside. At least 50 guests, friends and well-wishers crowded around the lady, whose face was lighted with a youthful glow belying her four score and ten years.

"Greetings came from far and wide, and a prelate of the Episcopal Church of Long Island, Bishop Sherman, called in his message of happiness. Canon and Mrs. Downes of Zion Episcopal Church paid her a visit.

"Many a champagne glass was lifted in toast for a wonderful, happy birthday to the gracious lady who sat quietly in a corner of the crowded room, acknowledging each greeting and wish.

"Born in Omaha on November 7, 1875, she recalls the frontier days of Indians, buffaloes and the prairies. When she was a little girl, Mrs. Gannett saw General Grant, Buffalo Bill and Barney Oldfield."

Mary Goodwin Olmsted writes: "The November LEAVES has been such fun! My thoughts have gone flying back to 1901-1903. Dr. Winslow was my chemistry teacher and Miss Austin taught my English course; I adored them both. I sat at Mlle. LeRoyer's French table — which made life difficult at times. One of my special friends — Ethel Hook, '01-'03, sat at Dr. Winslow's table, and I fear she caused much of his discomfort, for I remember their joking about it years afterwards.

"Lasell has been fortunate to have had so capable leadership over the years — the Lasells, Dr. Bragdon, Dr. Winslow, and Dr. Tewksbury."

Marie Gibert Martin hears from Agnes Drake Foss frequently. Marie is a great aunt to a nephew and twelve nieces, one is named Marie E. Gibert.

1905

Following the Alumnae Bazaar, we had this word from Fern Dixon Leahy: "It was thrilling to win a prize — especially since it was the very first in 77 years. It was awaiting me on my return from a visit with Virginia (Leahy Berwick '34) in Mt. Kisco. The afgan is just beautiful, and brings back happy memories. When the children were very small our faithful Nanna made one for us, to which she insisted we all contribute at least one square, with our own choice of color. This we did — my tall, handsome husband, my son and the two daughters. You can easily guess why it couldn't compare with the exquisite design and workmanship of this one!! Many, many thanks to the loyal Grosse Pointe alumna. May she be blessed and rewarded for contributing so generous a gift of heart and hand.

"Virginia had a fine summer in Europe with three of her daughters. Anne is now a senior at Vassar; Julia, a freshman at Finch and Elizabeth, a freshman at Emma Willard. She is a very busy mother, and yet spends a great deal of time with her piano. In November she gave a concert in Mt. Kisco.

"Very best holiday greetings to all Lasell friends."

Clara Nims is now a resident of Claremont Manor, a retirement home in Claremont, California.

In mid-October, Lilian Douglass Heeb wrote to "alert" us of the arrival of a package for the Alumnae Bazaar, and added: "Am hoping to have a luncheon visit with Julia Potter Schmidt '06, who is visiting her sister, Mary Potter McConn '05. Ida Sisson Craver '07 and Clara Nims '07 may join us. I have plans for a late March vacation — a visit to the gardens of the South, and to Jamaica and Nassau."

1912

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mildred Hall Leber and to Rosalthe Williams Picard. Dr. Otto Leber died on May 28, 1965; Mr. Frederick W. Picard, in January 1966.

Dear Girls,

Christmas Greetings always bring much pleasure. Josephine Kenower Bridge has enjoyed a long visit with a favorite niece. Nell Youngers Henkle had a long letter from her Lasell roommate, Clara Paton Suhlke '15, who now lives in Coral Gables. There was a card from Irene Bollman Kunkel in West Hartford, Connecticut. Mildred Cutting Tucker writes that she and her daughter plan to leave Indiana and move to Florida, where Mildred's son is in business. Lena Vee Kelley Stone has rented an apartment in Arizona for the winter. Alleda Burnett Arneson continues to enjoy the warm climate of Winter Park, Florida. Carolyn Moore has moved to a smaller apartment in Duluth. Charlotte Swartwout Quackenbush sent greetings from Port Jervis, where she and Willis have always lived. Then there was a card from Ruby Newcomb McCorkindale — hers is a busy and happy family. Marcia Fogg Moore is pleased to have her son and his family close by in Maine.

Mabel Jones Carlton writes from 115 Bloomingdale Avenue, Wayne, Penna.: "Progress has taken over our quiet country town. To make way for a new highway, the State condemned my 200 year-old home and I was forced to find a small and comfortable apartment. I am fortunate, though, to be near my friends and to be able to continue my various civic activities."

Maidie Dealey Moroney reports "nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren! Seven years ago we moved into a high-rise apartment, but finding too much time on our hands, we decided to buy a farm. It is only 30 minutes from home — and I love it! There are 550 acres — no cattle as yet. Improvements include filling gravel pits, planting coastal Bermuda grass, and building new fences. Lots of fun and lots of work!"

Ruth Adt Stephenson x-'14 is "very interested in the plans proposed in the 1965-66 Alumnae Fund Appeal." She also calls attention to the fact that facilities for ice-skating might well be incorporated into the scheme.

As for Clint and myself — we were delighted to welcome, in March 1965, our sixth grandchild — there are two boys and two girls in our son's family in Andover; two little girls in Belgium with our daughter and son-in-law.

. . . D.H.U.

Barbara McLellan McCormick thoughtfully sends her new address: Box 52, Rockport, Maine.

Mildred Cary Hill writes: "My granddaughter, Cary Eaton Maynard, (daughter of Janet Eaton Maynard '45) is a freshman at Wellesley."

Dorothy Barnes Paine sincerely hopes that "the year 1966 proves brighter and more pleasant for Lasell — and for all of us. My husband was hospitalized in August and returned for further treatment in November. A recent knee operation has brought some relief to my annoying arthritis. My sister, Flavel, who many '18-ers may remember, passed away in June."

1919

Mrs. Keith C. Steele, daughter of Janet Edgerly Fellows x-'19, is general chairman for the Boston YWCA's centennial observance this year.

The year 1965 has taken its toll of our Class with the passing of Edna Starrett Mathewson in February and Betty Tarr Benton on October 9th. Sympathy was extended to their families; several memorial gifts from classmates have been directed to the 1965-66 Alumnae Fund.

Sadness also touched Peggy Reid Perry in September. She and "Nels" had gone to Florida to visit Dorothy Ely Bigham '21, whose husband died in July. Nels passed away soon after their visit with Dot. He was on a photographic assignment at the time of his death. He was a field reporter and photographer for Junior Natural History Magazine, a Fellow of the American Geographic Society and the Royal Geographic Society of London. He was a member of many clubs, including The New York Zoological Society, The Asia Society and Kenya Wildlife Society. Our sympathy is extended to Peggy and her family.

For news of other '22-ers, let's go back to last summer when Theresa Thompson Osborne flew to Idaho via Watsonville, California. The roundabout trip gave her many wonderful hours with Phyllis Rafferty Shoemaker, who served as personal guide on the very special Rafferty brand of "conducted tours." Theresa headed for Idaho Falls to greet her daughter Anne's new baby son. Helene Grashorn Dickson writes that she hopes to be in Oyster Harbors on the Cape next June — we hope a spin about Lasell will be included. Louise Stevens Prince keeps me well informed of her busy life. Daughter Marilyn (Prince Karcher x-'49) will soon return to Philadelphia.

Dot Caldwell Jordan flew to Chicago for Thanksgiving; to New Jersey for the Christmas holidays. She found both children and families "just fine — but too far away." Edrie Mahaney Rathburn will "soon leave the world and business of Food behind." Edrie hopes to have a real estate license in the near future.

I had the pleasure of spending all too brief a time with Libby Madiera Campbell and Laurence last June when attending graduation exercises at Norwich University.

Please, girls, drop me a card now and then — tell me about your activities and interests. Keep in touch — our 45th is coming. Start saving NOW!

. . . M.L.H.

Anne Daugherty Slater and Bob were October guests of the Wilder Smiths, (Toni Merrit). Anne and Bob were en route to a special Reunion at Dartmouth; on their return trip to Kentucky, they had a delightful visit with Jeannette Merrick Moss.

1924

Helen Davis Worthington, x-'24, reports: "We had our Fortieth Wedding Anniversary party at the Philadelphia Country Club on May 23, 1965."

Dear Girls,

I shall try to update you on the doings of a few classmates who were unable to attend Reunion, but who were thoughtful enough to send a bit of news in answer to the questionnaire sent by Bobby Cushing Jenkins.

We were delighted to have the telegram from Annette Durkee Harvey. She lives in Hartford; has two sons and eight grandchildren.

Catherine Beecher Wood has "retired" from high school teaching to homemaking, church and civic activities. Cay and her doctor-husband have two daughters; a son and four grandchildren. Their daughter Carolyn, now Mrs. Charles A. Brox, Jr., was graduated from Lasell in 1959; their daughter-in-law is the former Ann Douglass, also Lasell '59.

Claire Stritzinger Daller x-'25 is widowed and lives in Norristown, Penna. Daughter Marlee is a graduate of Swarthmore and Pennsylvania; son Morton, an alumnus of Brown and Penn Law School, is a member of the Philadelphia Bar Association. Claire is a member of the faculty of the Upper Merion School System.

Mildred Whyte Goddard, happy homemaker and traveler, lives in Marblehead, Mass. She has two sons and four grandchildren.

Sally Barnum Maurer x-'25 resides in San Francisco. Her late husband, Dr. Francis C. Maurer, was a two-star winner in color and nature photography in the Photographic Society of America. Sally has a son, a daughter and four grandchildren.

Alice Batchelder Powers, a widow, lives in Sanford, Maine. She has two daughters, a son and nine grandchildren.

Dorothy Cook Reynal keeps very active in church work and in the women's club of South Orange, N. J.

Alta Lucas Pike x-'25 finds metalcraft a most interesting hobby. She and husband

Clifton, a retired banker, live in West Springfield, Mass. They have a son and one grandson.

Lucile Hopkins Willenbrok and husband, John, spend the winter months in Naples, Florida. New Preston, Connecticut is their "permanent" address. They have two daughters; three grandchildren.

Another winter resident of Naples is Ethel Clow Black x-'25. During the summer months Ethel and her husband operate Black's Paper Store and Gift Shop in Wolfboro, N. H. Ethel also serves as secretary of the Huggins Hospital Executive Committee.

Emma Smith Quereau x-'25 continues "to do private duty nursing — even after 37 years, I still love the profession. One daughter is following in my footsteps — she is a student at Detroit's Grace Hospital. Our second daughter was graduated from Colorado University in 1965. My husband, a research engineer, is associated with the National Bureau of Standards."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Dorothy Aseltine Wadsworth, whose husband, Mr. Herbert Todd Wadsworth, died suddenly on January 30, 1966. The Wadsworths have three children: Herbert, Jr., Deborah Wadsworth Hoyt, and Sue Wadsworth Jonas '56.

1927

Rosalie Brightman Rosen writes: "Although I retired from business, am busier than ever in organization work. The Lasell Bazaar is one of my pet projects." Rosalie served as co-chairman of the annual luncheon of the Sisterhood of Temple Israel. A parade of bridal fashions, old and new, was the highlight of this successful November venture.

Rosanna McConnell Wallis reports a long Christmas letter from her Lasell Senior Sister, Mae Ely '26.

Sympathy is extended to Lillian Bethel, whose mother, Mrs. Robert H. Bethel, passed away on January 24, 1966.

Alice M. Nydegger x-'28 writes of her Christmas cruise to the Caribbean: "Enjoyed the warmer climate and pleasant change in the four ports visited."

(Julia Clauson '29)

Emily Crump Ramstetter, 1929's President, shares Christmas messages with us all, and — for personal news — adds: "Our son, Andy, has chosen Bridgewater College and is very much enjoying life there. Bridgewater is a small co-ed, liberal arts school in the Valley of Virginia."

Quotes from Em's cards include:

From Julia Clausen Bowman: "We plan to drive East in June. Our itinerary is not yet complete but we do want to include New York and Washington. Have never driven along the Atlantic Coast, so we are really looking forward to the trip."

Ruth Rowbotham Strickland: "Enjoyed a Mediterranean cruise last year; plan to leave early in February for the Carnival in Rio. Freeman retired from the bank in September; is enjoying his freedom. Daughter, Robie, has two children — a boy and a girl; our son was married in September."

Cassie Jamieson Stone x-'29: "We are chiefly occupied with duties of grandparents; our son, Bill, is a junior at Stanford. Mary and family live in Peoria; Katie is in Kansas." Cassie's address: 11 Fondulac Court, East Peoria, Ill.

Pvt. Madison M. Cannon III
(Rosamond Cornell '29)

Another former Woodland Parker, Dorothy Finken, now Mrs. Walton R. Dunn, 11 Stanley Oval, Westfield, N. J.: "I attended Wheelock College and did a bit of kindergarten teaching. Daughter Bambi, and two granddaughters, now live in Vermont."

Conkie Chalmers Harlow is having a wonderful experience visiting homes of French families; admiring antiques and art objects. She and daughter, Frances, spent Christmas at the Hotel Manilla in Spain. Conkie's address: 8 rue de Professeur Grignard, Lyon 7, France.

Harriet Hewins Sanderson has welcomed her seventh grandchild, John Alden Sanderson. Harry adds: "The oldest 'grand' is six; believe me, the walls bulge and the roof quivers when they all descend on 29 Wall Street, Wellesley."

Dorothy Cole MacRae's granddaughter, Deborah Jean Skinner, was born on June 13, 1965.

Zip Daggett Wilson is busy with the family relatives, and spends the "spare" time with daughter Marilyn, who lives nearby.

Esther Angel Frank "loves living on the Cape." Her new address is Juniper Road, Centerville, Mass.

Mary Barton Libby's daughter is a freshman at the University of Connecticut. Her son was married in June 1965.

The San Diego Bukers (Harriet Holt) claim: "The arrival of our 26th grandchild, Daren Wilder Buker, on August 27th in Springfield, Vermont gives special meaning to this year. On Sunday, November 21st, our first great grandchild, Sabra Evelyn Clarke, was born in Randolph, N. H." Their Christmas letter continues:

"The hours of the days are filled in responding to the many opportunities life presents. As members of the San Diego Parapsychology Foundation, we are enjoying the stimulating challenge of this fascinating field of study and research." One of Harriet's extra curricular duties has been to serve as Chairman of Vocal Music for the San Diego Music Educators' Association.

Schrafft's in Boston is still the place to meet Lasell girls. While on a quick coffee-break at the holiday shopping season, Verta MacLeod Haines found herself sitting beside Ellie Humphrey.

Rosamond Cornell Cannon's son, Madison III, graduated from Paul Smith's College and has just completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. He is now stationed at Fort Belvoir, where he will study surveying and construction.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Edna Bickford Rand and to Verta MacLeod Haines. Mrs. Bickford passed away in November; Mrs. MacLeod, in January.

Frances Smith Miller's daughter Susan, now Mrs. Charles C. Francis, Jr., has just completed her affiliation at the Veterans Hospital in West Haven, Conn. Fran sends additional news from the questionnaires:

There was a most happy Connecticut reunion for Martha Adams Hindman, Jeanette Gessner Somers, Sue Morgan Williams and Harriet Kimberly Coale. Martha, a secretary with the Toledo Board of Education, spent a bit of vacation time with Jeanette. Sue entertained at a lovely dinner party; "surprise" guest was Hatch Kimberly Coale. Harriet has just recently returned from a trip to the Virgin Islands. Her son, Sam V. was graduated from Trinity College, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He is now doing graduate work at Brown University. Harriet's younger son, Kim, attends junior high school. Jeanette's daughter Jean (Somers Everson x-'64) is spending the year with her family; her husband is stationed in Alaska with the Air Force.

Peggy Boyd Green — three times a grandmother — reported a delightful "time and visit with Ruth Doughty Blaylock in Florida," where Peggy and her husband frequently vacation.

A Holiday Message from The Monroes (Karin Eliasson) brings the news: "We have just received word of the arrival on November 28th of our first grandchild, Karin Eliasson Long, seven pounds, twenty-one inches, and Grandma and Grandpa Monroe don't know how they can possibly survive without seeing her until August when Ann and Dave are due to come to the States for six weeks! They are still in Baumberger, but they move to Frankfurt, Germany, with a promotion for Dave in January.

"Sally was home with us in beautiful Coronado this summer. She was fortunate to have a very interesting position in the office at the Hotel Del Coronado and, of course, we loved every minute of having her with us.

"Kay, 'Aunt Kay,' at ten, is in the fifth grade and was born with a disposition of love and good cheer.

"We had one sad event this year. It was difficult to see our Papa Eliasson close his eyes on August 28th at the rich age of 85.

"Because of the hospitality and warmth of everyone in this area, we are enjoying this tour to the fullest. We wish for you all a New Year of peace, health, and happiness."

Marion Inglis Leonard is "looking forward to returning to the College for 35th Reunion — the first one for me since graduation."

Dated November 21, 1965, mailed in Calcutta, India, a postcard from Helene Jones Pressel reads: "This is a dream trip come true for me! Have already travelled some 18,000 miles — Fiji, New Zealand, Australia, New Guinea. Tomorrow I leave for Bombay and then to Nairobi, to Egypt and on to Europe via Rome."

And from Helen Fitch Foley: "We were happy to have a little granddaughter — after three grandsons."

Merry Christmas greetings from Agnes Metcalf Cannon brought a bit of extra news: "Young Jim has completed four years with the Navy; is now working nearby. Jim and I are looking forward to a month or two in Florida. Last year we had a grand visit with 'Pop' Whitney."

Eunice Harrington Rowland has been presented with the Sustained Superior Performance Award for her work in the office of the Logistics Group for the Field Command, Defense Atomic Support Agency. The Rowlands live at 516 Maple Street, SE, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Jane Jensen Bailey writes: "My husband retired in June, and we have just returned from a fabulous six-month trip to Hawaii, the Orient, Malaysia, Australia, New Zealand and home through the South Seas. Now about to go South for the winter; Europe in the spring."

Caroline Frey Anderson x-'34 has been named a Trustee of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Jane Brackley Starbird will be returning to Maine in the spring. "It will be good to be near the family again; perhaps I will get to Lasell one of these days."

Frances Findlay Hall "plans to be in our old-new farm house in Oxford, New Jersey in the spring — three Irish Wolf Hounds also in residence. News of my sons: Jere Douglass, was married a year ago; Dave Hall, Jr., has plans for a May wedding; Chris Douglass, a Peace Corps Volunteer teaches English in Tunisia; Rob Douglass is working in Nigeria!"

In her annual Christmas letter, Esther B. Sosman enclosed a copy of the Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi. "To me it is one of the most beautiful prayers ever written, and one much needed in the world today."

Mary Ide, daughter of Margaret Pearl Ide, has been elected by the faculty of the Danville High School as the recipient of the DAR Good Citizenship Award. "She was chosen because of her outstanding qualities in the fields of scholarship, citizenship, character and service to the community. Mary is an excellent student and has taken part in many of the extracurricular activities at school."

Deb York is presently living in Florida — (559 Highland Avenue, Dunedin, Florida) and is looking forward to June and Reunion.

Quotes from the annual Christmas letter from The MacMillans, (Marjorie Bassett): "This has been an eventful year for us. We were very proud of Scott when he became an Eagle Scout in February. He is now active in DeMolay, playing in the High School Band, and has a job after school. Jeanni had six weeks of vacation in February and March, and had an emergency appendectomy. Now she knows how the patients feel! We went to the Massachusetts General for "Capping" in September, and now she is a Senior and looking forward to graduation next September. Betsy and David Blackledge were married in June. David has just graduated from the Air Force Officers Training Course in San Antonio and they are now in Phoenix, Arizona, for a year where he will take his pilot's training. Nancy is in Junior High, and is loving it. For the first time in eighteen years we have no one in elementary school!"

"Gordon and I are looking forward to returning to the Boston area. He is now with the Honeywell Company in Wellesley Hills. I have a job too — selling in a smallish store near home — find it interesting and very tiring. Am also taking a brush-up course in shorthand. Our very warmest wishes to all for the New Year."

Mr. and Mrs. James V. Bonner (Genevieve Hackett) announce the engagement of their daughter, Genevieve, to Mr. Gerald Gengler Pearce of Fairfield, Connecticut. The bride-to-be is a 1965 graduate of Pine Manor Junior College.

Nanci Roper, daughter of Barbara Lane, has been accepted for September, 1966 entrance at Lasell.

From Isabel Wyatt Asselta: "Daughter Beverly Ann graduated from Simmons College in June. After enjoying seven weeks of vacation in Europe, is currently employed at Woodward and Lothrop in Washington, D.C. John, Jr., is a freshman at Lexington High School. My husband retired from the Air Force in 1961."

Jane Eldridge Meaney writes to Tap: "Our Carol is a sophomore at Mt. Aloysius Junior College, and is studying Occupational Therapy. Pat is in the sixth grade. She's a character and we love her to pieces. I'm puttering around with one thing or another — treasurer of a shop which is run by volunteers for the benefit of our hospital, and I'm chairman of a small golf group — and, of course, the usual bridge club."

From the James Terrills (Anne Campbell x-'37): "In retrospect, 1965 has been an active, challenging and rewarding year for each one of our family. All of us were blessed with good health and new opportunities, including summer employment for our young men, volunteer work and varied trips for Jim and Anne.

"In the much-travelled league, Jim Sr. is still our leader. No recent European meetings, but there were many cross-country flying trips in connection with his job as Deputy Chief of the Rad. Health Division of the U.S. Public Health Service.

"Jim E., our 22-year-old, is a senior at Maryland University's School of Business Administration. He spent a warm and busy summer at Pensacola, Florida, where he completed his second session of Naval Pre-Flight training and had the honor of leading his batallion during graduation ceremonies.

"The rugged study schedule necessary for Dave's junior year at Maryville College, with his advanced Physics and Organic Chemistry courses, has made him facetiously threaten to switch to Home Economics and send for Mom's cookbooks and 'any old recipes.'

"Bethesda Country Club provides summer recreation. Jim enjoyed evening and weekend golfing and Anne emerged from many see-saw scores with two trophies. The job of Prize Chairman kept Anne busy choosing trophies and prizes. Working as co-chairman of the Bradley Hills Presbyterian Church's Stewardship program has certainly helped to fill evenings of the fall calendar.

"Sincere wishes for health and happiness during the coming year."

The Christmas letter from Betty (Lloyd) and Carl Fritch brought a 'picture of our three, taken on Thanksgiving weekend, just before Bruce left to return to college. He has enjoyed being a member of the DePauw varsity football team, and especially liked the trip to North Carolina, where they played the Marines at Camp LeJeune. Our biggest day of the year came on June 4th, when Linda received her B.S. in Sociology from Colorado State University. Mother and Dad Lloyd came from Mesa, Arizona to see #1 grandchild graduate. She is now with Liberty Mutual in Chicago. Third-grader, Susie, took to crutches — broken ankle — on Veteran's Day."

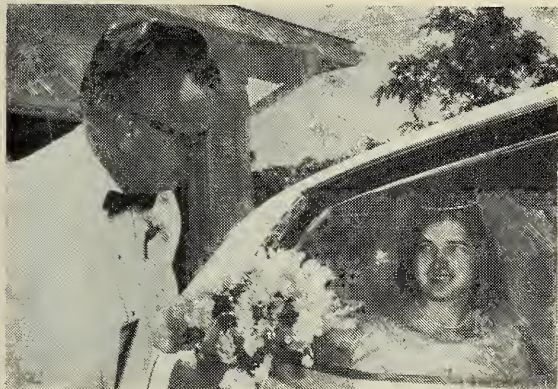

Dr. and Mrs. R. Emerson Sylvester (Arlene Wishart), announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn, to Mr. Harold Richard Enders. A June wedding is planned.

Via Ginny Wilhelm Harshbarger we learn that Eleanor Loeffler Olsen is operating an antique shop in Westwood, New Jersey.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Roma Wilson Lhowe, whose husband, Dr. Joseph Lhowe, passed away on September 15, 1965.

Jeanne Daniels Wheeler writes from Golf Course Road, Amsterdam, N. Y.: "We are loving our new home — it affords a beautiful view of the city, and overlooks the municipal golf course. My husband, manager of the Amsterdam Branch of the State Bank of Albany, enjoys his work thoroughly. I, too, am among the 'employed' — a secretary with the Amsterdam School System. On June 26th our daughter, Mary Jane, was married to Leon Lombardoni (the 'boy next door' in Plattsburg). Penny Brett Wiss plans to visit us in the near future. Her daughter, Susan, was a summer bride."

Father and the Bride, Mary Jane Wheeler (Jeanne Daniels '39)

Merry Christmas greetings from The Cushmans (Ruth "Kupe" Shepard) were a series of gay family group photos taken in Germany, in Italy, in France, in Ireland and in Spain — proof positive of a successful summer vacation.

Marian Traxler Crum's daughter, Leslie, is a member of the U.C.L.A. Study Abroad program. A student of archeology, Leslie is enrolled at Germany's University of Gottingen.

From Janice Marr Demer: "My husband has been retired from the Navy; we returned to our Washington home in June. Hope to have a Lasell candidate in two years!"

Louise Johnson is assistant manager of the Watertown Branch of the Thomaston (Conn.) Savings Bank.

Cora Pratt Gillett reports a fine August one-day reunion with Mary Jean Schultz Waddell, husband Hal and younger son Roy, a Harvard sophomore. The elder Waddell son, Bill, was working at a Colorado ranch. Cora adds: "Dorie Huntington Manning is the devoted grandmother of the 'real doll,' Dorie's daughter and family live in Burlington, Vermont; son David is a student at Duke University. We — the Gillett family — had a great Christmas. Our career-girl daughter, Pam, who lives on Boston's Beacon Street, came home for two days of holiday. On Christmas Eve she put her beautiful forehead through a car windshield; we had the pleasure of her company for two weeks. Winkie has returned to studies and skis in Denver."

"Very best New Year greetings to all; may your #1 resolution be: Send us a bit of news."

An eagerly-awaited-for Christmas letter is always that from Pat Kieser. The August 1965 vacation for Pat and her mother was spent in Alaska; her personal accounting reads in part:

"On August 14th we left on the trip of all trips. Flew to Seattle and Fairbanks; next day took a sternwheeler trip on the Tanana River and saw a salmon caught in a fishwheel. Flew to Nome and panned a few gold nuggets on the beach. We crossed the Arctic Circle on the flight to Kotzebue, where we saw reindeer, a sod house, Eskimo dances, rode in an oomiak, and enjoyed reindeer stew. Most of the Eskimo children in Barrow have never seen a tree. Drinking water is brought from a lake four miles inland, and costs 4¢ a gallon. We had an interesting experience on the flight from Barrow to Fairbanks: afterglow of sunset about 1 a.m. and the beginning of sunrise before 2 a.m. From Fairbanks we took the Alaska Railroad to Mount McKinley National Park — we were fortunate in having one of five clear days all summer to see the great mountain. On to Anchorage by rail, by air to King Salmon on Bristol Bay, and by bush plane to Brooks River, a fishing camp near Katmai National Monument. We rode on the plane with Mary Leatherbee, who wrote the Alaska article for the October 1st issue of LIFE Magazine. A bear broke into the kitchen of the lodge, and we saw a family of lynx on a trip into the Monument, where I hiked down to the floor of the Valley of 10,000 Smokes and experienced a 'williwaw' (the Indian word for 'local big wind from all directions'). We took a bus to Valdez, through the Matanuska Valley with its 60# cabbages to Glenallen and down the highly scenic Richardson Highway. Valdez was devastated by the earthquake and is being moved to a new site 4½ miles distant (a truly beautiful location — on Prince William Sound and ringed by snow-capped peaks). We enjoyed a gorgeous flight over the Chugach Mountains to Cordova; the following day we had a memorable flight to Juneau over the Bering and Malaspina Glaciers. I was so excited taking pictures, I nearly fell out of the plane! We returned to Skagway via steamer through the Inside Passage; visited friends in Vancouver and Victoria; took the ferry to Seattle and flew home on Labor Day. Alaska is well named: Aleut for 'great land.'"

The 52d Eastern Dog Club Show was held on December 18th at Boston's War Memorial Auditorium. The Best Terrier Brace in the show was Bethway Kennels' Norwich terriers. Owner and operator of the Connecticut kennel is Barbara Schilf Fournier.

Carolyn McCarty Springer's (x-'40) latest word: "Westward Ho! We are being transferred to San Francisco. New address will follow."

Lucy Albro Luddie and her sister, Mrs. Irene Albro Marsters have assumed the ownership of a bridal shop in New Britain, Connecticut.

Virginia Dostal Easterbrooks has been appointed home demonstrator for the Central Massachusetts Gas Company. She will demonstrate new appliances for the company and will be available for club programs within the Company's service area.

The following testimonial from Priscilla Aiken Sweet: "I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and all those at Lasell who helped make our Reunion weekend a howling success!! Although there were only about 23 or so of us our enthusiasm augured great prospects for a larger turnout for our 30th. We were all most grateful for the warm hospitality and excellent accommodations — room and board — provided for our Lasell homecoming and we were pleased and proud at the great changes and expansion at Lasell."

Addresses and news gleaned from the 25th Reunion questionnaire:

Sympathy is extended to Lucile Hooker Peterson and to Petie Visscher Taft. Mrs. Vera Hooker, a former resident head at the College, passed away on Thanksgiving Day; Mr. Visscher died in September 1965.

1015 West Ravine Lane, Bayside, Milwaukee, Wisconsin is the new address for Betty McGrath Brown. Bob is executive assistant to the president of the First Federal Savings in Milwaukee. Betty and Ginny DeNyse enjoyed a "by chance" visit in Denver early in the summer; a "planned" weekend get-together in Hartford in October. Betty and "Tex" Weatherby have plans to attend Reunion in June.

Eleanor Pfaff is now secretary to a newly organized club, Rock and Mineral Society of the Palm Beaches, and is learning to cut gems. Ellie thoroughly enjoys living in Florida; has recently completed a course in navigation.

From Honolulu Jay John Warren writes: "How can it possibly be our 25th? Are we really that old?" And Norma Forsberg Burman has "high hopes of seeing you all in June."

Anita Monge Nichols and family enjoy the summer months in Gloucester; the winter schedule is quite filled with skiing. Anita met Gusta Morgan Giddings '39-'41 in New Hampshire. Gussie and husband operate a ski shop in New London; Gussie is a ski instructor at Colby Junior College.

Mary Doig Nicholson and Petie Visscher Taft have a second "in common" interest: Jane Nicholson and Sally Taft are members of Cedar Crest College's freshman class. Marjorie Mead Carlson's son, Mead, is a freshman at his father's alma mater, Ohio University.

An October vacation found Gertrude Fischer in "Egypt and the Middle East. Great political and Christian impact to visit these lands."

Betty Davis Trow is working toward a degree in Education at Bridgewater (Mass.).

"We've had a busy year," writes Ann Preuss Olson. "Just love our new home — I have a greenhouse — my pride and joy. Mike is taking an extra year at prep school; Debbie is college shopping."

From Sue Lange Riddemoser: "Since my name was first on the list in the November issue of the LEAVES, I must tell you about our littlest angel. She is delightful company; as round as a butter ball, and as bald as a billiard!"

Ruth Kuch Jones has two children. Barri, fourteen, is editor of the school newspaper; Bruce, thirteen, is at Noble and Greenough. Ruth met Priscilla Wilson Sorlien for lunch recently. Priscilla has one son at Dartmouth, and a son and daughter at Wellesley High.

Jane Tarbutton Travis writes of "a fantastic three-week vacation in California" this past summer. A boy and a girl have been added to the "adopted" Travis family; "we are indeed a happy clan — five children, a dog, the doctor and I."

In early January, Pat Frangedakis Pitcher wrote to Miss Helen Beede: "Will you please send a transcript of my Lasell record: I plan to return to full-time teaching and continue work toward a Master's degree via University of Maine extension courses. I have applied for a position in Turner for next year. We are enjoying this Maine town — so many people remember Dr. Guy Winslow, who spent summers here."

"We have four children: Matthew, sixteen, is a high school sophomore; Nancy, fourteen, is in the eighth grade; Jennifer is twelve and Tom will be eight in August. They love living in the country. The girls compete in ski racing; at a recent meet in Rangeley they both placed first. Tom has entered his first race — in February — and is most excited. Matthew, not a competitor, is a member of the Junior National Ski Patrol; I am an assistant Patrol Leader in the Lost Valley (Auburn). We do have one slight advantage — my husband is a qualified Eastern Am Instructor."

Miriam H. Black x-'45, writes: "Enjoyed recent issue of the LEAVES with news of Pat Frangedakis Pitcher '44, G. G. Boyd Major '44, and Jackie Campbell Lumbard '44. Do wish one knew the whereabouts of Mary Keating, '44."

"I am beginning the eleventh year as owner of a Terre Haute employment agency. In 1965 was elected president of the Associated Employment Agencies of Indiana, Inc., the law making group which governs ethical standards of all private placement agencies in the state. Also am editor and publisher of 'Hoosier Highlights,' a quarterly newsletter. I am presently serving as a member of the personnel policy committee of the American Red Cross; and as the Terre Haute representative of the National Personnel Associates. This year my sister Eleanor (Black x-'42) has joined our agency staff."

Marilyn Ford Sampson writes: "Harold's position with General Electric keeps us seeing our country and now we are happy to be back in New England once again. Had Kay Chandler LaTourette and family as weekend guests recently and naturally Lasell was one of the chief topics of conversation."

Miriam H. Black x-'45

Constance Wilbur Dowden has moved to Tempe, Arizona, where her husband is with Motorola in Phoenix. They have four children, Linda, sixteen; Leslie, fourteen; Bradford, 11; and Gregory, six.

Margaret Harman Salisbury reports: "Husband Dick, busy appraising, drawing, playing piano, adding on to house and re-modeling kitchen — extremely versatile fellow!! Peg — Hospital volunteer Aide, Church Choir and Bell Choir — also bake and knit constantly. Daughter, Joan, eleven, busy with Church Choir, dancing class and piano — loves to bake too."

Open House, Sunday, December 5, marked the opening of a new exhibit which closed the 1965 season at the Gilded Frame Gallery in Cohasset, Mass. Participating artists included Dorothy (Papani) Palmer of Hingham. A local newspaper account reads: "Mrs. Palmer is an impelling young artist who lives and works in the exciting atmosphere of a five-level house which she designed for her family. She has studied privately with many teachers, among them Fouad Kamel, Egyptian artist, with whom she had a joint exhibition at Sugar Bush Valley in Vermont. Locally, Mrs. Palmer has exhibited in various art festivals and library exhibits, and has an impressive following. Her favorite medium is acrylic.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Molly Kendrick Pike, whose husband, Ralph, passed away in October. The Pikes have three children: Ralph, Jr., Nancy and Lynn.

From Rosamond Libby Beck x-'48: "I read each issue of the LEAVES with much interest and look forward eagerly to the next one. As I drive my dentist-husband to his Auburndale office, many memories run through my mind. I was proud to attend Lasell in 1946-47, and still maintain that pride as the years go on, when I point out the campus buildings to my children. The grounds are lovely and there is a dignity in the buildings. My husband is enjoying a successful practice in Auburndale, and has opened a second office in Brookline. The secretarial training that I received at Lasell brought me many a fine job and one I liked the most was with an advertising firm using my secretarial skills with radio and television commercials. Have been absent from the office scene for a while to raise four children . . . Bruce, eleven; Judy, six; Danny, five; Jerry, three."

A very special Thank You is in order for Diane Palady Barry. Answers to her recent 1949 questionnaire include:

From Elsa Koehler Edwards: "We are living in the Finger Lakes area of New York (R.D. #2, Romulus) while my husband is stationed in Vietnam. Sister Kay (Koehler Riemer, H.S. '38-'39) lives just a five-minute walk up the beach, which is a delight for me and for my three girls — Nanci, Julie and Katharine. I am up to my ears in many projects and plan to study painting again this year; I was greatly encouraged when I won first prize in a local contest this fall."

Nancy Hayden Drooff: "A year ago Gerd and I, with our three sons, spent the summer in Germany, where we visited the grandparents. The boys and I spent a month at the shore in Holland while 'Daddy' was busy with business. We all spent a little time in Italy and Switzerland before coming home. This year Peter is going to kindergarten; Michael is at nursery school; Eric is my #1 assistant. Sister Toni (Hayden Durkee '54) and family visited us at the Cape during the summer."

Joan Kennedy Johnson lives at 249 Main Street in South Acton, Mass. Son Arthur was born in August 1953; Diane, in September 1955. During the summer Joan visited Betty Rainville Hallenbeck, who has three children — Jonathan, Carolyn and Joel.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Beck
(Rosamond Libby x-'48)

Joan Pauling Smith forwards a new address: 19341 Clymer Street, Northridge, California. Joan has two children; a son, Scott, and a daughter, Sandra.

Pat Penry VanHoesen's current address is 144 Oakwood Road, Watchung, N. J.

Lu Merrill Birch writes from Birch Acres, George Hill, Enfield, N. H.: "I returned to the books at Boston University, and received my B.S. in Education after a year and a half of intensive work! Have been teaching English and Social Studies in the public school, and for the third year am teaching science and remedial training at the Cardigan Mountain School for Boys. Love the work — and more, our 200-year old house on the hill. We have two boys, Robert and Richard. Our move from the Boston suburbs to this very rural community has been an adventure. I feel I should write a book — everything possible has happened. And incidentally, Mr. Birch is holding up exceedingly well!"

Nancy Hakala Simonds: "Our family has been doing quite a bit of traveling, which I just love. John is head of the Information Technology Laboratory at Eastman Kodak, and we just love Rochester. Our sons are very sports-minded. Johnny, 12, has a number of trophies; Gary, 9, is just waiting for his chance."

Dot Zuschlag Torgersen and Jackie Rollat Labarowski had a grand get-together in Florida this summer. Dot had spent three weeks of vacation in the Virgin Islands and was returning to her home in Stillwater, Okla.

B. J. Stephenson Riedel stopped to visit Jean Grant Walter in Atlanta when the Riedels were Florida-bound for spring vacation. The same excursion brought a telephone visit with Margaret MacInness Miller in Akron. B. J. and Jean Dickson Treveiler meet at the Chicago Alumnae club.

Patricia Lane Harlow: "Am working part-time as a secretary to the township's (Montville, N. J.) Industrial Commission. Home duties keep me occupied. Ivan is now 13; David, 12 and Jane, 7. AND after fighting the battle for 32 years, I have learned and conquered bridge. That game and tennis are now my 'first loves.' Joan Pauling Smith visited us in the summer of 1964. What a great time we had!"

Pam Johns Leighton: "Our Class Baby, my Debbie, is about to take her first College Boards; Christopher is a freshman in high school; I have resorted to Clair's Loving Care!"

Carole Cedergren Salerno writes to Kay Poore Hamel: "The children keep me constantly on the go — trumpet lessons, tap, ballet and baton lessons; Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and the usual community activities. Mona Carson Bumpus and Fred visited us in September."

The Highlight of 1965 for Ann Fletcher Wilson was a May vacation trip to Germany. "Jim and I glimpsed the British Isles and France across the Channel before touching down in Hanover. Visited Hanover for a day and then flew to Berlin. Saw the terrible Berlin Wall which is much more depressing to view than to see in the newspapers or on T.V. Flew from there to Cologne and saw the famous Cathedral. In Bonn we were shown the Capitol Building and from Koenigswinter, we took the 100-mile boat ride up the Rhine River to Rudesheim — with a castle around every bend in the river. Viewed the Cathedral at Worms before arriving at Heidelberg and touring the Heidelberg Castle. We spent a day there and flew home from Frankfurt. The whole trip was just perfect."

Jan Bell, Mrs. James Luening, resides with her family in Pittsford, a suburb of Rochester, New York. Jim and Jan have two children: Jamie, nine, and Debbie, six. After Lasell, Jan went two years to the Latin American Institute graduating in May, 1952. She was then a French-English secretary, and following that, secretary to the Director of Secondary Education in Great Neck, New York.

JoAnn Brooks Shaffer, husband Don and their four children live in Huntington, New York, at 8 Ferncliff Drive. The Shaffer children are Bryan, eleven; Donna, ten; Randall, seven, and Scott, one.

Anne Carpenter is the wife of Dr. William H. Towle and they, with their four children live in Richford, Vermont. Ann writes "We all enjoy skiing and camping. Bill and I play golf. I have started sewing lately, which I like very much. Last year we attended the World's Fair. We saw quite a bit of Janet Foley when she was working at The Lodge in Stowe, Vermont. She invited us over for skiing and dinner which we enjoyed so much. Had to miss the reunion because of Bill's Dental Convention, but I send my best to everyone." The Towle's address is 34 Elm Avenue, Richford.

Nancy Coggeshall Foose, husband Frank and children, David and Carol, live in Ridge-wood, New Jersey, at 640 Shelton Road.

Joan Hahn Fern is the mother of Christopher, twelve; Cynthia, six; James, three; and lives at 9528 Park Edge Drive, Allison Park, Pennsylvania. Joan writes "Thought I would make reunion as my husband's firm has an office in Boston, but no such luck! Give my regards to all."

We were saddened to learn of the untimely death of Jean (Jeanna) Thomas on October 8, 1965 in Bloomfield, New Jersey. Jeanna was always active and full of pep, and tops in all sports. We mourn the passing of our classmate and send sincere sympathy to her family.

Many and most sincere congratulations are extended to Nancy Mitchell Quinn. Early in December, the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, sponsored a week's exhibition of her paintings. Mrs. Harlan Riker, sister-in-law of Peggyann Riker Miller '51 is the author of the following:

A PORTRAIT OF THE ARTIST

"The story of Nancy Quinn of 10 Camden Road, Auburndale is a story of great courage, hope and accomplishment in the face of the tragedy of polio.

Nancy and George Quinn were married in September, 1952. Two weeks later she was stricken with polio. She spent the next year in an iron lung completely paralyzed except for a slight use of her right hand. During these long months of pain and despair it became clear that Nancy was never going to recover any normal use of her arms and legs. Slowly and painfully she was taught to breathe by herself again. Finally she was able to leave the iron lung to a rocking bed and eventually to breathe on her own for long periods aided by a chest respirator whenever she slept.

In 1955 Nancy was able to make her way to the Polio Foundation at Warm Springs, Georgia, established by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. This was in many ways a turning point in her life. She arrived in Warm Springs completely paralyzed, unable to do anything for herself, but with a spirit and determination to learn everything she could. And thus began one of the most difficult and strenuous training programs imaginable.

She was left handed, and her first task was to learn to "think right" in order to get the maximum use of her right hand. They fitted her to a special wheelchair with all the mechanical devices to take fullest advantage of the slight movement in her right hand. She learned to hold a fork, to comb her hair, and to brush her teeth. She learned to type with one hand on an electric typewriter, to hold a pen and to write by hand again. She learned to care for herself as much as possible with the few muscles she had at her command.

And then she learned to hold a paint brush and to paint textiles, one of the occupational therapy programs given at Warm Springs. Nancy painted girls' dresses, cafe curtains, table cloths and napkins and this opened a whole new world of activity and expression for her. The day finally came when she had learned all that Warm Springs could give and her muscles could take, and she was "graduated" and moved into her new home in La Grange, Georgia, where her husband was in business.

They made their life in La Grange a full and rewarding one. They made many friends, became active in community affairs and made real contributions to life around them. Nancy ran her home like clockwork, entertained frequently, and practiced her exercises — from bed and wheelchair. She typed daily and worked on textile painting. But all the time, she was thinking about painting a real picture; capturing some of the scenes she saw about her; recreating some of the beauty she felt in her heart.

It wasn't until this last year that Nancy finally had the courage to try her hand at just this. She has been visiting her parents in Auburndale; has had the time, the inspiration and enthusiasm, and she has had an exciting year working in water colors.

Priscilla Freeman McCartney plans to build a new home in Easton, Connecticut, in the spring. They have four children, gold fish, a guinea pig, and, as soon as they move to the country, a dog.

The Crone's (Pat Raeder) had a gay time this summer camping in Vermont with the Calvin Reynolds (Bev Pink), and all their sons.

From Kit Ballard Heck: "The LEAVES is having some trouble finding me, so I think it is high time I sent cur new address: R. D. #2, Stockton, N. J. My husband is assistant professor of Science at Trenton State College. Our children are growing by leaps and bounds — Kathy will be 12 in mid-February; Dick is 10; Barbara, 9; Dianne, 8; Jeanne, 6; and Donna, 5. We live in a rural community — marvelous for the kids — there is plenty of room to romp and play. They go sleigh-riding on a nearby hill; on colder days, there is ice skating on the Delaware River Canal.

"We live in an area rich in American History — not far down the Delaware River, George Washington crossed to fight the Hessians at the Battle of Trenton. New Hope, Pennsylvania is about seven miles due south. We spent Christmas week in Alexandria, Virginia, where my folks now live (father is retired). When visiting Mr. Kennedy's grave in Arlington, we met Libby Fleet Glazer.

"Christmas greetings always bring looked-for news from classmates. M. K. Vogler Green, John and their sons are in Midland, Texas; Cinnie Porter Horton and Roger have opened a sports shop in Farmington, Connecticut — they have two daughters; Jo Monahan Garrity, Tom and three girls are enjoying the Chicago area. According to my count, the Pickard girls of 1951 have 29 children — 11 boys and 18 girls.

"Very best New Year greetings to all."

Lillian Elias Freeman writes: "We have just ventured into our own drug store in Mill Valley, and moved to San Rafael, California. We are all enjoying the area and have met several people from the Boston area who are familiar with Lasell."

Mary Jane White Miller writes to Anna Stevenson Mangano: "Peg Gardner Larkin's husband is a pediatrician right here in Greenwich (Conn.) — a small world, isn't it? Shall do my best to come for 15th Reunion — my sister is a freshman in Lasell's Nursing Program."

We thank MacManus, John & Adams, Inc. of Minneapolis for granting permission to reprint the following article, which appeared in the October issue of Today's Secretary. Mary Ann Donahue is personal secretary to Mr. Allen Funt, producer of the popular "Candid Camera" television show.

THE GAL BEHIND THE MAN BEHIND "CANDID CAMERA"

Aside from routine duties of okaying bills for hay, oats and horse blankets, business contracts and commercials, Mary Ann Donahue has the eerie feeling there are at least a million things going on at the same time in her office. Probably there are. And because Allen Funt is now in the process of renovating a large Manhattan apartment, Mary Ann's days are also awash with plumbers, paperhangers, electricians, decorators, color and fabric swatches, ladders and paint buckets.

Mary Ann has to be more than just a secretary. She has to be a magician! But thanks to her own feminine magic, she smoothly keeps all Mr. Funt's extra-curricular activities tied together while also keeping "Candid Camera" clicking along. And this begins early in the A.M., because Allen Funt starts calling her on his automobile telephone while driving to the office from his country home. Then, during the rest of the day, Mary Ann becomes a veritable front line communications post as three different "Candid Camera" filming crews call to the office with good news, bad news and frantic calls for help. Between telephone calls, Mary Ann continues her ordinary secretarial tasks of opening and answering mail, making appointments and reservations, and whittling down a huge pile of paperwork.

When we asked Mary Ann about the volume of dictation and the great amount of typing she must do on scripts and contracts, she smiled. She takes very little dictation, she said, and: "Our 'Thermo-Fax' Copying Machine does just everything. It's invaluable. We use it constantly, copying lists of films, scripts, business documents, right down to certificates of ownership of Allen's most recently purchased horse. No one has to waste time typing. There are no errors, no erasures."

Every other Wednesday sees the end result of the previous two weeks' concentrated work. At 1:30 P.M., Allen Funt comes into the studio for the first full rehearsal of the two "Candid Camera" shows to be taped before Wednesday's work is completed. Immediately after the first rehearsal is finished, everyone dashes upstairs to a conference room. Mary Ann brings in coffee, and then they really get to work on the shows.

Top pressure time is between 3 and 7 P.M. Allen calls the film editor and tells him to take this out, cut that, rearrange something else. Meantime, Mary Ann is trying to keep up with rearranging her script so it is in the order in which the show will be run. She then meets with the teleprompter man, and it's their turn for a chaotic session of typing madly, re-collating scripts and double-checking everything. Then, after a dress rehearsal, they take the show apart once more. By 9:30 P.M., the two "Candid Camera" shows have been taped, and everyone collapses in Allen's dressing room for post mortems. Then bright and early on Thursday morning, they start preparations for the next session of frenzy two weeks later.

Mary Ann is on the job every hour of the day or night. She often even gets s.o.s calls from the staff at Allen Funt's country home. One time very late at night, the gardener excitedly called, saying that one of the horses had tangled himself up in his stall and please get a vet. Another night brought an alert that one of the barns had burned down — contact the insurance adjuster, carpenter, lumber yard and whatever else goes with building a new barn!

Sure, Mary Ann has a great job. But then she's a great secretary. 24 hours a day.

Other News:

Another Navy-wife on the move: Gail Swanson Rees reports: "After May 1, 1966, our address will be VC5A, USNAS, Box 39, F.P.O. San Francisco, Calif. We go via California where Mal will attend jet school for six weeks; ultimate destination: a tour of duty with a squadron in the Philippines."

1956

Carol Phalen Swiggett enthusiastically reports: "Our most exciting news for this year was a summer vacation trip to Japan! We enjoyed the beauties of Alaska on the west-bound flight; returned via Hawaii."

Leslie Anne Tewes was born March 30, 1965 to Nancy Ahlgren Tewes. Leslie's older sister and brother are Jennifer, four; John Karl, three.

Nancy McKinnon von Glahn is a member of the Monroe (Connecticut) Republican Town Committee.

Marilyn Hanley Johnson writes to: "Dear Alumnae, Having not 'signed in' since graduation, I thought I would take this moment to do so. We purchased our second home last year and have now returned to my native town of Milton, Massachusetts (93 Garden Street). I occasionally see Ann Pasquale Bassett and Peggy Cramer Cain. Am looking forward to Reunion."

Patti Lockwood reports an exceptionally busy summer. 1965 marked the 200th anniversary of the city of Concord, New Hampshire. Special features of the celebration were the Memorial Day Parade and the Fourth of July festivities. Patti served as a Bicentennial Belle. A September weekend found her at the New York World's Fair, where she lunched with Lorraine Saunders and Betty Hintze. Her October vacation — a European tour — included visits to Germany, Austria, Italy and Switzerland.

And from Apt. 821 at 1330 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., Sue North declares: "All's well here. Washington is an exciting spot these days!"

From Grace Guggenheim Langan x-'56: "I was remarried a year and a half ago. On April 17, 1964 I became Mrs. Dean Berg; April 17 was the wedding anniversary of my grandmother, the late Annie Mae Pinkham Allyn '02.

"We are enjoying our new home — 1609 Bittern Drive, Sunnyvale, California; Dean and I have spent much time working on the landscaping. One day we hope to acquire a bit of land in Wyoming, and to build a summer 'retreat' cabin — with a view to the Grand Tetons. The entire family is interested in outdoor sports — riding, fishing and hunting more particularly."

Part II from Pat Howe Bassett and Nancye Van Deusen Connor:

From Barbara Bean James we learned that she, Dick and their two sons had an unexpected visit with Muriel Hagerthy Brueck this summer. Muriel came to their rescue when they "broke down on the Maine Turnpike on returning home from two weeks vacation." Dick just recently accepted a position at Plimpton Press in Norwood.

Millie Berg has returned to the United States after a three-year stay in Germany and is now a legal secretary in Washington, D. C. Millie further reports she "saw Dot Fenrich Del Guercio, Pat Gilbert June and Ginny Zipf Metzler at a high school reunion last June — all three look great." Millie's new address is 5001 Seminary Road, Apt. 724, Alexandria, Virginia 22311.

Margie Day Grosjean is "on a house re-decorating jag at the moment and it's a good thing it only happens every three years." She is "taking an interior decorating course . . . along with one in gardening." Daughter Yvonne is nearly four and is doing some modeling. Margie, now living in Texas, doubts "if I'll be travelling to Boston in the near future, but Lasellites are in my thoughts."

Marie DiGeronimo and Richard Mangus were married on September 5, 1965 and are now residing at 116 Waltham Street, Maynard, Massachusetts.

Marilyn Farrar Ambrose and husband Ed vacationed in Hawaii. Their two daughters visited the Cape and New York this summer with Marilyn's parents.

It's a second girl! Pamela Ann was born June 5, 1965 to Virginia Field Coburn. Linda Grace is now two. Husband Bob is news editor for the local duPont Company's plant paper. Virginia is involved in church activities and Public Relations Chairman and on Board of Directors for League of Women Voters.

Living close by Lasell is Norma Gamins Wise and family — son, Alfred and daughter, Susan. "Keep in touch with Judy Komito Oster, Judy Leventhal Winer, and Roberta Jepsky Saltz."

Had we been in the area of the "high seas of Long Island Sound" this summer, we might have had a chance to visit The Garry Higgins (Peggy Hubbard), Garry, Jr., Tommy and Amy. Husband's office is in Norwalk, Connecticut and they live in Greenwich.

Marcia James Carthaus and husband, Dick, have received their Master's degrees. Marcia taught in Concord, Massachusetts, for several years and then "crossed the Rockies to come to the Bay area, south of San Francisco." Dick has recently been promoted to the Government Relations Department of Standard Oil Company; Marcia is teaching in the Menlo Park School System.

Louise Jorda Matarazzo is now residing ter, New Hampshire. Three kiddies, Tracy, four; Scott, two; and Skip, ten months, keep her busy.

Thanks for the wonderful long letter, Dotty Fenrich DelGuercio. Daughter Laurie is in kindergarten; Kathy, two, keeps busy "having a fashion show with her sister's dress-up clothes." Dotty keeps up with her dancing with the Montclair Operetta, "a semi-professional group that puts on a musical twice a year." Husband, Ernie, is a member of the faculty of Columbia High School, Dottie's alma mater.

Betty Apgar Lott writes "our second child proved to be twins!" She now has three boys, Jeff, five; the twins, Chris and Doug, are three years old.

Also taking time out from an active schedule to write a letter was Ginny Zipf Metzler, who has three children. She sees Dotty Fenrich Del Guercio and Pat Gilbert June regularly and enjoyed postcards of Midge Nelson's fascinating vacations.

Barbara Thorndike Madden went on to Columbia University after Lasell and from there joined the Army as an Occupational Therapist — "was stationed in Denver for three years in an Army Hospital"; was married and now has a two-year-old daughter. Barbara is now "working at Fort Logan Mental Health Center; happily combining career and family." They love camping and skiing — "Colorado is great living for ski bums and mountain lovers."

Wonderful to get a note from Joan Stanford Chase living at 4667A South 36th Street, Arlington, Virginia. Bob is with the State Department, and they have a darling daughter in the "Home Department."

Nancy Liebewein Nyser has kept active in the Hartford Area Alumnae group — also has returned for Annual Alumnae Council Meetings on campus. Daughter, Cynthia started kindergarten this year and Kenny, three, keeps Nancy from getting lonely around home.

Christmas mail brought reports from many "old" friends. Sandy Benoit McDonald "taught second-graders for five years before and after marriage." She now has a thirteen-month-old daughter, Kathleen. Sandy and Bill "spent a vacation in Europe using 'Europe on Five Dollars a Day' and found we could do it."

Carol Swartz Kumin (Sudbury, Massachusetts) loves "this community — there are many things to do." She finds time for Newcomer's Club, Garden Club and Sudbury Players, but number one priority is given to Johanna, two, and Phillip, one.

Ann Schneider Husted is one of those busy Army wives who has a different address every time we hear from her. The current one: 273 Karen Way, Tiburon, California. Dick returned this fall from Viet Nam where he received the Bronze Star. Suzie and Ricky (the new baby) had kept in touch with Daddy via tape recordings.

Jean Craven Shuba is now settled in Dover, Delaware at 164 South Fairfield Drive; two of her three children are now in school. Joanie, a real domestic one, is forever busy making drapes, painting or remodeling.

Barbie Sturges is happily engaged as of Thanksgiving. She plans to move to Philadelphia "sometime after the first of the year."

Pat Tarracciano Ciccone's family now totals two boys and two girls; most recent addition is a blue-eyed, curly-haired doll, Christy.

Judy Parker Murray is living in the popular Connecticut area. Edwin, four, is kept busy with nursery school, and Susan, two, "can't wait for her turn" next fall.

Nancy Sommer is a buyer for seventeen stores and further reports "I've branched out from buying to devote a good part of my time planning fashion shows, coordinating fashion displays and writing fashion copy . . . I can't imagine doing anything else."

Transfers are part of daily life and Bernice Van Name Petrone is to be included. She, her husband and two daughters are waiting for the word. Good luck in relocating. Don't forget to send your new address.

Nancy Whitney Boyer and hubby, Bob, had their first addition in October — a young lady, and her parents are "sure she will afford us many happy hours."

What a life we women lead!! Husband goes to Europe "on the annual buying trip" and leaves wife and four children home to do the work. Marcia Hamilton Killeen had the pleasure (?) of moving during Dick's absence into their new ten-room house and still finds time to attend "P.T.A.", take the children to dancing lessons, and all the usual."

Caroline Killam Moller sees Cindy Clark Rose "quite often in New Canaan." The Mollers travelled the New England states during the summer and fall, at which time Charlie saw Peggy Hubbard Higgins. We should take a trip to Fairfield, Connecticut, for a performance of the Country Choral group, of which Charlie is a member.

One of our former day hops still loves to play bridge — when she gets a chance. Barbara Letson Weaver, will have to temporarily forego this pleasure until the family completes a move from Indiana to Baltimore, Maryland where husband will continue as a Research Metallurgist and works towards his Ph.D. Daughters Deborah, six; and Laurie, four; and Cheryl, fifteen months, guarantee Barbara's being a full-time mother-housewife.

From Audrey MacAdam Lowe "Ithaca is home to us. Jack is on the faculty of the Veterinary College and teaches large animal surgery." Appropriately enough, they have purchased "10 acres of land and hope to start building a house and barn in the spring." They need the barn for their son's pony. Bill is now in second grade and keeps busy with Little League Baseball and Pee Wee Hockey. Audrey is a Red Cross Gray Lady and works at a private rehabilitation hospital and conducts a weekly cooking class for women patients.

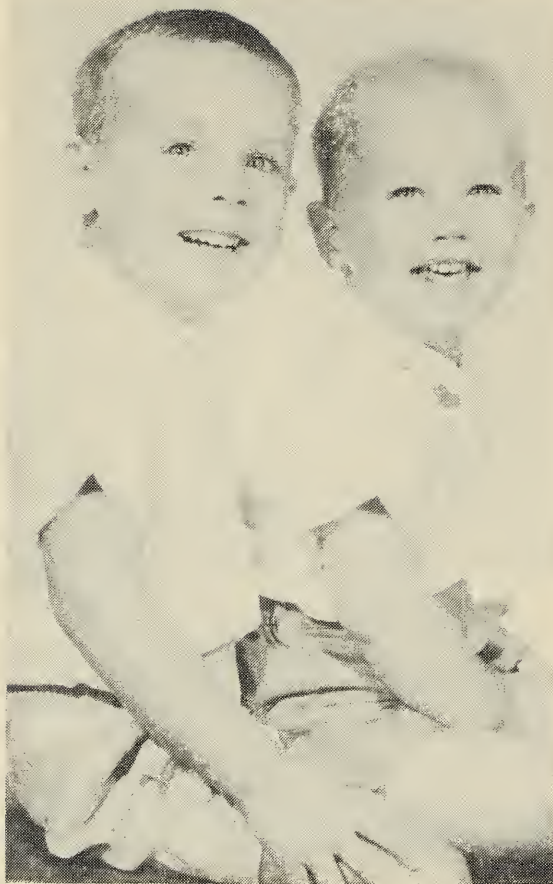

Pat Koules Kandianis and pharmacist-husband, Bill are living in Woburn, Massachusetts. However, due to the "arrival of an elf named Peter, four months ago" they are "now looking for a larger home." Pat further related "As for classmates, Ann Donnelly Murphy has three children and lives in Sudbury; Colette Carmeris is working in New York for a medical foundation." Pat's "baby sister" is now a freshman at Lasell.

European countries caught the fancy of Eileen A. Conradi, "loved Switzerland — those mountains." She has moved to a new Boston apartment and "did make a coffee table out of a flush door — stained it and varnished it and it's really gorgeous." She is also "antiquing two-beat-up chests of drawers" and is still working for Kenyon and Eckhardt Advertising as a Media Buyer.

Judy Komito Oster has two children, Terri and Andy. "They and home keep me very busy. I keep in touch with Judy Leventhal Winer, Norma Gamins Wise, Bobbi Jepsky Saltz, Mary Lou Reich Cushner. Sheila Levine Uram is living fairly close by. Hear from Pat Abeson Waldeck and Joan Craven Shuba. I bowl, study Ballet and do some community work."

"Housewifing and a part-time job for a nearby advertising agency" keep Paula Ristau Trepas occupied. She hears from Rosalie Sucher Schneider as often as Rosalie's three children permit her a minute to write.

During the winter months Marcia Lipsey Freedman would probably prefer to be living in southern Florida rather than cool Indiana. "Stan is manager of Quality Control and Research for a food concern. Mark is six and in the first grade; Allan is three. We're busy with church and community activities and remodeling a large old colonial house. We're a camping family and have seen much of the beautiful mid-west.

Betty May Kolls is busy with three children Nancy, four, Raymond, two, and Susan, three months. Husband, Tom, is property and casualty manager for an insurance agency in nearby Manchester (Connecticut).

Carol Juechter Dixon had her sixth child in August. She now has five boys and one girl. "Between the children, the house, and a few community and school projects, I'm kept pretty busy being the normal American housewife." Keep in touch with Sonia Altland Griffith and Joan Deshefy Patenaude.

Joan Bergevin and Robert Barron were married in San Francisco in February 1963, and moved to Hartford, Connecticut in July 1965. En route East they "camped at National Parks, visited friends — a wonderful venture."

For one and one-half months, Switzerland and Europe were Carol Preater Feldmann's ports of call. During her trip she and her husband visited his home, and met marvelous people while touring northern Italy and western France and the Riviera. Carol and Oskar have two children, Karen, four, and Kristen, three.

Eleanor Warren Duffy and Bill are now residing at 17 Cianchette Avenue, Pittsfield, Maine, 04967. Son "Billy now three, is growing by leaps and bounds, and just loves country living at this age." Thanksgiving time the Duffys took to the highways and visited Barbara Cupp Weil's family, including daughters Marcia, four, and Joyce, eighteen months.

Binki Knowles Scully relates "the eight years since graduation have been very happy and rewarding years for me, my husband and two little girls." Brenda is six and Karen is five. Binki and Ron are still living in Hudson "but we plan to have our new home in Acton in the spring." Ron is with Itek Corporation.

And Now, Dear Gals

The Battle Cry is REUNION! Let's get started before the date is right on top of us. Many of you have already expressed interest in either coming to and/or working on our 1967 celebration. We ask, at this time, for a note from each one (living within a reasonable distance of Lasell) suggesting a May date when we might get together for a luncheon meeting and begin the necessary groundwork for a successful 10th Reunion.

PLEASE BE IN TOUCH BY APRIL 1. That will give us time to make reservations and get organized.

For those who do not live locally, do send a postcard giving ideas for activities you'd like to have incorporated into the plans — just anything that would make Reunion more appealing to you and to all members of the Class.

We have been so-o-o-o-o pleased with the response from our postcards. We just hope this will get the ball rolling for voluntary news. Wouldn't it be great if all issues of the LEAVES were packed with news of 1957!

Fondly,
Nancye and Pat

ATTENTION!!! ALL VACATIONERS!!!
For those heading Puerto Rico-way, make your reservations at La Playa — the Resort Beautiful — at San Juan's incomparable Isla Verde. It is located only minutes from the airport; within walking distance of El San Juan and Americana Hotels. The air-conditioned rooms feature private bathrooms and kitchenettes. There is a lovely tropical garden, an indoor-outdoor bar, a restaurant, a solarium and the ocean splashes right up to the front porch. La Playa is owned and operated by Malcolm Dusseau, husband of Carole Bartholomew. Carole adds: "We are here ready to please all vacationers — with a very special welcome to Lasellites!"

Constance Baker George is enjoying a new home in Groton, Connecticut (8 Woodland Drive). "We have the extra room we have been wanting and the children are growing fast — Kathie is now four, Ken, two."

Close by is Sandy Fookes Adler (Route 5, Box 765, Gales Ferry, Connecticut). Sandy's husband is now assigned to the New London Submarine Base. Their older son, Danny, is a first grader; Timmy is five and Karen is looking forward to #2 birthday in May.

Debbie Keith Estabrook has three children: Sandra, born June 1960, Harold, III, born January 1962, and Elizabeth, born December 1964.

Joni Bates thoughtfully sends her new address: Apartment 3105 777 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, 60611. After serving three years in the Manchester, New Hampshire office of the Hartford Life Insurance Company, Joni was promoted to the position of supervisor of the Chicago office.

Another new address is that of Gail Winalski Burd: 3923 Allston Drive, Jackson, Michigan, 49201. Gail writes: "We came to Jackson a year ago, have bought a home and are very much enjoying the community. Betsy is now in kindergarten, Pamela is anxious to follow her next year; Kathy, who will be two in February, follows my footsteps. I have recently met, through Newcomers Club, Barbara Thelan Seymour '53. We both lived in Woodland and Gardner Halls and have compared scrapbooks.

And to Miss Evelyn Potts, Judy George Stephens writes: "I retired from my part-time job in June. Now my talents are being used for church meals! Do miss really being in Foods. We took a camping trip this June to Colorado and Salt Lake City with my folks. Hope to attend American Bar meetings in Montreal and spend some time in New England this coming summer."

Linda Gould Marshall is busy at home taking care of two little girls, Allison Jo (Sept. 1964) and Valerie Anne (Sept. 1965) while her husband is finishing up his military obligation in Okinawa. In July her husband starts his residency in OBS-GYN at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D. C. Linda will be continuing her education on a part-time basis at American University. She would like to see more news from her classmates in the LEAVES!

Joan Valentine Glasson sent along a clipping from the Hartford Courant including a wedding picture of Anne Telfer Considine. Joni Becker Stenicky was Anne's matron of honor.

Frances Reid Kip is now living in North Syracuse, New York (105 Patricia Lane). Fran and her husband are active in scouting; Fran's troop is comprised of teenage girls. Her note continues: "Peter Michael, Jr., celebrated his second birthday on September 27; Marcia Frances will be one year old January 10, 1966. Have had recent visits with Ann Brown Boyle and Ann Hanscom Pickett. Very best wishes to all at Lasell."

To Mr. Frank W. Knowlton, Jr., we say a sincere Thank You. He has thoughtfully brought us up-to-date with daughter Sabra Knowlton Brea: "Thank you for your recent letter to our daughter Sabra, who graduated in 1960, and who subsequently (15 months later) was "capped" as an R.N. as a member of her Lasell-Peter Bent Brigham class that numbered, when they became RNs, exactly four!

Sabra then worked at Peter Bent Brigham for six months as Chief Technician in the Electrocardiogram Unit. In the spring of 1962 she joined Eastern Air Lines as a Flight Attendant. Later that year, during the long strike of Eastern's Flight Engineers, which seriously curtailed Eastern's schedules, Sabra returned for a short time to nursing as Floor Supervisor in the wards at Georgetown (University) Hospital in Washington, then joined Allegheny Air Lines as a Flight Attendant for a few months before returning to her old job with Eastern.

She was married in June, 1963, to Dr. Cesar A. Brea, Jr., a citizen of Argentina, whom she had met while he was a post-graduate intern at Georgetown Hospital, and who had been named Chief Surgical Intern at the Washington, D. C. General Hospital at the time of their marriage. A year later he was named to a Research and Teaching Fellowship in cardiovascular surgery at the University of Virginia Medical School, and during that year they lived in Charlottesville, close to the college football stadium, thus becoming ardent fans of the Cavalier team.

In July 1965, Sabra and her husband, and their young son, Cesar III, who will be two years old this coming spring, moved to Buenos Aires, where her husband's family have lived for many years. Dr. Brea's father was a prominent physician there until his death several years ago.

Last summer, just before moving to Argentina, Sabra's husband received one of the highest recognitions from the medical profession in this country. He was named a "Diplomate" of the American College of Surgeons, an honor granted to only a small number of practicing surgeons. He has written or co-authored several articles in medical journals on cardiovascular surgery.

Sabra's address is: ARENALES 1294, Buenos Aires, Argentina. She finds the people warm-hearted, but the poverty is heart-rending, and the political and public morality somewhat appalling.

However, to get her name back on the rolls as a contributor to the Alumnae Fund, and to make sure that the Alumnae Office has her correct Buenos Aires address, I am enclosing a small check, as a gift from Sabra. Tennis was always her favorite sport, and I know she will be in complete accord with the objectives of your current annual Fund appeal.

One last word. Sabra is an excellent correspondent, and would very much appreciate hearing from classmates and friends at Lasell."

Joyce Wheeler teaches modern dance at Wisconsin Conservatory of Music in Milwaukee. She is also studying and performing with the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee School of Fine Arts — Theatre Department.

Martha Goodwin is a secretary at the Provident Institution for Savings. Her roommate, Sue Larrabee Blake, is living in Tempe, while her husband is attending Arizona State University.

From Vivien Miller Spertner: "Jimmy and I have been married three years and have a little girl, Kimberly Ann, who is a year old. We have been living in Milford, (48 Robert Treat Drive) Connecticut for a year and love it here."

Phyllis Stone Blotner's husband is a resident at the Boston Lying-In and Free Hospital for Women.

Anita Orleck Webber writes: "We're at a new address with our two daughters, Karen, three; and Loren, one. We'd love any school-mates in the area to say 'hello.' Our address is 106 Lawler Road, West Hartford, Connecticut."

A letter from Marilyn Senior Legg brings word that Ellen C. Smith is back from California and working for Vogue in New York. Before going on to New York, she spent a week in Boston visiting Lynda Green, Fran Fleming, Karen Kirk and Marilyn. Cricket Bigelow is receptionist-secretary for a general practitioner in Fairfax, California.

Audrey Bergesen Long is doing contract interior decorating for her former employer, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. "Frequently see Marina Kokxhoorn Freyer. She and her husband are our daughter's God-parents. Cindy grows more interesting and more fun each day."

Judith Edmonson Spetnagel thoughtfully sends her new address: 17 Buckingham Court, Stamford, Connecticut, 06905. Judy's son David was born in the fall; she also has a six year old step-son Stephen.

We like to quote this kind of correspondence: "I have enjoyed reading the LEAVES and thought this would be a good opportunity to write some news of myself. My maiden name was Sarah Anderson, and I attended in 1958-59. On April 8, 1961 I married John G. Olsen, Jr. Karin Elizabeth was born on October 20, 1962; John Mark, on June 14, 1964." Sarah's address is 141 Mount Pleasant Street, Gloucester, Mass.

Felices Pascuas y Prospero Año Nuevo greetings from Sue Fietze Haase x-'60 in Peru: "Lima is beautiful now for summer has arrived. As usual, I am up to my ears in many projects. We are looking forward to very special holiday guests — my husband's family. Our Kristin celebrated her first birthday on November 10. She keeps me jumping for she seems to be everywhere at once. Do so enjoy the LEAVES — it does seem we are so very far away. May soon be further from Massachusetts — there is a possibility we shall go to Chile. Best good wishes to my Lasell friends."

Christine Lewis has returned to Miami after a year in San Francisco. She does public relations and editing at the Institute of Marine Science at the University of Miami.

Karin and Mark Olsen
(Sarah Anderson x-'60)

Sue White Ashe is now living at Carlton Towers, Knoxville, Tennessee, where she and her husband own a show stable — and “at last, a race horse.”

Andrea Busch Moore — “moved to Norwalk in December — we are delighted to be back in the country.” Their new address is 23 Deerwood Manor, Norwalk, Conn. 06851.

Gail Warren is with California Texas Oil Corporation in New York; sees Janet Murray McEwen and Jacqueline Hans occasionally.

Jane Parsons Dolbier reports that she has kept in touch with many classmates, and they are looking forward to Reunion.

Ann Davidson is a first grade teacher in Poughkeepsie. Last summer she participated in the Headstart Program.

Louise Motta Shimkin x-'61 lives in Philadelphia while her husband is interning at Philadelphia General Hospital. She is a University of Pennsylvania graduate. They have two daughters, Beth, two and Louise, Jr., three months.

Theresa D'Addario's Christmas letter to Miss Evelyn Potts reads: “After I certified at Katherine Gibbs School, I took a trip to San Francisco, and worked there for a few months; — back to New Jersey to work for Price Waterhouse and Kelly Girls until I saved enough money to afford an extended trip to Italy. I left in March '65 and returned home in October.”

“It was a very successful sojourn, and I learned to speak Italian socially and met hundreds of fascinating people. To supplement my meager savings, I worked for about four months in Rome — and for a week in London — for secretarial services usually. It wasn't difficult to find a job because of my training. Currently I am with Hilton Hotels International as secretary to the Director of Food and Beverages. I notice from the reviews and studies and correspondence that it relates, rather entails, almost everything we covered in the Cafeteria & Restaurant Management Course.”

Nance Magill Karp lives in Norwood, where she sees Linda Mason Crawford frequently. Nance and Stephen are week-end skiers.

Adele Carissimo writes of her trip to Italy, and plans to return for study at the University of Florence.

Gwen Lincoln Colley's husband will be graduating from Harvard Business School in June.

Recent news from Marcia Madden: “I shall graduate in February, 1966 from the University of New Hampshire with a B.S. in Occupational Therapy. My training affiliations for the next ten months will take me to Washington, Topeka, and San Francisco.”

Betsy MacMillan Blackledge is now in Arizona where her husband attends Air Force flight school.

Jean DiGiorgio Buchanan has moved to Delaware where her husband is employed by DuPont. Jean is a jewelry and gift buyer in Wilmington. Their new address is: 108 Wentworth Drive, Radnor Woods, Claymont, Delaware 19703.

Virginia Fletcher is executive medical secretary to the Director of Claims and Physician Relations at Connecticut Blue Shield Plan.

Ann-Perley Wingersky Ireland has moved to New Jersey where her husband is with Union Carbide Corporation as a chemical engineer. Robert is studying part-time for his Master's Degree at Stevens Institute.

Carol Ann Hamill graduated from Pennsylvania State University in April, 1964, and in August, 1965, was a member of the graduating class of Dietetic Interns at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

From Robin MacCloskey Agnew: “Pierre and I were married at my parents' home in Newton on November 12th. Had a lovely honeymoon in Florida! See Mary Johnson Callahan frequently. She just had her second baby, a boy — Joseph Patrick Callahan, Jr. I am continuing my voice lessons and also have a secretarial position. So glad to hear about Lasell's progress.”

Mary Sargent Rogala enjoys browsing through the LEAVES to learn news of classmates.

Ellen Signorelli a secretary in the White Plains office of General Foods, vacationed in Puerto Rico.

Linda Loving writes: "Am now at University of Wisconsin continuing my education. At Christmastime, twenty-five '65 grads met me at the top of the Tishman Building in New York City for a great reunion!"

Janet Perkins is a diet supervisor at the Emerson Hospital in Concord, Massachusetts.

Nancy Wiener reports she is presently affiliated with the Tufts-New England Medical Center in Boston.

Hetty Magill is studying at American University in Washington, D. C., and writes: "Of course, I miss Lasell and all my campus friends."

Mary Sprague is medical secretary to Dr. Chilton Crane in Boston; and is sharing an apartment with Mary Staples, Eleanor Staniland and Susan Hart.

Jean Hill notified us that Margaret Sylvester was living and working in San Francisco. Then Peggy wrote: "Saw Jean Hill, Billie Ehlich, Linda Loving, and a good part of Haskell House '65 before moving out here. California is just great — would love to see anyone who may be out this way."

Anne DeArment is a secretary at Channellock, Inc., and also training to be an airline reservationist.

Susan Hart has accepted a position as Medical Technician with Retina Associates of Boston.

Eleanor Lamson Brewster is a member of the faculty of Friends Academy, North Dartmouth, and is assisting in the athletic program.

SEVEN BOOKS

by VINCENT C. DEBAUN

(President-elect Vincent C. DeBaun was formally introduced to the student body on Monday, March 21, 1966. Dr. DeBaun was the guest speaker on the occasion of Honors Assembly. The text of his address is printed below.)

Several years ago a colleague and I joined in one of those post-midnight sessions in which, after long talk, one begins to lose the inhibitions that fetter and conventionalize ordinary conversation. It was one of those times when one begins to reach out toward the larger issues of life — those issues which no man will ever see whole, or ever gather fully into his agonized embrace. Perhaps it is just as well that we do not reach too often toward an understanding of the human condition; for surely such striving, for ordinary mortals, rends the soul and empties such deeps of compassion that we are weary with the effort. It is a rueful commentary on our civilization, perhaps, that most often we speak of the eternal questions only when fatigue or emotion loosens the latch of our reserve, to reveal the uncertain and timid spirit beneath the confident exterior.

Certainly, after such moments of revelation, one wonders: "Did I make a fool of myself? Did I tell some dreadful childish thought that rose wistfully from my subconscious, that province of my fallibility and indecision? Do I now stand revealed as a driveller or a sentimentalist?" Such was my case, in the bleak light of morning. But no. I could not recall that I had made any shameful confidences.

One moment, however, I could recall quite sharply — a moment when my friend had spoken of a book, an obscure book, not a "classic" in the ordinary sense, but one which, he said, had influenced his whole life, affecting his choice of a career and then remaining in his memory to color much of what he had said and done in the years since.

Regarding this statement with some curiosity, I wondered if I could say that any book or books had marked my life ineradicably. After all, my friend and I had been speaking genuinely, with serious import, of matters that lie somewhere near the heart of the human mystery; so I had reason to believe that the book must indeed have had abiding meaning for him, bringing direction and weight to a life which had hitherto been vagrant and trivial. No — no such book had come blazing into the frivolous muddle of my existence, like the Divine Word smiting the unsuspecting traveller to Damascus.

And yet — and yet it did seem to me that certain titles, certain characters, certain themes, began to emerge, dimly at first and almost amorphous, from the weltering recollection of the thousand books of my past. The realization came to me slowly, in shreds and fragments and half-ravelled tatters, that certain volumes had touched me more deeply and permanently than I knew — not, as I have said, in altering my vocation or raising a splendid banner I was to follow on some dedicated mission. For whatever I have experienced in that line of human affairs,

I owe thanks to the noble teachers I have known. No, my books did something quite different for me: they illumined my understanding, widening my comprehension of the world.

Most important of all, I think, they told me something of myself. I wish I might explain this latter effect; it was almost as though I had rounded some gusty, desolate, rain-driven corner in my life, stumbling suddenly into a heaving mass of people, to recognize with surprise that the chaos before me — the mob of ineffectual bunglers, of vainglorious poseurs and futile dreamers — was actually made up of myriad reflections of myself.

Nosce te ipsum, said the ancients. "Know thyself." Truly I believe that one must know oneself — at least in part, that is, for probably the Freudian chasm is too dark, too nearly bottomless, for most of us to plumb. Still, at least some small measure of self-knowledge precedes any other knowledge worth holding, I am convinced; and most of my knowledge of myself (admittedly limited) and of humanity at large comes from my reading.

As I said before, a handful of books now assume tremendous stature for me because I have begun to realize what they taught me. I hesitate to list them, I must admit, out of fear that my taste will be liable to criticism; but, since you and I are in the process of becoming acquainted, I shall lay bare my spirit in the hope that you will be charitable to my limitations. First, let me qualify my statements somewhat, so that you may understand my choices. My books are only seven altogether. That is not a mystic figure, I hasten to add; the seven merely stand out easily above the rest, all other books, many far greater in the judgement of men, crowding together in groups too large to handle. Furthermore, these are not necessarily the greatest books I have read, by any critical or philosophical yardstick I can think of. (My list, alas, does not contain such masterworks as War and Peace or Don Quixote or Paradise Lost or The Divine Comedy or Moby Dick or even the Bible.) My books are simply the books that touched my heart most deeply and taught me some truth when I was most receptive to it.

Forthwith, then, my list, with the titles arranged not in order of importance, but in the chronological order of their composition:

The Imitation of Christ, generally attributed to Thomas à Kempis

The Works of Robert Burns

The Works of John Keats

Huckleberry Finn, by Mark Twain

Lord Jim, by Joseph Conrad

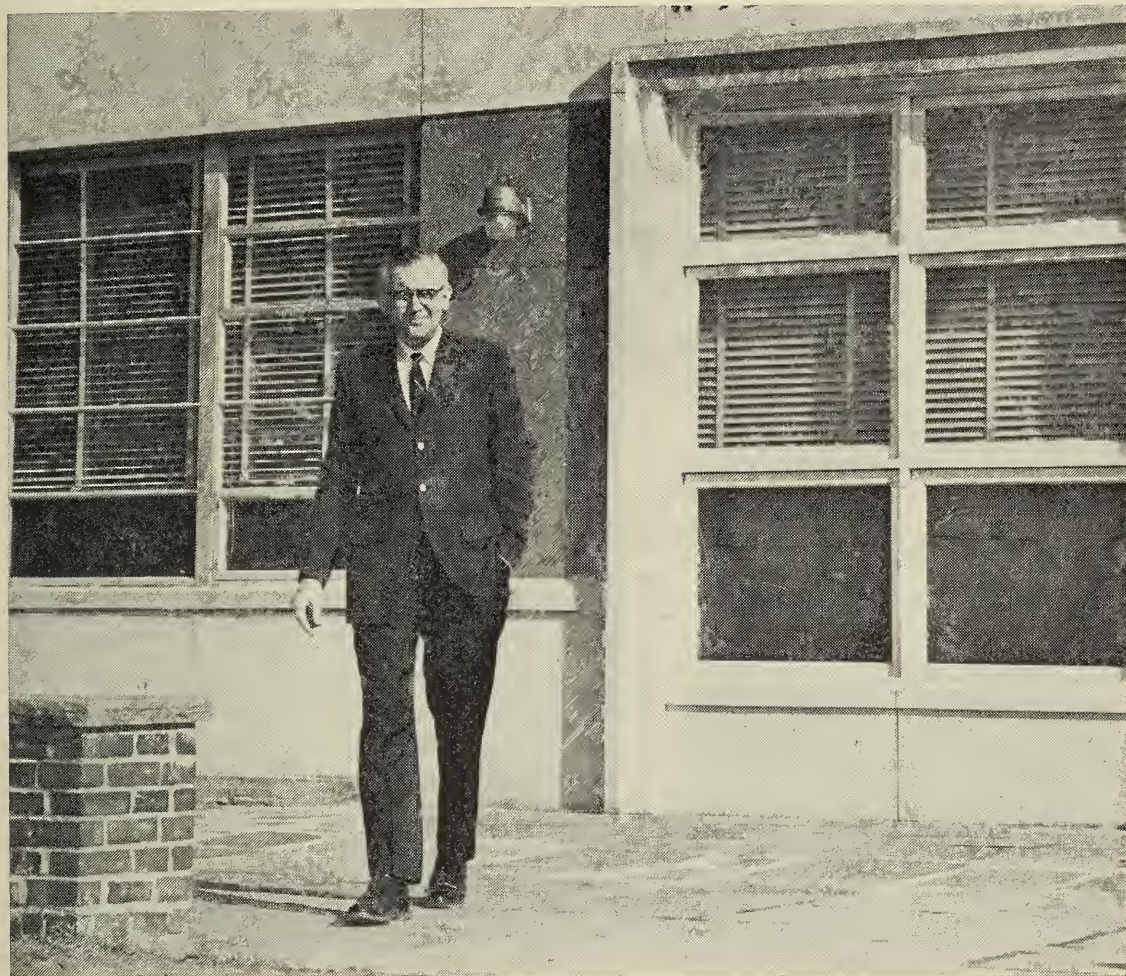

Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man, by James Joyce

Look Homeward, Angel, by Thomas Wolfe

I say "The Works" of Burns and Keats to refer to a large body of their poems; I have not read them all. Of course other books than the ones I have listed crowd into the memory and clamor to be added: Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, certain poems of Browning, Maugham's Of Human Bondage, the autobiography of Sean O'Casey, and many more. But my seven must stand alone.

They are a strange bunch, I think. Probably the authors are very uncomfortable companions indeed, if they are forced to rub elbows in the literary bounds of Parnassus. I am sure that poor à Kempis, ascetic and contemplative, finds Burns too often among the roisterers and toss-pots; and I daresay that Twain wonders what in tarnation sticks so proudly in the craw of James Joyce. And so on.

Now, just as the authors differ, the burden of their books differs. This is not the place for me to offer pithy analyses of the seven titles, as our time is limited; and in any event, I do not wish to trouble you with my personal inquiries into the meaning of literature and life. Were I to begin quoting meaningful passages from the books — themes that struck me with a terrible poignancy that still haunts my recollections — we should need a long time to rehearse them all. Suffice it to say that each spoke directly to me, in a certain moment, in a certain room, in a certain tone, and thus irradiated, at least in part, a corner of my soul. And as it almost always does, the light cast out fear.

Dr. Vincent DeBaun on campus

Now, the point to which I am heading in this talk is simply this: I do not believe that we look sufficiently for vitality, for illumination, for verity, in what we read. I believe this failure to be especially common in the academic world, among students, because they are always frowning with such intensity over allusions and historical applications and murky symbols, ranging from the Christian to the sexual, that for all the view they gain of the world or of themselves, they might as well be swimming under water.

Such students are, I know, in fashion: it is delightful to hold a Martini and murmur of the weltschmerz of Samuel Johnson, or of the objective correlative in the hands of Berthold Brecht. But one's knowledge of the more arcane prattle of the litterateurs does little to animate and kindle the inner spirit in those times that Melville has called "the damp drizzly November in the soul."

On the other hand let me leap — practically with frantic cries of protest — to beg you not to burrow into every book, with sharp blue nose and narrowed eye, looking for "messages." I can assure you that very few things are more tiresome to a teacher than to be faced with a pietistic class who have all been busy digging up morals. They are reminiscent of the Duchess in Alice in Wonderland, who, you may remember, was always saying things like:

"Never imagine yourself to be otherwise than what it might appear to others that what you were or might have been was not otherwise than what you had been would have appeared to them to be otherwise. I can't tell just now what the moral of that is, but I shall remember it in a bit."

Students with such moral-fixations inevitably create the impression that they were weaned on The Readers' Digest.

No, I might only ask that you follow the Aristotelean middle way, the Golden Mean somewhere between the barren, narrow path on the one hand, trod by the sterile symbol-seekers who know all the details but no meaning; and the treacly swamp on the other hand, through which slog the humorless ones sniffing out morals and messages in every paragraph.

Simply — be prepared to embrace the great significant book when it comes your way. Perhaps its meaning will come to you in an immense refulgence that will leave you physically staggered; perhaps its meaning will come slowly, in particles and scraps, long after you have closed the volume. In any event, the experience, I assure you, will be rare, a thing not often repeated in a lifetime. Indeed, the experience may eventually prove a treacherous one: the book seemingly so aflame with verity to the man of twenty may be only the embarrassing memory of a sententious fraud to the man of forty. Every man who has looked into his own heart sees there the decayed remains of certain lost saints. But the experience of reading — and of feeling when reading — is beyond all price, and worth the pain it sometimes causes. The experience is available to you — today, here, in this time, in this place.

But it must be sought out. It must be grappled with. Once known, for good or ill, for beauty or ugliness, for rapture or sorrow, it is yours always. Truth comes in many forms. What is it Paul writes to the Colossians? "Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good." So let it be with your reading.

EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL ALUMNAE COUNCIL MEETINGS

The Annual Meeting of Lasell Alumnae, Inc.

The Eighteenth Annual Alumnae Council Session commenced Friday evening, April 1st, with a social hour preceding dinner in Valentine dining room. After a most attractive and delicious buffet, Alumnae President Dorothy Secord Garon '34 extended greetings to all and introduced the head table. Mr. Wilder Smith, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, brought greetings from the Trustees and regretfully announced that Dr. Vince DeBaun, Lasell's newly-elected President, was unable to attend Council due to illness. Guest speaker, Miss A. Harriet Tinker, a member of Lasell's Science Faculty, reported on her assignment in the Canadian Yukon during the summer of 1965. Miss Tinker worked with the Icefield Ranges Research Project where she made extensive studies of small mammals. The project was sponsored by the Arctic Institute of North America and the American Geographic Society. The National Science Foundation has recently awarded a grant of $2000 to the College. Miss Tinker will return to the Canadian Yukon this summer for further studies. Her informative talk at the Council Session was highlighted by a series of beautiful colored slides.

Dorothy Garon announced that the lounges were available for social gatherings or bridge for the remainder of the evening.

The Annual Meeting of Lasell Alumnae, Inc., was held on Saturday, April 2, 1966 in Wolfe Hall. President Dorothy Garon called the meeting to order and welcomed those present, with special recognition of Sally Hughes Fasick '50 from Athens, Georgia; and the sizable delegation from the Connecticut Valley Club.

The Secretary's report was read and accepted.

The Treasurer's report was distributed, discussed and placed on file.

The Auditor's report was read and placed on file.

The Corresponding Secretary's report was read and accepted.

Shirley Gould Chesebro '33, Scholarship Chairman, reported that awards totaling $1950 had been granted in 1965-66.

Louise Tardivel Higgins '37, Alumnae Fund Chairman, announced that $25,481.75 had been received from 1323 contributors, including Trustees, Faculty and Administration. The Fund will be extended to June 30th, the end of the College fiscal year and the termination of Parent Solicitation. The August issue of the LEAVES will contain a supplementary report of the 1965-66 Fund. The Board of Management voted to give the College $50,000 to landscape and complete the new athletic field in its entirety.

Lillian Reese Roche '50, reported on the Alumnae Bazaar held November 16, 1965 in Winslow Hall. The profit realized from this most successful project was $3326.58. The Third Annual Alumnae Bazaar will be held in Winslow Hall November 15th and all alumnae are urged to participate. Mrs. Roche announced spring events to be sponsored by the Boston Club:

April 7th Thrift Shop Sale

May 4th Silver Tea at the home of Madeline Farmer Ryder x-'15

May 17th Card party at Winslow Hall

Friday Evening — Woodland Hall

l. to r.: Sally Hughes Fasick '50, Dr. Harry V. Anderson, Mildred Bell Cole '31, Penny Rafkin Hurwitz '56, and Mr. Richard Winslow.

Linda Nolin Ahern '55, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, read the slate of officers for 1966-67. It was voted to accept the slate as read. Officers include:

President:	Marilyn Blodgett Hall '46
1st Vice President:	Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55
2nd Vice President:	Betty Lou Foy Reid '52
Recording Secretary:	Betty Williams McGowan '47
Corresponding Secretary:	Linda Nolin Ahern '55
Treasurer:	Ruth Turner Crosby '42
Assistant Treasurer:	Ruth Buswell Isaacson '36
Alumnae Fund Committee:	Alice Pratt Brown '29
Alumnae Fund Committee:	Louise Tardivel Higgins '37
Alumnae Fund Committee:	Linda Telfer '60
Scholarship Committee Chairman:	Shirley Gould Chesebro '33

Directors:

Mildred Strain Nutter '17	Camie Porter Morison '40
Antoinette Meritt Smith '23	Priscilla Redfield Potter '43

Dorothy Secord Garon '34	Penny Rafkin Hurwitz '56
Priscilla Parmenter Madden '37	Sandra Shelton Fitch '56

Dorothy Garon thanked the Board for their cooperation during her term as President and passed the gavel to Lynn Hall. Lynn presented Dot with a silver bracelet as a token of appreciation from the Board of Management. Lynn then introduced Mrs. John VanEtten, Student Counselor, who told of the varied and diversified events on campus today. Outstanding are concerts, art exhibits, Honor's Assembly, student-faculty informal conversations, Father-Daughter weekend, and Parents Day, featuring a talk by David Brinkley. As of March 31, 1966, 1414 applications have been received in the Admissions office. Of these, Lasell accepted 658. The tuition for a day student is $1100 and for a resident student $2650. Future plans at Lasell include dining room expansion, new dormitories and a library.

President Hall thanked Mrs. VanEtten, and adjourned the Annual Meeting at 10:40 a.m.

After coffee, the morning session reconvened with Marjorie MacClymon '32 as moderator of an Alumnae Career Panel. Each panelist gave a brief description of her chosen career. Those participating:

Ida Bean Rice '15, Vice President Friends of Framingham, an organization which helps the female offender adjust to society after her release from prison.

Nancy Larsen Holbrook '42, secretary to Dr. Trygve Gunderson, ophthalmologist.

Shirley Marks Tuck x-'42, Clinical Psychologist.

Jacqueline Darcy '46, free lance writer and librarian.

Eileen Conradi '57, Advertising.

The panelists graciously answered questions from the floor until it was announced that luncheon was to be served at Woodland.

After luncheon Lynn Hall announced that the table flowers would be sent to Evelina Perkins '15. Lynn then thanked the Panelists for their informative talks, Miss Smith, Lasell's dietitian, for the delicious meals, and a standing ovation for Marjorie MacClymon '32, Alumnae Secretary.

The Eighteenth Annual Alumnae Council Session was adjourned.

ONE HUNDRED ELEVENTH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Lasell's 111th Annual Commencement Exercises were held on the Recreation Field on Sunday morning, June 5th. Mr. Wilder N. Smith, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, introduced guest speaker, Mr. John Dewey Hickerson, former ambassador and career diplomat who served as chairman of the State Department delegation that drafted the NATO Treaty. Mr. Hickerson has served as U.S. advisor at Dumbarton Oaks, is a member of Harvard University's Advisory Committee on Research in International Law; a Director of the Atlantic Council, and a regular lecturer at the School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University.

Diplomas were awarded to the 279 members of the Class of 1966 by Mr. Smith and Miss June Babcock, Dean of Women and Acting President, with assistance from Mrs. Mary Blatchford VanEtten, Student Counselor.

TRADITIONAL AWARDS

At Class Night Exercises on Saturday, June 4, the College's Traditional Awards were presented to members of the Class of 1966.

ATHLETIC AWARDS: "L's" awarded to the winning crew, the Bragdon Freshmen. Capt. Gwynne Gates, Elise Bott, Kathryn Cooke, Karen Corlett, Diane Ellis, Linda Hill, Bonnie Lord, Pamela Summers and Charlotte Townsend.

The BLUE and WHITE SHIELD was won by the BLUES, with a score of 290 points over 235 for the WHITES. Barbara Weidlick, leader of the Blue Team, accepted the award.

Five students were honored for their participation in sports during their two years at the College: Penny Colpitts, Susan Ellis, Jacquie Ruppert, Gail Williamson and Virginia Wolf.

GIFTS: Sharon LeVan presented a check from the College Government Association; Building Fund Chairman, Adrienne Aslanian, was congratulated by Mr. Smith for the very successful projects accomplished by the Class of 1966.

BLUE KEYS: Awarded to the following Seniors, who volunteered their services as campus guides to prospective students and visitors during the year, served as ushers at public functions, and who returned to campus early in September to act as hostesses to the Freshmen: Dawna Ames, Linda Arsenault, Adrienne Aslanian, Lisa Benson, Robin Bleckwehl, Janice Brett, Lynn Calahan, Susan Callis, Diane Cole, Pamela Colpitts, Penny Colpitts, Katherine Conners, Maureen Cooney, Lynn Craig, Joanne Devaney, Sue DeWilde, Judith Dubin, Susan Ellis, Linda Ferris, Elizabeth FitzGerald, Holly Fleming, Joanne Frankel, Pamela Gonyer, Carolyn Graham, Margherita Guillaro, Susan Halewood, Elizabeth Heath, Nancy Hertz, Nancy Higgins, Linda Holch, Bonnie Horwitz, Carole Howe, Marjorie Kaiser, Laura Lappin, Sharon LeVan, Judith Lewis, Elizabeth Love, Elinore Lowe, Noel Manning, Barbara Masters, Karen Mender, Nancy Naylor, Nora Nelson, Patricia O'Connell, Lynn Porsche, Alice Reeves, Nancy Reeves, Elizabeth Reitman, Susan Ruby, Jackie Ruppert, Lois Sawyer, Donna Schaufus, Kathleen Shed, Barbara Stern, Martha Sweetser, Donna Terwilliger, Susan Wakeman, Barbara Weidlich, Beverly Weldon, Carolyn White, Gail Williamson, Virginia Wolf and Carol Wolfenden.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

For the first time honored were a group of Seniors, whose accomplishments within a specific curriculum had been outstanding. As a token of Lasell's pride in their achievement, each received a book appropriately inscribed:

Excellence in Art: Robin Bleckwehl, Interior Design
 Bonnie Horwitz, Fashion Illustration
 Lynn Porsche, Advertising

With The Clubs

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bartlett
(Betty Kirby '47)

WASHINGTON (D.C.) celebrated its 15th anniversary on March 26, 1966 at the Bethesda home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bartlett (Betty Kirby '47). President Ann Douglas Wood '59 received a note of regrets from Rose Baer Trexler x-'16, the Club's first president.

GREATER BOSTON'S spring schedule of events included an "Evening of Beauty and Charm" with Mary Lawlor, feature writer for the women's pages of the Boston Traveler; a Thrift Sale at Shady Hill Thrift Shop, Cambridge, during the month of April; a Bridge Party at Winslow Hall on Tuesday evening, May 17; sale of flowers at Lasell Night at the Pops. Proceeds from these successful projects have been directed to the Alumnae Scholarship Fund.

On March 12th, alumnae in the SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA area met for luncheon at the Newporter Inn, Newport. President Gini Hall Anderson '48 paid special recognition to four "newcomers": Emmeline Guernsey x-'08 from Poughkeepsie, N. Y. and who was visiting in the area, Clara Nims '07 recently moved to California from Watertown, N.Y., and 1931 classmates Karin Eliason Monroe and Ruth Rohe Smith. Secretary Trudy Ruch Kauffman '42 forwarded a generous contribution to the Alumnae Building Fund on the occasion of the Club's 57th anniversary.

SOUTH FLORIDA, now to be known as LASELL'S GOLD COAST, announces officers for the 1966-67 year: President, Frances Wynkoop Benjamin '31, Vice President, Irene Murray Pettapiece x-'29, and Secretary, Constance Peterson Sloan x-'53. Thirty-four members and guests met for luncheon at the Coral Ridge Country Club, Fort Lauderdale, on March 5th. Alumnae Secretary Marjorie MacClymon '32 brought news of the College.

The annual dinner dance, sponsored by WESTERN MASSACHUSETTS, was held on Saturday evening, April 12, at Tekoa Country Club in Westfield. Elaine Budarz Wiatrowski '54 headed the general committee, with Bonnie Reimann Ferranti '62 as ticket chairman and Jeanne Moseley Frank '56, publicity chairman. Assisting on the committee were Sandra Smith Swain '56, Jane Hicks Donovan '48, Judith Rakosky Baskin '59, Marilyn Peck Erickson '52, Charlotte Bechard Healey '62, Joyce Carroll Mulcahy '62 and Carolyn Chapin Snyder '55.

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S spring luncheon was held at the Wayfarer Inn in Manchester: President Joan Lambert Laffin '47 planned the CAPITOL DISTRICT'S April luncheon at Dunn's in Latham, New York.

Newly-elected officers of the FAIRFIELD COUNTY (Bridgeport area) group include: President, Judy Butler Weppel '58: Vice President and Program Chairman, Andrea Zaletta '62: Secretary, Betty Killam Silvert x-'62: Treasurer, Carolyn Killam Moller '57. The final meeting of the 1965-66 season was a dinner party at Manero's, Westport, on May 25th.

RHODE ISLAND announced their 1966-67 officers at the annual dinner meeting on May 11th at the Grist Mill, Seekonk. Eleanor Munro '48 will serve as president: Marilyn Weeden Davidson '49, vice president: Claire LaLiberte Adler '53, recording secretary: Marion Munro Waitt '45, corresponding secretary: and Elizabeth Sleight Dexter '53, treasurer.

Miss Muriel McClelland and Marjorie MacClymon '32 attended luncheon meetings in Philadelphia and in Buffalo. PHILADELPHIA-SOUTH JERSEY met at the Main Dining Room of Gimbel's on Saturday, April 23rd. Anne Hayden Halberg '59 was elected president for the coming year; Maud Irwin '64, secretary-treasurer. The Little White House in Williamsville was chosen as the meeting place for the BUFFALO group on April 30. Marjorie Keller Mayer x-'31 was in charge of arrangements.

PORTLAND (Maine) met for dinner on February 6th at the Holiday Inn. Seated at the head table were officers Patricia Kelsey Scharf '54, president: Gertrude Hooper Ring '32, vice president; and Lynn Jannicky Nielsen '54, secretary-treasurer.

Theresa Thompson Osborne '22 was hostess for the EASTERN MAINE'S June Luncheon, held on Wednesday, the 29th, at the Yankee Clipper Restaurant, Belfast. Alumnae were requested to bring contributions for the 1966 Bazaar, to be held at the college on Tuesday, November 15.

1966 June Queen and Attendants

1903

Alice Mott Stewart '01-'02 recently requested confirmation of her attendance at the Seminary. To her note she added: "I made many delightful friends at Lasell — with one of whom I still correspond." Mrs. Stewart's present address is 3728 Cranberry Court, Florissant, Missouri.

1906

Very Special Reunion greetings were received from Dorothea Turner Moulton and from Mary-Florine Thielens Peeples. Mrs. Moulton noted that "this is the first Class Reunion I have missed"; enclosed with a message from Mrs. Peeples was a generous check from the Chicago Alumnae Club to be credited to the current Alumnae Fund. Mrs. Peeples is President of the Chicago area group.

1909

Florence Swartwout Thomassen describes her note as "ancient history": "I was deeply interested in the November '65 LEAVES. 1909 was the first class under the presidency of Dr. Winslow; it was my good fortune to be president of the Class, and I came to know him very well. Had many conferences with him and respected Dr. Winslow very much."

1910

Julia Crafts Sheridan attended the March luncheon of the South Florida Club in Fort Lauderdale; on the return trip to Sarasota she called on Helen Hood. Earlier in the winter, delays in travel schedule prevented a visit with Mary Gallagher Catlin in Mexico. During the summer months, Julia operates an antique shop in Greenville, Maine.

Edna MacDonald Sheppard has requested a certified statement of attendance at the College. She adds: "The small mining town in Montana where I was born is no longer in existence. I attended Lasell for four years, graduated in 1911, and have many fond memories of those happy years."

To Louise Tardivel Higgins '37, Eleanor Warner Salisbury writes: "It may interest you to know that I was one of four girls who persuaded Dr. Bragdon to grant permission to form the Athletic Association. Under the direction of Miss Nellie Warner, instructor of Physical Training, we held the first Field Meet in the spring of 1909. The other three Lasell girls on my committee were: Sibyl Webb Dougherty x-'11, Mary Lombard Courtney '10 and Edna MacDonald Sheppard."

. . . and from the June 1909 issue of the LEAVES: "Monday the 24th, was as perfect a day for Field Day as we could have wished for. The first event was the running high jump, which was executed with the aid of a spring board. In this Edna MacDonald won first place, making a record of five feet; Mary Lombard won second place."

Dorothy Hartshorn Underwood forwarded news of Lois Brader Buckner. Lois, Mrs. George Buckner, is now living at the Hotel Bethlehem in Bethlehem, Penna. She and her husband spend the winters in West Palm Beach. They have two sons and four granddaughters.

Dorothy attended the spring Alumnae Council Session; brought the following excerpts from the Class Round Robin letter:

Marcia Fogg Moore is happy to have son Tom and his family returned to Saco; Marcia's daughter and family live nearby too.

Lena Vee Kelly Stone spends the winter in Tempe, Arizona. She is listed in the Phoenix telephone directory; hopes friends will call if they are in the vicinity.

Ruth Davis Giller reports that the city of St. Louis has purchased the beautiful Spanish Pavilion which was at the World's Fair. Ruth plans to drive the 70 miles from Whitehall (Ill.) to see for herself!

Myra Eby Craighead has a most interesting vocation — storytelling. In her last letter, Myra declared that doing this for Girl Scout, school and church groups put her in the spirit of Christmas.

Mary Bingham's letter sounded young and gay — travelling often to New York City.

Charlotte Swartout Quackenbush enclosed a picture of her first grandchild; Class President, Ruby Newcomb McCorkindale, told of her daughter Ruth's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary party, at which Ruby's great-grandson was the star performer.

Carolyn Moore wrote that she had never seen more snow than this year's "crop" in Duluth.

Alleda Burnett Arneson included a picture of her son Byron, who not only plays organs but builds them. He designed the organ at the Fort Monroe chapel.

With holiday greetings, Josephine Kenower Bridge wrote of a wonderful and long visit from a niece. Nell Youngers Henkle reports news of Irene Bollman Kunkel and Mildred Cutting Tucker. We extend sincere sympathy to Mildred, whose husband passed away recently.

1916 — 50th Reunion

Twenty-two members of the Class of 1916, including all class officers, gathered at Lasell for our 50th Reunion on June 11th. Among those present were Class President, Frances Harris Speare; Vice President, Marian Beach Barlow; Secretary, Mabel Straker Kimball; Treasurer, Adolphia Garnsey Ettinger; Cheer Leader, Mildred Cloake Norbury; Gertrude Baker Davis, Edna Christiansen Beckwith, Helen Foster, Helen Gerrett, Marion Griffin Wolcott, Eleanor McCarty Thomas, Mary Frances Moore Duryea, Florence Morris Smith, Mildred Ordway Brahana, Dr. Carol Rice, Elizabeth Richards, Alma Sweet, Margaret Trice Gibbens, Charlotte Whiting Clark, Ruth Winslow Payne and Maude Hayden Keeney. Eighteen "resident" reunioneers met at Ordway Hall on Friday afternoon; the remaining four joined us for Alumnae Luncheon on Saturday. Margaret Trice Gibbens gave an inspiring talk, explaining her work with the deaf.

Following Luncheon, Miss Muriel McClelland escorted us on a tour of the campus — to Bragdon, and to the newer and unfamiliar buildings. In the evening we gathered at The Pillar House for our Class Dinner; at that time Carol Rice presented a check to Marjorie MacClymon '32, Alumnae Secretary. The contribution, to be directed to The Alumnae Fund, was made by the Class in honor of Mabel Straker Kimball, our Life Secretary, who has so successfully managed to keep the Class in touch with one another via our Round Robin Letter.

We look forward to meeting again at Lasell in 1971; especially do we hope many more classmates will join us at that time.

. . . Maude Hayden Keeney

"Regrets" were sent by Marjorie Collins Cisco-Smith, Frances Reese, Hazel McLellan Converse and Elizabeth Carleton Stillman. Additional returned questionnaires include:

From Dale Whipple Turnbull: Hope to have a trip to New England later in the summer. Best wishes to all.

Pauline Ray Hamilton: Had looked forward to our 50th with much anticipation; home conditions prevent my coming. Every morning I think of Mrs. Martin and the class repeating: "We are well and happy. Hooray! Hooray!" This is my sincerest wish for you all.

Naomi Bradley Reed: So terribly sorry to miss the 50th — a real milestone. We are leaving in mid-May for a combined business and pleasure trip to Europe. I am well and happy; my interests and activities are the usual ones of a 68-year-old grandmother. Regards to all classmates, and again: an open invitation to any going down the Merritt Parkway, stop off to visit. We are located a half-mile from the Parkway — 100 Clapboard Ridge Road, Greenwich, Conn.

Mildred Libby Kilgore: Sorry to miss our 50th — this is Reunion year for daughter Jean (Kilgore Owen '51). She has two children; Patricia, 6, and Jonathan, 2.

Marion Newland Adams: My husband's illness prevents my joining you at Lasell. Regards to all — and Have a Happy.

Helen Overholser Towle: Shall be looking forward to our Round Robin and all the news. Greetings to all; do have a wonderful time.

Vera Willis Warfield: How I wish I might attend Reunion! For years I have planned to be with you all for the 50th, but things just happen! Early in November I started work as research assistant on a special project at the university; that work does not terminate until July 31st. After that, I plan to spend a month in the East, not being entirely disloyal to New England, I do love Colorado. At the moment I am rehearsing madly for a "character" role in a little theatre play to be produced early in May, and I am trying to learn computer programming — Fortran IV language is really tough to master! Best wishes to all.

Helen Merrill Strohecker: Granddaughter, Martha Matten, will graduate in June from Sweet Briar College. Sorry I won't be with you in Auburndale — have a wonderful time!

Ruth Harris Frank: Just returned to St. Louis, after spending the winter in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Dorothy Brate McPherrin: Have been a cheerful invalid since 1960.

Wilda Berkey Cartland: Have been in Orlando, Florida since early December. Mr. Cartland suffered a stroke while we were visiting daughter Joy (Cartland Fowler x-'45).

In April, Virginia Moore Starkey wrote: "Have just returned from visiting my daughter Kathryn (Starkey Litehiser '42), who is in Tucson for the winter. En route home, I enjoyed an afternoon and dinner with Pauline Fera in Chicago."

Mary Taylor Gish hears "occasionally from Margaret Trice Gibbens x-'16, Ruth Winslow Payne '16, and Mary Casey Verrette x-'18. One of these days I hope to visit with them."

Gail Wilson Boynton reports: "We left New Hampshire on the 12th of December; were in Williamsburg for Christmas — such fun! Then on to Florida; while on the Keys we saw the Scotts (Nita Hotchkiss) — were treated to a deep freeze and two hurricanes!"

And Helen Smith Stone "would like to hear more about my classmates. My husband has been retired and we have done a bit of travelling this year — the Canadian Rockies and a West Indies cruise."

For Mildred Cary Hill "life as the wife of a retired Air Force General is a most exciting one." Mid's March report reads: "We have just returned from a trip, which started out to be a vacation in Florida. After touring the state, we drove to Charleston, S. C., left the car and flew to Spain. Rented a car — toured Spain and the beautiful country of Portugal. On the return flight to Charleston we were accompanied by 165 Navy men who had just 'come up' after being submerged on their submarine for two months. It was a thrilling — as well as colorful — trip across the Atlantic. From Charleston we flew to Dallas, San Antonio and New Orleans. We drove back to Maine, where we were greeted by the worst blizzard in years!"

From Elizabeth Moyer Wilson x-'19: "Last summer, after attending Art's 50th Reunion at Cornell, we enjoyed a North Cape Cruise, including East Berlin and Moscow. This year we are off Around the World!"

1920

This good suggestion comes from Marion Eaton Gumaer: "I think we need a round-robin letter to arouse interest in our 50th Reunion — it is only three years away."

Saturday, June 11th found but a small delegation from the Class of 1921 at the College. Nonetheless, the "little group" had a most happy time — visited at length, remembered with affection "all absentees," toured every inch of the campus under the personal and efficient supervision of Helen Beede, Lasell's Recorder.

Those present included Herma Schweitzer Comstock and Helen Johnson Olow, who took advantage of the on-campus accommodations; and daytime reunioners Pauline Butler Poore, Mary King Sargent, Esther Story, Edith Geeson Seewald x-'21, and Helen Jacobs, accompanied by her sister.

Via Western Union from Lansing, Michigan came greetings from Jeannette Geist Stanley: "Sorry to miss the 45th, but will try again in another five years. Have just returned from San Antonio. Love to all you L.W.D.'s."

Mid Knight Norwood's "special delivery" letter, addressed to "Classmates," reads in part: "On my last year's Christmas card to Marion Bodwell Leshar, I wrote: 'How about a June date in Auburndale?' June has come; neither Marion nor I shall be able to be with you. Marion is taking care of the grandchildren while their mother moves the household goods; I have a Canadian cousin as a houseguest. I am so very disappointed not to come, but shall be thinking of you and hoping you have a happy reunion and a beautiful day.

"Keep very busy here in Portland. Am a member of the Executive Board of the Longfellow Garden Club and of the Executive Board of the Cape Elizabeth Home for Aged Women. I am a member of the Historical Society of Early American Decoration; for two years taught at the Kennebunk Art Center."

Doris Brown Bergin '21

News from returned Questionnaires:

Doris Bissett Bryant, 130 Reservoir Road, Wollaston, Mass. Will not be able to join the Class of 1921 at Reunion. My mother is an invalid; I am the night nurse. This is also my retirement year at the South Shore National Bank in Quincy; with the added home responsibilities, it is all very difficult.

Margaret Loomis Collingwood, 2715 June N.E., Albuquerque, N. Mex. Have just returned from a delightful visit with my Allentown (Penna.) family; enjoyed seeing Spring arrive there. At Easter time I visited "Sis" Loomis Stuebing '22; younger sister, Gene Loomis Flagler '32, and her husband joined us for a happy reunion. Have been in Albuquerque for seven years, am active in Garden Club and church affairs and very much enjoy this very different part of the country. We are but a four-hour drive from El Paso and Juarez. On a recent tour of Mexico, I had a most enjoyable overnight stay with Elsie Crowell Bennett x-'21 in Mexico City. Shall be with you-all in spirit on Reunion weekend; shall hope to join you for the 50th.

Ruth Rawlings Mott, 1400 East Kearsley Street, Flint, Michigan. My husband and I are spending two months at our Bermuda home; so sorry I cannot attend Reunion. My thoughts will be with you — have a happy day and Cheers to you all.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleland Ross
(Thelma Blossom '21)

Dorothy Edwards Rodgers, 155 North Compo Road, Westport, Conn. Remembering the grand time we had at our 40th. Will do everything possible to join you in five years. Very best greetings to all.

Thelma Blossom Ross, 722 Knapp Drive, Santa Barbara, Calif. In 1964 I married Cleland C. Ross, a close friend of my late husband, Peter McHugh. We travel a great deal; are looking forward to a Mediterranean cruise to include Russia, Czechoslovakia, the Greek Islands, Turkey and Palestine in the spring. Sorry not to be with you but promise to be on hand for our 50th. Loving best wishes to all.

Doris Brown Bergin, 1843 El Camino de la Luz, Santa Barbara, Calif. We live on "the street of the light" — 175 feet above the ocean on a beautiful cliff side; the lighthouse is right beside us. For five years my husband has had a little band at the Santa Barbara Biltmore Hotel; he also makes recordings used by skating rinks all over the world. Sorry I can't attend Reunion — we shall be on our way to Hawaii — Paradise on earth! Love and thoughts to all.

Doris Sanborn Adams, 547 Central Avenue, Bound Brook, N. J. Our daughters, Esther and Doris, and our son Frederic, Jr. are married; Esther lives nearby in South Plainfield; Doris and Frederic are in California. We enjoy the five grandchildren. My husband is now retired; I have been writing a little poetry and one play; dabble in oils for fun. May you all have a wonderfully happy Reunion.

Ferne Smith Hodgins, 12 Lewis Street, Rockville, Conn. My husband passed away in 1964; have sold the home and now am comfortably settled in a small apartment. For the past nine months I have been librarian at the Tolland Public Library.

Dorothy Ely Bigham, 910 Melaleuca Road, Delray Beach, Florida. Living quietly in Delray, visit the children in Ohio and California as often as possible. Have six grandchildren, ranging in age from three to seventeen.

Lenora Conklin Babcock, 17 Madison Avenue, Madison, N. J. Daughter, Susanne Babcock Edington, was graduated from Lasell in 1958; step-daughter Joan Babcock Keller, is a member of the Class of 1946.

Helen Linnehan Reed, 76 Park Street, Braintree, Mass. Still teaching — first grade; plan to retire next year. My husband is now retired; we spend weekends and the entire summer at our New Hampshire farm. Do come to see us: the address, Grout Hill; telephone (Alstead Exchange) TE 5-6839.

Florence Mann Matzek, 24 Dartmouth Avenue, Riverside, R. I. So sorry to miss Reunion — will be away during June. Remember the good time at our 40th. Best good wishes to all.

Margaret Reid Perry is "looking forward to lower golf scores in 1966! All is just fine here."

Phyllis Rafferty Shoemaker writes: "In November I entertained 36 at a Rafferty Reunion here at Rancho Rafferty. Last spring — April and May — I was on a 'return of the native' journey — first trip back to the land of my birth, the Philippines. It was a never-to-be-forgotten experience. Now I am looking forward to returning to Lasell for our 45th; visits with my many friends in the East."

Frances Badger's address now is New Castle, New Hampshire. Fran is affiliated with the Exeter Family Service.

Dear Girls,

I'm late, late, late for a very important date — so here come a few more colorful items about the Class of 1925.

Buffie, our versatile and talented Ruth Buffington, now a resident of Carmel, Calif., continues her career in art. Beginning as an interior decorator in Los Angeles and Hollywood, she moved on to Carmel where she and a friend operated a handicraft studio, specializing in handwrought pewter. They sold to many nationally-known stores, including Bullock's Wilshire and Southwest Master Craftsmen in Santa Fe. Recently Buff has spent most of her time painting; she is a member of the Carmel Art Gallery and the American Federation of Art. Her work has appeared in a number of prominent West Coast shows. Buff's other hobbies are gardening, hiking, swimming and sailboating; she is a "driftwood enthusiast"; has exhibited some of her "finds" at the Palm Desert Art Gallery near Palm Springs.

Another of our more active classmates, Katherine Kelley Gaul, now claims she has reached the "matronly 60's." Katie graduated from the University of Michigan; received a Master's degree at Northwestern. She taught at the elementary level and did administrative work in the Saginaw schools for twenty-four years. Kay, married but four years ago, is having the delightful experience of being "Mom" to an 11-year-old boy. Katie lives in the small town of Freeland, Michigan, where she is president of PTA; vice president of the Women's Study Club, and a member of the Board of the First Congregational Church; in other words, she is very busy and very happy.

Family Reunion in Bermuda
Dr. and Mrs. J. LeRoy Wood (Catherine Beecher '25), center. Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Wood (Ann Douglass '59), left. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brox, Jr. (Carolyn Wood '59), right.

Hope Bean Sisson is also a member of the teaching profession; more specifically, the third grade in one of the Presque Isle (Maine) public schools.

Eleanor Steele is now Assistant to the Dean at the Walnut Hill School, Natick, Mass. She has retirement in mind, and is "investigating" the Maine seacoast.

Dorothy Cook Reynal and Mr. Arthur C. Hagen were married on May 14, 1966. Dottie's new address is 65 Sherwood Avenue, Madison, N.J.

Mary Freeman Wisdom and Betty Day Bracken "enjoyed a wonderful day of Reunion last fall." Mary's son was married in February; he and his bride were honeymooning in Spain.

Emma Ockert's spring vacation took her to Hawaii. She adds: "Was staying at the Royal Hawaiian during President's Johnson's visit. Shook hands with him when he arrived." Emma, Charlotte Russell Pellini, Hazel Kramer O'Donnell, and Ruby Rice Troup attended the Reunion Luncheon at Winslow Hall on June 11th.

Ardyth Peabody Doyle x-'26 "plans to work for the Anti-Poverty Program. Recently retired as assistant director of Social service at the Quincy (Mass.) Hospital. My son, James MacDougall, is now a junior executive at the IBM Research Lab in Boulder, Colorado."

From Helen Duncan Devereux: "My best news is that I am now retired after 24½ years with the Federal Civil Service. My job as editor of the Navy newspaper at Pearl Harbor Public Works Center was abolished; I was 'Retired on Reduction-in-Force.' Right now I am so busy I don't know how I ever found time to go to work! After catching up with home work and special projects, I may take a few part-time jobs as a free lance writer. Hope Roy and I can do a bit of travelling before long. Our trip to Japan was marvelous, but too short to see so many lovely places and things."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles VanDine (Edith Thorpe) announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lindsley, to Mr. Robert E. Whitehead of Springfield, Mass. Mary is a graduate of the Northfield School for Girls and Mount Holyoke College. Her fiance was graduated from Boston University and is a master at the Storm King School, Cornwall-Hudson, New York.

Edith later wrote that her Lasell roommate, Carolyn Duncan Long, and husband, Dr. N. Gillmor Long, of Evanston, Illinois are looking forward to the June wedding of their only son, Kent Gillmore Long. Kent's bride-to-be is Margaret Louise Goodwin of Abington, Penna.

More honors for Elizabeth Lloyd Dean!! She is the third recipient of the "Useful Citizen Award," given annually by the Pen Women of Atlantic City. Betty is executive secretary of the Atlantic County Association for Mental Health.

Ensign Ellis Wilbur Dana, USNR, and Miss Wynne Ashley were married on April 30, 1928 in the Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church of Gainesville, Florida. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis H. Dana (Christina Finlayson) of Madison, Wisconsin.

1929

Life for Eleanor Pitcher Hansen is "busy, busy, busy but fun, fun, fun! Enjoyed the summer at our camp in the Berkshires; after Christmas holidays with the children, we were off for two months in Florida and the Caribbean. Looking forward to a business-pleasure trip, planned for late May, to England and Ireland."

Eleanor Humphrey spent the winter at Delray Beach, Florida; included a cruise to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Alice Pratt Brown, Rosamond Cornell Cannon and Margaret Wethern represented the Class of 1929 at the 18th Annual Alumnae Council Session held on campus in early April. Alice was just back from the annual golfing excursion, which she and Bill so much enjoy. The Cannons celebrated their 32d wedding anniversary by flying to Hawaii. Ronnie reports her favorite spot was the beautiful Coco Palms resort on the unspoiled island of Kauai, where the movie version of "South Pacific" was filmed. En route home, they enjoyed several days in San Francisco.

A recent article in the Lynn (Mass.) ITEM paid tribute to the work of Doris Hatch Rand. "Artist, homemaker and mother, Mrs. Rand is a water color enthusiast, and delights in capturing the antiquity of Old Marblehead on canvas. During the winter months, Doris can be found combing the streets of Marblehead, searching for just the right spot to launch a fresh painting. Winter is her favorite season, for historic landmarks and elm trees surrounding the streets are more clearly visible minus foliage. The mother of three sons, she admits that not one of them share her artistic interest. Charles, Albert and Gregg are all athletes, with basketball as their first love.

"A member of the Marblehead Arts Association, Mrs. Rand is also secretary and in charge of exhibits. Her other interests include membership in the Copley Society, and frequenting the Boston studios along Newbury Street. Her one-man shows have been exhibited at the Marblehead Arts and the Lobster House in Marblehead. Also Doris' paintings have been found in the Hamilton PTA exhibit and in the ward room of the USS Joseph P. Kennedy. 'This,' she explains, 'was when I visited my oldest son, who was stationed aboard the famed carrier.'"

Helen Morgan Riederer writes: "Our second daughter, Amber Tetlow, is assistant dean of women at New York State College at Cortland. Her husband is in the Admissions Department at Cornell and is working on his doctorate. We enjoyed a tour of the Scandinavian countries with our youngest daughter, Kitsy, last summer."

Reunion Report to appear in the November issue.

1932

Word has been received of the passing of Mr. George Whitney, father of the late Babe Whitney Lenzi. Mr. Whitney died on May 15, 1966 in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Recently returned from a trip around the world, Helane Jones Pressel comments: "Especially enjoyed a stay in the Western Highlands of New Guinea, and in Victoria, the lake district of East Africa."

From Elizabeth Page Sealey: "Daughter Mary Flemming is a member of the Class of 1967 at Smith College, where she is majoring in History of Art. Deborah, a June graduate at the Northfield School, will enter Western Reserve in Cleveland next fall."

On May 29th Jane Ellison Ragan x-'32 graduated from Rollins Central Florida School for Continuing Studies. Jane adds: "Hope to have my MAT degree next May; to teach public school music in Orlando in 1967-68."

1933

Marjorie Shetland Bates included us on her postcard list: "Frank and I are on our long-leave vacation; spending three weeks in Australia; a week in New Zealand. We shall cruise the Pacific Islands; enjoy a 12-day family reunion in Mexico before arriving in the States."

1935

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Harriet Colwell Reeves, whose mother passed away suddenly on June 4, 1966. Hank and husband Bob were at Lasell for the graduation of their twin daughters, Alice and Nancy.

Betty Allenbaugh Weller writes of "a wonderful reunion with Eleanor Ramsdell Stauffer when she was in Cleveland. Eleanor was a chaperone with the St. Lawrence University singers. After the concert, we entertained the entire group — 50 boys and girls. Great fun."

CLASS OF 1936

30th Reunion

Phyllis Gunn Rodgers, reporting.

For the participating members of the Class of 1936, the 30th Reunion, June 11, 1966, was a day to be remembered. Only twelve members of the ol' class were able to attend the evening dinner at The Pillar House, but three others, namely, Ruth Koritzky Kopelman, Charlotte Weitzman Kaplan and Alma Stanetsky Golov were present at Luncheon, held at Winslow Hall. Pictures of each family flew around the luncheon table about as fast as the tongues wagged! The weather was ideal; pictures were taken following the noon gathering; tape recordings were made to be sent to our popular "Esso" in La Mesa, California. To Joanne Isaacson (Ruth Buswell's daughter) and to her friend, Peter Mabie, we, The Committee, owe a deep and sincere gratitude for the management of the tape recordings and pictures of all "reuning" '36-ers.

At six o'clock we gathered at the Pillar House: Dottie Ell Strong, Audrey Smith Henderson, Ginny Johnston Loud, Ruth Buswell Isaacson, Marjorie Bassett MacMillan, Helen Saul Foxwell, Priscilla Hay Nichols, Nat Hutchison Clouser, Midge Reed Colley, Ruth Upham Petremont, Edna Yuill Persson, Phyl Gunn Rodgers and our agile, ageless Class Advisor, Miss Muriel McClelland. To put it mildly, we all "had a ball!"

Phyl Gunn Rodgers was elected to M.C. the proceedings, which was accomplished most informally and with no protocol — not even the head table was introduced; only the guests, Ruth's husband, "Clary" Isaacson, her daughter, Joanne, and Joanne's friend, Peter Mabie.

Since we had a mission to accomplish — tape recordings for Esso — we decided to do that at the conclusion of dinner. Returned questionnaires and letters from 30 absentees were read "between courses." The listening audience was most attentive and interested; we all wished there had been more material to read.

Of the gals present, several categories were noted: "Grandmothers": 4 for Edna Yuill Persson, 2 for Ginny Johnston Loud, 1 each for Nat Hutchison Clouser and Marge Bassett MacMillan. "Youngest child": Phyl Gunn Rodgers: a 10-year-old daughter; "Twins": Ruth Koritsky Kopelman; "Traveled farthest distance AND whitest hair without adulteration": Dottie Ell Strong.

All who agree with Dottie, please notify Audrey Smith Henderson — 14 Green Hill Lane, Pittsford, N.Y.

Dorothy Ell Strong: 3 children. Daughters, Susan and Rebecca; son, Judson, a student at Culver Military Academy. All three children carry "Ell" as the middle name.

Evelyn Ellis Sanford: Chief dietician at Lowell General Hospital, where her husband is Purchasing Agent. The Sanfords have enjoyed two vacation trips to Alaska.

Ruth Ellsworth Laas: Sent a delightfully amusing letter. Told of the five years spent in Newington, Conn., the move to South Glastonbury, a three-month stint of typing and filing "for extra pin money," a six day venture to Florida "stopping at Vero Beach and Winter Park — on to Marineland. Gene even swam with the porpoise on the Keys and also with two pet porpoise of Betty Brothers."

Mildred Frank Libowitz: 2 sons. Howard, a college sophomore; Charles a high school freshman.

Ginny Hall Warren: 5 children. Eldest, Charlotte, is married and is the mother of a 5-mo.-old son; Janet (Lasell '65) is an American Airlines stewardess; George, 16; Marilyn, 15; Pam, 13. "Moved to Freeport, Illinois in November '65. In New Jersey I taught Creative Arts and Crafts at the YMCA; also taught Crafts for the Summer Day Camp program. Loved every minute of it and hope to continue here. Have enrolled at the University of Illinois Summer School; the additional art courses will give me credit toward my teaching degree."

Ginny Hausler Heath: 3 children. Susan is a newspaper reporter; has her own column; Bert is with the Army in Germany. He and his German bride will be home early in 1967. John will graduate in June ('66) from Harvard, will spend the summer in Russia; returns to Harvard Law School in September.

Priscilla Hay Nichols: 2 sons. John, a graduate of Dickinson College, is attending the University of Chicago's graduate school of Theology; Mark will enter Dickinson in September.

Natalie Hutchison Clouser: 3 children. Eldest, Karin, married and has a daughter; Robert and step-daughter Suzanne.

Jinny Johnston Loud: 1 daughter; two grandchildren, a girl and a boy. Jinny has joined the group of working mothers and grandmothers; is now learning office routine of her husband's business.

Jeanne Keck: A member of the faculty of American Conservatory of Music, Chicago.

Elizabeth Kenney Farrington: Son John attends Rochester Institute of Technology.

Ruth Keyes Wendt: 4 children — Henry, Lindsay, Martha, and Nancy, who graduates in June ('66) from the University of Colorado. Ruth has five grandchildren.

Ruth Koritzky Kopelman: 3 sons; 1 grandchild.

Dottie Paine Chaucer: 3 sons. Norton, Jr. (21) in the Coast Guard; Tim (18) enters Boston University in September; Harry (16) president of his class (junior) in high school. "I do manage considerable volunteer work for children's services. My husband is an avid boatman, so there was nothing for me to do but become a fairly good first mate."

Peg Pearl Ide: 4 children. Tim (26) in grain business with his father; William (24) assistant cashier at the Montpelier National Bank; Mary (18), a freshman at Marietta College; Robert (14) freshman at Danville High School. One grandchild. "I'm still involved in school lunch program; currently am president of the Vermont Food Association, which involves quite a bit of traveling. Am also working on a project developing quantity recipes for the Alabama and Georgia Peanut Growers. Bet you always knew I'd turn out to be a nut!"

Muriel Ray Hunt: "Busy getting son Bill (16) ready for summer school and prep school!"

Midge Reed Colley: 3 sons. George (24) engaged to be married in October; Stephen (22) married last year; John (19) majoring in Physical Education at Brevard College.

Janice Remig Kelley: 5 children. Janice (21) a '66 graduate at Ursinus College; Alfred, Jr. (18) at Wentworth Institute; Sterling (16) high school junior; Faith (14) high school freshman; Honor (13) 7th grade. "Church and library work take every spare moment from my job as wife and mother."

Helen Saul Foxwell: Son David, 18, will enter prep school in the fall. Helen handles a responsible job as secretary to the sales manager of the Petroleum Products Division of Veeder-Root Company. Incidentally, she is the same ole Personality Plus gal of '36 — kept us in stitches with laughter.

Ruth Schierenbeck Tamblin: Husband died in 1955. Son Robert, 20, attends American River Junior College and hopes to enter the Pharmaceutical School of the University of the Pacific. "My exceptional boss is giving me an all-expense paid vacation to Hawaii in July. I have worked in his office for ten years. Hello to everyone — hope to see you on our 35th!"

Jeanne Siff Tapper: 3 children. Edward, medical student; Dorothy, a graduate of Elliot Pearson School at Tufts; Barbara, freshman at Wheelock College.

Audie Smith Henderson: 2 daughters. Carolyn (19), sophomore at the University of Rochester; Gail (16) high school junior. Audie has been putting her Lasell training to good use too — she is a secretary at the Rochester Institute of Technology. Let's add to her typing — more news for 1936 in the LEAVES?

Esther B. Sosman: Apt. 310, Foothill Gardens, 5480 Marengo Avenue, La Mesa, Calif. "Just wish I could be at Lasell with you. Still remember that wonderful 25th Reunion in 1961. May I add that if any '36-er comes to Southern California and fails to come to see me, your name is mud. Here I can offer a swim in a heated pool — with bathing suits (sizes 14 and 16) available. If one prefers ocean swimming, the Pacific is not far away."

Alma Stanetsky Golov: 5 children; 5 grandchildren.

Caro Stevenson Seick: 2 children. Glenna (19), junior at Washington State University, an Honors student in the Honors Program; majoring in Education; Steven (16) is a junior in high school and in the high achievement program. Husband is a junior high school teacher. Caro adds: "Have worked for the Air Force for ten years, but recently have transferred to the Army at Fort Lewis. Between office and household duties, I do the usual routine of church, PTA, garden club, dance club, bridge, et al."

Front and Center
Audrey Smith Henderson '36 and Marge Bassett MacMillan '36

Hilda Theurer Guidrey: 2 children. Joan, 19, junior at Indiana University; Robert, 16, high school sophomore.

Jeanette Tift Jeffcock: 3 children. Pamela (25) married; Janet (21) to graduate from Syracuse University this year, and hopes to teach in Massachusetts in the fall; Wendy (15) high school sophomore. "Have been employed by the Langley-Jones Realtors, but am home for the summer. Two college graduations on the schedule: Janet from Syracuse, and Pam's husband, Paul Clark, from Cornell Medical College."

Ruth Upham Petremont: 2 children. Nancy graduated from New Haven College in June '65, was married the following February. Bill will be a senior in high school next year.

Betty Webber Cope: "Politics is our only news. Husband Tom is running (unopposed) for his 11th term as County Treasurer."

Charlotte Weitzman Kaplan: Daughter Roberta Rogers was graduated from Lasell in June '66.

Debbie York: "Really thought I would make Reunion, but it is just impossible. This is the first one I have missed — couldn't be more disappointed."

Edna Yuill Persson: 2 married daughters. Bonnie has three children; Janet, one. "I am working as a secretary on Sylvania's Minuteman Program. It is an interesting job."

Mr. Chauncey Johnson informed us of the passing of his wife, Marjorie Gove, on February 14, 1961. Marjorie had planned to join us for the 25th Reunion of the Class of 1936. Mr. Johnson added: "Marjorie's memories of her Lasell associations were warm and happy ones."

News from X-36-ers:

Barbara Henry Kop: 1 daughter. "I serve as Welfare Director in a five-town district; fascinating work. My daughter is an accomplished musician, and has appeared on TV Channel 6's Teen Age Barn Program for over a year. I still play piano for church affairs and square dances (what a combination!)."

Mary Hurley Wood: 3 children. Robert (25) is married and lives in Grosse Pointe; Anne (22), married and living in Cambridge; Betsy (15), at home. "Great life — wonderful husband and marvelous children."

Althea Marder Pond: 2 children. Grady (19) at Monticello College; "Chuck" (15) attends Wardlaw Country Day School. "Kept myself busy this year via a course in rug hooking — feel I am creating heirlooms! We four had a glorious March vacation in Hawaii."

Gladys Packer Sugarman: 3 daughters. Nancy, a Wellesley graduate, is married and has one daughter; Betty, senior at Connecticut College for Women; Jane, junior in high school.

Hope Reynolds Orrill: 2 daughters. Barbara (19) is PFC at U.S. Army Hospital, Fort Ord, California; Jacquelynne (17), freshman at University of Massachusetts.

Adelaide Shaffer Campbell: "Still active in real estate business. Presently vice-president 1st District N. J. Association of Real Estate Boards and State Chairman of Education of N. J. Association of Real Estate Boards. My husband, Nick, is also engaged in business of Louis Shaffer, Inc., founded by my grandfather in 1882."

Phyllis Gunn Rodgers: 3 children. Beverly (22) a 1966 graduate of Mount Holyoke; Allan (19), a second year student at Wentworth Institute, and a future drummer and electronics technician; Pamela (10), a 5th grader, good scholar and budding pianist. "Daughter Beverly has gained recognition in the Rock n' Roll world — the last thing we expected from a Mt. Holyoke Latin major!"

Beverly, leader of the Mt. Holyoke Moppets, and the three members of her group have been featured in picture-stories of recent issues of LIFE and LOOK magazines; a February story in the NEW YORK TIMES describes the venture: "Four students from Mount Holyoke College, armed with two electric guitars, an electric piano, a set of drums, three microphones and two amplifiers, are carrying the liveliest music of the year to colleges throughout the Northeast — in a 1957 Cadillac hearse.

"Gear stowed in the back of the old hearse, the group have been moonlighting since last year, entertaining at Brown, Cornell, Wesleyan and Amherst. They and other groups are part of the new musical order that is sweeping through women's colleges throughout the Ivy League."

This summer the Moppets have been signed for a series of personal appearances throughout the country; the final port of call: a recording studio in California.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Barbara Lane Roper, whose husband passed away on February 22, 1966. Barbara's daughter, Nanci, will be a 1966 freshman at Lasell.

From Escondido, California Betty Olson Cooper writes: "This year we are enjoying the thrill of watching a contemporary California-style house being built for us. It is framed by avocado trees and has a beautiful view of the mountains."

In the same mail came this comment from Glennys Preston Allicon in Essex Junction, Vermont: "We have been and still are snow-bound! How the skiers love it."

Dorothy Coffin Amon is "still educating three boys: 22, 20 and 18 years old! They have a total of 12 years at Belmont Hill School; graduations in 1961, 1963 and 1965. Carl III, Dartmouth '65, is now a freshman at the University of Michigan's Law School. Douglas, P.G. at Deerfield Academy, attends Gettysburg College. Tom is completing his freshman year at Harvard."

Barbara Wheeler Sampson's son is majoring in Mechanical Engineering at the University of Massachusetts.

Anne Campbell Terrill x-'37 keeps "on the go with volunteer work — both church and golf groups. Have been enjoying 17-year-old twin girls, who are living with us until June when they rejoin their parents in Uruguay."

Family report from Betty Harrington Van-Huysen: "Bill is completing his assignment as chief resident in OB and GYN at Rochester's Strong Memorial Hospital. Lisa (10th grade) earned her part-Lippizaner gelding by baby-sitting. Kristin (8th grade) permits no moss to grow under her feet. Bill, Jr. (6th grade) has graduated from 'Butch' is involved with Boy Scouts and 4-H."

Betty Black Boynton writes to one and all: The response to the questionnaire was wonderful — hope you continue to send reports from time to time. First to reply was Dorothy Thomas, who now calls Boston "home"; vacation plans include a three-week trip to Amsterdam, Spain, Portugal and The French Riviera.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Dockham and Family
(Jean Randall '38)

Audrey Slawson Drake sent a complete chapter! Daughter Ellen, who attended the University of New Hampshire, is now assistant to the head of the Physical Education Department of the Boston "Y". Eldest son, Al, is a junior at Norwich University. Quoting from Audrey's letter: "Since the beginning of the year, our home — a 14-room affair — has been completely redecorated. We have converted an old cellar into quite a showy playroom. Last summer we took the three younger children on a western camping trip. Talked with Ruth Meighan Gillette when we were in the Colorado area. Not long ago I had a telephone visit with Betty Lloyd Fitch when she was showing the Big City sights to her 'youngest.' Hear from Margie Magner Youngblood; lunch with Evie Smith Coster when she comes our way. Evie Bang is a frequent visitor; Flo Kent Parks and husband live nearby in Garden City — we have wonderful times with them."

Priscilla Barker Neff writes from Brooklyn, Conn. that her family vacations in Niantic. Son Peter, a sophomore at Trinity College, is majoring in engineering. Priscilla's biggest achievement this year has been transporting a 16-year-old daughter to and from the many activities at the Killingly High School in Danielson.

Eleanor Pierce Puffer was "about to leave for a Bermuda vacation." Son Bob, a 1966 graduate of the Melrose High School, will enter Bridgton Academy in the fall.

Renie Gahan Burbank is busier than ever. She has completed her term of office as president of The Springfield Hospital Women's Auxiliary; is to serve as the Western Massachusetts Chairman of the Council of State Auxiliaries. Husband Dan, a very busy attorney, managed a bit of spring vacation — took Renie, daughter Lee and Renie's mother to Bermuda. Lee, a demon tennis player, has just completed her first year at Colby Junior College. Son Bill, a senior at AIC and captain of his fraternity soccer team, has a summer job at the Snow Inn on the Cape.

Nancy Carruthers Bicknell lives in Gorham, Maine. Younger son Brian is a member of the Class of 1966 at the University of Maine; graduated with a B.S. in education. Bruce, who has served with the Army, has one semester more at the University. Nancy continues "to make progress at the Portland SUNDAY TELEGRAM. In my column, Feminine Fancies, I write about fashion, food, home and children. Bruce came home from college one day and was telling about his English instructor — none other than our Miss Catherine Beatley!"

Virginia Bartlett Gay finds vacations "next to impossible." The reason: In the fall of 1966, she and her husband will be responsible for three children in college. Rodney, Wesleyan '65, will be in his second year at Columbia Graduate School of Business; Debby, a senior-to-be at St. Lawrence University, plans to spend the summer in Holland with the Experiment in International Living; Whitney will attend Vermont Academy; Bradford enters the Winchester (Mass.) Junior High School. June 1967 will bring three graduations for the Gay family. Ginny continues: "I am serving a two-year term as chairman of volunteers, Friends of the Winchester Hospital. It is a challenging job. Winter vacations find us skiing — our favorite spot, Stowe. Summer vacations prove no problem for we have sailing, tennis, swimming and golf right here in town. Have enjoyed delightful visits with Elaine Meiklem Sargent."

Olive Boynton Garron '38 with son Rick, and daughter-in-law, Marilyn.
June, 1965

Ruth Fulton Griffin was brief. Two of her children are in high school; Bruce is Bowdoin '69; Shirley, Wellesley '70.

Eleanore Loeffler Olsen, in Westwood, New Jersey, recently visited with Martha Romaine Jones. Eleanore's accomplishment this year was to open an antique shop in River Vale; enjoyed a West Indies cruise with husband and daughter, Marna.

Margaret Williams Peterson, better known to us all as Peggy, still lives 'way up thar in St. Albans, Vermont. The children keep her busy, and she plans short trips with them during school vacations. Karen is enrolled in the medical secretarial course at Vermont College; Susan will graduate from high school in 1967; David attends grammar school, and Pamela is a 5th-grader.

Betsy Bassett Wells sent a new address: 21-276 B Drive, Elmendorf AFB, Alaska. She writes: "Our biggest achievement this year was the move to Alaska, leaving our three sons in Portland, Oregon. Steve, who attends Willamette University, will join us for the summer. Pete and Mike share an apartment in Portland. I hope to have a trip East in July, and hope to see a few classmates then."

From Alaska to Lynn, Massachusetts and word from Eleanor Skinner Stoughton. Frank, Jr., a June graduate at English High School, will join brother Elliott at Northeastern University. Laura is employed by the New England Telephone Company, and Helen will be a senior in high school. News of the older Stoughton boys: "Preston graduated from Tufts last year and is working for Westinghouse in Baltimore. David, Tufts '64, has been in Vietnam since early April. He is a 1st Lt. in the Marine Corps."

Tri McFarland Argo lives in Houston, Texas. Vacation plans include a drive to Denver to pick up a Clark Cortez Motor Home, and with another couple they will continue on to Encampment, Wyoming for "peace, relaxation, fishing and a little golf." Tri, an avid golf enthusiast, sends "best to all Lasell friends, including those famous '37-ers, Tilly, Tap and Toots."

Libby Leland Kibbe was proud to announce that her son, Alan, will be a freshman at Dartmouth in the fall. The Kibbes had a marvelous 1964 vacation in Europe; Libby is a loyal supporter of the Western Massachusetts Alumnae Club.

Mary Lysbeth Andrews, daughter of Mary King Andrews, graduated from the Hamden (Conn.) High School in June. This year Mary was the "American mother" to Moema Correia Sao Thiago, an American Field Service student from Brazil.

Virginia Amesbury Stone writes from Southboro, Mass. that she and family plan to spend the summer travelling, camping and canoeing in the Maritime Provinces of Canada. Gigi's son, James, enters St. Mark's School in September; her daughter is now twelve. To quote: "We enjoy continued good health and much happiness. I have even found courage to dye my hair and own a wig!"

On June 18th, Carolyn Sylvester, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. Emerson Sylvester (Arlene Wishart), became the bride of Harold Richard Enders. Martha Jean will enter Stephens College in the fall. Arlene "spots" the alumnae when they return to Auburndale; she lives on Woodland Road opposite the Congregational Church; her husband is a very busy doctor, and Lasell's physician.

A long epistle arrived from Ruth Meighan Gillette; I am saving the bulk of her news for the next issue. Ruth was East not long ago — enjoyed a visit with Elda Yaple Pantaleo and Alice "Si" Seidler. Helen Henderson Chillingworth and husband were guests of the Gillettes when they were in Denver.

Jeannine Young Jahns x-'38 is building a new home in Newport Beach, California; Helen Harris sent only her present address: 117 East 71st Street, New York, N.Y.

Barbara Jeppesen Thomann is ever loyal to New Haven. She now lives in Hamden, and is president of the New Haven Woman's Intermediate Club. Barbara has two children; Jean Elizabeth is a sophomore at Western College for Women; Robert attends junior high school.

Alice Lockwood Leach of Brown Road, Brooklyn, Connecticut will direct Girl Scout Day Camp and then head via trailer for Prince Edward Island. Alice's older son is married to Miss Cassandra Lee Rundell of La Puente, California. John-David is off to Wilbraham Academy in the fall. Daughter Penny is now the mother of two darling little daughters.

Virginia Wilhelm Harshbarger, our "retired" Life Secretary, will have a bit of June vacation at the Tides Inn in Virginia; later in the summer she will be found in Harwichport. Her Dency Ann Peters is a sophomore at the University of New Hampshire. Last June Ginny attended the wedding of Mim Nye Newcomb's daughter.

Gwen Cunningham Hobin wrote of the tragedy which struck her family: "Jim, Betty, Judy and I spent Easter week in Massachusetts. We left for Michigan on April 15th; arrived home to learn our oldest son, James, Jr., had been killed instantly in a head-on collision at exactly the same time we left Framingham. Jim left a lovely 20-year-old wife, Suzanne, and a son, James Henry Hobin III, who will be two in August. Our daughter, Patricia, has a son, Arthur F. Akarski, Jr., who will be two in September. We do enjoy our grandsons. Son Geoffrey, 19, is in the Navy, stationed in California."

Elizabeth Clark Brighton of Peterborough, N.H. reports that her 16-year-old son, Kenneth, attends Lawrence Academy; Martha, 15, is at Peterborough High; and John, 9, is in the local grammar school. Sue was graduated from the MacDuffie School in 1963, and is now on a European tour.

Virginia Squiers Read moved to Okemos, Michigan in December. Her oldest son, William, and his wife live in Illinois; he is associated with the Chrysler Corporation. Charles is a philosophy major at Alma College, and is looking forward to graduate school. Priscilla, an alumna of Alma College, is now attending Florida State University. Ginny herself is secretary to the Director of the Institute of Water Research at Michigan State University.

And as for Betty Black Boynton: she is eagerly awaiting more news from the Class of 1938!!! Before October 1st, do send word to:

Mrs. M. M. Boynton
681 North Street
Suffield, Connecticut

James III, grandson of Gwen Cunningham Hobin '38

1939

From 306 Grove Road, Richardson, Texas comes word of Winifred Escott Wright. "We have lived in Texas for the past twelve years. Both our sons are attending Richardson schools. We live so far from Massachusetts, it was impossible to attend the 25th Reunion. It would have been wonderful to see the girls. My very best regards to one and all."

Louise Johnson spent spring vacation in Hawaii. She reported a "wonderful, wonderful trip; a long telephone visit with Helen Henderson Chillingworth, who hopes to come to the East Coast early in the fall."

From Jane Hutchison Wulfging: "After 3½ months and 5,500 miles under sail, Jack arrived in Chicago on December 11. The boat, built in Scotland, is now in the West Indies. We leave early in March for six weeks of sailing in the Windward Islands."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Helen Bogert Horne, whose father died on February 14, 1966.

25th Reunion Report will appear in the November LEAVES.

It was a Great Party — complete with knights and haunted houses!!!

Betty McDow Darcy x-'42 writes: "My spring visit to Auburndale brought back many happy memories. I was so pleased when daughter Donna chose Lasell as her college for next September. We have two more daughters to launch: Linda, 15, and Maureen, 11."

Shirley Armstrong Blount reports "a most enjoyable private reunion in January with my Lasell roommate, Grace Johnson Johnson. We hope to come to Lasell before too long."

Martha Pangborn Seidensticker is the mother of three sons and a daughter. She and sister-in-law, Louise Cook Pangborn, with husbands, enjoyed a mid-winter vacation in Jamaica.

From Ossipee, Ruth Bowlend Eckhoff writes: "We have a resort business here in the New Hampshire vacation area. Have not been active in alumnae work for many activities take place in the summer or on week-ends — our busiest times. Do keep in touch with Priscilla Swett Reed, Margaret Homan Kreter and Doris Bracher Jenkins; and occasionally see Priscilla Richardson Morrill x-'42. Our older daughter now lives in California — her Sally, our granddaughter, is four years old. We have a 17-year-old daughter and two sons, Steve, 8, and Pete, 6."

Phyllis Johnson Klein x-'42 serves as a notary public in the Ohio counties of Medina, Geauga, Cuyahoga, Summit, Wayne and Portage.

Helen Buchholtz Church has been named executive director of the Genesee (N.Y.) County Homemaker Service. She has served two terms as a director of Genesee Memorial Hospital and for six years was head of volunteers for the hospital's occupational therapy program. Helen, a graduate of the University of Rochester School of Nursing, now serves on the Board of Directors of the Genesee County Mental Health Association and the YWCA.

Jane Glassbrook Hamilton is now a proud grandmother. Her daughter Gail is Mrs. William Hartigan; Gail and her husband are Cobleskill alumni.

We quote Eloise "Muff" Moffett Harper: "To date I have not written the Great American Novel or have not done anything spectacular, but I am really busy trying to keep up with two children (Jill, 11 and Jeff, 14), and my husband. We do a bit of travelling in our leisure time, and are looking forward to a spring vacation in the Virgin Islands — and to Lasell for my 25th Reunion! We have been recently saddened by the sudden death of my father on the eve of his and my mother's departure for a trip around Africa. My mother is the former Carita Palmer x-'17. Grandmother Palmer died in February 1961. She was Agnes Aldrich and attended the Seminary in 1891-92."

Persis Pendleton Howarth will direct a women's physical fitness camp sponsored by the Quincy (Mass.) YMCA to be held at their resident camp site in Sandwich on Cape Cod. This is the first such camp of this nature in the New England area and one of the first to be initiated in the entire country. Penny is in charge of "trimnastic" courses, being offered in the towns of Ashby, Townsend, Ayer and Winchendon. Those interested in "figure trimming," may obtain additional information by contacting her — Mrs. Ernest Howarth, 22 Fairview Road, Lunenburg, Mass.

Dear Classmates,

There isn't a great deal of news for this issue, but perhaps some of you have been as busy as I. Our #1 daughter was graduated from high school — was faced with slight problems, viz. "dye the shoes to match the prom dress," invite "the crowd" for a 6 a.m. breakfast of scrambled eggs. I felt like one of the speeded-up silent movie characters doing too many things too fast!

Claire McCreery Simmons keeps hopping — this year she is a Girl Scout leader, teaches Sunday School, and cares for the three children — now 13, 11 and 6.

During this year, Katie Cogswell Darn-ton's family has "bought a big old house in Clayton, Missouri, near Jack's office. Daughter Barbara is considering colleges in the Midwest — but mentions Lasell, too."

A happy summer to one and all.

... Betty Rhind Lee

Other News: Betty "Jeff" Fleer Cooper is "a busy mother of two teenage boys plus a ten-year-old. A third teenager joined us for the year under the American Field Service program — Roberto Merino Ordax from Spain. Each of us is enjoying this experience."

Pat Fringedakis Pitcher hopes to join the English faculty of a high school in the Auburn (Maine) area. She sent news of Mary Keating, now Mrs. Philip Anderson, 410 Park Drive, Muscatine, Iowa. Mary has three children: P. J., a sophomore at Colorado College; Sally, a junior in high school, and John, a 7th grader.

Jean Campbell, executive director of Plymouth Bay Girl Scout Council, attended the International "Scout-O-Rama" staged by the Girl Scouts of Mansfield (Mass.) in late March. A native of Fairhaven, "Soupy" returned to Massachusetts as director of field services for Plymouth Bay Girl Scout Council, and a year and a half ago became executive director for 19,000 Scouts and their leaders in seven districts extending from Fall River to Cape Cod and north to Wrentham and Plymouth.

Seventeen years of her Scouting were spent in Connecticut, first as Field Director for the Waterbury Area Council, and then as Executive for the Manchester Council. After program change, when small councils merged into the larger system, she was district advisor for the Connecticut Valley Council and director of Camp Wequapauset.

After graduating from Lasell, Jean received an A.B. degree from Pembroke College and earned an M.A. in Education from Connecticut College in Hartford.

Terry Bergeron has been promoted to telephone usage counselor by The Southern New England Telephone Company. She joined the company in 1946 as a service representative in New Britain, and has worked in the company's Meriden and Bristol offices. Terry will have her office in Waterbury, Conn.

Echoes of Reunion are still to be heard. Pat Otis Drew writes: "The 20th Reunion was the highlight of 1965 for me! Wonderful, wonderful time!!" And from Carol Hauber Mitchell: "It was just great to see so many girls at the 1965 Reunion. In September I had a visit with Lynn Babbitt Cooper — brought her up-to-date with the news. A trip to Savannah with 24 Cadette Girl Scouts was my spring outing."

From Jane Calderwood Price: "Dave and I have lived in Wilmington (2533 Deepwood Drive, Foulk Woods) for ten years. He is assistant sales manager for Nitrogen and Nutrition Products in the Biochemicals Sales Division of the Dupont Company. Our daughter, Susan, is 14."

Connie Arley Brown tells us: "June 1966 will mark the 10th anniversary of my graduation from the Chiropractic Institute of New York. Our oldest daughter, Carol, is a sophomore at the University of Maine; Nancy is a freshman at Becker Junior College; Susan, a junior in high school; and Peggy, our youngest, is in the 5th grade."

"On the move again — this time to Syracuse, New York," writes Virginia Rolfe Guy. Last summer's vacation for the Guy family was a motor trip across the country; "high spots were several National Parks, a dip in the Great Salt Lake, a visit to the USAF Academy, Disneyland and Marineland. The children enjoyed it very much; we all are looking forward to going again. Karen, 17, will be a senior in high school in the fall, and has been elected to National Honors Society. Ken, who will be fourteen in July, is busy with a paper route, guitar lessons and Pony League baseball."

A detailed account of the 20th Reunion will appear in the November issue of the LEAVES. To prove it was a successful affair, we quote Mary Jane Magnusson Mezgroz:

"I just want to say how much I enjoyed my 20th Reunion at Lasell. Do think that the success of the party was due to the fact that we were right on campus — the accommodations in the dorm were wonderful!! It gave us the opportunity to really visit with classmates and to see the many changes on campus. Do hope we will have the same arrangements for future reunions, and I do hope more alumnae will take advantage of this delightful experience. It couldn't have been nicer."

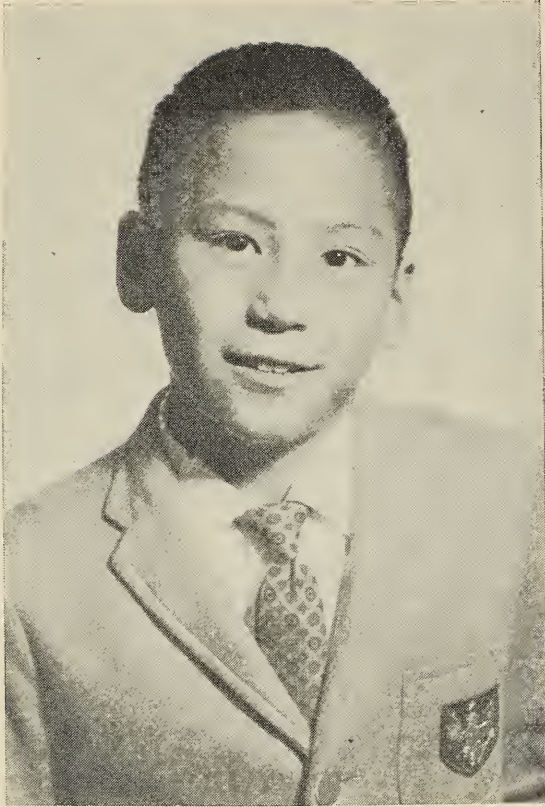

1947

Nancy Stupak Parker's husband is preparing the second edition of "Gene Parker's Complete Book of Skin and Scuba Diving" for Avon Publications.

1948

Mim Day Butcher has "completed my first year as sixth grade teacher in a little country school. Had 22 'children'; just loved it! In August '65 I received my B.A. in Elementary Education from the University of South Florida." Mim's address in Dunedin is 605½ Milwaukee.

Beulah Kwok Sung is a guest student at Wayne University in Detroit. She writes: "Am taking organ lessons twice a week; expect to take more music courses in the fall."

Wingate Sung
(Beulah Kwok '48)

Running a household, raising two active boys, feeding a hard working husband and doing two or three hours of organ practice is enough to keep me busy. In late June I hope to have a wonderful reunion with my two sisters, who are coming to Michigan from Brazil; hopefully, my brother in New York and another brother, now in Canada, will join us."

From the State of New Jersey comes word from Elizabeth Bain Hagerstrom and Betty Scott Swift. The Hagerstroms are enjoying life in beautiful Hunterdon County — more specifically, R.D. 1, Box 147 AA in Milford. They have three "very active sons."

Betty moved to Basking Ridge (24 Penwood Road) last summer. With "Judi, 12, and Donald, 9, we are happy in our new house in this lovely town. We all enjoyed a short midwinter visit with Corky Buffum Hall in Concord, Mass."

In spite of added duties as Chairman of the 20th Reunion Class at The Knox School, Kay Poore Hamel found time to send news of Lasell classmates.

Louise Keene Mills, a Cub Scout Den mother, had six "urchins" in her charge this year. Son Scott, one of the Cubs, takes drum lessons; Jeff now belongs to the local YMCA and is a member of the school basketball team.

Nancy Curtis Grellier, active in Sudbury (Mass.) community affairs, reports on the children: Barbara, 11, is an active 6th grader, enjoys piano and flute lessons, and is a member of the glee club and junior choir. Bobby, 7, is mainly interested in science. Ricky, 5, is an "enthusiastic" participant of the local kindergarten. Alison, 3, has proved to be the "chatty Cathy" of the nursery school troupe.

Joan DeGelleke Shrewsbury and Pat Madden Nelson x-'49 are near neighbors on the Cape during summer vacations. David Shrewsbury is about to celebrate #9 birthday; sister Sarah is five. The Nelson boys are Peter, 14, (already 6' 1"); John, 13, and Paul, 9.

In February Carol Dunn Burns moved to a new home on Chapman Lane, Boxford, Mass. There is a new address too for Evie Frye White: 1726 Canterbury Drive, Elkhart, Indiana. Husband George is a candidate for County Council; son Doug, a promising young violinist. Sammy concentrates on athletics — swimming, in particular. Amy is looking forward to kindergarten.

Meredith McKone Krieger and family are enjoying a "new colonial in Belle Mead, New Jersey. Walt was recently promoted to Eastern District manager of Mass Marketing with Eberhard Faber Pencil Company."

106 Tatum Drive, Middletown, New Jersey is Marge Boynton Anderson's new address. Husband Ted has been transferred to the Holmdel lab of Bell Telephone.

Jean "Thumper" Grant Walter was an on-campus weekend guest of Miss Evelyn Potts in the early spring. Jean is actively engaged in the work of EIP, Educational Improvement Project inspired by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges. With a group of Atlanta teachers, she came to New York to study successful preschool programs.

From Virginia Towe Beck: "We took a trip to Massachusetts in May with the children. Was so very impressed with the changes on the college campus. Sorry we didn't have time to seek out a personal guide — better luck next time. Enclosed is a picture of our family; we are missing Kathy, who was a victim of leukemia in March '65."

Bettie Cooperrider Sowards sent a campaign pamphlet. She is a candidate for the office of Probate and Juvenile Judge in Newark, Ohio. One of the endorsements reads: "Bettie J. Sowards, as a mother and a lawyer, is truly dedicated and qualified to serve the people of Licking County."

From Class Secretary, Sabra Turner Stockdale:

Claire Dodge: Mrs. Alan T. Davis, 63 Summit Trail, Sparta, N.J.: Boy and girl, Jill and Jeff.

Joan Dorau: Mrs. Henry Hohorst, 20 Mt. Joy Avenue, Scarsdale, N.Y.: Three children, James, Bruce and Nancy. Joan received her B.A. from University of Colorado in 1953. The Hohorsts enjoy occasional camping trips; the most memorable one to the Bay of Fundy, New Brunswick.

Grace Eckles: Mrs. Gordon A. Terwilliger, Stepstone Road, Guilford, Conn.: Mother of three boys, Gordon, Greg and Gary. Before becoming a full-time housewife and mother, Grace was an Arthur Murray Dance Instructor; a tour guide at Rockefeller Center, New York City; and a salesgirl at the Old Guilford Forge in Connecticut.

Mary Gary Eddy: Mrs. William W. Jones, 4477 Birchwood Rd., South Euclid, Ohio: Two children, Andrew and Deborah. Gay received her R.N. from Mass. General Hospital in 1953.

Janet Foley has recently been working at The Lodge, Smugglers Notch, Vt. as secretary to the Manager. Jan was able to join Ann Carpenter Towle and family several times for golf and skiing.

Lois Form: Mrs. Craig T. Senft, 200 N. Murray Avenue, Ridgewood, N.J.: Mother of four children, Peter, Robin, Jeff and Michael.

Pepper Gilmore: Mrs. John A. O'Toole, 510 High Ave., Hatboro, Penna.: Two year old son, Hartman Michael. Before her marriage Pepper was a secretary at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the University of Pennsylvania.

Ann Holaday: Mrs. Donald Vincent, 58 Arlington Rd., Devon, Penna.: Four children, Donald, Jr., Deborah, Cliff and Christine. Ann writes that she and Don have a new enterprise called Vincent Properties Co., a real estate firm. Ann does the bookkeeping. They get much pleasure from their boat, and Ann says they have "used it in every drop of water within 400 miles!"

Marilyn Hubner: Mrs. Robert A. Sherwood, 3 Sedgewick Lane, Stony Brook, N.Y.

Pat Hyde: Mrs. Herbert Billett, 4 Graham Ave. No., Bangor, Maine: Two children, Karen and Kim. Pat studied for and received her B.S. from Boston University in 1953. She is active in the Junior League in Bangor. Herb is the Director of Audio Visual Education and Public Information for the Bangor school system. Pat and Herb are still active in theater work.

Betty Jean Jones: Mrs. Stanley W. Bolton, 201 Hackney Circle, Surrey Park, Wilmington, Delaware: Two children, Barbara Jean, Barbara, Bobby, Susan and Patty Beck

(Virginia Towe '49)

10, and Carol Ann, 7. Betty and Stan enjoyed a trip to Mexico last year. Stan is with Dupont's International Department. Before settling down to homemaking, Betty Jean was employed in the Personnel Department of the University of Pennsylvania.

Ellen Key: Mrs. J. Lawrence Woodruff, 73 Lupine Way, Sterling, N.J.: Two children, Karen Lee, 14, and David Scott, 8.

Ariel Leonard: Mrs. William O. Robinson, 6546 Clybourne Ave., No. Hollywood, Calif.: Two boys, Billy and Mark. After Lasell, Ariel was secretary to the president of an insurance company, and was secretary to the president of an aircraft firm in California for four years. She is presently occupied with homemaking.

Lois Lincoln: Mrs. Byron Dugdale, 18 Archer Lane, Darien, Conn.: Mother of four children ranging in age from 4-13.

Barbara McCooe: Mrs. Edward A. Robbins, 2809 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, Ohio: Three girls, Jill 11, Jan 9, and Penny 6.

Joanne McDonald: Mrs. Richard Prouty, 87 Glenwood Drive, Bristol, Conn.: Three children, Dorry 9, Ginny 5, and Richard 2. Joanne received her B.A. from Clark University.

Nat Malin: Mrs. Paul Foley, 11 Greenbrook Rd., Middlesex, N.J.: Three boys, Mark, Bruce and David. Nat attended William & Mary College and earned certification as a dental assistant. Paul received his Master's from Dartmouth, and is employed at Allied Chemical Corp. in New York City. Nat writes, "I stay very busy with our three little Indians, church work and antiquing when I get the chance."

Marjorie Martin: Mrs. Larry Allen, 5420 Netherland Ave., Riverdale, N.Y.: Two children, Carolyn, 7, and Andrew, 4. Marge was employed at Sak's Fifth Avenue training department; later was dress and sportswear buyer for Manfell and Martin in Stamford, Conn.

Anne Mastin: Mrs. Robert Egner, 412 Hollywood Ave., Hohokus, N.J.: Four children, Nancy, Carl, Corine, and Bruce. Anne was an Interior Decorator for five years in New York with F. Schumacher and Co., and for a year in Denver with a small retail decorator. Anne writes, "It seems 100% of my time is consumed by the needs of our four children. My husband and I enjoy an occasional ski trip, and hope that soon we will have a skiing family."

Winnie Olson: Mrs. Fred A. Carlson, Jr., 2228 Charlsey Rd., Kingsport, Tenn.: Two daughters, Cindy and Donna. Winnie writes, "We recently built a new home, went to Nassau, had a fabulous weekend at the Kentucky Derby, and went to Bermuda last June. I play golf morning, noon and night. It's great!"

Winnie Schulman: West Hook Rd., Box 181, Hopewell Junction, N.Y. Winnie attended the New York Institute of Dietetics, and is now an Assistant Administrative Dietitian at a hospital near her home.

Phyllis Turner: Mrs. Maurice Yeager, 2170 Fawsett Rd., Winter Park, Florida: Three children. Phyl writes, "We live on a lake here and enjoy water skiing. Year-round good weather is a joy and lends itself wonderfully to our hobby of camping."

Barbara Schnelle: Mrs. James R. Orton, Sussex Drive, Lewes, Delaware: Barb states, "Really kept busy with five children. Three in school, and two at home. I took part in a High Fever Follies production to raise money for our hospital."

Lois Schaller: Mrs. Joseph R. Toegemann, 129 Plantation Dr., Cranston, R.I.: Three children. Lois says, "In February we visited Pete and Jean Davies Stanley in Wilbraham. The men and boys took off for skiing in Vermont. Jean and I got our 'exercise' by visiting a braided rug factory and shopping."

Joan McKinney: Mrs. Raymond E. Aldrich, Jr., 71 Ferris Lane, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.: Five children. Joan tells us, "Ray was appointed Family Court Judge for Dutchess County in January by Governor Rockefeller."

Marilyn Shaughnessy Daley x-'50 was named chairman of the St. Luke's Hospital Auxiliary's annual membership drive which took place in February in Pittsfield, Mass.

15th Reunion

Gals who did not attend reunion weekend have no idea of all the fun missed. Living in Woodland dorm, with local gals joining us for meals and chatter was just the best time — no curfew, no waiting lines to the shower, viewing the "new" campus, and renewing acquaintances, all helped to make this the best reunion yet.

At a class meeting, following the all-Reunion Luncheon, Harriet Schwarz Hamilton was elected Chairman for our 20th (1971) with a sizable committee to assist her. Harriet suggests you start saving now for an even greater and gayer time!

Nancy Rankin Heider was awarded a prize for being the most recent bride; and Paula Flath Hurley from Escanaba, Michigan was recognized as the "long distance" traveler.

A number of girls (some accompanied by husbands) then proceeded to Fantasia's Restaurant in Cambridge for dinner and an evening of merriment.

Returned Questionnaires:

Susan Baker: Mrs. Gordon A. Chase, 30 Pleasantview Avenue, Longmeadow, Mass. Three children: Robert A., 11, Laurie J., 9, Bradford A., 7. Sue writes, "We now have a much dreamed-of and finally-purchased summer home on Martha's Vineyard. Back to the ocean we go — or at least back for the summer and as many weekends as we can squeeze in! My husband and I have spent the past year 'roaring' around the state for the Lions Club, representing Western Massachusetts. It's been a wildly hectic, but interesting year. We turn purple at the mere mention of mashed potatoes or chicken, and our children turn all colors on hearing the words 'baby sitter.' Our island retreat will be doubly appreciated after this busy year."

Mary Jane Clark: Mrs. Vincent Maurici, 10 Emmons Street, East Boston, Mass. 02128.

Marjorie Cushing: Mrs. Milton L. Gershaw, 13 Downing Rd., Peabody, Mass. Three children: Scott, 10, Gary, 7, Lori, 2.

Jean Davis: Mrs. Jack Wm. Walter, 21 Snake Brook Rd., Cochituate, Mass. Three children: Jonathan, 12, Jeffrey, 11, James, 7.

Meridale Roberts: Mrs. Guy Brewster Hughes, Still Pond, Manchester Depot, Vt. Four children: Ellen Hughes, 12, Merilee Vasey, 11, Trevor Vasey, 8, and Jennifer Vasey, 5.

Marjorie Fager: 53 Park Place, Bloomfield, N.J. Marge works in her physician Dad's office; flew in on Friday evening just in time for dinner.

Paula Flath x-'51: Mrs. Edward W. Hurley, 504 South 5th Street, Escanaba, Michigan. Three children: Todd, 10, Sue Ellen, 8, Allison, 4.

Libbie Fleet: Mrs. A. Melvin Glazer, 94 Fairfield Street, Lowell, Mass. Two children: Hugh, 11, and Ruth, 7.

Priscilla Freeman: Mrs. John E. McCartney, 135 Middlebrook Road, Stratford, Conn. Four children: John, Jr., 10, Melissa, 7, Richard, 5, David, 2. The McCartneys are building a new home in the country, Easton, Conn.

Joan Groccia: Mrs. William Murdock Cowan, Jr., 23 Glen Road, Wellesley Farms, Mass. Children: Cynthia, 6, Loisanne, 4, Frank, 2. Joan writes, "Have been studying singing and have done solo work in several churches in the area. Also interested in amateur theatricals and am a member of the Hovey Players of Waltham. I was one of 'Les Belles' in their latest production, Robert Sherwood's 'Idiot's Delight.' Took part in Waltham's Easter Bunny Parade."

Carol Hess: Mrs. John Recco, Jr., 31 Fairfax Road, Needham, Mass. Two children: Linda, 11, Jack, 12. Carol comments, "John and I are both avid golfers — he is good, and I've been learning for six years — but just love it! Linda is now showing an interest, but Jack is too busy with Little League baseball. Spent Thanksgiving in New Jersey and met Don and Nancy Rankin Heider in New York for dinner."

Lois Hutchinson: Mrs. Allyn C. Woodward, Jr., 5 Longfellow Road, Natick, Mass. One child: Keith Allyn.

Karin Long: Mrs. Douglas O. Ernst, 80 Goddard Street, Newton Highlands, Mass. Two children: Jeffrey, 7, and Jonathan, 3.

Louise Marston: Mrs. Willard T. Donnelly, 19 Hope Street, Ridgewood, N.J. Three boys: Jon, 11, Duff, 8, Kyle, 2. Louise writes, "Feel I have put my Lasell training to good use, as I work part time as a laboratory technician. Really enjoy the work, and it is good to be able to 'keep my hand in.' My boys manage to keep me busy — especially now with both of the older ones involved in Little League and Scouting. My main hobby is sewing — make all my own clothes. We spend summer vacations at our 115-year-old house on Islesboro, an island in Maine's Penobscot Bay."

M. Elaine Quavillon: Mrs. Allan W. Tull, 55 Bower Road, Madison, Conn. Two children: David Allan, 13, and Sharon Elaine, 8. Elaine and her family drove to Auburn-dale together. While Elaine attended the Reunion Luncheon, Allan and the children amused themselves in Boston.

Nancy Rankin: Mrs. Donald M. Heider, 100 Vail Road, Parsippany, N.J. 07054. Nancy's husband works for Delta Airlines — they took a Memorial Day weekend trip to Europe, visiting Brussels, Amsterdam, Delft, "to name a few points of interest."

Harriet Schwarz: Mrs. William Hamilton, Jr., 15 Westwood Rd., Lexington, Mass. Four sons: Stephen, 11, Gary, 9, Russell, 8, and Richard, 6. Harriet writes, "The boys are keeping me busy with school activities and Little League. My youngest is starting first grade this fall, and I can't believe it. Am still very active in amateur theatrics. Have taped a show for WGBH-TV, Channel 2, to be aired in the fall. I bowl every week, and have been taking some modern jazz dance lessons with Barb Chace Parkins '50. Many laughs and loads of fun. Joan LeFrank is teaching physical education in a California high school."

Diane Nelson: Mrs. Robert D. Cowan, 60 Mossman Rd., Sudbury, Mass. Four children: Patricia, 8, Andrew, 4, Linda, 3, Robert, 1. This year Diane is Transfer Chairman for the Junior League of Boston, which involves interviewing transfers from all over the country, and helping with their assimilation into the League. Two years ago she was Children's Theatre Chairman for the League. She teaches Sunday School, golfs, skis, and knits; cooking is her main hobby. She writes, "I've thought of writing a cookbook, but somehow there isn't time. We are a busy family, but in all the confusion and noise, there are many laughs and a lot of fun."

Betty Lou Shattuck: Mrs. Karl R. Musser, 11 Janice Circle, Framingham Centre, Mass. Two children: Karen Ann, 10, and Kathy Lou, 4. Betty has been a Brownie Leader for two years with a troupe of 21 girls. This year she is assistant Scout Organizer in the Framingham area.

Robin Witt: Mrs. Clifford R. Mosher, 35 Clarke Rd., Needham, Mass. Four children: Gary, 13, Jill, 12, Dana, 11, and Kimberly, 9.

Anna Stevenson: Mrs. Salvatore N. Manganò, 17 Stella Road, Belmont, Mass. Twins: Mary Ellen and Paul, 8 years. Ann writes, "Still on Cloud #9 after a 3-week trip to Europe in April. Purchased a car in Germany, drove through Switzerland, Italy, and into Sicily. What an experience! We apologize for the tardiness of reunion information, but with all these happy events, I just didn't get to my duties. Please make every effort to attend our 20th Reunion. This is all so much fun."

Ann Van der Veer: Mrs. Theodore C. Lander, 1786 West Lake Road, Skaneateles, New York 13152. Two children: Deborah, 12, and Theodore C. Jr., 8. Ann states, "As every other mother, I'm involved in Mothers' Club at the elementary school, Girl Scout Leader, and church work. My hobbies are knitting and attending ceramic classes. As a family we enjoy skiing — although the children and I are just beginners. Summers are spent here on the lake, sailing and swimming."

Janet Wyman: Mrs. Carleton J. Meade, Jr., 184 Blueberry Hill Rd., Longmeadow, Mass. 01106. Two children: James, 7, and William, 6. The Meades moved from Wellesley to Longmeadow in April. Carl is resident representative for Bethlehem Steel Corp. While in Wellesley, Janet was active in Florence Crittenton League, Wellesley Junior Service League. As members of the Maugus Club, she and Carl take part in the annual cabaret — musical shows. Jan comments, "I had the lead one year — sang several solos and duets. Two years ago we built a place in Centerville at Lake Wequaquet on the Cape; vacation there."

Norma Appleyard: 152 Elgin Street, Newton Centre, Mass. 02159.

Joan Barnett: Mrs. Donald C. Atwood, 14 Woodbury Road, Watertown, Conn. 06795. Four children: Marcy, 10, Peter, 9, Jimmy, 5, Wendy, 3.

Kathleen Ballard: Mrs. Otto A. Heck, R. D. #2, Stockton, New Jersey 08559. Six children: Kathy, 12, Dick, 10, Barbara, 9, Dianne, 8, Jeanne, 6, Donna, 5. Kit writes, "With six children and a very busy husband, I have little spare time. Have been elected Corresponding Secretary for the P.T.A. for the next two years. Enjoyed Christmas and Easter vacations in Virginia — spent most of time sightseeing in Washington. This summer we have two vacations planned — in late June a trip to Acadia National Park in Maine; in August to the Shenandoah country. Hope ya' all have a happy Reunion!"

Sallyann Bartlett: Mrs. Douglas W. Abel, Jr., 48 North Circle Drive, East Longmeadow, Mass. Children: Susan, 13, Scott, 11, Peter, 9. Sally remarks, "Just returned from an exciting week at the Americana Hotel in Bal Harbor, Florida, as a delegate to the Annual Jr. League Conference. Sorry I cannot attend Reunion. Please do say 'Hi' to everyone, and rest assured I will be thinking about all of you. Next year I will serve as 1st V.P. of the Women's Auxiliary of Wesson Maternity Hospital where I have worked as a volunteer for 12 years. Besides serving on the Board for the Hampden Dist. Mental Health Clinic, Child Guidance Clinic, Concert Series Chairman for the Junior League of Springfield, I survive as a den mother for 9-year-olds each week. Doug and I enjoyed a good winter of skiing; now trying the tennis courts."

Lorna Becker: Mrs. Herbert F. Harrington, Jr., 380 Warner Hill Rd., Southport, Conn. 06490. Children: Nancy, 12, Jill, 10, Skipper, 7, Martha, 3. Lorna writes, "We've been in the process of moving into a beach cottage for the summer. Went to Europe for three weeks with my husband in October. Have a wonderful time seeing and doing at the Reunion. Just the thought of it makes me nostalgic."

Joan Cardinal: Mrs. Donald F. MacMurray, 44 Walnut Crescent, Montclair, N. J. Three children: Nancy, 11, Ruth, 5, Carol, 4. Joan mentions the MacMurrays are in the process of buying a house in Verona.

Lucille Chase: Mrs. Edward B. Oldham, 185 Park Avenue, Auburn, Maine. Two children: Karen Sue, 7, and Susan Lyn, 3. Lucille says she is just a busy housewife and mother, transporting children to and from various places. She was president this past year of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mary Lou Connor: Mrs. Lawrence J. Moynihan, 14 Loris Rd., Danvers, Mass. Three children: Nancy, 11, Janet, 8, Matthew, 3. Mary Lou states, "In May we are leaving on business for California until the end of the summer. I've been corresponding with Shirley Hannafin Adams. We're planning our own 15th in Palo Alto. See you on the 20th!!"

Nancy Cusack: Mrs. Richard A. Smith, 59 Pomeroy Rd., Madison, N.J. Three children: Linda, 13, Marcia, 10, Ricky, Jr., 8. Nancy says, "Sorry I cannot attend Reunion this year. Would love to see everyone again. Our children are growing like mad. Dick has managed to take time off in March for the past few years; we then travel to Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico — have found a grand spot for golf and good food. In July we go to So. Chatham on the Cape. Do hope this Reunion will be a great success. I'll be thinking of you all."

Carolyn Farrington: Mrs. Douglas W. Corson, 1559 Shaw Dr., San Jose, California. Two children: Doug, Jr., 7, Linda, 5. Cay remarks, "Wish I could be with you all for our 15th Reunion, but the trip is a bit too long! For six years we have been in California, south of San Francisco in the Santa Clara Valley. The valley is lovely; surrounded on three sides by mountains, and the climate is ideal — warm sunny days, cool nights, and no smog! Doug is Production Manager of Beechnut Life Savers' new plant in San Jose. I will graduate from San Jose State soon with a major in Psychology. Plan to continue in graduate school for my M.A. degree. College, homework, church work, and family outings keep me busy. This summer we plan a trip to the northern California redwood country. Last summer we visited Doug's family and friends in New York. My family, in Florida, is on the agenda for next summer. My mother, Virginia Amos Farrington '26 regrets she will not attend her 40th Reunion in Auburndale."

Linda Susan Corson

Mother: Carolyn Farrington '51
Grandmother: Virginia Amos '26

Joy Detweiler: Mrs. John B. Hostetter, 12442 Largo Drive, Savannah, Ga. 31406. Four children: Nancy, 11, Andrew, 9, William, 7, and Jean, 5. A year ago the Hostetters bought a sailboat, and sail almost every weekend. This summer they are hoping to drive to Missouri to visit friends.

Janet Fornoff: Mrs. Halsey M. Hauber, 39 Willow Rd., New Shrewsbury, N. J. Four children: Kathy, 10, Karen, 7, Nancy, 5, Jill, 2.

Shirley Hannafin: Mrs. Robert E. Adams, 1695 Morton Ave., Los Altos, Calif. Two children: Robert Jr., 9, Kathleen, 5.

Barbara Harter: Mrs. Pierce A. Yates, "Timberwyck," Flintstone, Georgia. Two children: Pierce, 2½, Brewster, 1½.

Barbara Hill: Mrs. James J. Breen, 111 South Compo Road, Westport, Conn. Four children: Patti, 12, Pamela, 10, Jamie, 6, Michael, 1. Barb states, "Went to San Juan and St. Croix last month. Had a fabulous reunion with my first-year roommate, Frankie Hyde Ross. Her husband is in business in San Juan. Our home has been traced back to 1724. Have been here 1½ years, and hope never to leave — we love it — children can ride bikes to the beach — and Jimmie even likes the role of 'dashing commuter.' Have just finished remodeling — have a beautiful 'country kitchen,' complete with old beams and built-in everything, which we designed ourselves. Have exposed original beams, and just uncovered an authentic dutch oven in one of the fireplaces."

E. Arlene Kelly: Mrs. John J. McCormack, 67 Oakridge Road, Verona, N. J. 07044. Four children: Anne, 9, John, 8, Michael, 7, Ellen, 3. Arlene says she will not be able to attend Reunion as the Kellys are moving into a new home. She is active in the Junior Women's Club — several church organizations — and still enjoys knitting and bridge when she has the time.

Joan E. Kearney: Mrs. Theodore C. Cormay, 26 Willard Rd., Weston, Mass. Six children: Lynn, 12, Lee, 11, Theodore Jr., 10, Charles, 9, Timothy, 4, and Laurie, 2. Joan writes, "Will not be able to attend Reunion because of a previously-planned camping trip to Pennsylvania. Guess you know how badly I feel that I won't be there. Do hope you all have a wonderful time — my thoughts will be of you girls — have fun — give my very best to all."

Frankie Hyde: Mrs. Howard S. Ross, 1450 Avenida Ashford, San Juan, Puerto Rico. Two children: Andy, 12, Jon, 9. Frankie states, "My husband owns a shoe factory down here in Puerto Rico. Our boys go to English-speaking private school, and have adjusted nicely to this type of life. They go to summer camp in New Hampshire to reacquaint themselves with old friends. Howard and I plan to visit the children at camp the end of July. Distance and time make it impossible for us to attend Reunion, but we wish only the greatest success for this affair."

Barbara Keyes: Mrs. Wallace C. L. MacKinnon, 345 North Batavia Street, Orange, Calif. Two children: Catherine, 2, Lorna Doone, 1, "Cookie??" Boots comments, "My only claim to fame is both my daughters were born on the same day — one year apart — that is known as having 'Irish Twins'!"

Jean Kilgore: Mrs. James B. Owen, Bethel, Maine 04217. Two children: Patricia, 6, Jonathan, 2. Jean says, "My husband is still teaching at Gould Academy. We have been in Bethel for eight years and love it. We get to Boston for a weekend once or twice a year. Would love to see any '51-ers who might get up this way. Sorry I cannot get down for Reunion, but that weekend is Commencement at Gould — an exceptionally busy time for Jim. Hello to all."

Dorothy McPherson: Mrs. L. Chase Wickershaw, 11 Studley Rd., Hingham, Mass. Three children: Wendy, 11, Lysle, 9, Cynthia, 6.

Barbara McRoberts: Mrs. Robert L. Collingwood, 8 Millwood Drive, Branford, Conn. 06405. Four children: Melinda, 12, Andrea, 10, Robert, Jr., 9, Keith, 6. Barb regrets, "Must miss Reunion because I will be attending school in New York for Welcome Wagon hostesses. Am enjoying greeting newcomers to Branford. In spare time, I participate in art exhibits, attend oil painting classes, teach Sunday school, and am a deaconess in my church."

Ann Murray: Mrs. Hugh F. Reynolds, 386 North Avenue, Fanwood, N.J. 07023. Five children: Hugh, Jr., 12, Linda, 11, Mark, 8, Murray, 6, Paul, 1.

Patricia Perry: Mrs. James V. Decker, 2233 Thorley Place, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif. Four children: Victoria, 13, Mark, 10, Melissa, 6, Tracey, 4. Pat comments that all her family love California and are all confirmed West Coasters.

Patricia A. Reynolds: Mrs. John Sanford, Tremont Street, Duxbury, Mass. Three children: Laura, John, Nancy. Pat's husband is a professional ball player — pitcher. Spent several seasons with San Francisco Giants — now with California Angels.

Beverly Pink: Mrs. Calvin F. Reynolds, 136 Lattimore Rd., Rochester, N.Y. 14620. Two sons: Calvin Jr., 7, Gregory, 5. Beverly remarks that she will really miss not being able to join the girls.

Alice Pittenger: American Embassy, Mexico D.F., Mexico. Alice regrets that she will not be able to make Reunion this time, and sends, "Best regards to All."

Patricia Preble: Mrs. Jack Foster, 22 Maple Way, Mountain Lakes, N.J. Two children: Susan, 5, Carolyn, 3. From Patsy we hear, "After 3 years in Venezuela, 3 years in Argentina, a year in Colombia, and almost a year in England, I have now settled down to raise our 'Argentine' and 'Colombian' daughters in the small New Jersey town where I met and married my husband. Jack is based in New York — but still involved in International Insurance. Will be accompanying him on some of his overseas 'junkets' as the girls get older. Can't make this Reunion, but look forward to those to come."

Joanne Monahan: Mrs. Thomas A. Garrity, 521 Sycamore Dr., Elk Grove Village, Illinois. Three girls: Tallaine, 8, Tracy, 7, Therese, 6. Jo writes, "In spite of our busy lives (both Tom and I enjoy many Elk Grove community projects), we still play a lot of bridge, and enjoy a monthly duplicate group. Hope you have a grand weekend."

E. Claire Quinzani: Mrs. Donald J. Kerins, 22857 Cass Avenue, Woodland Hills, Calif. One child: Donald, Jr., 10. Claire's activities include Little League Team Mother, Church Guild. She enjoys bridge, sewing, knitting, reading and gardening.

Pat Raeder: Mrs. Richard Crone, 12 Blossom Heath, Williamsville, N.Y. 14221. Three children: Alfred, 11, Larry, 7, Bryan, 2. The Crones and the Reynolds (Beverly Pink '51) vacationed at a camp ground in Vermont last summer.

Kathy and Robbie Adams
(Shirley Hannafin '51)

Nancy Roetting: Mrs. John P. Clifford, 507 Ferry Road, Orange, Conn. 06477. Two children: John, Jr., 11, Helen (Holly), 6. Nancy states, "After many years of renting, John and I purchased a summer home last year in Branford, Connecticut right on the water. It has been a life long dream of mine, and as we are all water enthusiasts, can hardly wait for summer to try my luck at water-skiing."

Katherine Rothe: Mrs. Robert H. Matson, Jr., 11 Soundview Drive, Larchmont, N.Y. Three children: Katherine, 9, Robert, 6, Paul, 1.

Joanne Seremeth: Mrs. Donald P. Teague, 118 Maple Street, Greenfield, Mass. 01301. Three children: Annmarie, 10, Karen, 8, Paula, 2. Joanne writes, "Never seem to find time to write to old friends — my family keeps me busy. Sorry I won't be able to attend Reunion. Since trading my career as Laboratory Technician for one of wife and mother, I have become very domestic. Projects like sewing, rug braiding, decorating plates, putting May Fair booths together, and being an Assistant Brownie Leader, which were the farthest things from my mind at school, have now become every-day involvements. Hi to one and all! Have a wonderful time."

Isabell Stanley: Mrs. William B. Davis, 77 Applewood Road, Branford, Conn. Three children: Cynthia, 13, Lisa, 9, William, 1. Isabell informs us that she is attending Connecticut State Central College in New Britain to become a business teacher.

Janet Stewart: Mrs. Edward L. Pacetti, 288 Brook Avenue, North Plainfield, N.J. Two children: Robert, 10, and James, 8.

Margaret Stewart: Mrs. John T. Robbins, 8005 Hayden Drive, Knoxville, Tenn. 37919. Three children: John, Jr., 9, Linda, 7, Janet, 2.

Mary Trimby: Mrs. Ellsworth I. Sawyer, 402 Charlotte Street, Newark, N.Y. Five children: Gail, 10, Marcia, 8, Lauren, 7, Alison, 2, Randall. Mici comments, "You can imagine how spoiled our new son is with four sisters to look after him! With the girls getting older, am involved with Girl Scouts, Brownies, Ballet, PTA. With whatever time is left, I play bridge and do church work."

Mary Catherine Vogler: Mrs. John M. Greene, 1903 Ward Street, Midland, Texas 79701. Two children: J. Frederick, 11, Robert K., 7. Mary Cay writes, "Current news and excitement around our house — Shell Oil Company has transferred my husband to The Hague, The Netherlands for one year as of July 1st. My mother is coming with us. We spend our evenings pouring over our Guide to Europe. The house is for sale — the packing and sorting gets wedged in between the daily routine, house hunters, red tape involved with leaving the country, storing our possessions, and going-away parties. It will be quite an experience for all of us. The boys are delighted at the prospect of flying over, and learning a foreign language in a European school."

Betty Vollmer: Mrs. William G. Muir, 10 Crestwood Road, Simsbury, Conn. Three children: Lynn, 14, Debbie, 12, Gail, 10.

Barbara Voorman: Mrs. Walter E. Perdue, Jr., 947 E. Glen Ave., Ridgewood, N.J. Two children: Beth, 11, Mitch, 9.

Gertrude Wagner: Mrs. John J. Simmons III, 15 Orchard Street, Morris Plains, N.J. 07950. Two children: Gerald, 4, Lesley, 2. Nonny states, "Jack is working in a large clinic in Newark as a psychologist — doing post-doctoral schooling in clinical psychology. I take care of the children and garden. We are in the process of building a summer home on Cape Cod."

Edith Taccone: Mrs. Charles A. Kearney, Jr., 4 Gibbs Street, Natick, Mass. 01760. Four children: Deborah, 14, Maureen, 12, Kathleen, 10, Carolyn. Edie writes, "Our newest daughter is a doll and a wonderful 'surprise' after ten years. Had forgotten what a joy it is to have a baby in the house. Needless to say, the three older girls adore 'Carrie' — will have her spoiled in no time. Doubt that I can make Reunion — first one I've missed. Please remember me to all that do attend. Am presently a member of the Board of Directors of the Greater Boston Lasell Club, and a volunteer librarian at a local elementary school one day a week. Have been active in the PTA and Girl Scouts."

Barbara Walsh: Mrs. Richard S. Patterson, 2058 N.W. 7th Place, Gainesville, Florida. Two children: Charles, 5, Alexandria, 4. Barb comments, "When my husband accepted a Federal Government position, we moved to Gainesville. It's much like New England here with a definite change of seasons. The trees and flowers are more familiar to me than those of the more tropical climate. Living here has its advantages over trudging through snow and ice of New England winters, but I don't think I'll ever become accustomed to the very hot summer. Both children will be in school this fall; I plan to return to college, the University of Florida. Hope to see more of Florida's historical points of interest, and try our hand at camping in our V.W. bus this year."

Nancy Webb: Mrs. John F. Canepa, Jr., 76 Kings Gate No., P.O. Box 8128, Rochester, N.Y. 14617. Three children: Joanne, 10, Barbara, 8, Sandra, 5.

Nancy Mitchell: Mrs. George F. S. Quinn, Jr., 10 Camden Road, Auburndale, Mass. Nancy writes, "Have started a three-year home study art course from the Famous Artists School in Connecticut. Find it very stimulating and quite a challenge. The days go by quickly. Hope Reunion is a big success. Something that might be of interest: Spent two weeks of March in the New England Medical Center in Boston. Was a guinea pig for scientific research in what happens to paralyzed muscles after several years of paralysis and atrophy. It was a fascinating experience. Perhaps some day something good will come out of it all. Frankly I'm very proud of my two scars caused by muscle biopsies, I feel that I have made a worthwhile contribution to science — and who knows — maybe to mankind."

Joyce Weitzel: Mrs. Charles D. Flanagan II, Thayer Farms Rd., Attleboro, Mass. Two children: Martha, 11, Betsey, 9. Joyce says, "Sorry to have to miss Reunion. Say Hi to all the gals for me. We have lived in Attleboro for ten years; five years ago we built a contemporary home on a two and a half acre wooded lot. We are only three miles from town, but consider ourselves in the country. Favorite pastimes are playing indoor and outdoor tennis, bridge, skiing. My husband recently acquired his pilot's license. Not long ago, we flew to the quaint island of Nantucket. Hope to go back for another visit."

Mary Jane White: Mrs. Russell B. Miller, 61 Lockwood Ave., Old Greenwich, Conn. Children: Alison, 7, Leslie, 3. Mary Jane regrets, "Much to my disappointment, I am not able to make our 15th. Had hoped to but Russ was made Golf Chairman of our little club here; thus he is busy every weekend, and not available for baby sitting."

Joan Mary Williams: Mrs. Willard B. Arnold III, 31 Winter St., Waterville, Maine. Three children: Amy, 6, Beth, 4, Margi, 2. Billie comments, "My husband's Bowdoin Reunion is same weekend so . . . we go to Bowdoin, where he is active in alumni work. Say hello to everyone for me."

Margaret Gardner: Mrs. John I. Larkin, One Intervale Place, Greenwich, Conn. Three children: Stephanie, 10, Richard, 8, Julia, 6. "After Lasell it's been as follows:

Two years University of Pennsylvania Hospital (Pepper Labs) getting degree in M.T.

One year working at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Marriage

Four years in Albany, N.Y. while Jack completed medical school and internship.

Two years in Buffalo, N.Y. while Jack did his residency in Pediatrics.

Three years in Okinawa while Jack served his military obligation. Loved it — traveled to Japan, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Hawaii, too.

Three years in Greenwich, Connecticut in the process of raising three children, redecorating our first real home, mowing lawns, and watching everything grow — children, Jack's practice, and my many gray hairs."

Peggyanne Riker: Mrs. Robert L. Miller, 923 Kathryn St., Cary, North Carolina. One child: Robert L., Jr., 9. Peggy writes, "Had a grand winter and last year spent a delightful summer vacation touring the U.S.A."

Janet Woodward: Mrs. John J. Powers, Jr., 415 Iana Street, Kailua, Oahu, Hawaii. Seven children. Jan comments, "In addition to the seven kids, we are feeding four pups. Aloha to all our friends."

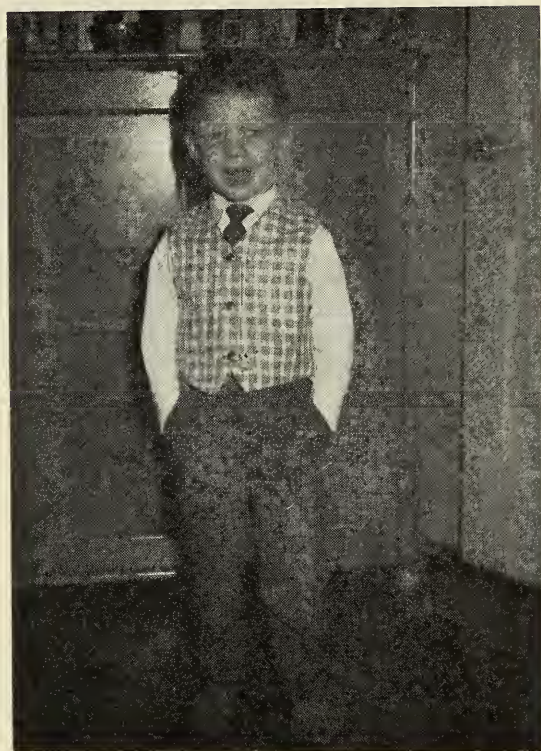

Marjorie Kleindienst: Mrs. Robert J. Guidera, 18 High Ridge Road, R.D. 1, Dover, N.J. Six children.

Sue Baney Berghaus directs An Open Letter to the Class of 1952:

"Who says, No News is Good News? I certainly don't! Have you noticed a decided scarcity of messages in OUR class column in the LEAVES? Don't you wish you could catch up on doings of your classmates? Well . . . you have to give a little to get a little. Please (appealingly) . . . each of you . . . send your Secretary a note now and then.

"Also . . . just a reminder . . . June 1967 brings REUNION."

John Frank Pacocha II
(Barbara Wulbrede '52)

Ann Woods Talbot has returned to the Mainland after six years in Hawaii. Frank is attending Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island. Ann is the mother of three daughters and a son.

Rena Silverman's spring vacation took her to Denver, Las Vegas and Los Angeles. She requested the present address for her "Senior Sister," Helaine Fendler Gari: 1435 Bedford Street, Stamford, Conn.

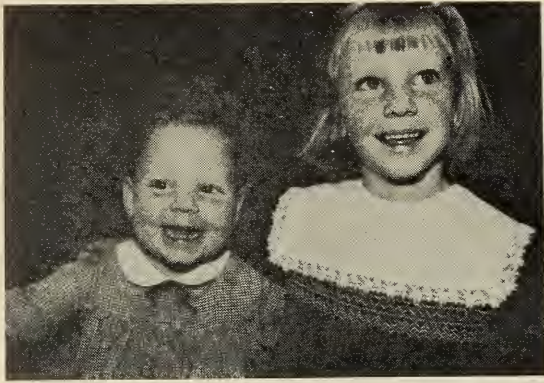

Barbara Wulbrede Pacocha sent son John Frank II's picture, taken on his third birthday, January 19, 1966, and added: "At the moment I am not teaching, just acting as housewife, mother, Girl Scout leader, gardener, et al."

From Phyllis Werblow Strompf: "In the process of building a new home. It is all most exciting! Our new address: 22 Willmerry Lane, Greenwich, Conn."

1953

"We've been transferred again! Jim is now in the Detroit area with Oldsmobile Division of General Motors." So writes Joan Godfrey Emmert; the new address: 30181 Fiddlers Green, Farmington, Michigan.

Evelyn Earle Lukeman has "enjoyed many Lasell houseguests since moving to North Carolina. Nancy Preston Strohmeier and daughters Sarah and Melissa spent a week with us in February."

Sally Anne and Carolyne Roth
(Nancie Shean '52)

Helen Pearlstein Golden finds "the 1953 column in the LEAVES all too short. Would love to learn more news of our classmates."

Susan Russell Holden, niece of Mary Lou Burke Alexander, will enter Lasell's 1966 freshman class.

Martha Gries Davis is now living in Pittsburgh — 272 Yee Lynn Drive. Marty's family includes Betsy, 9, Kathy, 8, and Mark, 4.

1954

Sara Rojas Casarella writes from Silver Spring, Maryland: "My husband is a member of the faculty at the Catholic University in Washington. We are enjoying a family reunion with my mother and brother, who are visiting from Colombia."

Marilyn Taylor Ames and family are "very much at home in the small town of Hollis, New Hampshire."

Margaret Robson Priddy sends a new address: 3523 Launcelot Way, Annandale, Virginia, and is interested in joining the Washington alumnae group.

From Corinne Coyle: "My spring vacation brought three weeks in Europe — best of all was the skiing in Austria."

Ann Bowerman Logan's present address is 4602 Brookhill Drive, Manlius, New York. "Bob is with IBM in Syracuse; the children are growing too rapidly. Bob, Jr. is 8, Shaun, 6, Beth Anne, 5, Mary Jo, 4, and Michael John will soon be one year old."

In the Armonk (N.Y.) office of IBM is Werner Schoen, husband of Carlie Heisler x-'54. Carlie adds: "Spent last June in Europe on a business trip. Had a ball!"

The popular Echo Book, "Salt of the Earth — an informal portrait of Richard Cardinal Cushing," was written by Mr. John H. Fenton. The Preface carries the following credit: "The final manuscript was lovingly typed between household chores by Priscilla Ann Abercrombie, a filial relative of mine who also is maternal custodian of three of my grandchildren." (Mrs. Abercrombie is the former Priscilla Ann Fenton.)

Joan Geddes Grant is happily settled in her new home — 1557 Puerto Vallarta Drive, San Jose, California.

Susan Gray Lichtenstein writes: "Busy with family (two sons, Philip and Alan, Jr.), and operate a free lance fashion show business in New Haven. One 'free' day we shall come to Auburndale!"

From Susan Thomas Wiard: "Bob is in Korea for a year. The children and I are in Connecticut until he returns."

Jean Ryder Tyler's "three girls are active in scouting, the 'Y' and church activities. Bill and I each have a scout troop, and are active in various community activities. Bridge continues to be our favorite pastime."

Barbara Jennings is "Still Ready to Answer the Call of Travel," or so reads the headlines of a June issue of the Newark (N.J.) SUNDAY NEWS. The story continues: "Miss Barbara R. Jennings, an adventuresome, former Verona resident, has returned to the United States after travelling for three years through the West Indies as a crew member on a 100-foot schooner and motoring for two years from France to India. The ex-airline stewardess has settled in San Francisco, but is ready to sail again should 'the siren call of the traveller beckon once more.' Miss Jennings said her five years experience as a stewardess gave her the confidence to travel by herself. A three-month trial trip to Europe, during which she hitchhiked through ten countries, slept in youth hostels and camped out, reinforced her decision 'to see the world.'

Freddie, Jannene and Cherie Thellman

"After several cruises to the Bahamas on skin-diving excursions, including a stint as a skindiving actress in television's 'Sea Hunt' series, Miss Jennings left her base in Miami for what was to develop into a five-year world tour. 'From St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands I moved bag and baggage into my new home, a palm-thatched raft. After a morning sea bath and a cup of black coffee, I would row ashore to my office on the dock where I arranged charters for the sailing and fishing fleet of the St. Thomas Charter Boat Association.' Anxious to visit other West Indian islands, she moved to Barbados, where she found work as charter agent and private secretary aboard the 'Carlotta,' a 100-foot schooner.

"Through 'Carlotta's' cruises, my wish to see the Islands was fulfilled before saying goodbye to the Western Hemisphere. Little did I know then that I was to embark on a 19,000-mile trip across Western and Eastern Europe, the Middle East and Southeast Asia."

Reunion Report, complete with pictures, will be included in the November LEAVES.

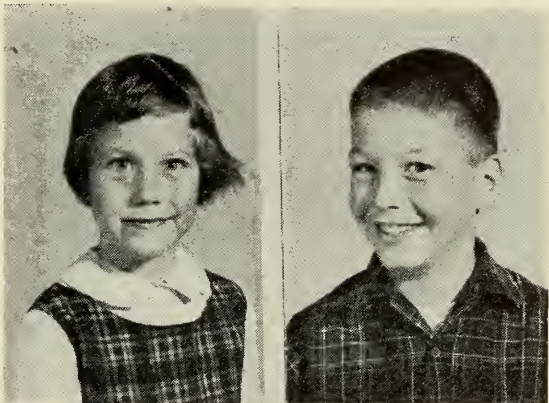

1958

From Allenwood, New Jersey comes an invitation from Linda Truell Good: "Any '58-ers visiting in the area, do come to call. We love living at the shore."

Brenda Holbrook is "still enjoying my tour in Taipei, which terminates in June '68 — but the time goes so quickly! Am excited about a vacation tour to Southeast Asia in the near future. Hope to visit Singapore, Bangkok and Hong Kong."

Jeanne Bradner Spackey has a new address: 4839 Wickford Drive East, Sylvania, Ohio. Jeanne writes: "Jack is originally from Ohio so is familiar with the area. Everyone is so very friendly here."

Spring brought European vacation trips for Janet Hicks McCoy and for Fran Klein Madison. Janet's husband was named "salesman of the year" by his company; the reward: a 21-day tour. Fran and husband spent the month of February in Paris.

Katy and Rob Wiard
(Sue Thomas '55)

1959

A postcard, dated May 25 and mailed in Luzern, comes from Sandra Kenney: "Hello! Love my European trip! Everything is so exciting! Have toured England, Holland, Germany and Switzerland — with more to come!"

Susan McComb Powers has two daughters; Diane Susan, born June 30, 1961; Nancy Lynne, born April 20, 1964.

Barbara Lewis Lomer writes: "Husband Lloyd is a student at the University of Rochester. Daughter Kerry is an active three-year-old."

Anne Hayden Halberg, Walt and the two daughters are enjoying their new home — 335 North Lehigh Circle, Swarthmore, Penna.

Lynn Williams has accepted an appointment as a technical representative for Spectra Biologicals. Her headquarters will be in Los Angeles; her new duties primarily concerned with technical service to hospital blood banks and medical colleges in Southern California. Lynn has been chief technologist at the Groton (Mass.) unit of the Nashoba Community Hospital during the past three years and was formerly a medical technologist at the Hartford (Conn.) Hospital. She is a member of the Massachusetts Association of Medical Technologists and the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Diane M. Burdick has been accepted at the School of Social Work of Syracuse University for the fall term of September 1966. She will begin full-time work on her Master's Degree at that time.

Patricia Spahr Churchill reports: "All is well with the Churchills. Monte now heads a department in the Oakland Long Lines Office of the Pacific Telephone Company. We enjoyed the Holidays; celebrated Bill's first birthday at the same time." Pat's address is 1009 Hook Avenue, Pleasant Hill, California.

In late June Carol Israel Allen x-'60 will move to Ashland, Kentucky, where her doctor-husband will be staff psychiatrist at the federal prison. Dr. Allen has completed his residency at the New York State Psychiatric Institute at Columbia-Presbyterian.

Ronna Zucker Uhrman continues "to teach nursery school three days each week. Son Seth Alan is now two years old."

Polly Bergstrom Barnes writes: "We are still traveling, thanks to the USAF. Earlier in the year spent three months in Orlando, Florida; from Charlotte, North Carolina we go to Utah. Jonathan, who was two in December, is proving an excellent traveler."

Sue Van Dorn Pease is one of three very enterprising gals, whose fashion project was the featured subject in a February edition of the Hartford COURANT. "Pick-a-Dilly" is the name of the Company; "Dillies" are dresses — created, cut, sewn and custom-fitted for teen-age purchasers. The trio settled on 16 outfits for spring-into-summer ranging in price from $10 to $15 — a typical teen budget dress. Many have sun scarves, while two come with matching "Dilly Duffle" bags. With the help of New Britain school officials, the designers picked two girls from New Britain Senior High School and two from Pulaski High School to serve on their "Pick-a-Dilly Teen Board." There have been a number of fashion shows in the Hartford area; when asked, "What's going to happen if there are more orders than you three girls can handle?", Sue replied, "We'll just have to look into manufacturing."

Julia "Chris" Ellingham Svatora sends a new address: 8131 Carrousel Boulevard, Garden City, Michigan, and adds: "Ron is a psychiatric social worker at Wayne County General Hospital. I taught school, then did a bit of substitute work, but am now devoting myself to 'homework.' Our son, Robbie, is 2½; Ann Jeannie, 1½. Always enjoy hearing from Lasell friends."

For Melinda Neal Daniels last-minute regrets to Reunion spelled: "Disaster! Have a great job in one of the New Haven department stores — there is one drawback — must work on Saturdays. Doug is on leave; reports back for duty on June 21st. I shall stay here in Hamden for the thought of returning to South Carolina in midsummer is not a pleasant one."

Wendy Wolfenden plans a summer vacation trip to Europe. She will be accompanied by sister Carol, a 1966 Lasell graduate and a Jacket Winner.

Constance Pihl Pritchard thoughtfully sent a new address — #11 Kingston Arms Apartments, Tremont Street, Kingston, Mass., and wrote: "My husband and I have returned to Massachusetts after a year in Michigan where Pete flew for a cargo carrier. He is now a pilot with Eastern Airlines, Boston-based. Dianne Bezanson Keleher and husband were here for a visit not long ago; we had a wonderful time talking about our Lasell days." Dianne is serving as chairman of the 1966 Cancer Crusade for the town of Avon, Connecticut.

Lynne Horner Martin is now in West Hartford with her parents (Ethel Buchanan '32). Lt. Martin will be stationed in Okinawa until January 1967.

Sandra Mueller Sandberg reports frequent meetings with Mary George Poor and Marilyn Caruso Crosby. Mary lives in Melrose; Marilyn is in Woburn. Sandy's address is 14 University Avenue, Burlington, Mass.

Pauline Sarrazin Addison writes: "We lead a rustic life at the Mad River Ranger Station of the Six Rivers National Forest, Bridgeville, California. Bob is employed by the U.S. Forest Service."

"Continuing" secretaries include: Joan Brodalski DuBois with the College Placement Council, Inc. in Bethlehem, Penna.; Marguerite Stockman, secretary to the corporate director of Purchases at Foster Wheeler Corp., Livingston, N. J.; and Valerie Duval, secretary to the vice president and general manager of the Benrus Watch Company, Waterbury, Conn.

Lynne Cadieux Kania and husband celebrated their first wedding anniversary in Puerto Rico. After graduation from Tufts University in 1963, Lynne taught pre-primary and second grade. She vacationed in Europe, Hawaii and in the West Indies.

Suzanne Kelley sends "best good wishes to all Lasell friends. Am a flight stewardess with Pan American, and expect to move to San Francisco later in the year."

Complete Reunion Report to appear in the November LEAVES.

Carolyn Bird Murray has "temporarily resumed the secretarial career again to assist my husband through Law School. Find the triple role (wife, mother, and career woman) a bit hectic! My work requires some traveling and gives me the opportunity to get in touch with former classmates Lynn Fager Smith and Judy Sylvia Kamienski."

This good word from Ann Porcaro Mucera: "Our first child, John Anthony, was born on Labor Day, September 6, 1965. We will be in our new home early in the summer — 12 Olde Towne Road, Lynnfield, Mass. Tony and I couldn't be happier! Keep in touch with Phyllis Milano Coliano in Andover. Her twin sons, Frank and Dana, keep her really busy. We both would love to have news of the 1961 Day Student contingent."

Sally Lawrence Karr has been appointed to the faculty of the Sharon (Mass.) Public School system. She will teach kindergarten at the East Elementary School in September. Sally was graduated from Boston University in 1963, and has taught for three years in Holliston.

Holda Sanchez has requested a transcript of her Lasell work. At present she is working with the Inter-American Development Bank in Washington as a bilingual secretary, and plans to take further translation courses at Georgetown University.

Betsy Schwingel Sullivan sent "regrets" to the spring Alumnae Council Session, suggested Jane Parsons Dolbier serve as substitute-delegate; and enclosed "a little news for the LEAVES:

The Sullivans have moved into a new home — at last! We arrived just before Christmas — it is great to have a place to hang our hats. The new address: Old Farmers Road, Long Valley, N.J.

Linda Grean Curtis, husband Warren, and daughter have gone to Richmond, Virginia. Will forward the address in the near future.

Debbie Tracey had a wonderful vacation in Arizona and points south and west — including Mexico City, where she attended a bull fight."

Marcia Voikos x'61 has requested transcripts of her Lasell work be sent to the University of Wisconsin and to Stanford University. She "hopes to work for a Master's degree; would love to have news of Lasell girls — 1959-60."

1962

Front-page headlines of the May 9th edition of The Boston HERALD read: "Blushing New York Town Unrolls Red Carpet." The "town" is New Rochelle; the story, in part: "Officials here rolled out the municipal red carpet this weekend for two young women from Massachusetts who were turned out of the police station on the night of February 25, when their sports car broke down. A sergeant at police headquarters refused to let them stay there, so they walked the icy streets and shivered in their cold car until repairs could be made.

Christine "Cricket" Murray
(Carolyn Bird '61)

"One of the women, Judi Morris of Quincy, a 23-year-old dental assistant, later wrote to the police commissioner that she and her friend, Janet Zoia, 'had been greeted with absolute rudeness.'

"Officials in the Westchester town decided to make amends. The two women were flown from Boston to Kennedy International Airport; after lunch with city officials, they were taken on a sightseeing tour of New Rochelle, then to New York for dinner and to see 'Funny Girl' as guests of the City of New Rochelle."

Charlotte Johnson writes to Miss Evelyn Potts: "After graduating from Lasell, I transferred to the Pennsylvania State University; graduated in June 1964. At Penn State I continued in the field of Home Economics, majoring in Foods and Nutrition. Since September 1964 I have been employed by the State of Maryland as the Resident Nutritionist in Prince George's County Health Department. The Resident Nutritionist program was set up in the state of Maryland for recruitment and staff development for nutritionists. My experiences in Public Health have been most enjoyable and rewarding."

Sincere thanks to Ilona Koch Hollar (133 Cypress Mill Road, Brunswick, Georgia) for a long and newsy letter: "For a long time I have had the good intention of writing Lasell

John Anthony Mucera
(Ann Porcaro '61)

to let you know what has happened to one of your alumnae. Much has happened since my graduation in 1962; now it all seems too far away, mile-wise and time-wise. In 1962 I moved to New York City and worked in a company concerned with buying television shows, time and also programming for more than 125 TV stations throughout the United States (Hawaii and Alaska included) and the Virgin Isles. Started my working career at TV Stations, Inc. as secretary to the senior buyer; was promoted to secretary to the president.

"After a year and a half of the Big City, I packed my bags and took off for Rebel territory. Joined the staff of the American National Bank of Brunswick, Georgia; for a year I was secretary to the vice president; in August '65 I was promoted to president's secretary. Find the work interesting and my fellow employees are a wonderful group.

"On June 6, 1965 I married Ted D. Hol-lar. He is from North Carolina and is now stationed here in Brunswick with the Navy. After his tour of duty, we probably will return to New York. I look forward to being closer to family and friends.

"Nancy McDowell Caruthers '64 now lives in Margate, Florida. Ted and I visited her and her husband last July 4th weekend. Pat Murphy Owens and Dick were living in Chicago where Dick was working for an engineering firm. They have returned to Long Island.

"If any classmates are in this 'neck of the woods', do get in touch with me. Shall hope to see many friends at June 1967 Reunion."

Sally Remley Southmayd's appeal for news of the Class brought a number of responses. Betsy Behre Thompson wrote in early September: "Bob and I were married on May 7, 1965 and have been living in San Diego. Just love the climate — the beaches — and the Navy life! Had a short visit with Barb Blore Swartz in San Francisco. Bob's ship leaves in October; I shall return to New Jersey and work there 'for the duration.'"

Donna Roda tells us that she was married to Floyd E. Dunn on June 8, 1964. Her new address is 39 Parkwood Drive, Rexford, New York.

Linda Bald was the weekend guest of Jean DiGiorgio Buchanan in Claymont, Delaware. Jean has now joined husband Dave, who is stationed at Fort Sam Houston in Texas.

Betsy Mercer Henderson sent "a few tid-bits." She was happy to announce the arrival of daughter, Danielle Flint, on March 12, 1966, and commented: "Danielle's big brother, Mark, is 13 months old and believe me, it's almost like having twins! Allison Haff Burrows had a daughter, Jennifer Elizabeth, on January 24, 1966. Janet Fields has a most exciting new address: Calle 29, #16A, 34 Bogota, Colombia. On November 28, 1965 she married Dr. Isaac Gielchinsky."

Marcia Madden shares a letter from Cheryl Grant: "I was married to Asa Martin Small, Jr. on November 20, 1965 at Carter Memorial Methodist Church in Needham. We honeymooned on Cape Cod; are now living at 12 Greendale Avenue, Needham Heights, Mass. For the past year and a half I have been associated with the Boston firm of Wm. C. Codman & Son on Charles Street. My husband is a professional baseball player with the Pittsburgh Pirates. In March we leave for spring training camp at Daytona Beach; then to Columbus, Ohio until September."

From Indianapolis comes word of Linda Burnett Davis: "We will be here in Indiana for a year; then on the move again. Our daughters, Robin, 3, and Suzanne, 2, are growing fast, I hope they will be future Lassel girls."

Virginia Fletcher was chosen as the State Outstanding Junior Member at the Connecticut DAR State Conference held on March 21-22 in Meriden.

Dianne Drozek has "news for the LEAVES. On July 3, 1965 I was married to John Somer. We are now living at 351 Union Avenue, Elizabeth, N.J. I do miss Massachusetts, but have enjoyed visiting former Haskell roommates, Karen Mandel Marschall and Diane Napoli, who live in New Jersey. My husband and I are looking forward to a summer vacation in Europe. I shall meet my husband's relatives in Germany for the first time. Right now I am taking night school courses in German."

1963

1700 West Main Street
Dothan, Alabama
March 30, 1966

Hi,

Have received the February issue of the LEAVES, and feel I must finally write a very long and embarrassingly overdue letter.

Husband Tony is presently working for the Warner Brothers Company, whose home office is located in Bridgeport, Connecticut. He is training to become a plant manager in one of the many southern plants. Tony's branch of Warner's is slimwear — bras and girdles. Eventually, when he has completed a long training period, he will manage a plant which actually manufactures these garments. He finds it most interesting (as any man would)! And I find it quite handy for I always wear Warner's slimwear.

We have been in Dothan since December 6, 1965. The city is located in the southeast corner of the state; population, around 35,000. It is a truly lovely city, but just can't compare with the breathless beauty of a New England town in spring or fall. As you can tell, I am quite homesick and even prouder of my "Yankee" heritage than I ever dreamed I would be. If it weren't for my dear patient husband, I'd probably be on my way back to Connecticut.

I work full-time as secretary-receptionist for a large construction company. Most of the work involves answering the telephone and typing letters from dictation. I fear my Lasell skills are being wasted here. Before we came South, I worked as a legal secretary in Hartford — the pace was terrific, but the position was a challenging one.

Spent last Sunday in Montgomery (Ala.) with Judy Firth Haggett, husband Capt. C. David, and 1½-year-old son, David. Capt. Haggett (Dave, as we know him) spent several months at Maxwell Air Force Base; they return to Otis Air Force Base in May. It certainly was good to see them.

Do want you to know how much I enjoy receiving the LEAVES. Being so far from home, any word of friends is welcomed with open arms.

Sincerely,
Priscilla Jank Merrill

Lenore Silvestro "took off for Europe last May" with Michelle Roberts and Bonnie Campbell. Michelle was married on April 2, 1966 to Russell Turner, and is now living at 31 Henry Street, Framingham, Mass.

Paula Ritz Curran sends a new address: 5850 Forest Court, Gary, Indiana.

Elaine Brady Inman '62 and 1964

Marion Bishop Kersh writes from 9103 Hammett Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia: "Just received the February issue of the LEAVES; thought I would write a bit of information of myself and other '64 friends. Have kept in touch with Trinidad Perry x-'64, and am happy to report that in September '65 she and her husband, Robert S. Gilmore, announced the birth of their first child, Daniel. Mr. Gilmore is currently studying for a Ph.D. at R.P.I. in Troy, New York.

"In January the engagement of my Lasell roommate, Kirsten Hersloff to Mr. David Andrew Kellogg was announced by her mother. No date for the wedding has been set.

"As for my husband and me, things have been going very well. Our tour of duty with the Navy will (hopefully) terminate in May '67, but we plan to stay in the Norfolk area for a few years. My husband is studying to be a CPA. I am working at the Harmon House Interior Designers in Norfolk, and have had the opportunity to work on a number of very beautiful homes. Have become a charter member of the Zonta Club of Norfolk; in October was chosen as the alternate delegate to the district convention held at the Hotel Biltmore in New York. It was a wonderful experience and one I shall always remember."

Christopher Goulston

Carole Ann Plaisted writes "to report a change of address, to 57 Brighton Avenue, Allston, Mass. I am an Assistant Buyer in Jordan Marsh's Teen Age Shop, and love every minute of the working day. Recently became engaged to Jack Tannar of Natick. He was graduated from Nasson College, and is with the Philips VanHeusen Corp. We plan a winter wedding."

Judith Adelson sends word of her engagement to James David Wein of Newton, Mass. They are planning a November wedding. Judy adds: "My cousin, Meryl Jane Oskey, has been accepted at Lasell, and I do hope she will enjoy the College as much as I did."

Joy Raymond and Douglas P. Mayer are planning an August wedding. Joy is studying medical technology at Springfield College; her fiance, a graduate of The Culinary Institute of America in New Haven, is employed by Saga Food Service.

June 1966 college graduates included: Vicky Madaras, Boston University, where she was a member of Pi Omega Pi, National Business Education honorary society; Jane Boyden, University of Redlands, Redlands, California; Virginia Maley, Penn State University; Christine Dudley, American International College with B.A. in History; Sue Gordon, Boston University. Sue will study for a Master's degree in Education at Lehigh University.

Susan Dahlberg received a B.S. in art education from Southern Connecticut State College, and will teach art at the Farmington High School in September.

Carol Bradley is a medical secretary at Tufts-New England Medical Center; Janet Ramsbotham is currently secretary to Dr. Paul Kuehn, a cancer surgeon.

Susan Granger reports: "Certified from Katharine Gibbs, Boston, in May and am now executive secretary for Social Responsibility Department of the Unitarian Universalist Association in Boston. Spent a week of April in Florida; the remaining two weeks of vacation will find me — in August — on the family sailboat."

Donna Whiteley is secretary to the headmaster at the McDonogh School near Baltimore.

And from Rita Hyfer: "Just a note to tell all at Lasell that I am fine and will graduate from Boston University in May '66. Shall receive a B.S. degree in Special Education. At present, I am at the Dorchester Pre-School Nursery for the Mentally Retarded and love the work. Looking forward to having a class of my own next year. Fondest regards to all, especially to Mrs. Weden, Mrs. Stranahan and Miss Beede."

HAPPINESS IS A REUNION

Big reunion on April Sixteen
Lots of talk like you've never seen
A surprise shower it was for Sandi and Bon
It was great to see all, it's been so long
Spent some time on the campus that day
Didn't seem like we'd ever been away
Even reminisced at our own Blaisdell
Loved being back at dear
Lasell

SIGNED: Nelda, Julie and Harley make three Janice, Rhoda, Franny and Dee
And along with Sandi and Bon, things were swell
To our Class of '65 —
best regards from BLAISDELL

And Arlene Lewis reports on Blaisdell's neighbors, the 1965 Hawthorne gals: "I am working at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. I am a laboratory technician working on a research project on Inner Ear Biochemistry at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. See many of the Hawthorne girls. My former roommate Sandra Gilefsky is really not an ex-roommate. She is working at the Blood Grouping Laboratory at the Children's Hospital; spends much time at our house. We had a surprise birthday party for Sandra; those present included: Candy Tufts, Sue Constantine, Marsha Shane, Sue Yenkin, Paula Peckerman, Carole Bellew, Liz Gillette and Susan Dangel."

Karen Pedersen is "the assistant purchasing agent at Edu-Tronics, Inc. of Hicksville, Long Island. The company manufactures language laboratories and other educational electronic equipment."

Kathy Goulder plans to "continue at Boston University; begin work on Master's degree in January 1967. Am continuously running into Lasell classmates. Arrived in London last summer to find Dianne Sokolik and Hetty Magill were members of the same tour party; in Lucerne we saw Charyl Chapman."

Ellen Sweeney, now in Miami, reports "lots of company; always good to see Lasell friends. I am now associate buyer of sleepwear at Burdine's — just love it!"

Andrea Mattisen's first secretarial job was at the African Studies Center at Boston University; presently she is working as a personnel consultant with a Cambridge-based professional placement group. Elizabeth Gillette is secretary to the Assistant Business Manager and Director of University Housing at Northeastern; Sue Dangel is a secretary in the office of career planning at Brandeis. Janet Young declares she has "a wonderful position as secretary to the Director of the Department of Medicine at the Hartford Hospital."

Continuing Education finds Martha Turer at Hofstra University; Deborah DeStaebler, Boston University; Susan Yenkin, State College of Boston; Ann Mattioli, Russell Sage; and Linda Wolf at the Traphagen School of Design in New York. Linda plans to study in Venice this summer.

From Beverlee Pembroke Hill: "I am now the proud mother of a son, John Harold Hill III, whom we call Jack. Later in the summer I plan to return to work at the law office of Ryan and Ryan in Montpelier. John enjoys his work at the Magnetic Testing Laboratory of IBM. We are in the process of building a new home — there is much to keep us busy! Laurel Brown was one of our New Year Day's callers — she was on a skiing trip to Stowe, Vermont."

And on a day in the 116th year of Lasell's existence, a crisp and sunny Sunday, the 2nd of October, 1966, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the College formally inducted into office its fourth president and ninth chief executive — Dr. Vincent Claud De Baun.

Representatives from 85 other colleges, universities and learned societies marched in academic procession to greet him, arrayed in order of their founding.

The Reverend Winslow Beckwith, of the Lasell faculty, offered the invocation. Special greetings were extended from the Board of Trustees, by Wilder N. Smith, chairman:

On behalf of the Board of Trustees and the Inaugural Committee, I should like first to extend the warmest greetings of the College to all of you who honor us with your presence here this afternoon. Many of you have set aside this day out of a busy schedule and many of you have travelled considerable distance to be with us on this occasion. I welcome you to Lasell.

I should like to express our particular pleasure at the presence of Dr. Wilkins, the representative of Williams College. Williams is in a very real sense Lasell's parent college. Our founder, Edward Lasell, was at the age of 19 both the youngest member and the valedictorian of the Class of 1828 at Williams, and held the Chair of Chemistry there for nearly two decades. His house in Williamstown later became the official home of the presidents of Williams College. Mr. Lasell's brother, Josiah Lasell, and their brother-in-law, George Briggs, the next two principals of Lasell, were both graduates of Williams. We are certainly very gratified that this historic occasion could be commemorated by your presence here today, Dr. Wilkins.

We look forward with confidence to a renewal of that idealism and vigor, and to the resurgence of the enterprising spirit that launched Edward Lasell's vision of a female seminary of a high order 115 years ago.

From Mrs. E. Sherman Hall, the former Marilyn Blodgett of the Class of '46, now
President of Lasell Alumnae, Incorporated:

On behalf of Lasell Alumnae, it is a distinct privilege formally to welcome you, Dr. Vincent De Baun, as fourth president of Lasell Junior College. Our alumnae family of over 9,800 members is represented in every State of the Union and in innumerable countries around the world. The Lasell Alumnae Association is one of the oldest organized groups within the College. The Association was formed in 1875. Its object is to serve the interests of the College, to promote a spirit of fellowship among its graduates, former students, faculty and the administration, and to bind the alumnae to the College for their mutual benefit. To you, Dr. De Baun, we pledge our sincere cooperation and friendship. Lasell girls everywhere wish you a happy and successful administration, and to you and to your attractive family, a most warm welcome to Lasell Junior College.

From Dr. Richard M. Packard, Chairman of Lasell's Social Studies Department, formerly Acting President of Lasell (1959-60) and four times elected chairman of the Lasell faculty:

President De Baun, on this happy occasion, we of the Lasell faculty salute you. We have been impressed by your degrees and your teaching experience, but now that you have been living among us, we like very much your human qualities, your friendliness, your good conversation, your broad knowledge of the world. These qualities will serve you well in your many-sided relationships not only with the faculty but with the whole Lasell community. We teachers know how easy it is to be passive or cynical about so complex and difficult an enterprise as higher education. It is refreshing to us to observe your enthusiasm for the excitement and the fun of reading, learning, using the mind, and your interest in that excellence which thinkers from Aristotle to John Gardner have emphasized. Your presence here has started a kind of self-evaluation among the faculty, for some of us are asking ourselves whether or not we will be good enough to meet the standards which we feel you will expect of us. We gain confidence from the future from what we take to be your belief in the faculty as the heart and center of the College, and your understanding that one of your main responsibilities as President is to explain and to mediate the wishes and goals of the faculty to the trustees and the students. We teachers are especially impressed by your active support of academic freedom, professional conditions of employment and the respect due to those who are the essential part of one of the longest lived of all human institutions, the College. You will, we are sure, draw positive conclusions from the statement of one of our leading trustees — without a good faculty, a college is nothing.

Many of us feel that you represent a fresh breeze which will blow away a certain parochialism or provincialism — I was going to say, narcissism — which has existed too long at Lasell. We of the faculty look with high hopes to you to be our guide, philosopher and friend, as together we work out more intelligent and productive ways to connect Lasell with the great realm of collegiate education in America. We are realistic enough to anticipate that during your administration, situations and personalities will threaten to torpedo necessary changes and improvements. So, President De Baun, trusting in your discretion in using our advice, we say to you with Admiral Farragut — “Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead!”

Presidents Long, De Baun and Martin

From Miss Susan Swienckowski, a Lasell senior from Reading, Pennsylvania, President of the College Government Association:

One equal temper of heroic hearts
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.

As Tennyson said in Ulysses, I say of the students of Lasell Junior College: our hearts were made one when we entered this school, but the absence of a president left a want in our campus life. Bound together, we strove, we fought and did not yield to the vacuum which could have been the aftermath, and now you have given our hearts a vision. You are as a candle in the forest that sets aglow all its silent surroundings. You have set the tone expressed in Chapter XI of the Hebrews — "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." We put our faith in you, President De Baun, we are only sorry that we cannot remain behind.

From Ralph O. West of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, speaking for the Learned Societies:

It seems to me that a college such as Lasell has a unique opportunity to assume a role that has been to a great degree abandoned by many of the former strongholds of Liberal Arts education. With the flight of the faculty of these expanding prestigious and prestige-seeking institutions to the research lab, consulting work, exotic government assignments, anything to get them out of the classroom and away from students, we see an apparent abandonment of any semblance of close faculty-student relationships. This has led to disruption and disappointments on the part of the students. Much has been written about this alienation in the past few months. It would seem that the relatively small college that is willing to commit itself to this premise has a chance to restore a vital aspect to the educational process. For after all, it is the stimulation of individuals, minds and personalities interacting, that is at the heart of the existence of civilized humanity. President De Baun, may I express to you on behalf of the Learned Societies our best wishes for a long, happy and mutually stimulating period of service at Lasell Junior College. May your faculty always be vigorous, imaginative and discreet in their use of the pronoun "they." After hearing this last talk by the representative of the faculty, I would say we are going to see this type of imagination and vigor. May your trustees be endowed with the resources of both Croesus and Solomon. May your alumnae crown the school with benefactions of deeds and material blessings. May your students continue to be attractive, loyal, well-adjusted and bright, and may your inescapable mendicant efforts be blessed with success.

(L. to R.) The President's wife: Mrs. Hillary Hall De Baun and her mother: Mrs. Hildegarde U. Hall; and the President's parents: Mrs. and Mr. Claud De Baun. Mrs. Tewksbury appears in the second row.

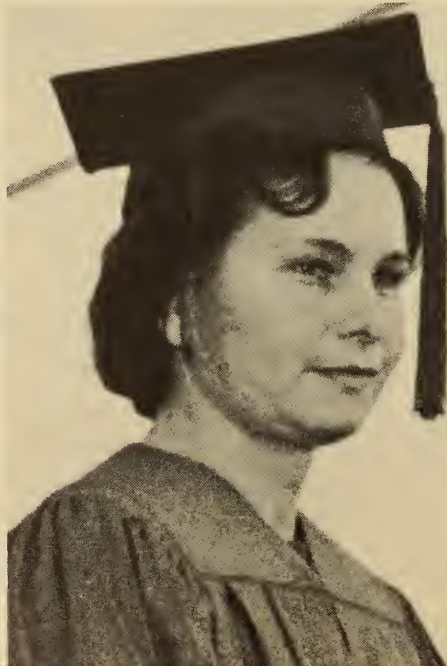

From Dr. Harold Clark Martin, President of Union University, Schenectady, New York, speaking on behalf of the other colleges and universities represented:

It is my honor and privilege to extend congratulations from sister institutions to Lasell Junior College on the choice of Vincent De Baun as president and to add warm good wishes to him and to the College for a fruitful relationship. As a representative of a men's college, President De Baun's college, as you have been told, to this inauguration at a college long versed in the educating of young women, I feel that I represent not only sister institutions but the 1,400 young men of Union College as well. They, too, send greetings to one part of this splendid assembly. In the complex educational patterns of our time, the junior college plays an increasingly important role. Once the typical finishing school for young ladies, a dignified position for a more leisurely age, it is steadily becoming a vital part of a larger program of continuing education. There is indeed greater likelihood of significant change in the influence and nature of junior colleges in the next decade than in any other part of the whole collegiate system. It is, therefore, of great importance that junior colleges, and especially one with a history as noteworthy as Lasell's, develop leadership of high quality and rich experience. Union College is proud that one of her sons today becomes your president and it joins the other educational institutions of this state and nation in wishing you and him Godspeed.

From the Honorable Monte G. Basbas, Mayor of the City of Newton:

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be here this afternoon to bring my personal best wishes to your president. I have had the privilege of breaking bread with him on several occasions and have found him to be a real man, a person with whom I am very proud and pleased to be associated. Newton has long been proud of the climate we have here of academic excellence, not only in its public schools but the parochial schools and certainly the several institutions of higher learning. Lasell has enjoyed a great reputation and a wonderful relationship with the City of Newton. Now, President De Baun, on behalf of the City of Newton may I present you with the official key to the City to welcome you into the City and to show you that we of the City want to work with you in the future years, and keep our doors open to you that our fine relationship may continue. Congratulations to you, President De Baun, and my best wishes.

From His Excellency Elliot L. Richardson, Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

It is a very great pleasure and an honor for me to have the opportunity to represent the Commonwealth of Massachusetts today at the inauguration of Dr. Vincent De Baun as the fourth president of Lasell Junior College. It is a particular pleasure to return here since I have had the very pleasant experience of attending some of your pioneering conferences on careers. It has, of course, become increasingly apparent that in the total spectrum of education beyond the high school, junior colleges in general, and Lasell in particular, are playing and will continue to play an important role in educating and training our young men and women. Today, one out of every three students entering college is entering a junior college, living testimony not only to their growth and progress but to their essential role. The task before you, Dr. De Baun, will not be easy; yet your four years as Vice President of Wells College, your many years on the faculties of Union, Rutgers and the University of New Hampshire, and your five years of responsibility as an officer in the United States Navy have prepared you well to lead Lasell in this, her second century of intellectual pursuit and progress.

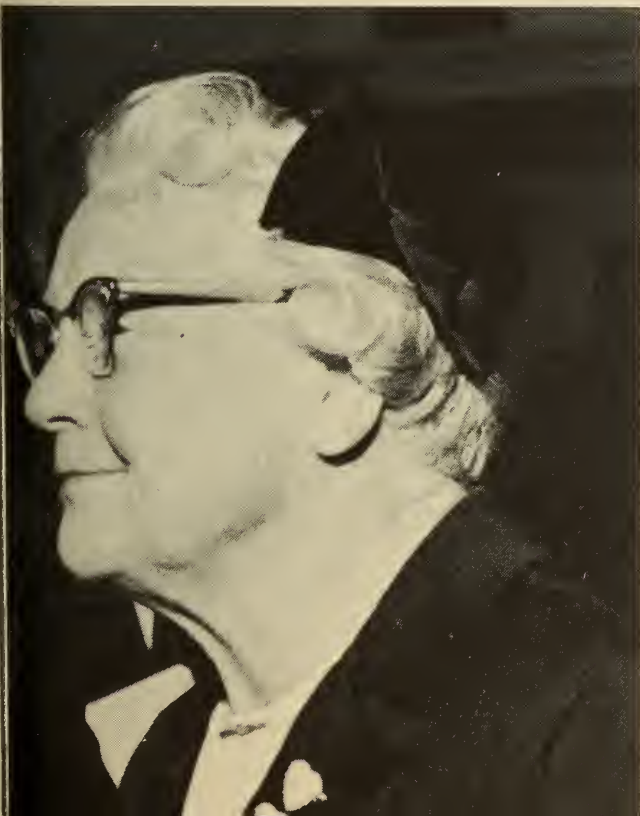

The people of Massachusetts take pride that our state is a national leader in providing educational opportunities to our young people. We look to Lasell for continuing contributions in this most important and critical endeavor. And so, Dr. De Baun, I extend to you the warmest welcome of the people of the Commonwealth and commend you to the task of maintaining the standards of academic excellence which placed Lasell among the leaders in junior college education. And I feel confident, too, that this glorious afternoon is a happy auspice for the success of your administration.

From Dr. Louis Jefferson Long, President of Wells College, Aurora, New York, where Dr. De Baun was formerly Vice President for Fund Development, a personal note:

At this point in the program, we usually expect the person in my position to give the new president advice, good and bad, long range and short. In this particular instance, your president has already had almost ten years of this kind of advice just described. Any more would be much too much, I am sure. Instead, I should like to present Dr. De Baun as teacher, neighbor, administrative colleague and very good friend. In 1956, we had just completed a new cottage across the street from the President's Home, and the first occupants of that cottage were Hillary and Vincent. Mrs. Long and I watched the transformation of the house and grounds into a thing of beauty, for Vincent has a very green thumb. He may never have a chance to use it again, but he had one. His wife has a rare talent for making a house, almost any house, into a home. We still enjoy the beautiful roses he planted many years ago. Every morning as I go to work in the summer time, I see this beautiful bed of roses and know how much Vincent prided himself on having the best roses in town. Now that he has gone, I have the best roses in town. They were wonderful neighbors for us. They both liked good music, good literature, the motion pictures, pro football, and all the finer things of life, just as we do. They were the masters of the lively conversation. In short, they were the type of neighbors you hope you will get but very seldom do.

The President's mother and father

My real purpose in this recital is to show you how versatile your president really is. He is a scholar, an excellent speaker, teacher, actor, literary critic, wise counselor, fund raiser, gardener, understanding friend, possessor of rare insight into the needs of that sometimes baffling but wonderful person, the student at a woman's college. You are most fortunate to have such a man charting the future of Lasell. There are not many such men available these days, so treat him with kindness and help him to fulfill his dreams and yours. You will be well rewarded for your effort.

The actual induction ceremony was brief.
Wilder N. Smith presided:

I am going to ask Dr. De Baun to stand beside me here as I deliver to him the charge on behalf of the trustees and endow him formally with the powers and privileges of the presidential office.

Vincent Claud De Baun, the trustees have selected you to direct the destinies of Lasell Junior College because they believe in the depth and sincerity of your dedication to the needs of youth in the field of education, and because they see in you an eminently qualified professional educator, both teacher and administrator, a human being of dignity and grace of manner and common sense, whose perseverance and creative imagination will be of inestimable value in adapting the educational programs of our College to the needs of our complex times. We admire your vigor, your alertness, your constructive wit, the optimism with which you approach your task. We do not pretend that the task will be an easy one, living in the midst of the terror and turmoil that have become universal in the twentieth century. We are constantly distracted by problems which we could not have imagined ten years ago. The education of young women is one of the crucial areas in our talent-hungry world, and we realize, looking ahead, that our programs here at Lasell, both in vocational training and in the realm of intellectual development for future college work, depend now on your judgment, on your creativity as an administrator and teacher.

You have just heard the affirmation of faith in your ability to cope with these challenges from the alumnae, from the faculty, from the students, from the many men and women gathered here today who are your colleagues in education and administration. We face the future with confidence because we know that you have their support, their friendship and their good wishes. We induct you as the ninth head of our institution and its fourth president with assurance that you will carry on the traditions of Edward Lasell's venture, while keeping in sight always the ever-changing demands of the times in which we live. To this end, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Board of Trustees, I present to you the charter of the institution and with your acceptance declare you, Vincent Claud De Baun, to be the fourth president of Lasell Junior College.

Wilder N. Smith, Chairman, presents
Lasell's charter to President De Baun during induction ceremony.

Dr. De Baun accepted the charter, and acknowledged his responsibility as new president of Lasell with these words:

Mr. Chairman, distinguished delegates and guests, honored members of the Board of Trustees and Corporation, valued members of the faculty and staff, and my friends of the student body of Lasell. Ladies and gentlemen.

I am deeply grateful for the warmth and generosity of your welcome. I must warn you that many of the kind things that were said about me were grossly exaggerated. I wish it were possible for me to express thanks to each of you individually but I must limit myself to the mention of only three people at this time. They are my wife, my mother and my father, who are here today. The love they have given and the help they have offered without stint have led me toward the few remarks I have composed for this glorious day.

Amid all the clamoring voices of our time, none is more poignant or inexorable than the cry of "Change! change! change!" Indeed, most of us are weary of being warned that, in the eloquent phrase of Harold Macmillan, we are being swept toward some immense and perhaps terrible destiny by "the winds of change."

When did it all begin? It is hard to say. For me, the sense that the center of life had changed radically and forever began on the deck of the cruiser U.S.S. St. Louis in Pacific waters, in August 1945. We were told then that an atomic bomb had been dropped on the City of Hiroshima, in the Empire of Japan. It was incredible. It seemed at first a gross and tasteless hoax, an offshoot of the Buck Rogers fantasies of our childhood. But as the truth grew before us, like the mushroom cloud that was its symbol, we felt along our bones and in our blood the knowledge that nothing in life would ever be quite the same again.

Here, for our generation, was the call to despair. I say "for our generation," for surely in the history of the Western world, ever since Galileo moved us humans from the center of the universe where we had so confidently placed ourselves, there has not been a decade when men have not cried out that the very stones beneath our feet, the very souls within our bodies, have gone through some irrevocable displacement beyond human power to restore. In the seventeenth century, stunned as he was by the first precipitous and uneven advances of modern science, John Donne wrote:

". . . New philosophy calls all in doubt;
The element of Fire is quite put out;
The sun is lost, and th' earth, and no man's wit
Can well direct him where to look for it. . . .
. . . , 'Tis all in pieces, all coherence gone,
All just supply, and all relation."

And so we were moved from the center of God's creation, to find ourselves merely inhabitants of a rock, circling endlessly around a minor star in a heaven whose bounds stretched beyond our imagining.

The tremor of this intellectual shock was to take more than two centuries to subside; and then the explosion of Darwinism was to make the findings of Galileo seem hardly more than the distant echo of a popgun. How agonized Tennyson was when he asked: shall Man, the last great work of Nature,

“. . . Who seem'd so fair,
Such splendid purpose in his eyes,
Who roll'd the psalm to wintry skies,
Who built him fanes of fruitless prayer. . . .

. . . . Who loved, who suffer'd countless ills,
Who battled for the True, the Just,
Be blown about the desert dust,
Or seal'd within the iron hills?

No more? A monster then, a dream,
A discord. Dragons of the prime,
That tare each other in their slime,
Were mellow music match'd with him.”

It was a theme to be enlarged by other men, such as Arnold and Hardy, who saw not a benevolent Nature reflecting God, but Nature remorselessly fostering survival of the fittest, Nature a spectacle of incessant destruction, before which human agony is a trivial joke because man is but an evolutionary accident.

And then came the theories of Freud — as a friend of mine has expressed it, “The Gospel according to Saint Sigmund.” Seen through the Freudian prism, man was reduced even further. And as if anxious to prove our degradation and bestiality, we have plunged in this century into wars so barbarous, into philosophies so monstrous, that the sick heart stirs with recognition at the words of Yeats:

“Things fall apart; the centre cannot hold;
Mere anarchy is loosed upon the world,
The blood-dimmed tide is loosed, and everywhere
The ceremony of innocence is drowned;
The best lack all conviction, while the worst
Are full of passionate intensity.”

So much for the past — and I hope you will forgive the quotations: they are merely the spiritual currency, the cast of thought, of a man who would have been a scholar if he could.

Now, if we are the unwilling legatees of this vast corpus of change, especially of change that is frightening in its velocity and complexity, how can we find peace, or ease of heart, or escape from pain in our time?

President Emeritus Blake Tewksbury chats with Miss Helen L. Beede

Mrs. Frank Taylor with Governor's Councilor Margaret M. Heckler

My answer is, that we cannot.

Yet I believe deeply, at the same moment as I reject any concept of contentment, that we have within our reach the prize of a consuming joy — joy that proceeds from battle waged and won, over ignorance, meanness, and waste. For surely that is our mission, here in this small and modest college, just as it is in the great and ancient universities of Oxford or Florence or Heidelberg. We are allied with men of good heart everywhere, who see the fulfillment of their noblest duty in combat against darkness, hokum, and quackery. We glory in the tradition given us by Jefferson: "I have sworn upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of men."

I am well aware that as a comparative newcomer to Lasell, I should be grossly ill-advised at this time to recommend sweeping changes in the academic life of the College. After all, Lasell is now in its 116th year, and I have been in office here barely three months. I have only begun to know the essence that is Lasell. Every College worthy of our regard has such an essence: a special quality that sets it apart. It is in the air that students breathe. They live and work in this essence, and it becomes a part of their minds and natures, as though it moved in the bloodstream. It grows so deeply, sometimes, that it enters the spirit, and the course of a lifetime is changed.

Until I know this essence truly, I shall wait before bringing any new programs to the faculty and board for their advice and consent. But it is not too early for me to sketch my vision of a college where education could be joyous, a defiant laugh in the face of those nay-sayers to whom this era of change means principally fear and dejection.

If I were founding a college today, and if its outlines were to be very much like those of Lasell, I should begin by considering the fact that we are engaged in the education of young women. Not girls, mind you: young women. But why only women? If our answer is merely that it is easier to teach young women alone, without the romantic distraction of blades and beaux, then I reject it. Let us instead see what a splendid opportunity we have for experimentation and innovation! Surely few questions have been so hotly argued in mid-century as the role of women in society. The literature on the subject is voluminous. Both Betty Friedan and Phyllis McGinley, at opposite poles on the question, have their zealous partisans. The very bitterness of the debate suggests that we really don't know what to make of the growing number of women, of all ages and all stages of marriage and motherhood, entering the labor force. And what is worse, we really don't know what to make of those women in affluent America, working or not, who feel a nameless but very real sense of bafflement, frustration, and resentment about their lot.

The problem for us in higher education, I believe, is not to produce more graduates who are "well adjusted" to their "peer groups." We have tried that: those who do "adjust" are often so insulated in the suburban cocoon that they have almost lost their humanity, caught up in what Arnold has called "the thousand nothings of the hour" — while those who do not "adjust" struggle in a mire between rage and despair.

No: I would not hope for an education which would teach young women to reconcile themselves to the world. Rather I would hope for an education which would inspire them to change the world, to labor toward values worth fighting for, and therefore worth living for.

I believe deeply that this generation of students, despite the greenness of their years, is ready to labor for a life fit for the sons and daughters of God, not merely for themselves, but for their brethren everywhere. In the past twenty years we have gone through an epic revolution in the American concept of adolescence. True, we have a large number of hot-rodders and slaves to faddery; but they are far out-balanced by youth who believe in racial justice and social progress, whether it be in the shacks of Johannesburg or in the alleys of Boston. I do not think anyone of my age, or older, fully understands this revolution. Certainly, I do not. But I know it has happened. And I rejoice in it.

In my visionary college, I should invite the students — my rebels against sham and avarice! — to play a large part in institutional government. They would have minimal rules. They would be encouraged to keep asking their professors why this or that course could be expected to have any relevance to human aspiration. They would badger the president and dean for practical applications of their studies, especially in the humanities and social sciences. They would apply for field trips, political campaign assignments, projects in slums, tutoring of migrant workers. They would open their homes to Fresh Air children in the summer and to visiting foreign students in the winter.

They would do so, I think, because two main themes would run through the curriculum. First would be a sense of tradition — an abiding realization that we now, in this time and in this place, exist as motes of sunlight carried on the bosom of the vast river of human experience, borne toward the eternal sea. Our sense of tradition would be American in part: the great heritage of revolt, of westering men who yearned for prairies and the mountains beyond, of the seething melting pot of immigration from a hundred nations and tribes. And our sense of tradition would be religious also: the endless skein rolling backward from the late Vatican Council to the Castle Church of Wittenberg, and thence through ancient Rome to the hills where the voice of the God of Abraham and Isaac resounds from the dawn.

Our second main theme in the curriculum would be a search for moral purpose. Let me say at once that I do not speak of pietism or a simpering search for little exemplary "messages." Our students and professors would, rather, be interested not so much in the fact of the Berlin Congress of 1878 as in its ethical meaning; and they would be interested more in economic philosophy, its relevance to the bellies and bones of the poor, than in the mere sight of dollars on the counter; and they would have a deeper interest in the mystery of chemical bonds than in the memorization of the formulae that represent them.

I believe we could work toward these ideals by encouraging the widest sort of interrelationship of studies, through composite majors, team-teaching by professors from different disciplines, and non-specialized courses in science and the humanities, designed not for experts but for intelligent, adult American women whose view of life is compounded of equal parts of curiosity and compassion. There would be very few required courses in this curriculum: English Composition, I think, and then a very generous diet of fine arts and music — the earliest and still the most abundant founts of human expression. And lots of physical exercise. Every day.

No members of my visionary college would, of course, be more important than the faculty. Their keenest immediate interest would be their students. They would be willing always to engage in the Socratic exchange: minds groping together toward answers: but even more important, toward questions. They would be sensitive especially to that middle ground which professors ought to occupy with their students: not as parents, not as priests, not as policemen — but not as intimates or confidants, either. Allies, I think, allies who respect and believe in one another.

Respect is the key word.

My faculty would be balanced in age, experience, degrees, and fields of professional and personal interest. Their one common bond would be a passionate commitment to an ideal of bold, flexible, demanding higher education for American women who are going to live well into the twenty-

At the reception following the ceremony the Winslow family gathered: (l. to r.) Richard A. Winslow, Trustee; Mrs. Norman MacCuspie (Marjorie Winslow '28); Dr. Donald J. Winslow, Trustee; and Miss Priscilla Winslow '35.

Alumnae President Lynn Blodgett Hall '46 carries birthday greetings to Lasell's oldest alumna, Myra Sweet Hall 1874-82.

Dear Girls,

Irene Ball Sill has recovered from a serious eye operation. Irene has joined the Great-Grandmother Club!

In April Elizabeth Beach Bierer wrote that she is busy at home knitting — had made over 150 helmets. She hoped to have a trip to Sweden during the summer months, but a change of plans brought her to Massachusetts, where she enjoyed visits with sister, Beatrice and sister-in-law, Ruth Coulter Bierer '12.

Katharine Bingaman Heron wrote that she and her sister, Hannah '14, keep busy with Church work, clubs, hospital, DAR, and other organizations. She had a visit to her son's Tennessee home during the dogwood season.

Ada Patterson's letter included color slides of our wonderful 50th Reunion.

In June, Florence Evans Valpey sent a card with a drawing of a woman working over a stove; on the back of the card was a Hayden S. Pearson recipe for apple pie.

Catherine Carter Rasbach wrote another of her good-to-read, thought-provoking letters that prods us into reading the books and articles we had intended to read. She quoted an excellent idea: "Essential greatness is to be measured not by how far man has come, but rather how far he has come considering his start".

Veda Ferguson Purdy loves it so much in Southern California, she has bought a home there. Also, she will be closer to her daughter and family, who live nearby. Veda's new address: 641 P. Avenida Sevilla, Laguna Hills, California. Hope Veda may see another Lasell girl who lives in Laguna: "Polly" (Florence) Porter, one of our Clark Cottage contingent, in 1913-14. Polly lives at 32292 Vista de Catalina, South Laguna.

Myrtle Brix Spangler feels now that her home is too large, she should move into smaller quarters but the view of four snow-capped mountains, the lovely fir trees and gorgeous sunrises and sunsets that she has from her home, make the very thought of moving, heartbreaking. "Billy" continues to be active with the Board of International Social Service.

With a September letter, Katharine Hoag Norgren enclosed a picture of herself taken the previous Christmas and how we envy her being so slender and youthful! Her husband has received an award in the Hall of Fame of Athletes for his career as basketball coach at Chicago University.

Gladys Wilkes McCutchen told of trips here and there in Texas when her husband filled the pulpits of many friends who were on vacation. Gladys enclosed a family group picture and the McCutchens have joined the Great-Grandparents Club! Also enclosed was a note from Ethel Murray Kuykendall.

Clara Paton Suhlke reports that living through hurricanes is not too much fun whether they are real or threatened, and we believe her! She is much interested in politics and seems to be very community-minded. "Sturdy" was pleased to learn that Lasell's new president, Dr. De Baun, and his wife, plan to attend the February luncheon of the Florida Lasell Club at Fort Lauderdale.

We are proud of the splendid work Ida Beane Rice continues to do in connection with the Friends of Framingham. May she be given strength and good health to continue in this service of love.

We are happy to share Vilette Peck Crawshaw's latest poem:

Friendship

One of the richest blessings God's love can bestow

Is the love and companionship of friends we know.

What is so rare as a loyal friend

Who will stand by your side to the very end?

When all appears lost of your hopes and dreams

And life itself falls apart at the seams,

The kindly words of a gentle friend

Can help a broken heart to mend.

The shadows seem to disappear

And the road ahead shines bright and clear.

To the tried and true, may the bonds hold fast

As long as life itself shall last.

God bless our friends; the solace they bring

Is like the touch of an angel's wing!

And now for myself, Nell Woodward Collins, glowing that I have the Class letter in time to meet the deadline for news for the Lasell Leaves, have only to say that all is well here at home. In October both my sister, Jo (Woodward Rand, '10) and I were delighted to have a month-long visit from younger sister Jean (Woodward Nelson '22) from Denver. Jean's daughter is a member of the faculty in the Occupational Therapy Department of Tufts University and lives here in Manchester also, so it made a three-way visit for Jean. She has not been able to attend many of the 1922 reunions but is interested in Lasell's progress and joins us in wishing much success and happiness to our new President and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. De Baun, and congratulations to Lasell for having them.

Elsie Flight Wuestefeld reports a happy summer visit from daughter Carol (Wuestefeld Sampson '56). Carol, now living in New Jersey, was accompanied by son Joel, 4, and twin daughters Sara and Marcia.

1919

Lois Nichols Arnold shared an October message from Rosenda Cabrera: "Sorry I was not able to visit you after my trip to Europe; the main reasons: I was very tired and my pocketbook was empty. Did have a most interesting trip — thoroughly enjoyed Russia and Czechoslovakia. Had delightful visits with old friends in Paris and London."

1922

Jean Field Faires writes: "My husband is retired and has recovered sufficiently from a heart attack to lead an active but limited life. I am active in First Presbyterian Church, D.A.R., Symphony Guild and Republican Women's Club. Hope to attend reunion next June."

1925

Blanche Avery is a teacher in Homemaking in Poughkeepsie, New York. She enjoys marine painting, spending her summers in Kennebunk Beach, Maine.

Margaret Gordon Ferguson continued her academic career at Russell Sage College where she was president of her class in her senior year. Peg has lived in Troy ever since her marriage and has been very active in Russell Sage alumnae affairs and she also taught English for about six years. Her husband passed away a few years ago. Peg's daughter, Cynthia, is a graduate of Wells College; Nancy, a 1959 graduate of Lasell.

Ruby Holabird Keeler underwent a delicate eye operation in New York City this spring. She lives in Ridgefield, Connecticut and has several children and grandchildren. Her twenty-one-year-old son, now in the Navy, served on a Destroyer which was engaged in the joint U.S. operation in the Dominican Republic last spring.

One of the "avid-travelin'" gals is Estelle Jenny. She was most impressed with our 50th state after a trip to Maui, Hawaii last spring. En route she stopped in San Francisco and Carmel for a most pleasant visit with Ruth Buffington. Best wishes to all — and let us hear from more of you '25er's.

Dorothy Aseltine Wadsworth served as campaign co-ordinator of the Winchester (Mass.) Headquarters of Francis W. Sargent, Republican candidate for Lt. Governor.

1929

Rosamond Cornell Cannon received this news from Emily Crump Ramstetter: "Had a long telephone conversation with Julie Clausen Bowman, who was enjoying an eastern vacation. She, husband and daughter were seeing the Nation's capitol, returning to Oregon via New York and Chicago. She tried — unsuccessfully — to contact Ruth Rowbotham Strickland in Atlanta. The Richmond Alumnae plans a July luncheon; three of the girls were in Auburndale for Reunion; we look forward to their first-hand reports."

Frances Harlow, daughter of Constance Chalmers Harlow, and Dr. Robert E. Clukey, Jr., USN, were married on August 27, 1966 in Orono, Maine.

Dorothy Camin Rozan '30, 1271 Mulberry Lane, East Lansing, Michigan, will become executive director of the Lansing Family Service Agency on January 1, 1967. Dorothy has served on the staff of the Family Service Agency for the past eight years. A widow of a prominent Lansing physician, she graduated from Michigan State University and from MSU's Graduate School of Social Work. She is a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers of the National Association of Social Workers.

Eight members of the Class of 1931 gathered for the Alumnae Luncheon at Winslow Hall to celebrate our 35th Reunion. There was much fun and catching up to do, and we only wished there were more to "catch-up with." After luncheon, Ruth Tilley and Ruth Nicolette Lander had to leave, but Dotha Warner Jope, Sarah Fletchall, Fran Wynkoop Benjamin, Miriam Abbe Fowler, Billie Bell Cole and I (Fran Wheeler Sawyer) were invited to Billie's lovely home for cocktails. We all appreciated the Cole's warm hospitality, and discussed our children, grandchildren and careers at length. Several of the husbands also attended as did Dotha Jope's charming daughter, Mary. Later at dinner at The Pillar House, Marge MacClymon '32 joined us.

Frances Long Bunnell sends a new address: St. Michaels, Talbot County, Maryland. Adds: "My husband retired in January; we bought a little place here. The town, with some 1500 inhabitants, has a most interesting historical background. Our daughter was married last year and is now living about 250 miles away from us. When one is young that is a very short distance; we hope to have them here over the Labor Day weekend. Was sorry to have missed the June reunion."

From the questionnaires:

Ruth Rohe Smith has two children and two grandchildren and is now living in Palos Verdes Estates, California. Ruth was looking forward to a tour of Scandinavian countries with her husband.

At the time of reunion, Lenna Lyon Hill of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania was a delegate at Westminster College's Mission Conference; Jane Hupman Preston was attending the Pennsylvania State Natural Foods Convention.

Mary Morgan Yarnell Schulhof of Balboa Island, California was remarried on April 10, 1966 and took a trip to Guatemala, Yucatan, and Mexico City.

Karin Eliasson Monroe of Coronado, California has three children and one grandchild. Karin sent sincere love to all.

Virginia Hinshaw Wilks of Prairie Village, Kansas has two children and four grandchildren. "Regret very much not to join you; do give everyone my best regards and please send news."

Louise Houlihan of Berlin, New Hampshire writes: "Am on crutches as a result of a fractured foot. Sorry not to be able to come to Auburndale."

Lorraine Lombard Roberts of Portland, Maine teaches in Nursery school and helps in family business making florist baskets. Daughter Bonnie was expected home from a trip to Scotland in early June.

Libby Baer De Staebler of Manhasset, New York was in Boston to pick up her daughter, Deborah (Lasell '65), who is attending Boston University, a few weeks before Reunion and was unable to return again for the weekend. On June 10, Libby attended the Nassau County Benefit at Shea Stadium — a big affair, "and having been a Board Member for years it's close to my heart." Lib has three children and one grandchild.

Pearl Thompson Hasey has five children and six grandchildren. Tommy's Lasell secretarial training is being put to good use. She serves as her husband's bookkeeper.

Connie Witham Paige of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine has three children and two grandchildren. Connie teaches a class of advanced piano pupils.

Dorothy Wickham Marquis has one son, Marion Inglis Leonard of Medford Lakes, New Jersey has one daughter, one step-daughter and four step-grandchildren.

Betty Daun Kirkland of Marlton, New Jersey missed reunion because daughter Barbie was in the wedding party of her college roommate and the family went for the weekend. Betty has two children and one grandchild.

Betty Condit Kessel of Winnetka, Illinois has two children and sends best wishes to all.

Living in Oneida, New York is Norma Keller Coulthart and she has three children and nine grandchildren. Jean Bogardus Burrell has two children and three grandchildren.

From Marjorie Magune Curtis we hear that she has three children and three grandchildren and is living in Worcester, Massachusetts.

Regrets were sent by Blair Whittier Shepardson and Lorraine Clark Wein.

Elinor Small Domina writes: "Had a visit in June with daughter, Anne (Domina Hemel x-'57), her two children and cat, while her husband was attending Search and Rescue School at Fort Jay, New York. It has been a confusing and busy time — but much fun; we shall miss them when they leave for their home in Parma, Ohio. My niece, Karen Duchesneau is attending Lasell this year and is enjoying it."

On Saturday, October 8, 1966, Martha Jane Coogan was married to Neil Page Fleming in Mystic, Connecticut. Neil is the son of Elizabeth Page Sealey.

Kathy Jones, daughter of Carol Morehouse, has been elected Treasurer of the College Government Association for the 1966-67 year.

1935

Eleanor Gebelein Greene writes: "Our son, Gardiner, Jr. was married on February 12, 1966 to Susan Chase of Governor's Island, Gilford, New Hampshire at the Congregational Church in Laconia, New Hampshire."

Lucy Johnson Black x-'35 is "still out in the West. For the past two years we have lived at the Yuma Proving Ground as Army Civilians. My husband is chief of the Logistics Division and we are required to live on Post, the military way! When Junie retires we shall go back to Virginia — but in the meantime we shall try to see as much of the West as possible. Have taken a number of short trips to Mexico and to California. Hope to contact Karin Eliasson Monroe '31 in San Diego. Greta Sherman Pace, my Lasell roommate, had been living in Phoenix, and we were able to get together frequently. This winter she moved to Sarasota; her husband died shortly after they arrived in Florida. Pat Meyer Gere and husband visited Greta in the spring.

"Our only child, Bill, is happily married and is living in Norfolk. I get home at least twice a year; my mother is in her 80's now, and my heart is really in Dear Old Virginia."

Virginia Hall Warren writes: "I plan to further my education now that the family have grown. My goal is to teach elementary Arts and Crafts in the Illinois school system. This summer I earned two full teaching credits at the University of Illinois. Daughter, Janet (Theurer '65) is a stewardess with American Airlines; New York based. We moved to Freeport, Illinois last November from New Jersey. George is products and merchandising manager for Structo, a local toy manufacturing concern. We have a lovely Dutch Colonial ten-room house and if you are ever out this way, we would love to see you."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Ruth Upham Petremont, whose father, Mr. William G. Upham, died on August 11, 1966.

From Esther Sosman: "I am still happily located at Grossmont Gardens, Apartment 310, 5480 Marengo Avenue, La Mesa, California 92041. I look forward to hearing from Lasell friends."

1937

With Reunion but a few months away, it is good to know that Babs Burnham Rice is "back in the States again. Have been busy getting settled in our new home — 5911 Valley Way, Centerville, Delaware."

Mrs. John S. Stafford, Jr.
 Mary-Louise Higgins, daughter of Mr.

Mrs. Harold R. Enders
 Carolyn Sylvester, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. Emerson Sylvester
 (Arlene Wishart '38)
 June 18, 1966

Catherine Laffin Mahoney x-'37 is teaching elementary school in Readfield, Maine. Prior to this appointment, Cay was a teacher at St. Mary's School in Augusta.

From Irene Dreissigacker Brimlow: "Our twin daughters will be seniors in high school this year and have expressed a desire to attend Lasell in the fall of '67. They are interested in retailing and have already had some experience as members of a local department store fashion board and have done some modelling. Our oldest son, a 1st Lieutenant in the Army has just returned from a year in Germany and is now stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Last April, Brim and I flew to Paris and toured Europe for three weeks with him — a real thrill!! Our #2 son, John (21), is studying to be a mortician and will begin his internship for a year in September. Piano-playing David (14) is a high school sophomore."

Ginna Webb Tompkins writes: "In April Jack and I, with our two oldest — Tom, 15, and Marianne, 12 — enjoyed a lovely holiday in London, Paris and Rome. Once again we were unsuccessful in our attempt to bring the Olympic Games to Detroit."

From Dennisport, Mass., Dorothy Woodard Grindell writes that the family keeps her very busy. She has found time to serve for the past five years as Mother Advisor of the Harwich-Dennis Assembly No. 102, Order of Rainbow. Her son, Barry and his wife, Betty, now have four children. Daughter, Jean and husband, Anthony Giles, who graduated from Colby College this year and is planning to do his graduate work at Syracuse University, have one boy. The senior Grindell's son David is in the Coast Guard stationed at Maine's Sequin Light Station. Son, Paul, is a junior at Maine Central Institute. Lloyd, a sophomore in high school, has just recovered from a broken nose suffered in a fall from his bicycle.

We heard from Evelyn Bang who is very busy with her job with E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company.

M. Adele Brown, who covers more territory than most of us, lives at 102 Crown Street, Meriden, Connecticut, when she is in the country. A foreign service worker with the Department of State for thirteen years, she has seen duty in Israel, India, Tunisia, Pakistan, Jamaica, and in August leaves for Guiana.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ware
(Eleanor Ayres x-'38)

From Eleanor Ayres Ware: "Jim and I celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary in March with a glorious trip to Hawaii. We loved every minute of it — already are planning a return trip!"

Ruth Meighan Gillette who resides in Colorado, keeps busy with the garden club and the Denver Symphony. The Gillette family consists of husband Bill, Teddy (11) in his first year of junior high, and Johnny (10). We hope to have more news from the Gillettes when their informative Christmas letter arrives.

Beverly Macdonald Perry writes from Santa Clara, California. Son Stuart, graduated from college and will attend graduate school this fall. A grandmother, Beverly claims daughter Cynthia's first child, born in April, is a doll. Beverly has just been installed for the fourth year as corresponding secretary for the Santa Clara Philharmonic Women's Society. She also does volunteer work in the local hospital and last year served as a member of the Santa Clara County Grand Jury.

Olive Boynton Garron of Stamford, Connecticut, writes us that her son David will attend the University of Connecticut in September. Rick graduated from the University of Hartford and has now been married for one year. Olive travelled to Williamsburg, Virginia, and has "done" the Blue Ridge Mountains and Skyline Drive this year. She had dinner with Ellie Loeffler Olsen; their children had a chance to become better acquainted. Olive is an accomplished maker of "boutique" articles for the annual church fair.

Harriet Newcomb Stoughton writes from Milwaukee, Wisconsin that Nancy (19) will be a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin, where she is majoring in speech and drama. Harriet keeps in touch with Miriam Nye Newcomb and Betty Yeuell Collins. This summer she and her husband took a trip to California, driving from Chicago to Seattle, Washington, viewing the beautiful country along the way. Then on to San Francisco and Los Angeles, a really wonderful trip. She finished off the season with a job as "summer" secretary.

Marty Romaine Jones in Madison, New Jersey keeps track of local classmates. Daughter, Carole, attended Overlook Hospital Nursing School and worked in their isolation unit until her baby was born last November. Marty loves being a grandmother. She has seen several Lasellites, including Peggy Jones Howry, Karin Eliasson Monroe '31, Eva Lowry Skinner and Ellie Loeffler Olsen. Marty lives directly opposite Fairleigh-Dickinson University on Route #24. All travelers are welcomed.

Your secretary of the moment lives at 681 North Street, Suffield, Connecticut on Route #75, running between Springfield, Mass. and Bradley Field, the Hartford, Connecticut airport.

. . . Betty Black Boynton

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Eltress Huber Mitchell, whose husband, Mr. Charles R. Mitchell, died on August 15, 1966. In addition to his wife, Mr. Mitchell is survived by two sons and three daughters.

1941 — 25th Reunion

Secretary Ginny DeNyse '41

Mary Doig Nicholson reporting:

Some may think twenty-five years is a long time, but you wouldn't had you been at 1941's 25th Reunion! We all looked great!! We suffered a jolt to see Arax Zulalian Johnian hobble in on a cane (a gold-headed one just for Reunion). She offered a young explanation. Last fall while raking wet leaves, she slipped on one!! Arax had progressed from cast to crutches to cane!

We had several long-distance travelers with us; Jay Jahn Warren flew in from Hawaii; Judy Birch Williams, from Montana. They arrived on Wednesday — hired a car and settled in at Woodland Hall to see old New England again. I think they're still looking for Plymouth Rock and Route 3A. If you remember, Friday, June 10th was a very rainy and foggy day. Jay brought three lovely new hats, and this is the year no one wears hats. Anyone interested in buying a new hat cheap, "call" Jay. Ginny DeNyse, Betty McGrath Brown and Mary Doig Nicholson were roommates at the Auburndale Holiday Inn. Ginny, stylish as always, was met at the airport by Mary, who drove from South Dartmouth, Mass. Betty, with her usual luck, endured landing problems. The plane circled Logan Airport until the Captain announced they were running out of gas; were returning to Hartford for fuel. After 2½ hours Betty who was coming from Milwaukee by way of Hartford, finally landed. She is convinced the next reunion should be in Hartford.

At Friday night's supper at Winslow Hall we were greeted by two dears, Miss "Mac" and "Mac" who made us feel we had been away but a year; they knew everybody by name. "The Group" ambled to Woodland Hall to renew acquaintances with Jay and Judy, Jean Cooney Leitch from New Jersey, and Mary Lou Allyn Ross from Montreal.

Saturday luncheon at Winslow Hall found about forty 41'ers all bubbling and glad to see each other. Ginny DeNyse made lovely blue and white corsages with "25" on them for each girl. And Jan Jansing Sheffer, our leader, as we called her, kept things well in order and did a beautiful job the entire weekend. She and her daughter Cissy also stayed at the Holiday Inn. Cissy hopes to attend Lasell in September 1967.

The Class of 1941 can indeed be proud! Our Reunion Gift in the amount of $500 was presented to Marilyn Blodgett Hall, President of Lasell Alumnae, Inc. The contribution was directed to The Alumnae Fund. At the class meeting following luncheon, we re-elected Jan as Class Secretary.

The class banquet was held on Saturday evening at the Sudbury Inn. What a pleasant surprise when Jay presented each of us with a lei of tiny orchids. The flowers arrived "jet in time" on the morning plane. Ilene Derick Whelpley planned a delicious roast beef dinner and the Inn was ideal for our get-together. Guests included Arax's husband, Elna Pollard Hanson's husband, Ilene's husband, Jan's daughter, Kay Davis Almeida's daughter, Dorothy Martin Berdan's daughter and Becky Allen Ryan's husband, son and daughter. The Ryans vacationed to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Additional news from the Questionnaires:

Becky Allen Ryan has a daughter, Elizabeth (17), and a son Allen (12). Her daughter is headed for college in the Fall. Judy Birch Williams has four children: Mark (15), Marnie (13), and twins Fred and Beth (8). Judy and Jay Jahn Warren returned home via New York, discovered Third Avenue — and were having a wonderful time shopping for antiques. Jay and her family were planning a boat trip to Puget Sound in the summer. Her daughter enters college this Fall also. Jane Bishop Black had sad news for us. Her husband, Nathan, died suddenly May 11, 1965. Our sincere sympathy to Jane and her family. Jane's daughter, Judith Ann, is now Mrs. Frederick S. Perry and Jane has two grandchildren, Elizabeth Perry and Regan Jan. Jane's sons are Andrew (18), Lee Charles (15), and William Joseph (4). Jane is a quality control inspector at Raytheon, and is planning to study at Framingham State College for her Bachelor's Degree in Education. Andrew is in the Class of '69 at the University of Massachusetts; and Lee, the Class of '69 at Newton High School.

Betty McGrath Brown and

Dot Brewer Carlson and Trudie Fischer drove from Connecticut together. Dot's son, Bruce (19), is a student at Worcester Tech. She also has Barbara (14) and Allan (9).

Jean Cooney Leitch has a daughter Robin attending St. Laurence University in Canton, New York, and a son, Peter.

Betty Danker Trenholm has two children, Susan (13) and Forest, Jr. (10).

Kay Davis Almeida looked so lovely! We were so happy to see her. Kay wrote a note to Jan telling of the death of her husband, Bob, who was killed instantly in an auto accident a year ago. Bob was Business Manager in the R. & D. division of Arthur D. Little Inc. of Cambridge. They were all in Europe for 6 weeks a year ago last Spring and took a trip across the country with the children 3 years ago. Bruce, the oldest, enters Norwich University this Fall and Jane is a senior in High School and hopes to enter Connecticut College the following year. John, the youngest, is a freshman at Wakefield High School.

Ilene Derick Whelpley has three children: Susan (12), Judy (11), and Ricky (8).

Betty Dungan Norden has three children: Eric (18), Deveney (15), and Curtis (8).

Rosemary Ermilio Zamarro's four children are: Amoret C. (17), Amerijo, Jr. (12), Carmine (14), and Paul A. (5).

Norma Forsberg Burman, now living in Solon, Ohio, told of her two children, Curt (15), and Cynthia (12).

Lucille Hooker Paterson looks wonderful and writes that she had "hoped Gerry Bixby Averill might decide to go with me to the Saturday luncheon at Lasell. Her daughter, Mary Beth, was in an automobile accident about a month ago, and is still hospitalized. I noticed that Arlene Ryan was among the 'missing' on your list. She is Mrs. Joseph B. Henry, and my last address, in 1959, was 1217 Concord Street, Framingham, Mass. My husband, William A. (known as Art) is a partner in the Barre Electric Company here in Barre, and is manager of the retail store end of the business. My daughter, Joanne (17) is a junior in high school and son, Billy (14), a freshman.

"After graduation I worked a year and a half for a pediatrician in Springfield, Mass. and when he was recalled into the Navy I returned to Vermont to work for the State Headquarters of the Selective Service System where I worked until my marriage in 1947. We enjoy Barre and have a summer home on a lake 18 miles away where we spend the entire summer and Art commutes to work. It is a wonderful way to spend the summer — swimming, water skiing, boating, reading and just enjoying life. I have been working as a Secretary in the Guidance Department in Spaulding High School for the past three years. It is interesting work and both my children attend the same school — very handy. Joanne plans to attend a junior college (hopefully Lasell) after graduation next year. Billy, a very active boy, plays the drum in the school band and is working on his requirements for his Eagle Scout badge."

Jean Cooney Leitch and Jay Jahn Warren

Jay Jahn Warren has four children: Wendy Jean (20), John, Jr. (16), Robert Bruce (14) and Judy Ann (8).

Nancy Keach Paine reports that she is working part time in the Alumni office at Thayer Academy in Braintree. Her husband is in the wholesale florist business and son, Alan, is a first grader.

Jacqueline Lander Schofield tells us daughter, Jill (23), now Mrs. Wainwright, attended Colby Jr. College; daughter, Gail (18), will enter Colby in September '66. Her son, Richi (20) is at the University of New Hampshire. "Being a 'ski' family and having a house in North Conway, N.H. may have influenced all three as to their college choice. Summers at Pocasset, Cape Cod, seems to take care of the other big season with curling and golf in between!"

A note from Sue Cairol Peck brought us up-to-date with her family. Susan (16), a high school senior, is looking forward to becoming an elementary school teacher; Esther (13) in eighth grade; and Patty (10). Bill is truck manager for Cochrane Chevrolet in Bridgeport, Connecticut. Says Sue, "I'm just the same, go-go-go and never enough hours in the day!!!"

Eleanor Pfaff is working in Florida as District Secretary of Pilot International and flew to Cleveland to attend an International meeting.

Evangeline Lobdell McMeekin's daughter, Sandra (17), graduated from West Milford High in June and will enter Lasell in the fall. She also has a son, Bruce (15).

Marie MacGregor Woodward has four children: Joan (23), Ken (22), Pamela (8), and Karla Jean (6 months). She writes, "Walter is a Chevrolet-Oldsmobile dealer in Keene, N.H. We are planning a trip to Europe this summer, sailing from Montreal on the 'Empress of Canada', landing in Scotland. From there we shall travel through Ireland, England, France, Spain, and Portugal."

Dorothy Macomber Vannah has five children: Thomas (16), Gretchen (14), Karen (12), William (10), and Lincoln (6).

Dorothy Martin Berdan sends this news. "Bird and I will be celebrating our 19th anniversary on September 9th. Bird is chief announcer at our local (Plattsburg, N.Y.) television station WPTZ. Martin (17) matriculates at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y. in September. Louise (13) is in 8th grade and Amy (8) in 3rd grade."

Dorothy Mellen Harwood wrote, "My husband is an Electronic Engineer with Raytheon Company in Bedford. Alan (20) is a student at Wagner College, Staten Island, New York. John (13) is in the eighth grade in Lexington."

Janet Jansing Sheffer and Judy Birch Williams

Polly Mudgett Davis, husband Ronald, and their six children, John (20), Linda (17), Ann (19), Jim (15), Kate (5), and Ronald, Jr. (4 months) spend summers at Bailey Island, Maine; and enjoy winter weekends in New Hampshire.

Lois E. Newton is a secretary at Superior Electric Company, Wellesley.

Susan Paisley Hansbury writes that son, Stephen D. (19), is a freshman at Norwich University in Northfield, Vermont, and Thomas C. (17) is with the American Field Service, International Scholarship, Antwerp, Belgium; John W. (15) is a junior at The Mt. Hermon School, and Benjamin P. (12) is very much at home. "This is the first year not snowed under cooking, washing, and caring for many men."

Helen Parlee MacGregor's son, Larry (21) is in Hollywood, California, has had bit parts in movies and television. Robert (16) is an ardent golfer and is a member of the high school team.

Barbara Peterson Schmolh has two children, Carol (11) and Jill (8).

Elna Pollard Hanson reports that her son Stuart (19) attends Hamilton College; Kristin (18) a 1966 graduate of Concord Academy attends Bennington College; Jane (14) is an eighth grader at Littleton Jr. High.

Eleanor Rawson Preston has three children: Marilyn (16), Janice (14) and Nancy (12).

Dorothy Stone Faino writes that John (22) and Walter (21) graduated from Salem State College in June. John is in the loan department of a Danvers bank. Walter begins a teaching career on Long Island in September. Robert (18) is a student at Salem State. Dot has a position at Filene's Northshore Shopping Center.

Arax Zulalian Johnian writes, "We are still living at the 'family homestead'. Carol (19) is a sophomore at University of Mass. — a French major; Steven (6), a first grader."

From Jane Schaffner Zesinger: "George (21) is a senior at Case Technological University in Cleveland. After graduation he will enter the Air Force as a pilot (AFROTC). Peter (18) is a pre-dental student at the University of Pittsburgh and Heidi (13) is in the 7th grade. Have many happy memories of Lasell and the lifetime friends I made."

Marian Timpson Intemann says, "Husband, Fred, commutes to his office in New York City, and is an avid 'do-it-yourselfer'. I keep busy with the usual household tasks and keeping track of the girls, Janet (16), and Nancy (13)."

From Alice Jean Townsend Kerslake: "Glen (18) is a freshman at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia; John (16) a junior in high school, was elected Governor for the State of Florida for Junior Civilians at their convention at the Miami Beach Americana Hotel. I'm still working at the Town Clerk's office in Lake Park. More than anything I would love to attend our reunion. I go north every year to visit my parents in Vermont. I will certainly be thinking about you all! The two years at Lasell were memorable ones!"

Marjorie Ulrich McLaughlin has four children: Pamela (16), Terry (15), Nancy (11), and Jeffrey (7).

Madeline Vivian Murphy reports that her children are: Howard, Jr. (17), who is planning to attend Manhattan College, his father's alma mater; James (13) and Maureen (8). "I'm sorry I couldn't attend our Reunion, but I had two graduations to attend. My best to all."

Doris Wanless Stacey has two children: Mark (12) and Linda (8). At Reunion time Doris was in the midst of moving to a new home: 5250 Kellen Lane, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. She would like to get in touch with Lasell gals in the area.

Lucille Wielandt Speight writes, "We live the usual suburban life — interests centering around church, bridge and bowling. Christine (16) raises parakeets, and Robert (13) is most enthusiastic about baseball and table tennis."

Cyrella Williams McPhee sends news, "Alice (16) is most interested in swimming, baton club, masque, and boys (not necessarily in that order) and studies (only when absolutely necessary). John's interests are typically a 12-year-old boy's: Little League, swimming, bugging his mother, and school. He really is a good student. Six years ago we took to the woods (with a tent). Now we spend all of the time we can tenting from Memorial Day through Labor Day. Would love to see you all. My best to those who remember me and to those who don't!"

Amelia Yankus White sends news, "At the moment things are rather hectic. Tony (Sr.) has been transferred to the Holyoke District of Resident Engineers — Department of Public Works for the Commonwealth of Mass. Young Tony (22) is a senior, Northeastern University, and Richard (17) is a student at St. Thomas More School in Connecticut. A very Happy 25th to all. Shall see you at the 30th!"

On September 24th, Ruth Davenport Walker was installed as President of the Norwood Post No. 70, American Legion and Auxiliary Unit.

Elizabeth Duerr Brownell has recently moved back to Pittsfield, Mass., 44 Ridgeway Avenue, "after fifteen years of country life. Our daughter will be entering her sophomore year at Berkshire Community College. My old "roomie", Pris Spence Hall, and I still correspond since she and her husband moved to Miami. We both hope to make our 25th Reunion and catch up on all the news."

It has taken Jean Dewar Warren more than twenty years to become a junior in college. She's not only one of the top students in her class at Northeastern University, but is the mother of a college junior and of three other children as well. When N.U.'s summer session closes, Jean will be about two years away from her goal of teaching elementary school. She chose teaching not only because she enjoys working with children, but because she'll be on the same time schedule as her own children. "It lets me integrate the academic with the home."

Gloria Boyd Major writes to the Recorder: "I am considering the possibility of continuing my education. Would you please mail my transcript to The Center for Continuing Education, Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N.Y."

"My younger daughter, Carol MacDougall, is a sophomore at Dana Hall, so I plan to stop to see the new buildings and the exciting progress at Lasell. Older daughter, Lorne, is a senior at the Masters School. She spent the summer at Connecticut College's School of Dance. Ralph has four Major kids, ranging from a freshman son in Syracuse University, to an eight-year-old boy; two girls in-between.

Love having so large a family and although I am, as usual, busy with my work on the YMCA board and Community Council, I do have more time now that both girls are away at school. How I wish I had completed my education years ago!

"Kindest regards to Miss Blatchford and Miss Mac."

Among the early September callers at the Alumnae Office were Mr. and Mrs. James Wisner (Louise Smith) of Watertown, New York. The Wisners have three children: Debra (9), Scott (6) and Steven (5).

Years of experience in banking and financing are reflected in the background of Ruth Connor Cunningham who is the bookkeeper of the newly-opened Chicopee Bank and Trust Company. Ruth was employed at the Third National Bank's bookkeeping and installment loan departments for four years. She also worked as executive secretary in the installment loan department of the Valley Bank & Trust Company for five years. Recently she was employed as office manager of the John E. Connor Company of Chicopee, Mass.

From the questionnaires:

Betty Jane Weltner: Mrs. Ralph J. Canine, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. Children: William (12) and David (11). "We're leaving Honolulu on the Lurline, May 21st for Los Angeles. Plan to fly to Virginia where we'll buy a home. Ralph will be working in the Pentagon. Much Aloha to the Class of '46!"

Lynn Blodgett: Mrs. E. Sherman Hall, Jr., 60 Ledgelawn Avenue, Lexington, Mass. Children: Susan (16), David (15), and Nancy (10). "Sherm and I spent one glorious week on Grand Bahama Island in March. We had a fabulous time! In January, I attended the American Alumnae Council meetings for District I, held this year at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal, representing Lasell's alumnae. It proved to be a most rewarding experience."

Kathryn Woolaver: Mrs. George E. Parsons, 15 Hurd Road, Belmont, Mass. Children: Lawrence (18), Stephen (15), Timothy (12), Jeffrey (8) and Katherine (6). "Active in Greater Boston Lasell Club, P.T.A.'s and other Civic organizations and still play (?) Bridge!"

Lee Parker: Mrs. Walter S. McBurnie, 51 Elton Road, Milton, Mass. 02186. Children: Laurel (14), Cynthia (12), Scott (7), and Bruce (1). "Just an ordinary housewife involved in many Church activities. At present we are building a family room — my husband doing all the work. We all just love having a baby around the house once again — really enjoy this one."

Dorothy Morris: Mrs. Richard Bresnahan, 607 Country Way, North Scituate, Mass. Children: Richard A., Thomas M., David P., Walter M., Donald J. and Mark E. "Made it to the World's Fair with all the boys! Other than that it's Basketball, Baseball, Hockey, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and P.T.A."

Marilyn Lerch: Mrs. James Baldwin Swett, Jr., 8 Devonshire Drive, Barrington, R.I. 02806. Children: James (16), Robert (14), Bradford (11) and Paul (6). "There is never a dull moment with four sons. They really are great fun. As an officer in the Junior League of Providence, I have just returned from an annual conference in Miami Beach. It was a most stimulating, educating experience. My husband is still traveling abroad a great deal of the time since his company (Tupperware) is now manufacturing in ten countries and selling in thirty-three. Try to go along with him about once a year."

Virginia Westerdale: Mrs. Philip G. Magnusson, Azalea Terrace, Cos Cob, Conn. Children: Philip, Jr. (13), Florence (10), Cynthia (9), Patricia (6) and Timmy (1).

1946 Draperites: Sis Day Clements, Mary Auten Miller, Jane Schmidt Alberts, Jan Schuelke Test, Flo Lewis DuBois, Nancy Brown Young and Honey Emer Bucalo

Louise Pool: Mrs. Payson B. Langley, 3 Rose Hill Road, Richmond, Virginia 23229. Children: Andrew Barber (8) and Laura Monroe (6). "Laura and I made our stage debut this spring as a mother-daughter dancing team and it was a real thrill. We did it through her ballet school and will dance again this week at a local P.T.A. benefit.

Who knows, if they ask us we may go on tour provided it includes Boston in June. I wouldn't miss our twentieth for the world and can hardly wait to see everyone again. My best to all!"

Dorothy Crathern: Mrs. Arthur W. French, Johnson Road, Sterling Junction, Mass. 01565. Children: Bill (18), Penelope (16), James (13) and Melissa (8). "Everyone busy — Arthur still with Worcester Federal Savings and I'm still Religious Education Director at our church. The children are always busy with their many activities and I'm their constant chauffeur. Bill enters college in September and Penny follows the next September so that keeps our noses to the grindstone!"

Elizabeth Kendall: Mrs. Harry F. Hunter, Jr., 56 Norfolk Avenue, Clarendon Hills, Illinois. Children: Meredith (20), Kendall (8), Nancy (6) and Christopher (4). "Just received notice today my application for Daughters of the American Revolution was accepted."

Aileen Parrish: Mrs. Gordon A. Smith, 57 Halford St., Rochester, N.Y. 14611. Children: Ronald (16), Rhonda (14), Randall (12), Ruth (10), Rebecca (9), Robert (8). "We're Senior High Counsellors for M.Y.F. Took 37 kids to N.Y.C. for Easter week. Our usual vacation is at Christmas when we go to Miami Beach for two weeks, rent a house there and completely relax. In the summer our trips are week-end ones on our favorite 'Heidi II' when we go to 1000 Islands and Canada, or just 'drift' on Lake Ontario and swim."

Deborah Newton: Mrs. Robert A. Warren, Jr., Fruit Street, Norfolk, Mass. Children: Robert A. (13), Richard N. (10), Philip R. (8) and Stuart C. (5). "Right now we are busy with Little League — Father is umpire-in-chief. Bobby finished his 'term' last year. Rick is on the 'Cardinals' and Flip on the 'Farm Team'. Mother and Stu are ardent 'watchers'. We leave for the beach when school is out but come back for the games if possible. Having Little League in a small town is fun — we don't run into a lot of the problems that the larger towns have."

Jane Bergwall: Mrs. Mayo A. Shattuck, Jr., 718 Main Street, Hingham, Mass. Children: Susan (18), Lisa (14) and Mayo (11). "Our reunion coincides with Susan's graduation from Beaver Country Day and Husband's fifteenth at the Harvard Business School."

Barbara Bowers: Mrs. Richard Alvin Piplar, 5 Mohawk Circle, Milford, Conn. 06460. Children: Alan (17), Mark (8) and Susan (1).

Jane Sherwood: Mrs. Hugh W. Rankin, Jr., 221 Penn Road, Troy, Ohio. One child, Richard E. (16). "We spend June and July in northern Michigan, Lake Leelanau every summer."

Barbara Bickley: Mrs. Albert J. Rieger, Jr., 1206 Oak Park, Maryville, Tennessee. Children: Ellen (15), Kenneth (13), Doug (12), Robert (10) and Billy (3). "We were transferred to Tennessee earlier this year and so far so good. We are moving to the above address in June to a house which will be large enough for our clan. Sorry I won't see you all this year but will be looking forward to the next reunion."

Mary Eckles: Mrs. John J. Morris, III, 1081 Forest Avenue, Palo Alto, California. Children: John (15), Jean (12) and Patty (5).

Irene M. DiVitto: Mrs. Armando J. Tullio, 55 East Main Street, Milford, Mass. One child, James Joseph (5).

Raemary Chase: Mrs. John C. Duryea, 3 Heritage Court, Cold Spring Harbor, L.I., N.Y. Children: Lisa and Jane. "As the girls get older it all seems to get more hectic to get away for this up and coming 20th. Will sure try and make the next. I am still doing my fashion show commentating and coordinating for local merchants and organizations and an occasional lecture on color and line in relation to the individual for charm courses and home economics courses in the high schools. My husband and I have been 'Island' hopping this last two years — St. Thomas, St. Johns, Bermuda are real get-away-from-it-all paradises."

Judith Greenough: Mrs. John Udaloy, 21 Sheffield Road, Winchester, Mass. Children: John, Jr., Anne and James.

Nancy Brown: Mrs. Robert F. Young, 311 East Central Avenue, Pearl River, N.Y. Children: Richard (18), Susan (16), Debbie (11) and Eddie (9). "Play bridge every chance I get. Also Den Mother for Cub Scouts."

Janet Garland: Mrs. David K. Wilson, 1131 Adams Road, Schenectady, New York 12308. Children: Elizabeth Leighton, Kimball and Andrew Merrick. "No special trips, just looking forward to usual month or more at Lake Champlain. David is Engineering Administrator at General Electric, Vestry of St. George's Church, Republican Committeeman, part-time golfer, sailor and tennis player. I'm chairman of combined Regional Jr. League — meeting to be in Schenectady, November '66, Treasurer-Women of St. George's, Sunday school teacher, lay reader of 9th grade English papers, Co-Publicity Chairman N.Y. State Women's Legislative Forum, Advisory Committee for local camp for bright children."

Jean Schultz: Mrs. James J. Olliffe, III, 350 MMS, Box 802, APO, N.Y. 09109. "I have been on a trip with the family to Holland and we are planning on touring Southern Europe this summer. Holland is the place to go for delicious food, good lodging, very reasonable, and beautiful scenery. Germany, where we are stationed for 3 years, is very friendly and a delightful country. We have met many new friends."

Barbara Grove: Mrs. LeRoy H. Bunnell, Jr., Buena Vista Avenue, Rumson, N.J. Children: Steve (15), Barry (14) and Susan (5).

Ursula Anglim: Mrs. William Hart, Jr., 3 Fairhaven Lane, Port Chester, N.Y. Children: Susan (15), Sally (12), William (8) and Craig (5).

Carolyn Stuart: Mrs. Clifford V. Scantlebury, 4717 Upland Drive, Erie, Pennsylvania. Children: Stuart (15), Richard (13), Lee (11), Peter (8). "Sorry I won't be with you all on Saturday, June 11th. Cliff and I started our own business in June of 1964. I am Bookkeeper-Treasurer so we keep our noses pretty much to the grindstone. Please say hello to one and all for me and remember us when you come through Erie! We do have beautiful summers!"

Florence Lewis: Mrs. Barron R. DuBois, 29 Georgian Lane, Darien, Connecticut. Children: Bobby (12), Diane (10), James (9) and Paul (7).

Priscilla Scruton: Mrs. Richard C. Fuller, 20 Payson Street, Attleboro, Mass. Children: Audrey (12), Diane (10) and Richard, Jr. (7).

Carolyn Crowell: Mrs. Robert W. Wallace, 35 Ellis Drive, Basking Ridge, N.J. 07920. Children: David (13), Linda (11), James (9), Ralph (7) and Hugh (2). "Keep busy with Scouts, Church work and gardening. There are never enough hours in the day!"

Clare McCarthy: Mrs. Andrew A. Caffrey, 10 Ridge Road, Lawrence, Mass. Children: Andrew A. (15) and Ellen (9).

Muriel Ross: Mrs. Richard Benshimol, 175 Summer Avenue, Reading, Mass. Children: Dale (17), Gay (15) and Pamela (10). "My oldest daughter, Dale, graduates this June and enters Keene State in New Hampshire in September. She plans to be a teacher."

Phyllis Paige: Mrs. Nelson T. Downes, 400 Franklin Street, Reading, Mass. Children: Dana P., Donna Rae, and David C. "Enjoyed our trip to Paris last year. Wish we could have just kept on traveling."

Ruth Nordstrand: Mrs. Norman A. Emery, 5 Bacheller Street, Lynn, Mass. Children: Kenneth (16), Nancy (14), Philip (13), Russell (11) and Janet (4). "As you might expect with 5 children, I am up to my ears in Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, School Band, Bowling leagues, Youth groups. Have finally completed our summer camp in Maine. Had a wonderful time last summer on the Island and hope for the same this year. The children go to camp (all but the 4 year old) for one month, so it does give us a nice change."

Audrey Day: Mrs. John G. Norris, 6 Beech Tree Lane, Bronxville, N.Y. Children: Brooks (15) and Cameron (11). "Just returned from National Convention of League of Women Voters in Denver, Colorado."

Mary Auten: Mrs. John T. Miller, East Broadway Ext'd., Red Lion, Penn. 17356. Children: John T. III, Susanna, David and Nan Marie. "My husband is busy with his law practice and is now serving his second 4-year term as First Assistant District Attorney of York County. I am a member of the Junior League of York and am just completing a year as chairman of the Thrift Shop which the league operates. In 1963 I helped to establish a Red Lion Public Library and am still actively engaged in its operation. I am attending a night class at the York Campus of Pennsylvania State University. I have enrolled at Millersville State College for the fall as a part-time student and plan to work toward a Library Science degree."

Corinne Wilkins: Mrs. John L. Staid, 51 Ash Hill Road, Reading, Mass. Children: Karen, MaryBeth, Kevin, Kathleen, Jonathan and Brian.

Patricia Luther: Mrs. Robert A. Wilkin, 418 Pamela Avenue, Oxford, Ohio. Children: Holly Patricia (9) and Heather Anne (6). "We move as of June 1, 1966 to Oxford, Ohio where my husband, Bob, will be working for his Alma Mater, Miami University, as Editor of Development and Alumni Affairs. We are thrilled with this move, and look forward to the stimulation of a college atmosphere. They have a new community theater, and there will be many cultural advantages for our girls. We are going to enjoy being Mid-westerners!"

Barbara Weeks: Mrs. John J. Dow, Jr., 4 Whipoorwill Lane, Exeter, N.H. Children: John J., III. "I am very active in church work, Jr. Women's Club, Woman's Republican Club and Little Theater groups and Grange. All these activities, plus my every day life keep me very busy."

Sheila Feingold: Mrs. Stanley Sawyer, 576 Saddle Ridge Road, Woodmere, N.Y. Children: Howard (16), Arnold (14) and Betsy (8).

Patricia Marland: Mrs. Paul H. Lasnier, 40 Loveland Lane, Bristol, Connecticut. Children: Richard S. now attending college.

Audrey Hill: Mrs. William B. Kennison, 50 William Street, Catskill, New York 12414. Children: Mary (9), Jane (8) and Nancy Anne (4). "We love it here in our English-Tudor-style Rectory at the foot of the Catskills. It has become our second home — the first being Maine, of course, as we are 'Downeasters' forever. I would so love to see you all again, but our five weeks each summer in Maine sort of puts the squash on other weekend trips. My regards to everyone."

Barbara Harris: Mrs. John W. Ryan, 688 Nimes Road, Los Angeles, California 90024. Children: Ann Priscilla and Diana Carol.

Lucille Sahakian: Mrs. David M. Davies, 1452 Fordham Avenue, Thousand Oaks, California 91360. One child: Mark Steven (12). "After 13 years as flight engineer for Trans World Airlines, David is now first officer (co-pilot). Needless to say, Mark and I are very proud of him!"

Elaine Reed: Mrs. John A. Simpson, Jr., 14635 Jalisco Road, La Mirada, California. Children: Cynthia Lee (9) and Gladys Lynn (5). "I've been attending semi-annual meetings of our Southern California Lasell Club. The last was in March at the Newporter Inn, Newport Beach. Our annual fall luncheons have been at Barbara Harris Ryan's beautiful home in Bel Air for the past 3 years. We are planning a vacation camping in the Sierras this summer. Regards to all my '46 classmates — especially Lee Parker McBurnie. Wish I could be with you."

Constance Wilbur: Mrs. William M. Dowden, 219 E. Minton Drive, Tempe, Arizona 85281. Children: Linda (16), Leslie (15), Bradford (12) and Gregory (6). "In July of 1965, our family took a camping trip across country from Pennsylvania to California, visiting friends and relatives in Anaheim, San Jose and Long Beach. We had no idea at that time that in six months we would be driving West again, settling just outside Phoenix, where Bill had accepted a position with Motorola Semiconductor Products as Military Marketing Manager. We are enjoying Western living and all four children have adjusted very well to new schools. Linda and Leslie are both on the high school honor roll. Leslie was elected secretary-treasurer of the Freshman class this year and Linda will be corresponding secretary of the student body next year. We plan to spend three weeks in San Diego this summer."

Joan Babcock: Mrs. William Keller, Jr., 27 Albright Circle, Madison, N. J. 07940. Children: William S. III and Dale Sheldon.

Sheila Finn: Mrs. Roy S. Leonard, 48 Thackeray Road, Wellesley Hills, Mass. Children: Kip (11), Kerry (9), Kolin (8), Kent (7) and Kyle (4). "The boys are already following in their Father's footsteps. All have appeared in commercials both on T.V. and in newspapers and magazines. Kip and Kolin worked as movie extras during the filming of 'Eli Kotch' with James Coburn in Boston. They enjoy acting almost as much as football, baseball, hockey and basketball, all of which they play, too."

Norinne White: Mrs. Robert L. Emerson,

246 Dorchester Road, Riveredge, N. J. Children: Michael (14) and Lisa (3). "No special news. Just keeping busy with the 3 year old."

Kathleen Ford: Mrs. Edward K. Allison, 36 Norwood Avenue, Ross, California. Children: Ross Alexander (13) and Deidre Ann (8).

Margaret Harman: Mrs. Richard G. Salisbury, 7 Shadylawn Drive, Madison, N. J. One child: Joan (11). "I am sorry I couldn't attend our Reunion. Just recuperated from surgery, went back to all outside activities, and now find I am 'expecting' in seven months. Since I am only allowed to travel locally, I shall miss the Reunion, but think of all of you on this special week-end."

Marjorie Mosher: Mrs. Edward F. Masch, 365 Heritage Road, Aurora, Ohio 44202. Children: Jeffrey (12), Clifford (8) and Marcia (6). "Due to our recent move to our new home I have been unable to make plans to attend reunion. Hope you all have a gay time and I send my best to you all."

Doris Bellinger: Mrs. William J. Balfe, 74 Palm Lane, Westbury, N.Y. 11590. Children: Kathleen Ann (13) and William, Jr. (10). "I am President of Women's Club and Fine Arts Chairman of N.Y. State Federation of Women's Clubs. Planning a trip to Florida and Nassau this summer."

Betty Scrimgeour: Mrs. Joseph A. Reney, 196 Moreland Street, Worcester, Mass. 01609. Children: James (15), Joseph, Jr. (13) and Frances (11). "We ski for a week in Stowe, Vermont in February — spend summers at York, Maine. Opening the beach house — consequently cannot make reunion. Best regards to all."

Barbara Meech: Mrs. Calvin T. Cunningham, 6317 126th Avenue, S.E., Bellevue, Washington 98004. Children: Glenn and Wayne. "Moved from Mass. to Wichita, Kansas in 1960, then to Bellevue in 1962. Flew back on vacation to New England in 1964. Planning a trip to Hawaii next fall. Enjoy Seattle area."

Doris Schultz: Mrs. James L. McDonnell, at present Frankfurt, Germany. Children: Jerri (17), Susan (15) and James, Jr. (12). "Seeing Europe".

Ann Avery: Mrs. John O. Todd, Jr., 932 West Inverness Drive, Pasadena, California. Children: John Odell and William Avery.

Carol Cooley, 54 Heggie Drive, Westfield, Mass. 01085. "No gripes, complaints or axes to grind! Just muddling along contentedly and taking life as it comes. However, keep as busy as ever."

E. Jean Place Nichols '48

"DRAMA, NEWS REPORTING — CAPTURES JEAN NICHOLS" headlines Edna Wood's feature story in the Southington (Conn.) NEWS. Jean Place Nichols, a correspondent for the Hartford TIMES, talked about the associations that touch her life and make living in Southington a pleasure.

Jean, a graduate of Lasell Junior College and a major in drama, was no sooner settled here when she joined the Community Theater. It was in its formative stage nine years ago when she became a charter member.

She spoke with enthusiasm about the group, saying, "Next to my home and family, my first love is Community Theater."

Jean's son, Billy, is a junior at Southington High and will be going on to college when he graduates. Jean and Nick also have Andrew — a chip off the old block, Jean says, — who is six and in first grade.

Nick and Billy have a hobby partnership. It is a $1,000 railroad — 12 engines and a variety of cars — set up in the basement of their home. Feature of the set is a bridge five feet long made of balsam and piano wire and is a faithful reproduction of the Middletown bridge. "It's their winter hobby — down there," Jean said pointing. "They call me the 'insulting engineer' when they consult me about something." This came from the small wifely or motherly criticism, whichever the case was, of the Nichols work of art.

Jean and Nick have the usual good-natured, husband-and-wife bantering about their hobbies. He likes fishing — she doesn't. "But I like the boat part," Jean said with an animated smile.

However, together they have one hobby — gardening. They have a vegetable garden in their backyard on land once the farmland of J. B. Lewis.

Jean has a way of enunciating every word. She studied elocution for a number of years and has done monologues and similar types of entertainment for groups.

In the Community Theater, she had parts in "A Man Who Came to Dinner," "Our Town," "Rebecca," and "Design for Murder." She was assistant director twice, worked on makeup and play reading committees, was the social chairman who arranges for cast parties and has done publicity. In fact she has done publicity for every group she has been associated with.

This perhaps comes from her association with the Hartford paper. "When the editor of the Southington News called me to find out Community Theater news. After the call I said to Nick, 'Do you think I could write a column?' He said, 'Why not?' I was interviewed. The first 48 hours were terrific. I was panic stricken about reporting," she reminisced.

"Believe me, the apathy of the general public is awful and I was part of it," she continued. "You have no idea — I felt I knew nothing about the town. But I got over that. Once you have to know, you begin to care about what goes on in government and the town itself."

"I find reporting stimulating — confining sometimes — but worthwhile. I have a 6:30 p.m. deadline, but I can call in up to midnight if anything breaks. That is six days a week," Jean said.

For the next two years, Jean will be second vice president of the Woman's Club and program chairman. "The Woman's Club is a fine organization," she observed.

She has been a member for about five years and has served on the ways and means committee.

A program Jean is happy to have secured for next season of the club has to do with drama. She has secured a professional entertainer who will review current N.Y. plays and musicals and perform parts from them.

In addition to her daily routine, Jean is secretary for her husband. Nick is the Connecticut and Western Massachusetts representative for a distributor of chemicals and machinery. He has an office at home and Jean is hired by the company to do the secretarial work.

Two new addresses: June Spottiswoode Beaulieu, 1324 Sanborn Drive, Palatine, Illinois; Mary Dickey Swerz, Barrack Hill Road, Ridgefield, Conn. June has a seven-year-old son and a five-year-old daughter. Mary's older daughter, Mary Beth, attends junior high school; Susan is a student at the Farmingville Elementary School.

Dorothy McPherson Wickersham and family "are thrilled at the prospect of living in Japan for three years. Wick is to be Manager of Finance and Insurance for the Asian Pacific area for IBM World Trade and our new address is 30 2-Chome Hatsudai, Shibuya, Tokyo, Japan."

Dr. James P. Lusardi, husband of Marcia Staats, has been appointed associate professor of English at Lafayette College. Dr. and Mrs. Lusardi live with their two daughters, Carol Lynn (10) and Jill Marie (8), at 745 Sullivan Road, Easton, Pennsylvania.

Boots Keyes MacKinnon describes her daily routine: "Lorna our second child is a little troublesome. She had colic for nearly five months, now it's the croup. However, she's a blessing, a blessing, a blessing. It says so in Dr. Spock's book. Perhaps I am the only person that sleeps in three beds a night. First I start off in our room. Lorna shares a room with her sister. About one o'clock the baby wakes up. I get up, go into the nursery where I have a cot. If I can't keep her quiet in there, we both go downstairs to still another cot. I've worked out a system for sleep. The best time for me to repose is between nine and twelve at night, but I don't get to my first bed before eleven, so already there is a flaw in the system. Complained to my pediatrician about the lack of sleep; he tells me I'm in heaven and don't know it. The doctor has seven girls — he claims my worries haven't started. My closest friend out here is a Scottish lass who has been in the states for seven months. Helen Hurd Martin is her name. Helen is in my apartment helping so often, that my daughter Kate has called her mama on several occasions. Last week, Helen, the children and I were sitting outside and Kate wandered off and sat in front of Helen's door. We could see her face from where we sat, her little hands were hidden behind a gardenia bush. Every time we looked over to check her, she was smiling away, and when she began to laugh I jumped up to investigate — because when Kate laughs she is always up to something. Sure enough, there she sat, breaking a dozen of Helen's eggs which the milkman had just delivered. She even had her shoes and stockings off, filling them with raw eggs. When life gets too hectic for me, Helen tells me to sing 'wee songs'. My theme songs are 'Happy Days Are Here Again' and 'I'm in Heaven'. Well folks, that's the way it is in Orange County, California."

Oh — The Hecks
(Kit Ballard '51)

1952

Dear Classmates,

Bits of latest news: from Pauline Coady Goodwin: "Although our three little ones keep me busy, there is always time for a visit with Lasell friends.

"Ruth Easterlined Cederberg had a lovely luncheon at her home on the Cape this past summer. Attending the luncheon were Beverly Segerberg Britton and her two sons. Marilyn McGuire Levine and I arrived too late to see Barbara Herzog Burns and her four boys. Ann Alden Allen had been there earlier in the week from Miami with her daughter."

Joyce Wardle Chapman reports that Virginia Smibert Swanson and family are building a new home in Woodbridge, Connecticut. Naomi Peck Kroner had just returned from a month's vacation at the shore. Ann Rathburn Spadola just moved to Norwalk, Connecticut. Ann recently had a baby girl; this makes two boys and a girl for her.

In June, Elsie Salkind Scotti had some of the Gardner Gang to her lovely new country home in Green Village, New Jersey. There was sufficient acreage for the children to roam, leaving the girls a chance to rehash their experiences at Lasell. In addition to the Scotti's three sons, guests included Jo Raynal Rearwin, husband and two sons; Ade DeMaria White, husband, two sons and daughter; Sue Baney Berghaus, husband and daughter. Adrienne has returned to Connecticut: Brookmeade Court, North Branford.

From Phylis Gleason Riley we learn that husband, Tad, is stationed at the Pentagon and they are enjoying the Washington area. "Merry MacLean Suzan and I had a reunion this summer. Merry's husband, Frank, is on the Admiral's staff aboard the carrier Wasp. Their new address: 19 Sequoia Lane, Hanover, Massachusetts."

Beth Valleau Schultz is living in Halifax, Nova Scotia (257 Purcell's Cove Road), where her husband is stationed with the Navy. Beth has four sons and a daughter.

Many thanks for the news, girls, hope to get more when we meet for our 15th Reunion in June.

. . . Sue Baney Berghaus

The new address of Mary McLeman Brown x-'54, is 3140 Dickinson Avenue, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania. "My husband is opening his office for the practice of Neurology in Harrisburg on September 1, 1966."

1955

Paula Lamont was choreographer for a summer theatre presentation of "The Music Man". Paula has appeared in numerous movie and television productions; under the auspices of the United Nations, toured through Europe, Egypt, and Israel with her own dance company.

Carol Jean Somers Irrgang is still working at The Bank of the South. "I'm the new accounts teller. Kathleen is now a fifth grader — active in Girl Scouts. Would love to hear from Lasell friends!"

Roberta Peel Franks x-'55 and family are enjoying a new home in Lexington, Mass., 38 Ward Street. "Our three children keep me busy most of the time. My sister, Jean Peel Terhune x-'57, will be moving to New Jersey in the fall."

Merry MacLean Suzan '52 with Mitch and Beth; Phyllis Gleason Riley '52 with Wayne and Lynn

Janet, Nancy and Stephen Abercrombie
(Priscilla Fenton '55)

Priscilla Fenton Abercrombie writes: "We moved to Rochester in August '65 and really like it here. See Sue Cassan Jones occasionally. We were roommates in Woodland. We were so sorry to learn that June Anderten Seifert's husband was killed in an auto accident in October 1965."

Ann Azadian Haffner x-'55 has requested a transcript of her Lasell record be sent to the California Department of Education. Ann, now living at 12901 South Vermont Avenue, Gardina, Calif., writes: "Lasell gave me a very fine start. I have attended six colleges; earned credits toward Master's Degrees in Education and Social Work."

An air-mail letter from Marcia Coyle Gardner: "David and I are still here in Egypt while he helps CARE to feed three million school children. However, at the end of 1966 or early 1967, we shall be preparing for a transfer to one of the other thirty-five countries where CARE has a mission. After leaving here and before arriving at our new assignment, we hope to have a month in the States. It will be wonderful to see families and friends again and exciting to move to a new country. Yet we both shall be sad to leave Egypt. This is truly a country of contrasts and it will always have a special place in our hearts. I was sorry to miss our 5th Reunion; shall hope to be on hand for the 1970 celebration. Meanwhile, I shall content myself with the LEAVES — eagerly look for news of Lasell friends."

Husband, Chuck, will be the Dean of Religious Life. He is now Associate Dean of Religion and Chaplain. In August we move to a larger house, owned by the college, and it will be more convenient for entertaining students and faculty. Please give my best to everyone."

Jeannette Zglenicki, 56 Fairmount Street, New Britain, Connecticut attended University of Hartford, School of Cytotechnology and is now employed as a Cytotechnologist.

We all feel that the reunion was very successful and wish that everyone could have been there. We had our banquet at "Holiday Haven" in Norwood.

The husbands seemed to have just as good a time as we girls. Hope that in five years we'll see even more of you. Let us know if any of you have any news for the "LEAVES". We'd love to have any pictures of your family.

Now . . . as for planning the Next Reunion . . .

Marcia Madden has completed six months Occupational Therapy affiliation at the Washington (D.C.) General Hospital and the Meninger Institute, Topeka, Kansas. For the next three months she will be assigned to the Lemuel Shattuck Hospital, Boston. After Lasell, Marcia was graduated from the University of New Hampshire Class of 1966, magna cum laude.

Charlotte M. Johnson has received a grant for master's degree study of public health at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. She graduated from Pennsylvania State University and for the past two years has been resident nutritionist in Prince George County, Cheverly, Maryland.

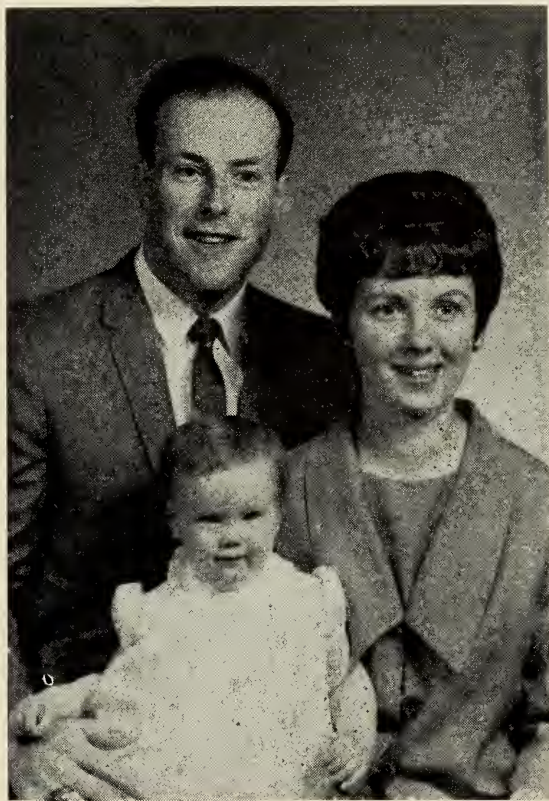

Reva Rovner Lahnstein writes: "Have been teaching first grade in North Babylon, New York and am currently a candidate for an M.A. degree in elementary education at Adelphi University. This summer I was appointed to teach in the Title I program in the Manhasset Public School system."

From Elaine Sanderson Willhauck: "We now live in our own little home in Natick, Massachusetts (178 Hartford Street) not far from Barbara Cole French '61. Our daughter, Marlene Louise, born July 8, 1965 is growing by leaps and bounds. We are rejoicing at my husband's recent promotion; he is security manager of the Natick Mall Sears Roebuck Company."

Lynda Blount Nickelsen sends a new address: 2 Stone Lea Place, Apartment 31-B, New Rochelle, New York. "Ellen Signorelli was one of my bridesmaids; Carol Curtice McKay was in charge of the reception book; Judy Morris was a guest. Ellen has just returned from a vacation to California and Las Vegas. Muriel Bloom Bruskin is now living at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, where her captain-husband is stationed."

From Sally Nutter Jowett: "My nineteen-month-old son, Greg, just received a new playmate, Bethany Mae, born May 27, 1966. Doug is teaching math in Sanford, Maine; we live at 2 Berwick Avenue. We have a summer place in Kennebunkport — right on the ocean. We welcome all Lasell visitors — this is beautiful country!"

A new address for Susan Brooks Weiner, 27939 Independence, Farmington, Michigan. Susan's husband is a resident in orthopedics at Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital.

The Lasell LEAVES
Lasell Junior College
Auburndale, Mass.

Dear Editor:

One day Karin Skooglund and myself (Marjorie Myles) — Class of 1963 — decided to write to all of our fellow members of Converse '63, because we never hear much about them. We compiled what we call the "Converse Alumnae Association '63 Newsletter." There is news from more than twenty members of the Class of 1963; we thought you might be interested in some of the data. Hopefully, a portion may be included in the alumnae magazine.

(signed) Marjorie Myles '63

December 1966

Dear Converse Alumnae,

Herewith, you will truly find "reading for a rainy day!" It has been three and a half years since we were all together in Auburn-dale, and, to put things mildly, a great deal has happened.

First to arrive was a letter from Gail Ferrucci Computaro (and if my memory serves me well, it's Richard). Gail writes: "I am married to a great guy; we reside at 1643 State Street, New Haven, Conn. After Lasell, I transferred to the University of Connecticut and graduated with a B.A. — majoring in English. During that summer I started work on my Master's at Southern Connecticut State Teachers College. My husband is finishing his schooling at Quinnipiac College — majoring in accounting. He plans to study for his C.P.A.; we might settle in Boston. Do have news of a Lasell roommate, Karen Werthein — married to Michael Rosenberg. With their young daughter, they live at Apartedo Aero 430, Barranquilla, Colombia, South America.

Bette Cole Burnham (one of our two honorary house members) is happily married to Peter, and writes: "We have a little son, Michael Stuart. He is now three months old. Never knew that one little baby could change two peoples' lives so completely. In September we moved to 43 Donna Road in Holliston (Mass.) when Peter was transferred to the Natick office. Jeanne Chase Peckham has a baby girl, Lisa; Jane Kenney Doherty is the mother of twins.

An amusing and most welcomed letter from Betty Davis (honorary member #2), 3 Wall Street, Wellesley, Mass. "Really don't know where to begin — so much has happened in the past three years. I've done a little of everything from selling magazine subscriptions door-to-door in Ohio, to singing in Maine ski lodges. Have taught tennis in New Hampshire; English in the Wellesley High School. Two of the last three years have been spent in a cast from shoulder to fingers after a horse and I had a slight difference of opinion as to the direction in which we were traveling. Along the way, I picked up a B.A. degree, and in June I hope to receive my Master's in English. Needless to say, I'm studying like mad at this point; spend ten to twelve hours per day with the books. As for future plans, there is a lieutenant in the Navy, a history teacher on the Cape, and somewhere — a college or junior college that needs an English teacher next fall."

Debbie Begg — Mrs. Thomas McKinney — is now living at Notch Road (Box 525), Bolton, Conn. She and Tom are the proud parents of Thomas Ross, now about six months old. "Tommy really keeps me busy — I spend a good part of the day playing with him and recovering dropped toys — a good excuse not to do housework!" Debbie's sister is a third-year nursing student at Lasell, so Debbie and Tom frequently get to Auburn-dale.

Bonny Rogers Collins is living at 276 Engle Street, Englewood, N.J. After graduation, she came to N.Y.C. and lived with Sheila Turnbull for a while. She then shared apartment with myself (Midge) and two other girls; we all moved to 82nd Street when Skoogie joined us. Bonny was working for a buyer at Brooks Brothers and stayed there until last November, when she was married to Ken Collins, who also worked at Brooks. Ken attended the University of Houston before coming to the City. Bonny is now secretary to two Englewood doctors.

Suzanne Banghart shares an apartment with Betty Marbach at 5 Park Vale, Brookline, Mass. After Lasell, Suzanne went to Penn State and received a B.S. degree in Nutrition. She has been working for a year and a half at Forsyth Dental Center in Bacteriological Research, "solving the problem of tooth decay." Suzanne is taking courses in German at Harvard — in February she leaves for Germany; hopes to continue to travel "around the world."

Barbara Christiansen Lum was married on June 19, 1965, after Rick graduated from Monmouth College. They have a four-room apartment at 97 Main Street, Chatham, N.J. On May 19, 1966 they had a baby girl, Barbara Christine — "Christi" — who is "really Daddy's girl."

Just got off the phone with Karen Jaynes (Midge speaking). Karen hadn't had time for letter writing — she is being married on December 17th to Richard Tiger. Karen met him at Marietta College, where she received a B.A. in Sociology. Richard is now completing his work at Fairleigh Dickinson, where he is a History and Poly-Psyc major. The planned honeymoon trip includes a week of skiing in Switzerland and a few days in Jamaica. The new address for Mr. and Mrs. Tiger will be 16 West 64th Street, New York.

Bobbie Seiden has recently moved from Boston to New York (401 East 74th Street); is an assistant buyer at Bloomingdale's. She had a successful career with Filene's in Boston; is looking forward to a transfer to one of Bloomingdale's branch stores. She is living with her twin sister, Fran, and is going through the painful "adjustment period" to this big, austere, air-polluted city! I might add that she looks just wonderful — slim and stylish with a short hair-do!

Telephonitis reigns again! This time we talked with Linda Senter Wright at 148 Main Street, Thomaston, Maine. She was married in March '64, lived in Chatham (Mass.) until Merritt was transferred, with the Coast Guard, to Maine. Linda has been working as a medical secretary.

Debbie Potvin Little and husband Ken are living at 11 Ashwell Avenue, Rocky Hill, Conn. Debbie is working for the Telephone Company (as she has been since graduation from Lasell) as a service representative. Jean Easterbrooks has the same type of employment in Worcester, Mass.; lives at 15 Cedar Street there.

Ginny Kidd attended Columbia School of Nursing, and was president of her graduating class last May. With Columbia friends she is living at 711 West 171st Street, New York.

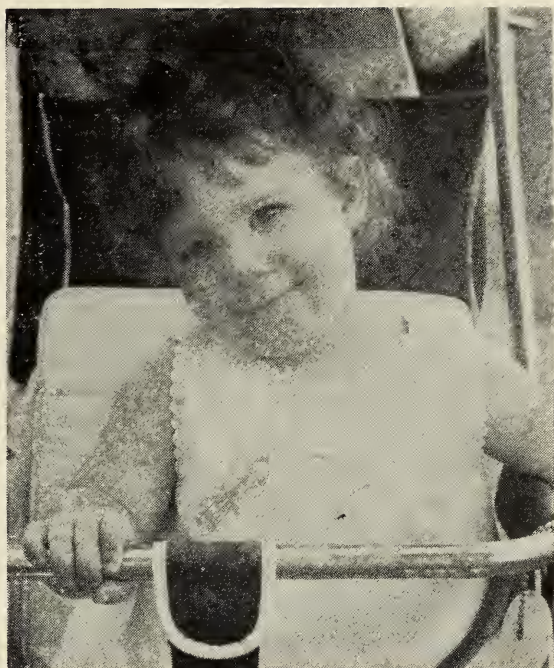

Penny Peterson (43 Grove Street, Boston) is an assistant buyer at Jordan Marsh Company.

(Now Skoogie speaking): For myself I am in transit again; this time headed for Sweden. Since my graduation from Lasell, I have lived in four apartments, two cities and have two weeks left of my third job!!! The first two years I was in Boston; worked for a bank and a jewelry store. My roommates included Susan Albano, Bobbie Seiden, Penny Peterson and Debbie Potvin. Midge and I are now sharing our second New York apartment; I am packing again. Have been working in the financial department of a local insurance company. The forthcoming trip to Sweden is the result of many things — mostly, a desire to travel. My parents are living there and my plans for the winter include taking Swedish lessons, working at something, lots of skiing, and a bit of mingling with the natives. Susan, Midge, Margot Harcher and I plan to travel about Europe this summer. After a year at Lasell, Margot was a student at New York's School of Visual Arts. She is now working with a medical publication company; is living, with her parents, at 345 Fourth Avenue, Westwood, N.J.

The "Albano-burger", alias Susan Albano, dwells (penthouse style) at 106 Myrtle Street, Boston. She is a secretary with the State Street Bank and Trust Company. She has endured a bout with mono, vacationed one winter in Florida — has been a pretty busy person in general. This fall she worked with the campaign people on behalf of the successful Eliot Richardson. Susan hopes to be off to Europe this summer.

Occasionally we see Muffy Holmes, who lives at 520 East 72nd Street, New York. She is working for an advertising agency and is rapidly climbing the Madison Avenue ladder.

As for myself (Midge) . . . After graduation in '63, I taught sailing for the summer.

Tracey Murray
(Connie Ferolito '62)

Then on to New York, where I got a job with a mutual fund company. Last October I took a five weeks' leave of absence and traveled to Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong. What a marvelous experience that was. This July, I took a two-month, 10,000-mile camping trip across the United States. Presently I am working as secretary to the president of a small moving and storage company. Hope to be off to Europe in the early summer. My City address is 210 East 36th Street, Apt. 10-B.

We are awaiting news of Karen Fox Evans, Mary Lou Herbert and Betty Marbach. Please, all of you, continue to send your news. We have had a grand time reading the notes and writing this letter. So . . . if you'd like to hear more — you must keep in touch. There just has to be "news to print!"

Happy reading and a Merry Holiday Season,

Midge and Skoogie

Judith Stone and husband, Dr. Oscar Mathews, will be living at 4118 Valley Road, Apartment 101D, Cleveland, Ohio, while he completes residency in internal medicine. "I graduated from the University of Rhode Island with a B.S. in Medical Technology and nervously await results of the MT (ASCP) exams."

After a honeymoon in Bermuda, Eugenia Giammarco Anderson and husband are residing in Milford, Massachusetts (96 Depot Street). George is teaching in the elementary school and Eugenia is secretary to a local internist.

Claire Monahan Knapp writes: "Last Spring, Don and I had some Lasell visitors in the persons of Sam (Vivien) Ash, Elaine Edington, Sue Coster and Sue Yates. Had a great time and needless to say, we played bridge until daybreak! Spent a lovely vacation in Maine and saw Sue Layng '65, a waitress at the lodge where we stayed. She is a senior at the University of Colorado."

Marsha H. Keyes enjoyed a trip to Europe during the summer and has returned to secretarial duties at the Newton-Wellesley Medical Building. Virginia A. Dwyer, a medical secretary at the same building, recently vacationed in Puerto Rico.

Betsey Lea Rosenberg's first teaching assignment is Grade 6 at the Islington School, Westwood, Massachusetts. She received a B.S. degree from Boston State Teachers College.

Urve Avasalu Hedberg writes to Dean Babcock: "It has been a long time since I last wrote you or anyone at Lasell. Thought it really time to send news from me about me. Receive the LEAVES; it warms my heart to read about my college friends.

"I left the U.S.A. in August '64 to return to my family and to my native Sweden. I was offered a teaching position in the elementary schools — there is a great lack of teachers here; shall continue my work with fourth grade pupils again this year.

"The Thornhills attended my wedding on December 18, 1965. My husband is a student at the University of Stockholm and we have a small apartment in the city (Spangavagen 16F, Bromma). We are looking forward to a July visit with Susan Humphreys, and later in the summer Deborah Keith Wind and husband will come from Munich. Debbie, my Pickard roommate, will return to the States this year, but has promised a visit before she leaves Europe.

"Please remember me to my Lasell friends. My very best good wishes to you."

Lois Stoker Dupree sends a new address: 969 Asylum Avenue, Hartford, Conn., and adds: "I was married on June 12, 1966. My husband David, a graduate of Hartt College of Music, is a music education teacher with the Bolton public school system. I continue to do a bit of singing on the side, my husband plays the organ; with a drummer friend, we have a good trio. We have had a six-week engagement at Hartford's Sunset Restaurant. Still enjoy my work at Aetna Life Insurance, and find a bit of spare time for my favorite hobby, oil painting."

1965

Nancy Weiner addresses her recent letter to "Dear Class of 1965: I am writing to announce my engagement to Alan M. Schwartz, a second year student at Tufts Medical School. We plan to be married in August '67. My work as medical secretary to two internists at the New England Medical Center is most rewarding. I do miss Lasell and Ordway House. Best to all."

Sheila Fish has been elected treasurer of the Student Organization at Cornell University's New York Hospital School of Nursing.

Ann Woodbury, a recent graduate of Northeast Airlines Stewardess Training Center, will be based in Miami; will fly Northeast's East Coast routes.

Lydia Moissides x-'65 enjoyed her summer assignment at the Argonne (Illinois) National Laboratories. Lydia expects to receive a B.S. degree in Chemistry from Aurora College in June 1967.

Elloise Mayo Packer "very much enjoys a new home — Ben Sherman Hill, Woodbury, Conn. Sister Celeste (Mayo Shannon '61) is house-hunting in this area."

A 1966 graduate of the Tobe-Coburn School, Dolores Gagliardi is now enrolled as Executive Trainee at G. Fox and Company, Hartford.

1966

In September, Patricia McLane left for Spain. After touring southern Europe with Dr. and Mrs. Julian Celma of Valencia, she will enter the University of Madrid to continue her studies in Spanish.

Janice Breet, a stewardess for Eastern Air Lines, is living at 440 East 62nd Street, New York, New York.

Lasell friends attending the wedding of Cynthia Cattanach to Jay Harding included: Bridesmaid Susan Case, Linda Beardslee, Barbara Rich, Andrea Siragusa, Gloria Black, Joan Robinson, Joan Erkkila, Nance Bliss, Susie Higgiston and Beverlee Pembroke Hill '65.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL ALUMNAE COUNCIL MEETINGS

April 7 and 8, 1967

The 19th Annual Alumnae Council Session commenced on Friday evening, April the 7th, with a social hour preceding dinner at Woodland Dining Room. After a most delightful buffet, Marilyn Blodgett Hall '46, President of Lasell Alumnae, Inc., extended greetings to all and thanked Miss Smith and the Lasell "culinary crew." The President then introduced the head table guests. Mr. Wilder Smith, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, thanked the alumnae for their continued support and loyalty. He announced that the Library, a new dormitory, and an addition to the dining room were presently under construction. Dr. DeBaun greeted all briefly.

Lynn then introduced the guest speaker, Miss Catherine Allen, Chairman of the Department of Recreation Education at Boston-Bouvé College of Northeastern University. Miss Allen's topic was "The Challenge of Leisure." In our highly automated society leisure is becoming a social problem; Miss Allen stressed the need of using this extra time for creativity and public service.

The "surprise" spring blizzard cancelled reservations for a number of delegates but did not lessen the enthusiasm of those attending the Saturday meetings. The morning session, held in Wolfe Hall, opened with a Workshop Discussion of Alumnae Fund and Reunions. Louise Tardivel Higgins '37, the Fund General Chairman; explained this year's program of solicitation; Sandy Shelton Fitch '56 and Betty Williams McGowan '47 discussed reunion planning; encouraged questions from the Council representatives.

1967 Alumnae Council Panelists

Head Table — 1967 Alumnae Council Dinner, Friday, April 7th

Following Morning Coffee, the meeting was directed to an Alumnae Career Panel. Six alumnae, describing and discussing their chosen careers, included: Pamela Nordblom '63, public relations director of the Sheraton Boston Hotel; Lucy Brunton Buckley '62, recently returned from a tour of duty with the Peace Corps in Lima, Peru; Marjorie Nelson '57, chief operator of the Southern New England Telephone Company in Danbury, Connecticut; Paula Drake '48, a doctoral candidate and instructor at Springfield College; Jane Abbot Wiederhol '41, fashion and beauty consultant with the Tobe Coburn School of Fashion Careers; and Roberta Morrill Buchanan '35. Roberta, on professional leave from her duties as chairman of the Department of Directed Studies at Saint Petersburg (Fla.) Junior College, is a candidate for a Doctor's Degree at Boston University.

The annual meeting of Lasell Alumnae Inc. was called to order following luncheon at Woodland Hall. The Secretary's report was read and accepted; the Treasurer's report was distributed, discussed and placed on file; the Auditor's report was read and placed on file; the Corresponding Secretary's report was read and accepted.

Rosamond Cornell Cannon '29, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, read the slate of officers for 1967-68:

- President: Marilyn Blodgett Hall '46
1st Vice President: Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55
2nd Vice President: Betty Lou Foy Reid '52
Recording Secretary: Betty Williams McGowan '47
Corresponding Secretary: Linda Nolin Ahern '55
Treasurer: Ruth Turner Crosby '42
Assistant Treasurer: Ruth Buswell Isaacson '36
Alumnae Fund Committee: Alice Pratt Brown '29
 Louise Tardivel Higgins '37
 Linda Telfer '60
Scholarship Committee Chairman: Shirley Gould Chesebro '33

Directors:

Mildred Strain Nutter '17
 Antoinette Meritt Smith '23
 Dorothy Inett Taylor '30
 Mildred Bell Cole '31
 Dorothy Secord Garon '34
 Priscilla Parmenter Madden '37
 Camie Porter Morison '40
 Virginia Wolfe Perkins '44
 Judy Parker Haas '49
 Penny Rafkin Hurwitz '56
 Sandy Shelton Fitch '56
 Sue Spangenberg Straley '60

Nominating Committee: for 1968-69 Officers

Anna Stevenson Mangano '51, Chairman
 Esther Josselyn '27
 Joan Kearney Cormay '51

Shirley Gould Chesebro '33, Scholarship Chairman, reported that during the year 1966-67, scholarships totaling $1,900 had been awarded to five students. In the past ten years, 44 Lasell students have received $17,600 in scholarship aid.

Lillian Reese Roche '50 announced that the Alumnae Bazaar would be held in Winslow Hall on November 7, 1967; an invitation was extended to all to attend the Annual Silver Tea to be held at Madeline Farmer Ryder's (x-'15) home on May 10, 1967.

President Hall delivered a touching tribute to Helen Beede '21 and presented her with a silver bracelet as a token of appreciation from all alumnae. The bracelet was designed and hand-crafted by Frances Wright x-'16 of Auburn, Mass.

The table flowers were sent to Priscilla Parmenter Madden '37 and to Miss Sophia Josephs of the Secretarial Department.

The Annual Meeting of Lasell Alumnae, Inc. was adjourned at 1:45 p.m.

Dr. Vincent DeBaun was the featured speaker at the afternoon Council session. "From the President's Calendar" was the subject of his talk. The varied tasks of the office of the President may be compared to a series of concentric circles with this particular office as the center. The inner or first circle encompasses the student body as the heart of the College, followed in order by Faculty, Administration, Alumnae and Exterior Relationships with the Community.

A general question and answer period followed.

Respectfully submitted,
 BETTY MCGOWAN,
Recording Secretary

1909

Class Agent Constance Blackstock sends the following news:

Bertha Libby Welles reports that she is still composing and writing poetry and metaphysical articles in NYC; promises to "share with Lasell" any that are published. Living now at The Ansonia—"somewhat of a Retirement House, but also boys and girls interested in the Arts, ballet groups and many voice and piano teachers" — she plays for a Unity Meeting group which cheers people with songs and comforting words, and is an active member of her church. One daughter and family have been in Japan and Peru working for the government; another daughter is a Harvard business graduate, and a third is Dean of Girls at Lake Erie College and a minister. Five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren round out her family.

From Millburn, N.J., Florence Swartwout Thomassen writes: "Keep very active and have many interesting projects. My daughter's husband passed away a year and a half ago, leaving her with three sons, so I help all I can. My son and family also live nearby . . . how grateful I am to be blest with dear ones around me. Am active in the Women's Club and the Women's Society of my church, and recently, my sister Charlotte (Swartwout Quackenbush, '14) and I spent a week at my brother's in Washington, D.C."

New Yorker Irma Goldman Tedesche, confined to a wheelchair following several hip operations, had a visit in April from Irene Laser Seidler x'10 who had just returned from a six-month trip to Europe.

Traveler Vera Bradley Findlay reports that she recently returned from a 4½-month trip to South America, the South Pacific Islands, Australia, and New Zealand. . . "my ninth time through the Canal, and my eighth crossing the Equator." In late October she again sets sail and will travel the "long route" — via Atlantic, Mediterranean, Indian Oceans, — to Australia and New Zealand where she plans to spend the winter. "I love ships!" she explains.

1914

Bad weather prevented Helen Baird Vance from visiting the Auburndale campus this past winter, but she reports a nice luncheon with Mary Quick Dean in Rhode Island (while visiting friends there) during which she consented to be a class agent for the Alumnae Annual Giving . . . "I was happy to do this for Lasell."

Secretary Dorothy Hartshorn Underwood reports:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Moore (Marcia Fogg) celebrated their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary on April 10th.

Carolyn Moore, Mary Bingaman and Katherine Bingaman Heron '16 took a Mediterranean cruise recently.

Myra Eby Craighead, our bridge champion, went to Florida recently. Alleda Burnett Arneson's two sons and families spent Christmas with her in Winter Park, Fla.

Ruby Newcomb McCorkindale and husband went to Antigua and loved it — then Florida. One of her sons-in-law—, Dr. Bardwell L. Smith, Charlotte's husband — is now dean of Carleton College in Northfield, Minn. Ruby is a great-grandmother.

Ruth Davis Giller's son, Brig. Gen. E. B. Giller, is assigned to the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Class extends sympathy to Charlotte Swartwout Quackenbush, whose husband passed away on Sept. 16, 1966.

As for me — went to Arizona this March and saw Lena Vee Kelley Stone. Met her handsome son, his lovely wife and children — what a thrill after 42 years. Do wish more 1914ers would write. Our 55th Reunion is coming!

. . . D.H.U.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Emma Robinson Petrie, whose husband passed away on Feb. 27, 1967. In addition to his wife, Mr. Petrie is survived by two sons: Dr. Stewart J. Petrie of New Haven, Conn., and Robert J. Petrie of Glastonbury, Conn., and five grandchildren.

Frances Johnsen Edwards sends regards and a picture of her two grandchildren, Alfred and Priscilla Slanetz. Her daughter and family live in Locust Valley, Long Island.

Dear Girls:

I really have a little first-hand Lasell news to report. My husband and I drove to Florida this winter, and as we did not want to drive too far in any one day, we decided to visit a few friends on the way.

Checking maps I found that we should pass Roanoke, Virginia, which is not very far from Sweet Briar College, so my first Lasell stop was where I could visit with Carol Rice. We got there on a Saturday afternoon and after a short rest went over to Carol's house and had dinner. The next day Carol took us to dinner at her country club, and drove us around the country-side. Had a grand visit.

After a stop with friends in Roanoke and Ashville, North Carolina, we drove to Smyrna, Georgia and had a delightful three-day visit with Dot Crane Crowe. She took us to Stone Mountain, then showed us around Atlanta, and also called Lavinia Fera McKinney and told her I was there. That night Lavinia and her husband met us at a restaurant and we all had dinner together. Lavinia has nine grandchildren; asks anyone travelling in Georgia to stop by.

We went to Sarasota, Florida for three days (following a two-week stay in Clearwater) and made a short call on Hildegarde Baxter Perkins '36. Unable to get in touch with Dale Whipple Turnbull in Altamonte Springs on the way down, we made a change in plans and stopped there heading north. Fortunately she was home and I kept my husband waiting about a half hour while I had a chat with one more Lasellite.

After three more overnight stops, we went to Virginia Beach to visit friends. I could not leave to go see Dot Brate McPherrin but I did telephone and had a nice chat with her husband. We drove 4000 miles on our trip, visited 11 people and were gone for 6 weeks. You can see that this turned into quite a Lasell trip.

... M.S.K.

Edna Christensen Beckwith writes: "Have spent another lovely winter in Naples, Florida. Expect to be here next year — address: 1930 7th St. So.; Telephone: Midway 2-6326."

Dorothy Crane Crowe plans to take a bus tour from Atlanta (Georgia) to Canada, and then down the West Coast. "If I keep this up," she writes, "maybe I'll get back for our 55th Reunion in 1971 — Come on, 1916'ers, let's go!"

Maude Hayden Keeney now has seven grandchildren; the most recent was born in November '66. Also, Maude's mother, Mrs. Richard Hayden, passed away in February, at the age of 94. The Class extends sincere sympathy to Maude, to Ruth (Hayden '20), and to Maude's daughter, Florence Keeney Havens '48.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Eugenia Skinner Shorrock, whose husband passed away on April 29, 1967.

Word received from Evelyn Lincoln Miller: "I have been a widow for nine years, have two children and six grandchildren. Spend the summer in Fairhaven (Mass.), and the winter months at Golden Gate Point, Sarasota, Florida."

1918

Winter months were spent overseas by Mildred Cary Hill. "Went to Madrid, Athens and Istanbul in February and March," she writes. "Then home and two weeks later we left for Sarasota, Florida for ten days. Stayed at the same motel as 'Gin' Moore Starkey '17. Friends call us the 'go-go Hills'!"

1919

Mercie Nichols writes: "On a beautiful day in September (the 24th), I was honored to be present at the marriage of Ethel Ramage Fisk to Mr. Fred Alton Lougee. The ceremony was held in a charming old New England church in Manchester, Vermont. All arrangements were made by her son, Dr. Robert J. Fisk, and his wife, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Cardinali and her husband of New York. It was a very happy occasion enjoyed by several of her sisters and their families, her very attractive and delightful grandchildren and a few close friends. Ethel and her husband are making their home at 98 Willow Street, South Yarmouth, Massachusetts."

The Maynard, Mass. Enterprise notes that Anne Cranton Mix, of Barr Greenhouses in South Natick, recently lectured to members of the Sudbury Garden Club. Anne attended the Ritness School of Floral Design after graduation from Lasell.

Excerpts from a letter from Gail Swanson Rees: "It's been an eventful year . . . in December, '65, the Navy sent orders to husband Mal to report to the Philippines . . . we got approval to travel together, and were underway in early February. Traveled cross-country going south via Atlanta, Mexico, Arizona, Las Vegas, and thence to Lemoore, California. There for six weeks, we lived in a trailer, which we shared with a family of cats living underneath . . . very interesting, if you have never awakened to the sound of a cat fight under your bed, you may live a little longer! While in California we covered Hollywood, Disneyland, several national parks and major cities.

"Left on April 7th by ocean liner for Manila, via Honolulu, Yokohama and Hong Kong. The latter was fabulous . . . the romance of the Orient as we had always imagined it. All good things come to an end, however, and on April 27th we docked and proceeded to our third home of the year, a little house on the Bataan Peninsula. It was something of a trial, including adventures with a typhoon, burglars in the bathroom, little 'gekko' lizards scurrying over the walls. After 18 weeks we were assigned quarters on base; really appreciated the cleanliness and familiarity. Have sallied forth occasionally to Singapore, Bangkok and Corregidor, but home looks better all the time. My best to you all."

Family news: Ann Bottjer O'Donnell has three children; Danny 5, Jane 2, and Michael 1. Marlene Berman Lewis' three are Harmon, 1½, Bobbi 3, and Hope, 6.

REUNION REPORTS

A most favorite and "constant" Reunioner, Georgie Duncan Seavey, was on hand to answer the Roll Call of classes at Reunion Luncheon, Saturday, June 9, 1967. Mrs. Seavey had just returned from a grandson's graduation at Annapolis; was visiting daughter Priscilla (Seavey Bjorkman x-'34) in nearby Roslindale. For dinner on Saturday, Mrs. Seavey joined members of the Classes of 1907 and 1917 at the home of President and Mrs. DeBaun.

"Regrets" for the 65th Celebration were received from Clara McLean Rowley of Hartford, and from Grace Bullock Gorham of Pawtucket, R. I. To her note Mrs. Rowley adds: "Have four great-granddaughters, but so far there are no definite plans for their future education — the eldest has just finished Grade #1. We shall hope for Lasell." Mrs. Gorham was vacationing in Wyoming.

Clara Huttenbauer Levy '07 and grandson Robert H. Levy, Columbia '67

The Class of 1907 had three representatives on campus to celebrate the 60th Reunion. Seated at the head table for Luncheon were Edna Strickland Olson, Clara Huttenbauer Levy and Fern Dixon Leahy, accompanied by daughter Virginia (Leahy Berwick '34). On the occasion of their very special anniversary, the Class presented the first gift for Lasell's new Library — a set of five books, National Capital Profile, published by the Library of Congress.

Mrs. Levy was registered on campus for the entire weekend; after the Reunion activities, attended Radcliffe College Commencement. Her elder granddaughter was a member of the graduating class.

Declining the June invitation were Carre Fuller Eldridge, Helen H. Heath and Alice J. Chase. Jennie Drew Hinman reported that she and her husband celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary last year; they have four sons. And from Lilian Douglass Heeb in California: "How I wish I might be with you all in June. Have just returned from a most interesting trip to South America and Mexico. It was a great pleasure to meet Dr. and Mrs. DeBaun at the February meeting of the Southern California Alumnae Club."

Secretary Clara Parker Colby reports for the Class of 1912:

Three members of our Class enjoyed the hospitality of the College on the occasion of our 55th Reunion: Ruth Coulter Bierer, Charlotte Lesh Coats and myself. Charlotte drove from Indianapolis with her sister, Helen, who was celebrating her 50th; they were registered on campus for the weekend; Ruth and I attended the Luncheon only. We had a delightful time visiting, reminiscing and reading notes from classmates. Charlotte had stopped en route to visit Rosalthe Williams Picard, and shared with us her letter from Mary Goodwillie Townsend.

We had regrets also from Miriam Flynn Speth, Bernice Lincoln Beers, Annie Merrill David, Jane Parsons Westervelt, Winifred Whittlesey Knowlton, Orra Hammond Pomeroy and Elizabeth Edson.

Marion Joslin Oppenheimer '12

Marion Joslin Oppenheimer sent a picture taken in September '66, while vacationing at Lake Superior. And she adds: "Would so love to be in Auburndale in June, but . . . walking about the campus would not be too easy. We are now apartment dwellers — in a 24-story High Rise, overlooking the Mississippi River in St. Paul; continue to enjoy the winter months on Florida's West Coast."

Agnes Adelsdorf Weil's note read, in part: "Am chairman of Adult Recreation at New York's Bellevue Hospital — a most rewarding experience. My daughter and three grandsons are the light of my life. Always think of Lasell with pleasure and gratitude."

Florence Jones Allen wrote: "Am so very sorry not to be able to join you all at Lasell. My very special greetings go to each and all; please extend my thanks to Dr. and Mrs. DeBaun for their gracious dinner invitation. I enclose a picture of our daughter, Nancy Allen Maxson, and the five children. Their father, Edgar P. Maxson, Jr., is the son of Mary Starr Utter Maxson '12. Mary Starr and I were close friends at Lasell; we are so happy to have these mutual grandchildren."

50th Reunion for the Class of 1917 will long be remembered as a gala celebration. Our on-campus "home" was the spacious and comfortable Converse House, centrally and conveniently located at the corner of Maple Street and Woodland Road. Classmates began to arrive early on Friday afternoon; we were delighted to share accommodations with Clara Huttenbauer Levy '07 and Charlotte Lesh Coats '12, sister of Helen.

Saturday morning we enjoyed breakfast and mid-morning coffee at Winslow Hall, where we were joined by additional '17-ers. Most proud were we at Luncheon, when it was announced that Our Class had proved to be the winners in the 1966-67 Alumnae Fund competition. A total of $2,755 had been contributed by 27 classmates.

My daughter, Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55, was our "guest" — briefly — at the luncheon table. As 1st Vice President of Lasell Alumnae Inc., she moved along to the head table to conduct the latter portion of the Alumnae Meeting.

President and Mrs. DeBaun entertained us — as well as Mrs. Coats, Mrs. Levy and Mrs. Georgie Duncan Seavey '02 — for dinner at their home. Those present from 1917 included: Jessie Shepherd Brennan, Marjorie Morrison Coburn, Florence Bell Merrill, Helen Saunders, Helen Lesh Zervas, Helen Stephan Sterley, Nora Hayward Rodd, Ruth Straight Mock, Ruth Burnap Jones, Dorothy Deering Ewart, Fannie Gates Frey, Eugenia Skinner Shorrock and myself. Gertrude Allen was unable to remain for the evening.

We did so very much regret cancellations from Marie Keppel Hawkins and Virginia Moore Starkey, who had planned to drive East with daughter Kay Starkey Litehiser '42. Kay's husband died suddenly a week before Reunion.

A "golden"-covered souvenir booklet was prepared by Eugenia Skinner Shorrock. Complete with copy of the 1917 Commencement program, it contained a short biographical sketch of each classmate who had acknowledged the questionnaire. We quote a portion of the booklet — printed and compiled, of course, in advance of Reunion.

ELIZABETH "GERT" RUDE ALLEN

30 Ellis Circle, Yarmouth, Mass. 02675

Not married — lived a single life of blessedness all these 50 years. No VIP awards — No TV appearances — No space flights and no et al. Just tried to live a good Christian life with loving service to mankind.

VIRGINIA R. E. ANDERSON (Mrs. Alvin J. Swanson)

14783 La Rinconada Dr., Los Gatos, Calif. 95030

Married: May 25, 1922; four sons (3 married) and one daughter (married). Ten grandchildren. Lived in Jamestown, N. Y. 1922-29; Brownsville, Texas 1930; California 1937-1967. Two trips to Hawaii — two trips to Europe.

HELEN L. BAUMAN (Mrs. Robert T. Roblin)

Box 291, Manistee, Michigan 49660

Have been looking for a picture to send in my place, but none of them seem to do me justice! Don't know where the 50 years have gone. I have kept in touch with some of our classmates; have seen and talked to Pauline Fera when in Chicago visiting. Three years ago I spent the night with Dickey Buettner in Eagle River, Wisc.

I have one son, Ralph Routier, and two grandchildren, who all live in California so am fortunate to see them nearly every year. Two years ago I married an old school mate from Grayling so we spent part of the time at his home and part at my home. Am sorry not to be with you for our celebration, but it isn't possible right now. My love to you all.

FLORENCE BELL (Mrs. Henry M. Merrill)

215 Boston Post Rd., Weston, Mass. 02193

The VITAL STATISTICS are as follows: Happily married to the same husband for 45 years — Henry Merrill, Harvard '18. We have three daughters and one son who have provided us with ten grandsons and two granddaughters. One of our grandsons has been accepted at Dartmouth; two are at Exeter Academy. All are handsome and interesting. The eldest girl is only 13 but she gets all "A's" so maybe Lasell will interest her.

My public accomplishments do not loom large. I've been President or Chairman of almost every women's organization in town, and, although a Unitarian, have read for blind students in Greater Boston Colleges under the auspices of the Catholic Guild for the Blind these past seven years. There was a blind student at Lasell last year for whom I read a few times on substitute duty.

As for travel, we have been south through Mexico, north as far as Banff and Vancouver and Scandinavia, west as far as Hawaii, and east as far as Istanbul. My first trip to Europe was in company with Fannie Gates Frey and was wonderful fun.

We have a simple summer cottage at Rockport, Mass., now overrun with grandchildren and their friends. We have enjoyed our sailboat, which we raced in younger days, and now use for afternoon sailing. I'm still Henry's first choice for crew although I would gladly relinquish my post to grandsons most of the time.

We are off next week to attend a Unitarian Convention in Denver and thence to visit our youngest daughter and family in San Mateo, California. I shall be back for my fiftieth reunion at Lasell and hope for the pleasure of meeting many of you there!

RUTH M. BURNAP (Mrs. Donovan S. Jones)

57 Pleasant St., Winchendon, Mass. 01475

Married Burtis Eugene Dresser in 1921 and have two sons: one a teacher in the Springfield schools, and the other a salesman living in Westfield, Mass.

Active in PTA, having served as local President in the Dorman PTA; as Council President in Springfield, and as State President of the Mass. Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Active in church work at "Old First Church" in Springfield, serving as Guild President and on various committees. After giving years to community work, I went into Welcome Wagon, where I have served as hostess for 20 years, and recently was dined, corsaged and given a lovely 14K gold pin with a blue white diamond.

Burt died in 1953 and I married Don, a family friend, in 1955. He has two children: a son, a Major in the Air Force, and a daughter, whose husband is a Lt. Colonel. Since coming to Winchendon I have carried on the Welcome Wagon in West Springfield, worked in the Worcester North Association, the Worcester District of Congregational Women, and served as Delegate in Cleveland and Oberlin, Ohio during the merger of the Evangelical and Congregational Churches.

My invalid mother has lived with us since 1957. I am having a "Tea" for her on Mother's day to celebrate her 94th birthday.

Have done quite a bit of traveling, including driving across country twice, and last fall we had a 45-day trip to Europe.

DOROTHY DEERING (Mrs. Raymond J. Ewart)

4 Shirley Pk., Goffstown, N.H. 03045

Since 1920 I have been happily married to Raymond Ewart, and have lived in Goffstown since 1925. We have two children: John 39, and Susan, 34. The six grandchildren — three boys and three girls — are all so different but very precious. As I look back, it might have been to my own and my husband's advantage, had I taken the "home ec" course instead of art and music, with which I have done so little.

In my younger days I was quite active in church and club work, having held offices in the DAR, and the Eastern Star, of which I was Worthy Matron.

My husband was retired in 1958, but, due to a few years of his poor health, our plans to see the U.S.A. were prevented. Did get as far as Florida in 1962.

I have been back to Lasell only twice since our graduation so I'm really looking forward to seeing all you girls.

EMELIA "SIS" FRANKEL (Mrs. Emelia Cayce)

24 Robin Rd., Hopkinsville, Kentucky 42240

A little report on me and mine: My daughter Dorothy married "Lib" Hildreth Sherman's ('15) son Larry. They have two delightful children: Peter, 16, who is tall and blond, very much like his Dad, and Lauren, 10, who is tall, dark and very much like her Mother. My little family live in Laredo, Texas, on the banks of the Rio Grande. Larry is a Colonel in the Air Force, so they have moved around quite a bit.

I am living alone in a duplex and am lucky enough to have one of my best friends living next door. I play cards most every day. Can assure you I do not do anything "constructive — but nothing destructive." Feel just about like any old lady would at 70 — but Thank Goodness, I can still manage. Drive my own car, and fly to see my children a couple of times a year.

Wish I could be with you for the 50th, but just can't make it.

FANNIE M. GATES (Mrs. Maximillian H. Frey)

I don't believe I'll attempt to cover the last 50 years since Graduation. However, will say that we are one happy family with three married sons and six lovely grandchildren to be proud of. Sorry I will not be able to be with you. My best to all the 17ers.

JULIA J. LIPPS

404 East 55th St., New York, N.Y. 10022

For years I was a decorator and then Fabric Designer. Retired six years ago and have done quite a bit of traveling abroad and around the world, which I never had time to do when on the job. Have just returned from Mexico, California and Arizona.

Five days later was robbed of all my good jewelry and cash lying about, so I feel this is no place to live any more, but where to go?

I see quite a bit of Jessie Shepherd Brennan as we are close neighbors. Sorry not to join you.

ELEANOR F. McCausland (Mrs. N. E. Fleming)

Box 789, Los Alamos, N.M. 87544

In September 1921 our son Paul, the pride and joy of our hearts, was born. After two years at the University of Maine, he enlisted in the Air Corps and his plane came down in Northeast Italy. After 20 months the U.S. Government found some captured German records telling where the whole crew had been buried. Now he is in the U.S. Cemetery in Florence, Italy. It was difficult to adjust, but strength is given us at such times.

In 1948 we sold our home in Maine, which had been in the family for three generations, and came to Los Alamos. We live in a two-bedroom apartment with a fenced-in yard, with pine trees, garden space and deer in abundance. The climate is delightfully dry mountain air, 7360 feet above sea level. Summer temperatures in the 80's with cool nights always.

We are both 70, and after 47 years of marriage still enjoy each other's company. For the first and only time I regret being so far away. I am so sorry not to be at our 50th Reunion.

MARJORIE E. MORRISON (Mrs. George S. Coburn)

Busy with programing — much of it. Writing — Articles — none accepted.

Corresponding — around-the-world pen friends.

Y.W.C.A. — Residence and Finance Committees.

Painting — Trays, Mirrors, etc.

Director of House at Bryant — one year only — too inactive.

The regular church — clubs, and love to entertain.

DOROTHY H. REDMOND (Mrs. Herald A. Jones)

Box 301, Friendship, Maine 04547

Worked in NYC until marriage in 1921. Lived in Chicago, Illinois, Ames, Iowa, Rochester, N.Y. until 1930 when we moved to Springfield, N.J.

My husband went to music school (Eastman) when we moved to Rochester and he taught in the East Orange (N.J.) High School after graduation. In 1957 he retired so that he might do college teaching for a time. That took us to Dillon, Montana, and Fredonia, N.Y. before settling here in Maine.

Our two children were born in Rochester. Peggy graduated from Wellesley — is a Phys. Ed. teacher in a Philadelphia school — intergrade faculty. Bruce had six years with the Naval Air Force; is happily married to a state of Washington girl and lives in Connecticut, doing research for U.S. Plywood. They have two children: Shari, 7, and Dick, 5. The doting grandparents get to see them frequently, Maine being a wonderful spot for summer gatherings.

Our sleepy lobstering village is drawing more and more retirees and we find plenty to keep us busy. I will think of you all.

LENETTE ROGERS (Mrs. Geoffroy Atkinson)

415 South Pleasant St., Amherst, Mass. 01002

Can it be possible we have reached a 50 year reunion? I am sorry not to be with you. It would be fun to know to what extent each of us succeeded in our 18-year-old expectation of conquering the world!

My vital statistics are easily enumerated: husband, Folger Professor of Romance Languages at Amherst College, retired in 1957; children, Beryl with a boy and two girls and living in St. Louis (Mrs. Joseph Rhea), Joan with a girl and a boy living in Seattle (Mrs. Joan Newman) and teaching English and Journalism in Redmond High School. I went into Botany and have continued in the profession, since my husband's death, as Research Associate at Amherst College, working on ferns. I have been (and still am) secretary of the American Fern Society which has netted me some very pleasant associations — so I must be doing something right!

It has been a pleasure to follow Lasell's progress into the Junior College category, and I am sure we are all proud of our Alma Mater. Congratulations, greetings, and my best to everyone.

HELEN M. SAUNDERS

3 Grennon Rd., West Hartford, Conn. 06107

Active in church, Red Cross, Lasell (Trustee) and local Lasell Club, and travel. Just returned from a 26,000-mile trip to the Orient. Visited Jean Anderson, my roommate in 1917, in California on my return trip. Many trips abroad and extensive travel in the U.S.A. and Expo 67 just before returning for our 50th. Enjoy bowling on the green and indoors. Visit frequently with "Mid" Strain Nutter.

JESSIE C. SHEPHERD (Mrs. H. Mott Brennan)

160 East 48th St., New York, N.Y.

We have been on a trip enjoying gardens in Virginia and Maryland. I am an inveterate gardener so am now checking our gardens and greenhouse here in Franconia, N.H. We plant about 3500 plants in June. It is a short growing season, but lots of fun. How well I remember Eugenia coming with a lion cub on our 25th! What is our Class Baby doing now? My best wishes to all.

EUGENIA R. SKINNER (Mrs. Ernest Shorrock)

Winter: 30 Prospect St., Reading Mass. 01867

Spring, Summer, Fall: Box 367, Alton Bay, N.H. 03810

Married in August after graduation. Three children: Dorothy (our class baby), Richard and Ruth. Have six grandchildren — five girls and one boy.

During the 1930's my latent interest in animal life was again brought to the fore, and I produced an exhibit of Reptiles for the N.E. Sportsman Show — which became their most popular attraction. In following years the show traveled to many other states — as far west as Detroit and Indianapolis and I produced other attractions as well as a larger Reptile Exhibit for them. My

Jessie Shepherd Brennan '17

African exhibit of animals and native men in their village was probably the biggest attraction they ever had.

Now we have our own summer tourist attraction at Alton Bay, which consists of a Reptile Zoo, a large Gift and Souvenir Shop, an Esso Gas Station, and a seasonal Real Estate business. I am a Notary Public and Justice of the Peace in New Hampshire. My daughter Dorothy and I are much interested in our genealogy. We belong to the DAR, the Women Descendants of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co., of which I am Vice-President, Daughters of American Colonists, Mayflower Society, Alden Kindred of America, and others.

Am an ardent collector of old dolls, baby carriages, fans, costumes, glass and historical items.

Perhaps my greatest interest, my interest in people, is the underlying impetus for all these other activities. In the winter, our home in Mass. becomes quarters for the creatures who form our zoo. Perhaps it is worth noting that my 14-foot Indian Python has broken the world's record for longevity in captivity, which was 29 years and one month. He has been with me going on 31 years.

Four weeks ago I lost my husband (April 29, 1967) just before our Golden Wedding in August.

HELEN A. STEPHAN (Mrs. John B. Sterley)

No children or grandchildren, but I've lived a busy life and am still going strong. At first I rather dreaded a 50th Reunion, but am getting more thrilled every day at the prospect of meeting you friends of old.

RUTH E. STRAIGHT (Mrs. Harold J. Mock)

10501 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024 Apt. 1601

In 1919 I moved from Hastings, Nebraska with my family to the State of Washington. Graduated in 1923 from Whitman College, Romance Languages major — thanks to Mlle. LeRoy. Taught seven years, then moved to Chicago where I was in the Medical Library of A.M.A. as translator of Portuguese and Spanish Medical Journals.

Married one "Bill" Mock, Consulting Industrial Engineer — had first daughter Joanne at Niagara Falls, son Jack in Boston, and daughter Karine in Chicago.

Lived in many cities of the country until husband became a Navy Commander in Washington. After that we were with Ford Motor in Detroit until our original goal was attained: Life in California in Electronics.

Now we — no, "Bill" — is retired, and travel is our hobby. So far we have made 123 countries — Outer Mongolia the high spot last year. We live in our "high rise" apartment overlooking U.C.L.A. and the Pacific and love it!

MILDRED "MID" STRAIN (Mrs. Denton G. Nutter)

1094 Centre St., Newton Centre, Mass. 02159

Married Dr. Denton Gove Nutter in 1921 (deceased suddenly January 22, 1967). By birth a native of Newton, Mass., he was educated at Harvard College and Medical School, and was a Physician and Surgeon on staff of Newton-Wellesley Hospital from 1919 until retirement age. American College of Surgeons, Trustee of Lasell Junior College.

Living in Newton, it has been my privilege to take part in many Lasell activities, Corporation member, Past President Lasell Alumnae, Inc.

Two children: a son and a daughter. The son lives in Needham and has three children — two boys and a girl. The daughter, Marion Nutter Bredehoff (Lasell '55) lives in Westwood, and is now First Vice-President of Lasell Inc. She is active in many other Lasell projects, and has one son.

I am active in church and community affairs. Summers since 1929 at Cape Cod. Travel to the Mid-West, Florida twice a year (spring and fall) by automobile.

A very busy and happy 45 years of married life helping my husband in his profession.

How could any Lasell girl forget those happy days? That year at Lasell was one of the highlights of my whole life. I have always wanted to return for a visit around commencement time, but plans do not always "pan out."

My husband died four years ago. I continue to live in my little house which is filled with such happy memories.

I haven't had any very startling experiences during my 50 years. Traveled thru the southern and western parts of our country. Get impatient with people who go "across" first, when there is so much to see in our own country! After retirement, visited friends in Florida.

My work was as Secretary at Unitarian Headquarters in Boston. Later, I was Cashier and Treasurer for the Coffee Shop in the Melrose-Wakefield Hospital.

I am now in the Fitch Home for Older (shall we say) People. It is beautifully situated and is fine in all ways. My best to you all.

CARITA PALMER (Mrs. Thomas Moffett)

1891-92: My mother, Agnes Aldrich Palmer, attended Lasell Female Seminary.

1914-15: I attended Lasell Seminary.

1943: My daughter, Eloise Moffett Harper graduated from Lasell Junior College.

What will it be called when my granddaughter comes? (I'm hoping she will.)

I lost my husband January 14, 1966, just three days before we were to have sailed for Africa. Have three grandchildren: son Thomas Harry has one daughter; Eloise has two children.

Our 45th is history, and we all agreed that it was the best Reunion ever. It is amazing how we continue to have so much in common.

First, I want to sincerely thank Phyllis and Casey for their help in making all go smoothly. We received questionnaires from 45 classmates, and 22 girls returned to Auburndale for Reunion. Those who came, as well as those unable to attend in person certainly helped to make our gift to the Alumnae Fund an outstanding one on this Reunion year.

Having Nason as headquarters gave us freedom to kick off our shoes after a delicious Friday night dinner, look over old and new correspondence and pictures of all previous reunions. Saturday's luncheon brought additional familiar faces. We were so glad to have Toni Meritt Smith '23 with us at noon. Our evening dinner Saturday at the nearby Pillar House will long be a topic of conversation. We had six husbands in town, plus Flossie's "two men." They all got to know each other at dinner in the main dining room and several acted as photographers (Libby's, Helene's and Marj's husbands) so we should have some fine pictures to share.

Now, news of those attending:

Frances Angel Levenson: Her life most interesting with trips to Japan, Europe, South America and Russia. She and her husband center their lives on "things Oriental" for they are members of the American Oriental Club, Japanese American Club, and she teaches conversational English to young Japanese women. Son Ralph has two boys and a girl.

Carolyn Badger Seybolt: Her hobbies include rug hooking, gardening, and enjoying her daughter's three lively sons.

Iverna Birdsall Lutze: A busy person with her three sons, ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Summers in Laconia, N.H., winters in Englewood, Florida, in-between at home in Naugatuck, Conn.

Dorothy Caldwell Jordan: Now enjoying retirement after many years as a dietician. Finds her three children and eight grandchildren a great hobby. Left for California in late June with Phyllis; planned to visit her sons, Jean Field Faires, and, of course, any Lasell friends they found en route.

Harriette Case Bidwell: Just the best Class Agent around. Besides her three daughters and six grandchildren, she has the hobbies of stamps, bells, and colored slides of covered bridges and churches; and, to quote her: "following dust trail around house with vacuum and dust cloth as companions — also, a director of Old Peoples Home to insure place for self!" Thank you Harriette for taking care of insignia, lovely white rose corsages, and blue parasols with '22 on them.

Miriam Chollett Bershon: How fine to have her and Frances back for Reunion. Her doctor husband, two sons and one grandson are her life.

Violet Comley Peirce: Didn't remember there was an Alice before that Violet — three children, four grandchildren — so happy to see her at Saturday dinner.

Florence Day Wentworth: Whatever would we do without Flossie at Reunion? Her hat served as centerpiece at Pillar House dinner — it's a good thing she changed her reservations for Expo 67. Son Crawford and two children must have a time keeping up with her — she is definitely the Zsa Zsa Gabor of '22!

Grace Gates Brown: Hobbies of bird-watching, gardening and "shelling" when in Florida along with a bit of hunting and fishing. Has two children, seven grandchildren.

Marjorie Gifford Grimm: She and George lead a busy life . . . their daughter with one child and doctor son with four children, and church and civic interests keep them on their toes.

Helene Grashorn Dickson: Good thing Laurence combined business and pleasure this year and brought Helene east for Reunion. They have two children: George and Jean (Dickson Treveiler '49), six granddaughters and one grandson.

Josephine Holbrook Metzger: "Joe" also boasts a Lasell daughter — Lynn Metzger Pharo, '45. She has two grandchildren; keeps busy in civic work, is a "working" trustee at church and on the Board of Directors of Cinnaminson House nearby.

Eleanor Knight Bowering: Organist and choir director at Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Braintree, with active groups within the church doing "Mary Poppins" (seventy-five times to date); an art and music program with color slides; a soloist husband — two children and five grandchildren. Never a dull moment.

Marjorie Lovering Harris: Sincere thanks to daughter Ann (Harris Hughes '55) for wading through my crazy handwriting to type this report, and to the rest of the family for eating meals surrounded by "things Lasell" for months before Reunion. Son Dean loves railroads and music. I keep busy as secretary of the church Circle, volunteer at Lawrence Memorial Hospital, on Board of Home for Aged (third generation), choir "Mother" for 30 adults and 30 junior choir members, and am rounding out my 16th year as a telephone representative for Curtis Circulation Co.

Elizabeth Madiera Campbell: Our "world travelers," for she and Lawrence annually visit new areas of the globe. Painting and photography continue to be their hobbies.

Edrie Mahaney Rathburn: So proud of her son, a Major in the U.S. Army Engineering Corps now stationed in Turkey with his wife and three children. Being dietician at a nearby hospital (with a staff of 40 under her) keeps her busy.

Phyllis Rafferty Shoemaker: Our "farthest-traveling '22er," and it's almost impossible to keep up with her. She arrived May 9th, and before heading West with Dot Caldwell Jordan on June 28th she visited with friends from Belfast, Maine to Alexandria, Virginia; from Cape Cod to Corning, N.Y. At home she is a member of Rep. Women's Club, on altar society of church, and Vice President of Watsonville Community Hospital Service League.

Mabel Rawlings Eckhardt: Garden and travel, her three sons and seven grandchildren fill her time, you may be sure.

Helen Stern: After all these years Helen found us! What a fine visit we had over the weekend — do keep in touch.

Louise Stevens Prince: Louise visits daughter Marilyn (Prince Karcher '49) and her two grandsons whenever possible. As secretary to the principal of So. Portland (Maine) High School, she keeps in close touch with young people and thoroughly enjoys her work — not ready for retirement yet.

Thelma Schweitzer White: Accompanied to Reunion by cousin Herma Schweitzer Comstock '21 — so nice Herma came again this year for she renewed acquaintances with many '22ers. Thelma has two girls and a boy.

We sincerely wish that the rest who took time to write could have been with us at Reunion. Now to let you know a bit about them. . . .

Florence Archibald Stanly: Two children, five grandchildren ("smartest in the world!") and church work keep her and George busy. Enjoyed a visit from Phyllis this year when she was en route from the Philippines.

Ana Clark Keith: We hope each reunion will bring her back from Costa Rica. Takes the gold star with three children and thirteen grandchildren. Gives time to the Old Peoples Home and travels extensively to see her family in South America and in Europe. A promise to babysit for Alice in Lima, Peru kept her away from Reunion this time.

Vera Clauer Hans: If only her summer visit to Boston had been in 1967 instead of '66!

Ethelle Cleale Collett: Mother of two Lasellites — Nancy Collett Hendricks '47 and Linda Collett Sutherland '60: One grandchild. Rotary commitments of her husband took them to New Brunswick — have purchased a Florida apartment to escape the Maine winters.

45th Reunion Group, Nason House, June, 1967

Marian Crawford McCole: One child and three grandchildren keep her busy.

Lucille Eichengreen Block: Two children and four grandchildren for this '22er.

Virginia Emmott Orr: Has two children, six grandchildren. Just returned from trip to Europe; attended a graduation on Reunion weekend.

Jean Field Faires: Still enjoys her music — "love to cook and so enjoy my friends, my church and work with the D.A.R. and P.E.O."

Rosamand Kent Boyce: Her daughter, twin son and daughter, their families, and husband who is a Food Analyst for U.S. Food and Drug Administration keep her busy.

Cecile Loomis Stuebing: Two children, six grandchildren; right now she and Carl are trying out country living; the future may find them leaving Houston, Texas. Cecile was general chairman of Texas D.A.R. State Conference last spring — sisters Marge (Loomis Collingwood '21) and Gene (Loomis Flagler '32) made their annual visit with Sis at Eastertime.

Sally Marks Gershal: Busy with two children, five grandchildren.

Mildred Melgaard Rees: Son Tom a former Assemblyman and Senator in State Legislature and now a Congressman in California. Son John a geographer working for his Ph.D. To quote Mildred: "my happiest and most absorbing 'hobby' is being a member of the Museum Service Council of our Art Museum, spending many hours there each week" — that with two small grandsons keeps one young.

Maxine Perry Hall: Daughter Hilda has three girls. Maxine and husband enjoy fishing the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Canada.

Bertha Phelps Bogg: One son, three grandchildren; summers at Stockbridge, Mass.

Margaret Reid Perry: Expo 67 was the culprit this June. Has two children, four grandchildren; still active in hospital work and plays golf; visits Dorothy Ely Bigham '21 each winter in Florida.

Mayno Seltzer Richmond: Daughter Norma working for Los Angeles police in fingerprinting and studying law. Son Howard is insurance agent in North Carolina. Favorite hobby is gardening; recent trip to Arizona.

Barbara Smith Huntington: Sure missed you but understood about "my little lady." How well we all remembered trustee, Mrs. Alice Smith Corbin and spoke of her at Reunion. To quote Babs: "my studio going two days a week — have fun with other people's youngsters and love 'em all."

Dorothy Smith Stefanides: Elected for sixth consecutive year as Vice President of the Dog Fanciers Assoc. of St. Petersburg; Hospitality Chairman of Show Committee. He hobby naturally is dogs and her beagle made AKC championship at 22 months.

Theresa Thompson Osborne: Two children, three grandchildren. Finds herself active in community activities, church, public health, Red Cross, Travel Club. Has been to Europe and twice to California.

Marie Washburn Higgins: Three children, eleven grandchildren. Small world to know that her daughter Nancy and Theresa's daughter Ann are good friends in Idaho Falls. Marie had hoped to attend Reunion but was needed at home.

Marian Westphal Newhall: Trips to Europe, Japan, Greece and Portugal. Was in Europe at Reunion time. Daughter Nancy Newhall MacKay '49 has two sons.

Marylou Weymouth Thompson: An interesting life, for her husband Ralph is a member of the Maine House of Representatives. Daughter Sally Thompson Carr '56 and two children sitting tight while Marine Captain Carr serves a tour in Viet Nam.

Olive Whitehead Denker: Son James and grandchildren Karen and Jeffrey are a great joy to her.

Lillian Wood Wood: To quote her: "two sons and two stepsons, six grandchildren and eight step-grandchildren — anyone willing to do my Christmas shopping??" She is still secretary at Alumnae Office of Wheaton College. Hobbies are knitting and the completion of a 9 x 12 braided rug. She and husband belong to Massachusetts Archeology Society and have a large collection of artifacts — do some antiquing also.

Jean Woodward Nelson: Visited with her sisters last fall — Josephine Woodward Rand '10 and Nell Woodward Collins '15. Daughter Jeane has one son; is lecturing at Boston School of Occupational Therapy at Tufts. Jean writes: "There is no place lovelier than New England unless it is Arizona where I had a February visit with son and wife."

A final word or two: Before too long a small "vignette" for the Class will be printed in California; thank you for my gift of the lovely Lamp pin; it has been wonderful to visit with you all — in person and via Uncle Sam; start saving pennies for 1972; keep news of yourself coming my way; have a most happy summer.

Marjorie Lovering Harris, Secretary

The 40th Reunion was, without a doubt, one of the best and most spirited of all. From the first greeting at Lasell to the last goodbyes at my home, the enthusiasm and cordiality were truly heart-warming.

The luncheon at Winslow Hall was great fun. A greeting from President DeBaun was followed by a brief statement from a representative of each reunioneering class, and we had 19 present. Later we met at the "Highlands" for cocktails and dinner. Several husbands came too; the evening was truly gala.

True, some of us were rounder, some blonder, some grayer, but we all agreed that we looked and felt more like 25th Reunioners than you-know-what.

Lucy Field Wildman, who came with her husband from Charleston, had been on a six-weeks' trip, including Expo 67.

Marjorie Maxfield Smith has a fascinating new job as secretary to three trial lawyers.

Marta Aspegren Parker came from Washington with Mary Etta Williams Sharpe.

Genie McEdwards Bunting has four children, six grandchildren and had just attended her youngest daughter's college graduation.

Rosanna McConnell Wallis drove with Loretta Krause Eyer, has three children, 11 grandchildren and is an Alderwoman in the Presbyterian church. Lotty has one son and two granddaughters.

Edith Bronstein Silverman attended with her husband William. They have two married sons.

Mary Keim Tietze, who showed us pictures of her beautiful daughters, had just returned from a trip to Italy with her husband.

Esther Josselyn, our dedicated Class Agent, had just recovered from appendicitis.

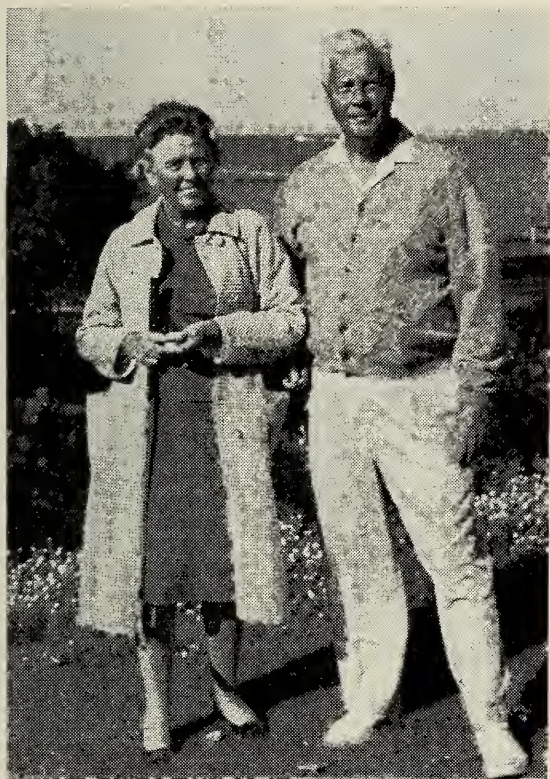

Edith Thorpe VanDine brought husband Charles along. Other Reunioners with spouses in tow included Gladys Boardman Amos, Eleanor Bills Richard, Ruth Woodman Higginbotham, and yours truly.

The dinner was delicious. We noticed that the lovely centerpiece was made of our class flower, the chrysanthemum, and each Reunioner received a favor.

From our notes we learned that: Virginia Wellington Fauver is building a new home; Marie Dibell Redfield was expecting her daughter and family, and Madalyn Patten Hoberg is coming East this fall to visit her daughter in Wellesley.

Bada Waltz Shaw has three married children; Minnie Remick Dandison continually travels around the world with her husband, who is with the International Executive Corps . . . they just returned from Lebanon.

We extend sincere sympathy to Theresa Thompson Osborne, whose husband, Donald C. Osborne, died on August 10, 1967 at Bangor, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil G. Dandison
(Minnie Remick '27)

Janette Smock Simpson was attending a nephew's wedding Reunion weekend; Ruth Dunning was expecting her son home on leave.

Jean Duncan Braun was leaving for Florida to visit her married son . . . Jean has another in the Army. Edith Stone Owen has built a home in Dorset, Vt. and has her antique business there. Minerva Damon Ludewig left in June for a long-planned trip to Africa. Sylvia Chandler Hooker has one son and two grandchildren.

Christine Oby Jones helps her husband crew their boat to and from Fort Vanderdale and Lake Erie via the Intracoastal Erie Canal. She has two children and five grandchildren. Dorothy Quimby Faure has two sons and three grandchildren, lives in Tucson, Arizona and extends a cordial invitation to all '27ers to stop by when in or near Tucson. Bea Senter Kimball lives in San Mateo, California. She has one married daughter and two grandchildren, one son in college. Our sympathy to Bea, who lost her husband last year.

There were many other notes. All extended cordial greetings to the Class.

On Sunday my husband David and I invited all to a cocktail party at our home from four to seven. Everyone seemed to enjoy it thoroughly and it was unanimously agreed that this had truly been a memorable Reunion.

Rosalie Brightman Rosen

When shared with others of the same vintage, a 35th Reunion can be a very pleasant experience indeed. After all, like some fine wines there is a chance that we just might have improved with age! At any rate, it is a good opportunity to catch up on friends' activities and to reminisce. In the light of the world at the moment, our Lasell days were seemingly free of problems.

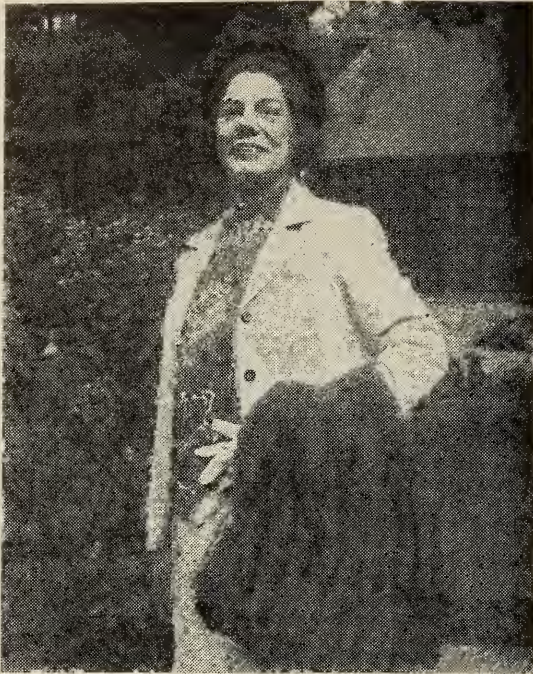

The physical aspect of Lasell has changed considerably — as have some of us; and enlarged in size — as have some of us. But certainly the College is on the move. The student models at the post-luncheon fashion show at Winslow were an attractive group. As we watched them display culottes, mini-skirts and bikinis, however, it was impossible not to think back to our days, when the accepted sports attire was black serge bloomers!

A reunion highlight was the return of a person we were particularly happy to see — Frances Badger, Lasell '24 and 1932's Class Advisor.

Our class holds the distinction of claiming Lasell's Alumnae Secretary as a member. In addition to the chores connected with her work, Marge MacClymon was the motivating force behind our Reunion plans — she and Lib Page Sealey were hostesses for a cocktail party at Marge's attractive apartment in Rockwell House, one of the more recently acquired college residences.

Frances Badger '24

Dolly Jarbeau '32

It is a matter of purely personal opinion, but it seems that the prize for the youngest-looking members of the Class of '32 must be split between Fran Turner Sleigh and Nat Park. Both live in the Boston area. Nat is Director of Athletics at Windsor School; Fran has taken up painting, teaches violin in the Wellesley Public Schools, and is a volunteer for the Boston Council for International Visitors. She is also the Grandmother of NINE!

Among 1932's most loyal Reunioners: Mildred Guyett, who next year will have completed 25 years of work at the Rochester Hospital; Carolyn Sproat Spigner, who faithfully remembers to bring our old, but untheaten banner; Edith Parsons Booth, retiring from her business this year; Flora Marshall Mueller, Margaret Hrubec, also wise enough to have retired; Eleanor Small Domina, Muriel Morse Henrich, and Gert Hooper Ring, who, as our Class Agent, would be happy to hear from any of you who have not responded to her plea.

Nice to see Ann Litchfield Blamire and Barbara Merritt Batten, who traveled to Auburndale together, but disturbed to learn that Ann's husband had died suddenly in January, 1967. Helen Fitch Foley's looks belie the fact that she has had seven children (five grandchildren) since that day in June, 1932. She is a Teachers Aide in the Portland School System and has taken up ceramics! Marjorie Tarbell Quandt and her husband now operate a gift shop in Arlington. Much too long since we have seen Charlotte Cahners Glass, stimulating as ever.

May we never have a reunion without Casey. She it is who not only remembers all our little idiosyncracies and the episodes we thought we had put behind us, BUT, the words of all our songs. Julia is Director of Athletics for the Manchester, Conn. School System.

Welcome communications via telephone came from Helene Jones Pressel and Agnes Metcalf Cannon — thank you both for your thoughtfulness.

Also, from notes gleaned from those unable to attend: Dolly Jarbeau, "measurements STILL 32-26-36" and her picture verifies these astounding figures. She confesses to being a "secret Rebel," having endured two weeks of detention for daring to wear a pair of long sparkling earrings on stage at the Orphean Concert in Symphony Hall. Last year Dolly was chairman of a program celebrating the 50th year of the Womens' Club of Great Neck — an outstanding club with classes in languages, dressmaking, rug-hooking, Braille, drama, music and social services. By the way, Dolly champions the youth of today, especially the unpublicized ones.

Ann Paxton Wildman, "with us in spirit," reports that her son is married and attending law school. Her daughter, who was an exchange student at The Alliance Francais in Paris (Ann joined her at Christmas for a five-week vacation) is now in college in Ohio. Ann keeps busy with volunteer work in the Springfield (Ohio) Community Hospital.

Received welcome news from Jane Ellison Ragan. Besides carrying 15 credit hours in Rollins College's Master of Arts Program, Jane took a strenuous eight-week practice teaching period in music at a junior high school in Orlando, Fla. this spring. Following receipt of her degree this June, she plans to teach next year. Her husband is the new Provost of Omega College, University of West Florida in Pensacola.

Dorothy Taggart Krumsieg was unable to be with us in Auburndale, since she was attending her youngest daughter's commencement exercises at Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. She writes: "We still see Gene Loomis Flagler and her husband regularly. She is a wonderful friend."

Rachael DeWolf has moved to 1920 S. Ocean Drive, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. "to the land of milk and honey. No more snow and flu bugs for me! Give my regards to one and all. I remember each face, each girl — don't need to see their pictures!"

Betty Clark Fryling regrets missing the reunion but was in process of moving to New Jersey where her husband has been transferred. She reports that her oldest "bachelor" was married in February . . . "now all three are off my hands!"

Minerva Prichard Barratt had originally planned to attend, but she and newly-retired husband (37 years with G.E.) moved to Vero Beach, Fla. on June 1st. New address is: 602 Tuly's Lane, V.B. Her son and family of three live in Louisville, Ky., and Dickie and her husband are planning trips — Europe and Hawaii are first on the list.

Gene Loomis Flagler reports that her two sons are married to lovely Southern girls, and live fairly close. Gene keeps busy as chairman of her Church Circle, and registrar of the local chapter of the D.A.R.

Another fugitive from the land of snow-tires is Barbara Stanley Ulrich, who lives at 1410 S.E. 4 Ave., Pompano Beach, Fla. She writes: "The days are just as short in Florida as in Connecticut, and one has as much to do. First is the job of serving as president of the women of the church for the past two years, as well as the regular calling on our visitors of the church. Since 1961 have been a Precinct Chairman — a 365-day-a-year job if I would allow it to be. If you're wondering, I'm one of those extreme right-wingers — or as we know it, a Constitutional American. I pray for the young women at Lasell, and watch the News for word of proud American speakers and fewer folk singers. Anybody for the Truth? Write to me. To those whom I still love, but ignore, forgive me. I'm the world's WORST letter writer."

From Enid Jackson Giles: "My how I wish I could be with you. Hello to all." Enid's daughter Kay is attending summer school at Fairleigh Dickenson in Madison, Wisconsin and sails August 28th for Florence, Italy with the Smith College Junior Year Abroad Group.

We had High Hopes that Gertrude Dupuis McGrath would be "among those present." Her statement "If the weather is good, I'll not be able to join you," proved true. Gertrude and her husband were attending a private plane-owner's conclave in Pennsylvania.

Another last-minute cancellation came from Ruth Kniep Blanchard in nearby Topsfield. The Blanchard family took advantage of "guesting" at the Maine shore.

Marion Freeman was not fully recovered from a recent hospitalization; Mary Whitaker Briggs postponed the trip from Crown Point, Indiana. Mary and daughter Robin have promised to visit when they come East in the early fall.

We were indeed saddened to learn of the death of Charlotte Moreau Sauve. Charlotte died in October 1966. To her family, and more especially to her daughter, Paulette Sauve Bergeron '61, the Class extends sincere sympathy. Our sympathy also to Carol Griffin Teich and to her daughter, Linda (Teich Bennett '60). Carol's husband passed away on June 16, 1967.

As with your Class Secretary, I am still very much involved with my Flower Drying business, and work at it about 10 months of the year. It involves growing and drying the flowers (last year over 6000), making arrangements and selling them. Last year they were displayed at Tiffany's, The Metropolitan Museum (in the American Room) and, as a contrast, the Clubhouse at Aqueduct Raceway! This spring my sister-in-law took me on a marvelously interesting five-week trip to South America — to Peru by ship, then flying to Chile, Argentina and Brazil. Last spring I had a delightful visit with Mary Lib McNair in Baltimore. She is also involved with flowers — an accredited judge of the Garden Club of America. One of my daughters is working in New York; the others are still in college. This summer, one twin is working in Paris, the other in Maine at Outward Bound, an all-boys camp! Our middle daughter has a job in Belgium so you can imagine how we look forward to their letters!

Elizabeth McIntire Bennert '33, Marge MacClymon '32 and Mary Tucker x-'32

Again, our thanks to Lib and Mac for entertaining us so handsomely. All best wishes to you, and may we meet again soon.

. . . K.H.M.

Our 30th Reunion was a most pleasant and memorable occasion. We heard from 47 "girls" and 22 were able to join us at one time or another — some just for luncheon. Meta Searles Hopkins was very involved with her daughter's graduation from Nasson College, but attended the Friday night dinner. There were 17 '37ers, plus Corrine Gossweiler Ross' pretty daughter Cynthia, who were able to get together at Tap's beautiful home for a pool party, cocktails and dinner. Frances Austin Ferris and Lucille Huse Chappell had planned to be with us but unexpected events prevented their appearance. It was wonderful to see those present and to hear news from those unable to attend, but we did miss many of our "silent members!" Maybe next time.

We really do have fun and would love to see each and every one. It is always a pleasant surprise to find how quickly we renew our friendships and feel so well acquainted after all these years. Those present agreed that we were so smart to "own" Tap as her lovely home and ever-present cordiality are unsurpassed and to have a beautiful pool added — well really — who could ask for anything more! Many thanks to "Daddy Higgins" too. We consider him a valuable addition to the Class of '37.

We heard from Marjorie Hills Buffington that she has been living in Pasadena, California for 16 years and loves it. Her husband is a professor at California Institute of Technology. Son Steve, 26, is a graduate of the Sorbonne in Paris. He still lives there and works for the New York Times in Paris. He was home last summer for a two-month visit. Son Roger, 24, is a graduate of California State College. He works for the Allstate Insurance Co. and is married but as yet Marjorie is not a grandmother. She keeps busy with various activities and enjoys the Alumnae group in her area.

Our thanks to Eleanor Kenney Hettrick for the cute card, several snapshots and newsy letter. I am sure Eleanor wins the prize for having the youngest offspring —

"Old Mother Hettrick and The Gremlins"
(Eleanor Kenney '37)

Brian, age 3. Statistics on her nice family are as follows: Rick, 26, is married and lives in Peoria. He is manager and assistant buyer in a large department store. Alice, 19, just finished her first year at Illinois State University as a physical education major and will be Aquatic Director at a Girl Scout camp this summer. Chuck, the baby we saw in 1962, is now six years old and then there is Brian. Eleanor says he is a typical "Dennis the Menace" — full of mischief but very lovable. Eleanor's husband Bill is the Architectural Superintendent on a seven million dollar Mental Health Clinic by day — and evenings and weekends a builder of a new home for the Hettricks. Eleanor keeps busy with the many activities involving her lively family and outside activities too. We were also pleased to hear news of Eleanor's sister Elizabeth (class of '36). Elizabeth is living in Plainfield, N.J. with her husband, Mel and son Jack, a junior in college.

Isabel Wyatt Asselta was with us at Tap's and reports that since our 25th her daughter Beverly has graduated from Simmons, toured Europe, worked in D.C. for a year, joined the government and now is a Federal Revenue Officer with headquarters in Rutland, Vermont. Son John, 16, is a sophomore at Lexington High School — skier, boatman, too. We were sorry to hear that Isabel lost both her mother and father in recent years. Her husband works at Hanscom Air Base for the Air Force.

Marjorie Gilbert Wiggin has a new address: 1674-15th Ave., N.W. Seattle, Washington. Midge was unable to be with us as her son Dan was graduating from high school. He was Student Body President and received an award for the most outstanding graduate. Congratulations to Dan who will enter Yale in the fall. Midge's daughter, son-in-law and two granddaughters live in the state of Washington so she sees them frequently. Midge's husband is now in the Airplane Division of Boeing. The Waggins enjoyed a visit from Anne Tipton Gardner and her husband last year.

Miriam Goff Macuen writes that she and her husband moved to Bennington, Vermont in 1965 and enjoy it very much. "Goofie" is secretary to the Curator of the Bennington Museum and it sounds like a busy, involved program — but most interesting too. The Museum's excellent glass collection, along with over 4,000 pieces of original Bennington pottery are shown throughout the country. "Goofie" invites anyone in that area to drop in.

Betty Doe Peaslee reports that she had all intentions of making our 30th, but a combination of events — arrival of husband's new cabin cruiser and son Jim's first car, and seeing off daughter Jane, who flew to Hawaii to be with her paratrooper husband for six days — made it impossible.

The Stone Family
(Dorothy Acuff '37)

Mary Ruth Sanford was sorry to miss our 30th but was in Florida. She stays at The New Ellinor Village, Armond Beach, Florida from November until May.

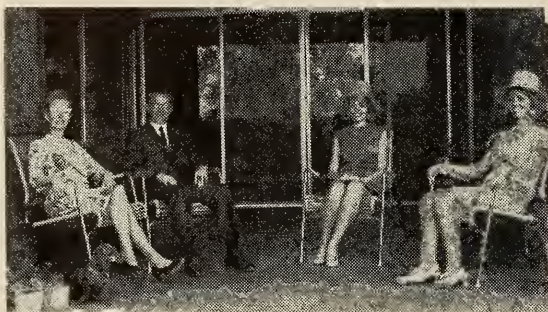

Florence Stetson Pipes lives in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. and writes that she had hoped to be with us. She has been ill since February and it really spoiled many plans.

Dorothy Acuff Stone writes that all is well with her nice family. She has two darling grandchildren. Her second daughter, Sue, plans to attend Colby Junior College in the fall. Her love of skiing took her away from Lasell. Dottie's son Jim is going to prep school next year so she is glad that 14-year-old Cathy will still be at home to keep things "hopping."

Janet Owens DeArment reports that her daughter Anne was married in May. As usual, her husband George's M.I.T. Reunion conflicted with ours. This year distance prevented Janet from attending either.

Irene Dreissigacker Brimlow was involved with graduations and could not join us. Renie's twin daughters will enter Lasell in the fall.

Anne Tipton Gardner had planned to be with us but accepted a new position with the Ford Company and became involved in a training program. Anne writes that her husband Carroll is National and International Sales Manager for Clark Door Co. and travels about 90% of the time. Her son Chris graduated from MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill. in May. Son Edward (Tip) will be a senior in high school next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Cooper with Bonnie and Peggy
(Betty Olson '37)

He is associate editor of the yearbook and was elected treasurer of the Student Council.

We extend heartfelt sympathy to Priscilla Greig Jones, whose husband passed away very unexpectedly last October. Priscilla's daughter Cynthia graduated from Colby College in 1965 and is now working for the Defense Department at Fort Meade, Maryland. Her son Howard Jr. will attend the University of Maine in the fall.

Betty Olson Cooper writes from Escondido, California that her daughter Bonnie was married on June 10th so she is much involved. Betty's main occupation is "service to others" like all the rest of the mothers but she also enjoys cooking, gardening, reading and making crewel pictures. She also has taken courses in flower arranging. Betty's younger daughter Peggy is a busy high school senior and plans to attend the University of Redlands next September. Her husband Gerry is controller of Simpson Instruments Co. Betty attends the Southern California Lasell Club luncheons when possible and enjoyed meeting Dr. DeBaun when he was in Pasadena last February.

Constance Griffin Lehoux informed us that she was married in 1954 and has three lovely girls aged seven, nine and 11 who keep her busy. She also has a part time job as Assistant Treasurer of a small utility — the Concord Steam Corp.

Anne Campbell Terrill regrets that she had other plans for Reunion weekend. Her son Jim was married April 8th in Pensacola at the Naval Air Station Chapel. His new wife is teaching there until she can join Jim in Adak, Alaska. Anne's younger son David plans to enter graduate school next year following his graduation from Maryville College. In the fall Anne and her husband plan a trip to Europe. Meanwhile, her three volunteer jobs keep her well occupied.

Barbara Fowler Hoyt joins us in feeling it can't be 30 years! Barbie writes that she has the same marvelous husband and three great kids. Robert (20) is a political science major at Oglethorpe College; Ann (18) is majoring in drama at Centenary College and working at the Westport Country Playhouse this summer; and Jane (14) is . . . being Jane! Barbie is very fond of her modern home and is very active in the child welfare field. Currently she is on the state's Social Welfare Board and also substitutes in public school kindergartens to keep her hand in. Barbie's husband is Assistant Treasurer of the Singer Co. and Barbie has joined him on trips to South America and Europe. Also enjoyed a trip to the Caribbean. Barbie says she is no longer "scrawny" and has streaked her hair a bit!

Barbara Burnham Rice had planned to be with us but last-minute complications prevented her attending. Babs and her family have returned to the U.S.A. once again and are living in Centerville, Delaware. They are feeling much too busy but admit it does keep life interesting. Babs hopes to come to New England soon.

Jane Eldridge Meaney was too involved to join us this year. She reminded us that it is the first reunion she has missed, and we missed her too. Jane's older daughter Carol is an O.T. Assistant at the Philadelphia Psychiatric Center and as of July 1st will be in charge of the adolescent section. Jane thinks she will be quite understanding as she is just a bit beyond adolescence herself!

Sandy Redfield and Father
(Louise Visel '37)

Number two daughter Pat will enter the 8th grade in September and is an honor roll student. She is a typical 13-year-old! Husband Edwin and Jane celebrated their 25th Anniversary. Jane plays golf and works for the hospital shop.

Louise Visel Redfield was one of the "faithfuls" who could not join us this year. It was her Howie's birthday and we wish him many happy returns! Thanks for the pictures of your lovely daughter Sandy in her bridal gown with her handsome Dad, and pretty Pat as Junior Prom Queen.

Glennys Preston Allicon joined us for luncheon and our party at Tap's. She reports that her daughter Elizabeth graduated from high school this June. In April 1967 her husband Phil was appointed Deputy Adjutant General for the state of Vermont. Glennys keeps busy being active in her community.

Lucille Huse Chappell had planned to be with us from start to finish but an unexpected trip to the hospital prevented her joining us.

It was nice to see Ruth Tyacke Stone at our luncheon. Her "news" is typical of the Ruth we knew 30 years ago: "Nothing earth-shattering here; three children, two horses, one dog, one Siamese cat — no space flights!"

We were sad that a last-minute complication prevented Frances Austin Ferris from being with us as she had planned. Frankie reports that she has two children — Bob, 21, is in the Air Force stationed at Hanscom Field and Bedford and thus, happily, able to live at home. Susie is attending the Mansfield Beauty Academy and loves it. Fran is still Chief Dietician at Symmes Hospital in Arlington and says it gets busier and more frustrating every day. It does, however, keep her from getting bored.

Helen Flint Moody was with us for luncheon but was involved in a family get-together later on. Helen reports that son Jonathan has completed two years at Yale Divinity School and will be Assistant Chaplain at Colby College for the next academic year. He will be married in August — his wife will be a Colby senior — then they will return to New Haven for Jon's last year at Yale. Son David is at Great Lakes Training Center and is in the Navy for four years. He spent two years at a technical school and is in Radar school now. Helen is still a church secretary. She and her husband Fred love to go camping in their tent trailer.

Virginia Webb Tompkins was present from start to finish . . . one of six who stayed overnight in the Lasell dorm. We had a grand chat and many laughs. Ginna has three children — John A. Jr., 16, who plays guitar in a band at Grosse Pointe High School; Marianne, 13, a 7th-grader at Grosse Pointe University School and Ginna Jr., 7, a first-grader. Husband Jack is Vice President of American Airlines and believe me they are a much-traveled couple!

Edith Fitzgerald Arnold joined us for luncheon and Tap's and we were so glad she could make it. Edith's daughter Connie will be a senior in high school next year and is considering Lasell as a college choice.

It was nice to see Augusta Williamson Lips at dinner Friday night and Saturday luncheon. Billie reports that they have lived in Larchmont on Long Island for 16 years and love it there. Billie keeps busy with volunteer work in schools, church and hospital. Husband Paul is a busy architect in New York and is also active in community affairs. They have one son, Peter, who will enter architectural school at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio in the fall. They had another "son" this year . . . an American Field Service student who was a delight to them all.

Jean Meady caught up with us at Tap's and had news of some of our other classmates too. Jean has a fine job and loves every minute of it . . . still surprised to find herself a "career girl" as she found both shorthand and typing rather uninteresting 30 years ago! Jean is also active in the political field and campaigns vigorously when needed. She has two nieces that have been a joy, and now finds being a Great-Aunt is just the "greatest." Jean informed us that Gert McEvoy Rice was involved in a wedding and could not join us. She had also talked with Barby Harding Kakas and we were sorry to hear that Barby's husband Gordon was in the hospital.

Barbara Wheeler Sampson arrived in time for our Lasell luncheon and get-together at Tap's. Barbara was pleased that roommate Betty Tracy McCampbell was able to spend the night before with her. "Wee-Wee's" son Donald graduated in June as a mechanical engineer from the University of Massachusetts.

Betty Tracy McCampbell joined us for the first time in 30 years and we were delighted to see her. She just barely made connections as she and her husband had returned from a recent trip to Europe. Betty had pictures to show us of her attractive family of four — Dad too, and also her Georgia homes.

Eleanor Martini Turton sent us a telegram as follows: "Dear Tap and girls — sorry unable to be with you — pacing floor waiting to be grandmother again — hope to see you all next reunion. Signed — Granny Butch."

A letter from Gertrude McEvoy Rice to Jean and Butch tells us that Gert was with the Class of '37 in spirit but just could not be in two places at once. Gert, her husband Gene, and brother Art are planning a trip to Italy in July.

Ann Durgin Cliff was with us at Tap's and brought us up to date on her family's status. Ann is busy and successful in the real estate business and finds it most interesting.

Barbara Potter Fyfe arrived at Tap's and we were so pleased she could make it. Bobbie brought us news of Emily Saxton Braman, who wished she were with us, but was involved in her daughter Lee's wedding plans.

Virginia Gately Hennessy was on hand for luncheon and Tap's and brought us up to date on her active family. Ginny looks grand; many of us cast envious glances at her slim figure.

Corinne Gossweiler Ross was also with us from start to finish and brought her very pretty daughter Cynthia. We were delighted to see Corinne and Cynthia was a sweet addition to our group. Corinne told us of her nice family and had pictures of darling grandchildren, too.

Frances Woodruff Saunders joined the group at Tap's. She reports that she has been married 29 years — has four children and (class record) three grandchildren. Fran is busy with the usual suburban involvements; Camp Fire Girls, Chairman of the District Committee, and on television program "Dateline Boston" in March 1961. Also active in church work, Women's Republican Club and has a part time job. Husband Bob is active in the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Lexington Minute Men so they do lots of boating and attend many parades and military balls up and down the East Coast. Daughter Ellen and family live in Manchester, Conn.; daughter Martha and family in Lacrosse, Wisconsin.

Countessa Wood Hall writes that she was sad not to be with us. Says her latchkey is always out to '37ers and they are listed in Miami phone book under A. C. Hall. Connie's husband is a retired Air Force Colonel and is Treasurer of Belcher Oil Co. The Halls met in Puerto Rico; current hobby and joy is their cruiser, "Countessa," in which they sail the Florida Keys and fish. Connie is editor of the Coral Reef Yacht Club "Reef Points" and the Dinner Key Cruising Club "Bulletin." Husband A. C. is a past Commodore at this club. Connie's mother joins her in sending the Class of 1937 their best.

Rae Salisbury Richards, our "ever faithful," arrived for all events and kept things hopping as only "Aunt Rae" can do. Her pajamas, purchased especially for our dorm party, were just the MOST and we were so glad to see pictures of her three attractive children. We never did get around to a song, but there is always the 35th!

It was nice to see Louise Hedlund Mercer at Saturday luncheon but other plans hustled her away from the rest of Reunion.

Lois Small Redden dropped in to join our dorm party Friday night but previous engagements kept her away the rest of the time.

Edythe Cummings Mileikis was among those present and is as peppy as a 16-year-old — especially in the pool.

Evelyn Towle Slotnick was with us at Tap's. Couldn't have a Reunion without Evie!

We contacted Sophia Regas Caragiannis and she had hoped to join us, but other engagements interfered.

We extend heartfelt sympathy to Catherine Laffin Majoney, whose husband George passed away suddenly about a week before Reunion. George was Insurance Commissioner for the State of Maine. Kitty, her five daughters and son live in Readfield, Maine.

As far as our President, Louise Tardwiel Higgins, is concerned, I repeat we are so lucky to "own" her. Tap's daughter Marielle is married and lives in New York. Son Richard will be a sophomore at Purdue; daughter Nellee-Mae will be in the 9th grade in Weston next year. Then there is Susan, and there is only one Susan! She will be in the first grade, and is an actress to say the very least. Husband Charlie ('37's Mascot) operates the Bay State Truck Lease, Inc. in Boston in his usual efficient manner. Tap and Charlie have toured Europe, and taken trips to the West Coast and the Caribbean. For several years they have met Marian Sleeper Hall and husband Bob in Florida and spent some time together. Sorry Marian was unable to be with us. She has two charming daughters; one is married. The younger graduated from Colby College in June. Tap is still most active in Lasell affairs, both as an Alumnae Board member and Trustee. She also enjoys her Garden Club, church work and most of all just being Tap, faithful friend to all — always ready to lend an ear or a helping hand. Still has that ever-present sense of humor. Again our thanks to her for making her home available for '37 Reunioners throughout the years.

As for me — Priscilla Parmenter Madden — may I say many thanks for all the kind wishes received during my recent "upset." Feel much better now. My daughter Marcia (Lasell '62) reunioned this June too — her 5th. Marcia is a registered O.T. and is working at D.C. General Hospital. She lives in Arlington, Virginia. Daughter Marilyn, now 22, attends the Charles River Workshop for Retarded Adults. Marilyn is our sunshine — loves her workshop and feels most successful bringing home her pay envelope each month. Needless to say, both Leo and I are active and interested in the Retarded Association, of which we are members. I will not be able to teach my nursery school group any more but expect to do much volunteer work. My husband Leo is presently the Chief Resident Engineer in charge of constructing the South Postal Annex . . . will take at least three years to complete; it's enormity is appalling.

Again thanks from T. and T. to all who sent us news. It was wonderful to chat with all those attending Reunion. Hope to hear from you others as time goes along . . . love to see you all at our 35th. Until then — all good wishes from Tillie.

If you missed the 25th Reunion, you missed a really good time. Those of us who attended "had a ball," — agreed that the weekend was an unqualified success.

Much of the credit, and a well-deserved vote of thanks goes to the committee. Dodie Mosher Stone handled all the mailing and ran down new addresses, while Noel Temple Martinson arranged the Saturday evening dinner (excellent) at the Cottage Crest Restaurant in Waltham. Bunny Sennott Iris outfitted everyone at the luncheon with green and silver hats with '42 on the brim, and Ruth Turner Crosby did a very thorough job putting together the Reunion Booklet with names and addresses of all class members and the information received from the questionnaires.

Eleven of us stayed overnight at Woodland: Betty Allen, Jean Barnes Butts, Ricky Bowlend Eckoff, Doris Bracher Jenkins, Barbara Colleston Moore, Connie Jones Messier, Margot Moore Harley, Dodie Mosher Stone, Sally Nolan Williams, Gwen Prouty Bellinger, and Virginia Robinson Nast.

After lunch, the rest of the reunioners trooped into Woodland's lounge, which we used as unofficial headquarters. The girls included Dot Higson White, Marcia Corey Hanson, Louise Cook Pangborn, Barbara Rockwell Tweddle, Grace Johnson Johnson, Charlotte Bragg Burke, Phyllis Johnson Klein, June Cherry Bruns, Marion Beers Jamieson, Louise Freeman Combs, Barbara Kelly Morell, Jean Hardy Canedy, Ruth Turner Crosby, and Virginia Porter Kerrigan.

There was a short meeting after dinner on Saturday. Jean Barnes Butts won the prize for traveling the longest distance to the reunion — from St. Louis. Mary Ann Fisher Espy, from West Virginia, and Virginia Porter Kerrigan, from Toronto, ran a close second. Helen Cizek Niedringhaus arrived from New York just in time for dinner. Ciz came back to the dorm with the rest of us for a showing by Virginia Robinson Nast of color movies her father had taken of the crew races, crowning of the May Queen, the daisy chain and our Commencement. Naturally we added our own sound track to the film, as familiar faces flashed on the screen.

Class notes in the LEAVES have been so few and far between that we decided to try a new approach. We asked two enthusiastic members — Virginia Robinson Nast and Jean Barnes Butts — to serve as class scribes for the next five years. They are both anxious to receive any and all news items and pictures for future issues of our LEAVES. Let's go, 1942'ers!

. . . M.M.H.

Tintilating Excerpts from the 25th Reunion Booklet:

Barbara Edwards Percival writes: "Disappointed at thought of missing our 25th reunion . . . the family leaves for London this summer for at least three years. Address after September 1, 1967 will be 8 Edwardes Square, Kensington, London, England, W8."

Charlotte Hall Hill says "You've got to be kidding! It hasn't been 25 years since we were the 'Queens of the Campus!' But then figures don't lie — 1942-1967 — yep, a quarter of a century, all right. Have seen Mary Metzger Simpson several times . . . she's the only one of the Pixilated Pixies of Pickard I've seen in years. Do see my roomie, Dorothea Godfrey once in a while, and hear from Betty Allen. Other than those, I haven't bumped into any Lasell girls since we said our farewell to the Crow's Nest."

Dorothy Winchester Mason's husband, Neale, is conductor of the Owensboro Civic Orchestra in Kentucky. Also plays cello in the Memphis Symphony Orchestra, is author of a college textbook on music, and teaches music at Murray State University. Dot stays busy with house, children, and piano students!

Jeanne Nestler Dart has five children, "all born in different states." Husband Bob is an Army officer, and the Darts have also spent three years in Europe. For the past three years they have been in Washington, D.C. while Bob was at the Pentagon, and now he is on a year's tour in Vietnam. From there, who knows?

The Class of 1947 really responded to their 20th Reunion Questionnaires. Seventy-nine members sent in news of families, activities, jobs and joys. The roll call begins:

Helen Clay Bean and family fly to Auburndale every few years to visit grandparents; Helen often accompanies her husband on business trips in the West Coast area.

Full-time mothers include Barbara Shea Driscoll, Betty MacNeil Lentini, and Dorothy Donegan White, with six children each, and Gloria Secatore Walsh and Mary Brown Gorman who both have five.

"I love teaching," exclaims Betty Jane Anderson Jainike. She started teaching the 2nd grade in 1965 and is now studying for her Master's Degree, as well as caring for three teenagers and a doctor husband. Elda Volpe Van Wart plays the violin in the Springfield (Mass.) Community Orchestra; is also a member of the Women's Symphony League of the Springfield Orchestra Assoc. Substitute teaching and helping to establish a local branch of the American Association of University Women have been the two "main projects" of Nancy Stupak Parker this year. Nancy is also busy helping her husband put out the second edition of his book on skindiving.

"Just a housewife" is the way Mary Kay Murray Sutton puts it. Others in this delightful category include Florence Lomasney Saltzman, Mary Kenney O'Connell, Jane Bradley Anderson, Priscilla Stone Hird, and Jane Trott Burgon.

Activities of Corinne Bergen Higgins center around six children, their "extra-curricular items," their respective PTA meetings (five different schools) and a sail boat built by "the Captain of our lives" which houses all eight crew members. Alice Cahill Drown and family spend their summers in Brewster, on Cape Cod. Myrtle Beach, South Carolina is highly recommended by Esther Cornwell Osborne and her husband. That is where they spent their spring vacation . . . "beach-lovers and seafood fans." Esther works part time as a visiting nurse; husband Ray is vice-principal of a Connecticut high school.

Secretaries-turned-homemakers include: E. Frances Lake Gray, Ruthe Powers Wlodyka, Barbara Verchot Pierpont, and O. Susan Voss Harrigan. Secretaries-plus-homemakers include: Sally Waring Buffington and Jean Hargraves Chase.

(Peggy Beach '47)

Gloria Sylvia Paoella was a concert singer for ten years, and now teaches art in the New York school system. Gloria has her private pilot's license; she and her husband hope to buy their own plane in the near future. Joan Sloat Ziggins, an administrative supervisor for The Quaker Oats Co., was "really sorry to miss our 20th . . . will start planning now for the 25th."

Director of the American Red Cross in Port Allegany, Pa. is Trudy Rapp Griffith, who has taught swimming and First Aid for ten years. Trudy also raises and shows Cairn Terriers, and is presently Secretary of the Cairn Terrier Club of America.

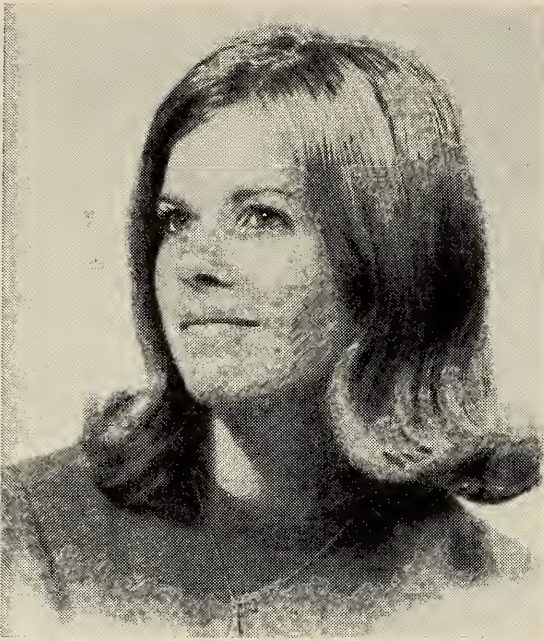

Lois Seidel Newell is a happy secretary and housewife down in South Carolina. Kit regrets missing Reunion but children Peter, Betsy and Meg's camp activities interfered. Barbara Rich Chase's family is truly a nautical one. Husband Freeman, daughters Linda and Cindy and sons Cliff and Clark have all won many trophies in sailboat racing. The Chase's live on the waterfront of Hingham Bay.

Fondest regards were sent by Peggy Beach Otis, who claims that she'd probably win the prize for having the grayest hair. Peggy keeps busy with community activities — she's Democratic precinct captain "in a very Republican town" — and "togetherness" activities with her husband and three children.

Busy with families and jobs: Mollie Kendrick Pike, a registered nurse; Shirley Johnson Dow, a kindergarten teacher; Elaine Capone Hixon, a finishing school teacher; Ruth Maxted Mental, a nursery school teacher; Lois Kenyon Brush, a private school teacher.

Betsy Frew is an assistant buyer and stylist in New York City; Nancy Pursel Tupper works for a retail promotion firm there. Jane Ayres Winthrop is credit manager for a clothing store and very active in local politics. Inda Dunn Dick is usually found on the ski slopes with her family when not working as a medical librarian at the Williamsport (Pa.) Hospital.

Twins Jean Fitzgerald Fitzpatrick and Joan Fitzgerald Cole live on opposite sides of the continent. Californian Jean is busy with three children; New Englander Joan enjoys traveling and golf.

(Barbara Rich '47)

Civic activities and community affairs keep Althea Thomas Sanborn, Mary Ellen Roberts Gill, Marcia Landick Desmond, Joan Lambert Laffin and Nancy Barbarossa Ruggles busy. Other suburbanites involved with this kind of thing are Carolyn Huntley Gentles, Janet Frandsen Blanchard, Elizabeth de-Chiara Capozzi, Carol Birath Dennison and Shirley Porter Snetsinger.

Joanne McMillan Mars has been a "lay reader" this year . . . correcting English compositions for a high school teacher and "very interesting," she says. Elizabeth Williams McGowan takes time out from her duties as mother and school librarian to attend yoga lessons. Dorothy Harvender Fuller "keeps my fingers in the business world" by doing part time typing and book-keeping for her township office.

House and child tending are pleasant duties for: Anita Triantafel Hatzis, Nancy Larsen Bailey, Joan Warriner Ryder, Marcia Kesseli Allen, Nancy Keim Doherty, Joan Cox Perkins, and Marty Taylor Sanderson. Ditto for: Sarah Cross Finigan, Millie Entwistle Harmon, Midge Leary Hacker, Carol Powles Delpo, and Phyllis Haviland Hildebrandt.

Laura Pascoe May has "lots of fun" raising Labrador Retrievers; Jean Morgan Koenitzer is a housewife and a Peck and Peck employee "on the side;" Sally Conner Bell and family have a new boat and plan to explore the Maine coast.

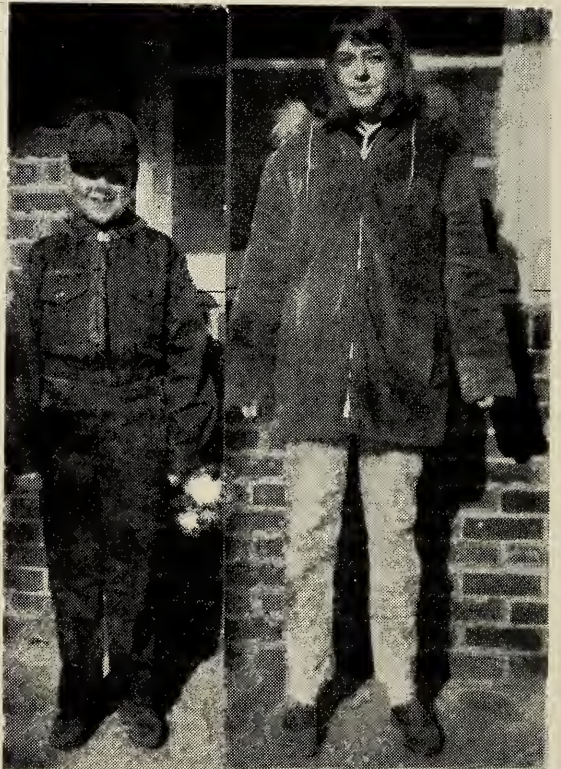

Elizabeth Bartlett Kirby, husband Wayne and their seven children moved to California last year; are enjoying their swimming pool.

Nancy Duclos Krieger and family moved east to Long Island this year and have built a new house. Rhode O'Donnell Erickson, husband Carl and son Stephen moved to Wellesley Hills, Mass. in June.

Janet Lane Davila writes from San Francisco: "In October 1962 I flew to Sopporo, Japan, where I was born . . . first time since 1941 and lots of changes. My mother (Pauline Rowland Lane '15) and father have since passed away, and they are both buried in Japan. When I was going to Lasell, my parents lived in Auburndale but they returned to Japan in 1951 to teach at the University of Hokkaido where they had both taught prior to World War II."

Pat Brunner Thiede and family live in the Philippines where husband Bob works for Esso. "We live in a compound of 32 houses, quite isolated, but make it to Manila (22 miles away) about once a week. This life really broadens our thoughts and deeds, and there is so much to tell that if anyone is interested, I'd be only too happy to write in detail. Mailing address is P.O. Box 304, Makati Rizal, Philippines."

Joan (Jeff) FAMILTON Gardner's daughter Nancy enters Boston University this fall, and Jean McKenzie Smith's daughter Pam enters college too — "not sure which one yet." Jean's "Egad! 20 Years!" began her page to us, and ends this reunion report.

The gals who made that "extra effort" to get out to our 15th Reunion were amply rewarded. Although the weekend was extremely hot, we had a grand time. Eight of us took advantage of accommodations at Woodland Hall and had plenty of time to rehash events of the past and view the changes around campus . . . it is amazing to see the additions and changes that have taken place.

About thirty '52ers attended at least part of the reunion. We sure looked snappy in our royal blue sashes. After the luncheon, the group staying on retired to Woodland Hall for an informal "party" and then went to The Pillar House for our class dinner. A word of thanks to Lynn Peck Erickson for making the arrangements and a "well-done" goes to the restaurant.

The Class applauded Ginny Snedaker Marschall as international long-distance traveler — all the way from Germany, and Marlene Murray Zuker came from Milwaukee. Trying to establish the classmate with the most children, we came up with Gloria Lee Donovan who has seven or eight children, and Mary Ellen Schwingele Skove, with either seven or eight. This could not be certified as these girls are obviously very busy and did not have a chance to return their questionnaires. Martha Thomas Hasak reports that she definitely has six children!

The replies to our questionnaire were terrific, 83 answered. The following are excerpts, and a star indicates attendance at the Reunion. It was great to see all of you, and hope even more make it next time.

Sue Baney Berghaus

Ann Alden: Mrs. Robert L. Allen, 9600 Montego Bay Dr., Miami, Fla. One daughter: Leslie Ann, 5.

Nancy Allen: Mrs. Arthur J. Banks, 1308 Marlkress Rd., Cherry Hill, N.J. Four Daughters: Greta Lynne, 13; Shelley Allen, 12; Linda Carole, 9; Julie Anna, 7. Nancy writes: "Am still very active in church work and continue to direct two choirs and sing in another. Two of my girls are in the Hand Bell Choir and all four participate in the church choirs. I have been singing in a trio for several years. In January we moved into our new home, which we designed, planned, and had built."

Jean Aslaksen: Mrs. George Podimsky, 36 Highland Ave., Chatham, N.J. Four children: Carolyn, 12; Barbara, 10; Joan, 9; John, almost 6. Jean is busy with Girl Scouts, P.T.A., and her church newspaper. This past winter she raised ten Weimaraner puppies and sold them . . . championship

Shirley (Porter '47) and John Snettinger with Barbara, Wendy and Susan stock quality. The Podimskys recently built their own summer home in Barnegat Light on Long Beach Island. It is a 13-year dream come true, says Jean.

Alice Baker: Mrs. Richard Alexander, 8 Nimitz Circle, Natick, Mass. Two children: Susan, almost 7 and Steven, 3. Alice's husband had just taken a position with HUD (Housing and Urban Development Dept.) and they moved to Maryland in June 1067.

Suzanne Baney*: Mrs. Edward Berghaus, 13 University Ave., Chatham, N.J. One daughter: Jean, 7. Enjoys church activities, children's activities and gardening. The Berghaus's dine all summer on the harvest from their vegetable garden and have fun working out new arrangements with flowers. Sue has a part-time job working for an investment counselor, author and professor at NYU Graduate School.

Vilma Barbuto*: Mrs. John W. Herrick, 50 Beaver Brook Rd., Burlington, Mass. Three children: Christopher, 7; Stephen, 4; Valerie Jean, 3 mos. Vilma has enjoyed trips to Europe and most recently to Jamaica. She is very active in the League of Women Voters and right now is busy with her new daughter, born on Mother's Day.

Marion Berberian: Mrs. Robert Talanian, 69 Michael Dr., Pittsfield, Mass. Marion enjoys volunteer work, needlepoint and gardening. She and husband Bob are looking forward to a California vacation.

Joan Beresford: Mrs. Carl Lindquist, 71 Perry Ave., Lynnfield, Mass. One daughter: Karen, 13. Joan is studying art, and writes: "The great artists in the world needn't worry, but I enjoy it."

Christopher and Stephen Herrick
(Vilma Barbuto '52)

Shirley Boothby: Mrs. George LeBarge, 18 Park St., Kennebunk, Maine. Three children: Georgeann, 13; Jennifer, 7; Jason, 5. Shirley says that her family seems to be "living in the past." The past six years have been spent remodeling a late-Victorian home and collecting old books and records. She and her husband are affiliated with the local barbershop quartet organization.

Betsy Brown: Mrs. Bruce Cramer, 158 Beechwood Rd., Holden, Mass. Three children: Betsy, 14; Scott, 12; Sara, 6. Moving back to New Jersey soon; activities include hospital work and taking modern dance lessons.

Ruth Brown*: Mrs. Thomas Taylor, 155 Ocean Ave., Palm Beach Shores, Florida. Three children: Thomas, 9; Terri Lynn, 5; Linda Gale, 3. Ruth and husband own and operate a 16-unit motel (Kon Tiki Apartments) in Palm Beach Shores. They designed, furnished and landscaped the whole thing themselves and have interesting guests from all over the world. Besides these involvements, Ruth enjoys singing with a Choral Society.

Christine Carpenter*: Mrs. Charles Hunt, 573 Weadley Rd., Wayne, Pa. Two children: Deborah, 13; Charles, 11. Chris works part-time as a teacher's aide. Past-times include painting, sewing, tennis, swimming and yoga. The Hurts have a 14-foot sailboat which they sail in the local waters.

Joyce Carroll*: Mrs. Eugene Mulcahy, 69 Hartwick St., Springfield, Mass. Four children: Keven, 7; Susan, 5; and twins Robert and Michael born in January 1967. Needless to say, Joyce's New Year's Day twins are her present main activity.

Bette Clark*: Mrs. Henry Mott III, 259 West Main St., Westboro, Mass. Four sons: Charles, 13; Thomas, 10; Daniel, 6; Billy, 2. Bette writes: "Have spent most of my married life moving around the Northeast. We have lived in ten different places. My husband is in college work so we haven't been off campus yet, and enjoy the lectures, dances, and other collegiate activities."

Pauline Coady*: Mrs. John Goodwin (Dr.) 90 Adams St., New Britain, Conn. Three children: Martha, 8; Jessica, 5; John, 2. Pauline is active on the Boards of the YWCA, Red Cross and Junior League. Enjoys alumnae activities and manages to "hack up" the golf course, but is really improving.

Zeau Conover: Mrs. Joseph DuBois, 129 West Main St., Freehold, N.J. One daughter: Zeau C. II, 7. Zeau, a former newspaper gal, is now content with her role as housewife, mother and secretary for her husband. Her family enjoys following field trials with their Labrador Retriever.

Nancy Cool*: Mrs. John Kaercher, 7 Rolling Hills Dr., Holland, Pa. Five children: Paul, 13; Bill, 12; Kathy, 11; Matt, 9; Ann, 4. Smoky is active in the PTA and still enjoys a good game of bridge.

Suzanne Davis: Mrs. Ralph Greenman Jr., 1291 Gretel Lane, Mountain View, Calif. Two children: William, 9; Julia, 6. Susie writes that besides the usual children's activities, her hobby has been politics — partisan and bi-partisan. She completed two years as President of the local Republican Women and represented her group at a convention in Washington. Her husband plans to "transfer" from engineering to high school teaching.

Edna Day*: Mrs. Alfred Pearce, 62 N. Gate Rd., Franklin, Mass. One daughter: Jennifer, soon to be two. Edna enjoys a good bridge game, bowling and loves to sew and knit.

Mary Ann DeDominicis*: Mrs. Joseph Ciccio, 119 Ridge St., Winchester, Mass. Three children: Joseph, 10; Stephen, 6; Jeffrey, 2. Mary Ann is active in the Parents Assoc. (a past chairman) and enjoys Garden Club activities.

- Adrienne DeMatia*: Mrs. George White, Brookmeade Ct., N. Branford, Conn. Three children: Joanne, 12; John, 9; Peter, 5. Ade is working as a travel agent.
- Eleanor DePalma*: Mrs. Frederick McCarthy, 3 LaSalette Dr., Burlington, Mass. Two children: Kevin, 8; Kathleen, 6. Ellie occasionally works as a substitute teacher, and is very active in political and civic affairs. She and her husband are both past presidents of the Jaycee Organization. She is proud of the fact that her husband was included in the 1966 Edition of Outstanding Young Men in America.
- Winifred Domark: Mrs. Raymond Moyland Jr., 155 Boulter Rd., Wethersfield, Conn. Winnie has recently resigned from her duties as a supervisor in Group Underwriting for a major insurance company.
- Carolyn Downs: Mrs. George Burnett, 38 Mountain Rd., Verona, N.J. Three children: Bonnie Jean, 13; Scott, 11; Glenn, 3. Clifflie has "graduated" from eight enjoyable years in the Junior Women's Club; is still busy with PTA and Scouts. New excitement in her family is their recently-acquired camera shop in Pompton Lakes.
- Joan Dunlap: Mrs. Jerry Fullerton, 6006 Adirondack Trail, Amarillo, Texas. Three children: Mark, 7; Laurel Anne, 5; Drew, 3. Joan, a registered nurse, works part-time for a pediatrician, and enjoys sewing, painting, antiquing furniture and various civic activities.
- Marjorie Dyer: Mrs. Thomas Hubbard, 215 S. H. Lusi, Mt. Prospect, Ill. Two sons: Lee Edward, 9; Bradley, 6. Marjorie keeps busy moving — 12 times to be exact. She comes East for a visit now and then and was sorry to miss Reunion. Marj does volunteer work at the hospital for the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago.
- Ruth Easterlind*: Mrs. Richard Cederberg, 25 Townhouse Rd., Attleboro, Mass. Four children: Beth, 12; Gale, 10; Chick, 8; Jo Anne, 5. Ruth is active in Girl Scouts and is a 9th grade Sunday School teacher. She and her husband are both active in other civic activities.

Shirley Warriner: Mrs. Bruce Randall, Old Post Rd., Charlestown, R.I. Twin sons: Jeffrey and Scott, 5.

Muriel Webb: Mrs. Donald Moyer (Cmdr. USN), Box x-499, c/o FPO, San Francisco. Three children: Susan, 8; Donald, 6; David, 3. Muriel has had the glorious opportunity of traveling all over the Far East while her family was stationed in Japan. Muriel conducted a conversational English class for a group of Japanese women.

Joanne Winthrop: Mrs. Edwin Urstadt, 141 El Dorado Rd., Walnut Creek, Cal. Five children: Chris, 12; Sandra, 12; Candice, 9; Andrew, 7; Eric, 5. Joanne sings in a Sweet Adeline group and keeps up her career as an RN by working a few nights a week.

Mary Lou Woodward: Mrs. Earl Robinson Jr., 204 Palisado Ave., Windsor, Conn. One son: Peter, 4. Mary Lou is busy restoring a house built in 1790.

Hi!

This was the year! Over 55 members of the Class of 1957 made the pilgrimage back to the changing campus for 10th Reunion. We were so excited to see over one-sixth of the class there. Truthfully, nobody had changed a bit, except for a few pounds here and there. It was a full/fun day, although admittedly, a few of us wilted temporarily with the heat by nightfall.

Registration was full of enthusiastic greetings and shouts of joy as classmates recognized each other under new hairdos, eye make-up and chic clothes. After comparing notes on ten years of personal history, the luncheon began. The temperature soared as we table-hopped and managed to swallow our share before the fashion show started. We were proud that our class was able to sponsor the successful show . . . models provided by the Class of 1966.

We barely had time to catch our breath before rushing to Norma Gamins Wise's lovely air-conditioned home in Waban. It was a relaxing "pause that refreshes" — a perfect entree to the evening festivities.

Some of the girls had dinner at "Jack and Marions" (and collected new menus for their walls!) and then went on to an informal get-together at Eileen Conradi's Boston apartment. Others went to places of their own choosing. The Class-organized dinner at "The Monticello" was attended by 38, who were lavishly entertained by singer Connie Francis.

We would like to thank the committee. They met well in advance of Reunion and came up with so many good ideas and suggestions to make this day well worth remembering. Also, we want to thank the 150 gals who returned questionnaires. In succeeding issues we will write up the tremendous amount of news and hopefully, address changes.

Fondest regards,
Nancy and Pat

Hi 62'ers!

Reunion was fun. Missed many of you, but those of us who did attend enjoyed reading over the questionnaires filled with news of the last five years. In this, and the next few issues of the LEAVES you will have a chance to catch up on the latest. Keep the news coming. My address is 1600 South Joyce St., Arlington, Va. 22202 Apt. C-1207. Would love to hear from any and all.

As always,
Marcia Madden

1966

Reunion #1 is over, but it will long be remembered by those who attended, and hopefully, is the first of many successful get-togethers by the class of 1966. Fifteen girls came back for the luncheon, and the Class provided models for the fashion show. Those presenting the latest vogues included Molly Lloyd, Nancy Burns, Joanne Devaney, Sue Ellis, Gail Williamson, Nancy Naylor, Sue Richie, Nancy Andrews and Bunny Ferris. Waltham's Holiday Inn was the scene of the Saturday night dinner, with 32 class members, some husbands and escorts attending.

More than fifty girls sent in their questionnaires, and the following are excerpts from them.

Eileen Allen Gromko is a "paste-up artist" for a printing firm; she and her husband plan to move to NYC where Allen begins employment with Stouffer's Restaurant, in their management training program.

Anne Ames is secretary to a lawyer; Dawna Ames is married, as is Linda Arsenault. Laura Arcari is attending evening college.

Arlyn Baker is working in Boston following a trip to Europe this past winter; Linda Beardslee is in Washington, D.C.; June Breault is a secretary at Honeywell in Wellesley Hills.

Ann Canedy attends the University of Bridgeport (Conn.); Penny Colpitts is Assistant Display Decorator at Grover Cronin Department Store in Waltham (Mass.); Jennifer Conners a Public Relations Assistant for Lord and Taylor and "not married yet, girls!"

Kati Conners, an airline hostess for TWA, writes: "Absolutely love my work. On special assignment recently, I accompanied fifty Viet Nam veterans to the Indianapolis 500 Race. It was the most rewarding thing I've ever done . . . although many of them were crippled or maimed for life, they were in fine spirits and 100% uncomplaining. I am going to do volunteer work at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital whenever possible . . . wish I could share this experience with each and every one of my classmates. Spent a week in Texas visiting Brink, who is with Army Security studying the Vietnamese language. While there went horseback riding and saw the bullfights in Juarez, Mexico. Very good week!"

Gretchen Diller, another TWA hostess, was "in the air" during Reunion, but hopes to make it next time. Joanne Devaney is a medical secretary and Sue Ellis is attending Jackson College. Nan Eisenstein Speller honeymooned in Jamaica, now lives in Savannah, Georgia while her husband serves as a dentist in the Army. Nan hopes to attend either Peabody College or Armstrong State College.

Marie Ellis is a secretary for American Hoechst Corp. in Mountainside, N.J. Matilda Embree is a student at the University of Illinois, and serves as a relief houseparent at Cunningham Children's Home. Anne Fiander Dugan has a new son; they are living with her parents in Dudley. Bunny Ferris is a professional model with the Hart Agency in Boston. Janis Feld works as a secretary in New York; and Georgia Fortunato, also a secretary, was unable to attend Reunion because she was "on the high seas" traveling to Russia.

Joanne Frankel, a research analyst for BBDO advertising, moved to Los Angeles in June. New address: Bel Air Arms, 11720 Bellagio Rd., Bel-Air, California. Nancy Goodale attended Hickox Secretarial School and now is a secretary for a law firm in Boston. Judy Goodwin writes: "In fall will be a Senior at the University of Massachusetts. Took part in two beauty contests at UMass and came in 3rd both times."

Carolyn Graham Guardia works in the credit department of Montgomery Ward; Constance Hill is taking a junior executive training program. Linda Holch Gordon spent four months at Fort Jackson, South Carolina while her husband completed his active duty in the Army Reserves; planned to go to Nantucket, Mass. this August. The Gordons play golf every day.

Marsha Howe is an Elementary Education major at Keene (N.H.) State College; Sherrie Koocher Schatz is a medical secretary at the Augusta (Maine) General Hospital. Ellie Lowe is going to school in Whittier, California. Victoria Lalli just completed her junior year at Adelphi University; left for Italy in June with Rosemary Cohane for at least a year. They will live in Venice for the summer and work in Rome during the winter. "After that where the wind blows us."

Patricia Lamarre is an English major at Southeastern Massachusetts Technological Institute; Nancy Leff will receive her B.J. from the University of Missouri in June, 1968. Millie Levy attends Boston University but hopes to transfer to Temple University. Ann Loudon is secretary to Dr. Matthew Powell in New Jersey.

Beverly Marr Kennedy is married and living with her parents in Auburndale; M. Jeanne Ulm MacKay is a secretary at Mass. General Hospital. Paula MacKenzie's wedding plans kept her away from Reunion; Noël Manning's summer job on Cape Cod interfered. Noël has transferred to the University of Miami and majors in Art Education.

Nancy Naylor is regional administrative assistant for Honeywell in Waltham; has taken up parachute jumping and gliding, does volunteer work for NAACP, Muscular Dystrophy Assn., Red Cross, and the Charles River Society. She worked as a wrangler on a dude ranch in Colorado last summer.

Marcia Oelschlegel is a nursery school teacher, as well as an administrative assistant to a social work in a junior division program. Nancy Ruth Palmer is a medical receptionist and assistant. Arlene Paratore, also a medical secretary/receptionist, took a week's vacation in Puerto Rico last April, had wonderful weather.

Lynn Porsche is working on the Cape with Noël Manning this summer; fall finds her back at Boston University in the Advertising Design department. Alice Reeves is pinned; Barbie Rich has been a student at the University of Rhode Island; plans to teach, or attend the University of Bridgeport or URI next year. She spent her spring vacation this year skiing at Cannon Mt. in New Hampshire.

Virginia Riedell has graduated from Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers and is an executive trainee at B. Altman's in NYC. Gail Robbins is finishing up nursing at Lasell; Sue Ellen Roberts is a service representative for Southern New England Telephone Co. Janet Rohrbach is majoring in sociology at Millersville State College; summer school prevented her from attending Reunion.

Lois Sawyer is a student at Springfield College majoring in Elementary Education; works with under-privileged children at the Community Center part time. Lois is off to Ireland this summer with Eileen Caulfield, one of the Irish girls who worked at the Lasell cafeteria. They will visit Eileen's family in Galway. Alice Stein is a student at Mills College of Education in NYC.

Martha Sweetser is busy planning an October wedding; Sherry Volovick is an executive secretary and a summer bride. Sue Wakeman Meier honeymooned in Nassau for a week, then out to Arizona where husband Carl will begin graduate school at the state's university. She shares the following news: "Holly Fleming was married last summer and they are living on Babson's campus. Baby Joy Elizabeth was born a short while ago; Holly is finishing her nursing and will complete it by next January. Marilyn Zerwitz has a good job in Connecticut; Joy Fournier is at the University of Virginia; Ellie McKinnon is living in Boston with Sandy Roberts; Heather Johnson is out in Colorado to school."

Michelle Webber is engaged; Gail Williamson is going to Bouve in Boston. Ginny Wolf is working in reservation-sales for American Airlines. Carol Wolfenden toured Europe last summer; is now a VISTA volunteer in Kentucky. Linda Zaccolante attends Salem State College.

Nancy Andrews, Sue Richie and Donna Terwilliger live in Boston on Commonwealth Avenue across from Sue Fox, Marcia Moore and Marnie Bliss. Molly Lloyd and Val Girard lived on Marlborough Street in Boston this past year.

Sharon LeVan and Anita Newhart are living and working in New York; Sam and Poki are back from Europe and living in Philadelphia. Fuzz Ferrier and JaJa Brett are stewardesses for Eastern Air Lines.

Peggy Anne Rowell is at the University of Maine, and Linda Condikey recently graduated from the Carol Nashe Charm School. Susan Stuurman finished her studies at the Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers as did Nancy Higgins.

Cynthia Cattanach Harding is a secretary in the Nursing Department of the University of Vermont.

OTHER CLASS NEWS . . .

Helen L. Beede '21

A series of small and intimate parties in honor of retiring Recorder, Helen L. Beede '21, was climaxed on Sunday afternoon, May 21st, at the Vista Avenue home of Mrs. Ruth T. Lindquist, Chairman of Lasell's Science Department. She and Miss Muriel McClelland were co-hostesses at a tea to which faculty, members of the administration and former colleagues of Miss Beede were invited. More than 125 present and past associates shared this truly delightful party.

The present-within-present packages revealed matched luggage, a beige leather handbag, an easy-to-find and "stuffed" red wallet; finally, the pièce de résistance, a diamond watch inscribed "From Lasell Friends."

Lasell Friends thank Mrs. Lindquist and Miss McClelland for making possible this recognition of our friend of long standing, Helen L. Beede; Lasell Friends wish God-speed and Happy Retirement to our H. L. B.

Busy too, is Barbara Rymer Cole. She writes: "A growing family occupies more than 24 hours a day. Bill and I are going to Lake Tahoe this summer for the C.P.A. Convention and a short vacation."

Matthew, 6½, Susan Lynn, 4, and serving as Vice President of the local Garden Club keep Shirley Thorne Brady busy.

Sophia Cramer Stewart and family have purchased a home in Greenwich and like the area very much. Husband Roy is Eastern Regional Manager for H.M. Harper Co.

Marilyn Ross is spending six weeks in Europe this summer. Diane Palady Barry is teaching rug-braiding to 4th, 5th and 6th graders in hometown of Westboro (Mass.) as a part of that community's 250th Anniversary celebrations.

Church activities have kept Priscilla Randall Hurter busy this past year. She has been Superintendent of the Church School, Chairman of the Bloodmobile at the church, and is also taking courses in Christian Education at Andover Newton Theological School.

Nancy Hayden Drooff reports that her sister Toni (Hayden Durkee '54) has moved to the Connecticut area. "We have a grand time traveling around with six little boys (three apiece)," she adds.

Another new Connecticut resident: Natalie Hall Campbell. She and family are renting until their new house in Ridgefield is completed — hopefully, by the first of September.

Kay Poore Hamel sends in the following: Cynthia Woodward Witherell's husband Jack is in Viet Nam for a year; Cynthia and children are sitting it out in Virginia. Louise Keene Mills and family took a trailer trip to Washington and Williamsburg last fall. The Mills boys, Jeff and Scott, spend a great deal of time at the Y and Scott also takes drum lessons. Mark and Carol Dunn Burns are enjoying a new cottage in the New Hampshire ski area. Nancy Curtis Grellier has a busy family. Barbara is now in Jr. High, a Cadette Girl Scout, taking piano and ballroom lessons, singing in the Junior Choir and bowling with Jr. High, plays the flute. Bobby in 3rd grade and Cub Scouts. Ricky a 1st-grader and very eager student. Alison in Nursery School. Shirley Simonton Bancroft reports that several of her children are attending Friends School, where Shirley was a student for 12 years.

She adds that Lasell's President DeBaun was her brother's Navy roommate during World War II.

Elizabeth Alford Young writes: "Wife to a busy Personnel Manager, good father, champion bowler and Little League Coach. Mother to three boys: Jerry, 9; Paul, 5; and Bruce — one week old. An ex-commercial artist for Cornell U. and Douglas Aircraft. Now a local Republican Precinct Captain and on the PTA Executive Board."

1950

From Nancy Coggeshall Foose: "Transferred from New York to Los Angeles in October, 1965 when my husband Frank was named Sales Manager of the West Coast Office for Riegel Textile Sales Company. We enjoy living in Palos Verdes, which is a beautiful spot situated high above the Pacific Ocean between Santa Monica and Long Beach. Had a heated pool installed in our back yard last spring and all love being able to swim about nine months of the year. David is now 11 and involved in another season of Little League, which keeps us busy. Carol is six and looking forward to First grade. I have been busy teaching Sunday School, typing for the school newspaper, baseball activities, PTA, and trying to keep up with business entertaining and social affairs. Hello to everyone in the Class of 1950 and do look us up if in our area."

Lebanon, N.H. has been home for Marilyn Sargent Babineau and family for the past six years. Her husband owns Hildreth's Hardware Store in Lebanon; Marilyn keeps active as President of the Lebanon Women's Club and Assistant Secretary of the Lebanon High School Alumni Association. The Babineau children: Mary Jane (13), Billy (11), Judy (8½) and Karen Elizabeth (2).

Little League activities and five children keep Barbara Schnelle Orton more than active. Four daughters (the youngest, Nancy Roberta, born in March, 1966) create some "organized confusion" around the house, but Margot Bergstrom Semonian wouldn't have it any other way.

"Married May 10, 1963 to James E. Hardy, a Chief in the Navy," writes Joyce Reader Hardy. "Jim plans to retire in December, 1967 and we'll settle here in Milton, Fla. Am doing Special Education Teaching with Retarded Children, and am active in the Retarded Children's Association and the Community Action Council on Mental Retardation. Also am Secretary of the Chief Petty Officers' Wives Club and am on Executive Board of Santa Rosa Health Council. How are all you 1950'ers?"

Mary Janice McGoughran is taking a course in Personnel Administration at Golden Gate College.

Helen Kovalinas Ierardi writes that her husband is a candidate for Justice of the Peace (County Magistrate) for Henrico County, Virginia in the November elections.

1951

Active in Girl Scouting this year: Lucille Chase Oldham, as assistant Brownie leader, and Betty Lou Shattuck Musser, as assistant Junior leader.

"Had a ball this winter in chorus of 'Little Mary Sunshine,'" writes Priscilla Freeman McCartney. "Our PTA put it on, with a director who had done it professionally. Also am in Old Academy Singers." Painting is Elizabeth Baumbach Hyne's forte. She exhibits work in outdoor exhibits; also finds time to sew and enjoy boating, swimming and fishing with her family.

Still in North Carolina and very involved with sports activities is Peggy Anne Riker Miller. Little League, swimming lessons and camp fill the agenda. Janice Weyls Moore reports the birth of her fourth child, John North, on August 26, 1966.

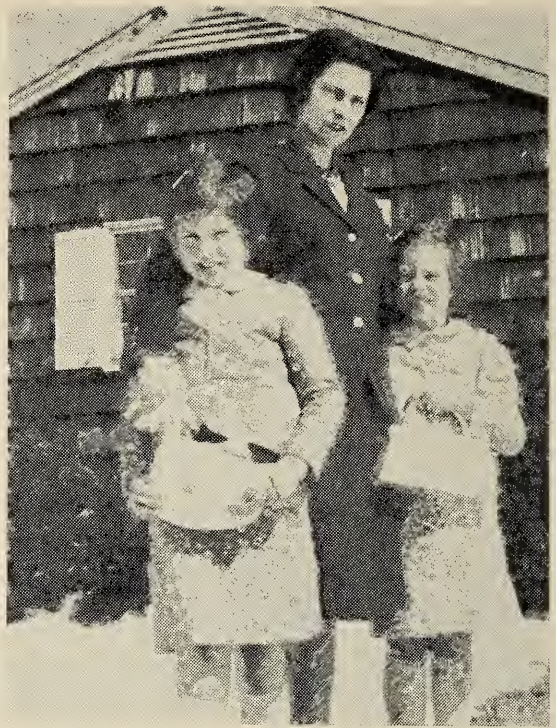

"Our four girls are growing so fast," says Janet Fornoff Hauber, "it won't be long before they will be college shopping and Lasell will be #1 on the list! Kathy goes into 7th grade, Karen 4th, Nancy 2nd, and Jill at three lives for Sundays when she goes to 'school' at our church."

We extend sincere sympathy to Nancy Tripp Glidden, whose eleven-year-old daughter, Shelby, was a victim of leukemia in February. Nancy's older son, Ken, will be a student at Tabor Academy this fall; four-year-old Douglas is "at home".

MaryLou Burke Alexander would love to hear from anyone that gets out Oklahoma (Ponca City) way. Elinor Cohen Goldman and family have bought a home in Oak Hill Park, Newton, Mass.

Keeping busy with families: Ruth Henning Sump, with son Conrad (3) and daughter Linda (1); Martha Gries Davis with Betsy (11), Kathy (9), Mark (5), and Jummy (1). Helen Pearlstein Golden with three daughters ten, seven and four. The Golden's are taking a trip to the Niagara Falls area this summer; husband Jerry is Chief of the Analytical and Radioisotope Laboratories at the United Aircraft Research Lab in East Hartford. Audrey Lang Clark's husband Stan enjoys work at the Union Carbide Chemicals Co.; Audrey busy at Baptist

Elizabeth Fried Slater x-'53 with Margaret and Tracy

Temple and secretary of PTA; children include Donna (9), Cynthia (8), Nancy (6) and Tommy (4).

Priscilla Alden Bemis writes: "Had a surprise visit from Pat Binks DeLisle. Also visit often with Naomi Peck Kroner '52, Barbara Welles Smith '50 and Jane Doderer Sampson. We all live in Cheshire and have one thing in common: children!"

Patti Binks DeLisle and family moved to Lewiston, Maine this summer and plan to build a new eight-room home there. Patti lost both her mother and her father-in-law this past January, and the Class extends its sincere sympathy to her.

The Class also extends its sympathy to Jean Christiansen Lucas, whose mother passed away in May. Jean and husband Bob have moved back to New York to be with her father. They have renovated an old one-room schoolhouse in upstate New York and use it as a ski chalet.

Elizabeth Fried Slater writes that she is thinking of continuing her education by attending C.W. Post College of Long Island University. Her two daughters may be "second generation" Lasellites in ten or eleven years.

Joan Smith Nagle recently returned to Pittsburgh, Pa. and wonders if there is an alumnae club in the area. Her husband is with P.P.G. Research; children are seven, nine and eleven.

1954

From Thailand, we hear from Kitty Snitwongse: "Have recently been promoted to Assistant Professor at Chula long ko rin University, and also had my translation of a history of civilization textbook (English to Thai) published. Am now busy with plans to revamp our history courses . . . want to make history more like a social science, not mere chronology. I was only recently told that everything is up to me alone to do whatever I like with the history curriculum. How long I have waited for this. Am also involved in a plan to set up an Institute of Asian Studies in our university. This took me to India, and a side trip to Nepal, last April."

From the South: Jeanette Marvin Brown "living in the citrus belt of Florida quietly and peacefully" with Mark (7½), Paul (5) and Gail (3). From the Midwest: Priscilla Head Davis, husband, Charlie (9) and Lindsay (7) "love it and have made many new friends."

Back in the States: Ann Chidsey Moebius and family, after three years in Spain. Before returning, they stopped in Rome, Florence, Venice, Zurich, Berlin and Copenhagen. Marlene Haake Schuler and husband Bob are at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, following three years in Brazil, where Bob was Assistant Military Attaché with the U.S. Embassy.

It's Army life for Joan Rabbitt Downey too. Husband Wayne was drafted from his Child-Psychiatry residency at the Yale Child Study Center; is presently treating psychiatric problems at the General Leonard Wood Army Hospital in Missouri. After two years, they will return to their home in Guilford, Conn. with Lincoln (4½), Sharon (2½) and Susan (1).

Peter Carll Buhler Jr. was born on June 20, 1966 to Betty Lindsay Buhler. July 10, 1966 is the birthdate of David Neal Thorndike, son of Amy Frye Thorndike.

Emily Betts Reilly is very happy living in New England and children Steven (6), Christine (5) and Bobby (3) "are well and happy."

Marjorie Price Johnson writes: "Been living in Rhode Island for the past seven years and love it. Husband Ralph is a Sales Manager for Procter and Gamble and skips around New England. Have run into many alumnae here in Cranston and find that we are all on about the same treadmill of PTA, Scouts, and church work, sandwiched between homemaking and motherhood. Debbie (12) and Bobby (10) are presently excited about going to camp."

1955

Moved and Moving: Mildred Monahan Regan and family to a "lovely, large home" in Belmont in June. Elizabeth Boday Fox and family to 170 Thornton Road, Needham, Mass. Judith Bowen Drews and family to Los Altos Hills, California. From Georgia to Kansas for Susan Thomas Wiard. Port Clinton, Ohio is new home of Joan Murano Swanson, where husband is new Controller of a U.S. Rubber Co. plant. The Swansons adopted a baby boy last year. Carol Kenneally Gardner and family now live in Yorba Linda, California, where "our home is on the 15th fairway of the country club—too convenient for my husband! I keep busy with club work, and sons Mark (7) and Bart (4½)."

Tom and JoAnne (DiPietro) DiMarco traveled to Montego Bay, Jamaica and Miami Beach with two other couples last February for a wonderful vacation. JoAnne plays much golf at Wethersfield Country Club.

The opening of a second candy store, working on the Lasell Fund Drive, and three "kids" have kept Mary Sweenor Ruggieri busy this year, "Saw Jody Larsen Bibber and Barbara Lindsey Ray recently," writes Mary Jane Tidman Bridges. "Also spent a night with my old roommate Doris Lachhein Dickert, who looks wonderful, has three children and a gorgeous home in Pound Ridge, N.Y."

David and Cherie Louise Pettit
(Marjorie Happ '54)

Jamie Lindemuth
(Maxine Seidel '55)

Susan Gray Lichtenstein writes: "Every one is well . . . boys are Philip (6½) and Alan (5). Keeping busy with fashion consulting . . . manage to see Anita Royer Martin and Janet Holmes Murphy."

Gail Gluck Davis' daughter Missy is almost seven and attends the Croydon Country Day School.

Thelma Epstein Lapides, Lasell Alumnae's representative in the Midwest, reports a busy summer with son Jeff in Little League and five-year-old Jimmy active from morning until bedtime. Janet Parmenter Ellinwood and family are enjoying a new home in Darien, Conn.; she and husband George look forward to a European trip this fall which he received as an award from his bank.

It's a new address for Jack and Betsy (Belsterling) Jordan, too. The Jordans move to Watertown (Mass.) in August for a two-year stay, while Jack attends Harvard Business School.

Church work keeps Beverly Breed Hovey and Terry Kilgore Mannix busy. Beverly is director of the Needham Congregational Church Nursery School; Terry is Vice-President of her parish's Rosary Altar Society.

Sally Churchill Downes writes: "Four children now, the youngest almost three. Have taken up golf, lessons in oil painting, and have been elected President of the Auxiliary to the Third District Dental Society.

My parents live in Boston now so hope to get back and see the 'new look' on campus."

Sons Skip (3) and Barry (9 mos.) keep Suzanne Kellner Canfield on the go. Evelyn Shear Pinsof's time is spent with Bruce (7½), Corky (5) and Debra (1). And Eleanor Dando Bushman has fun with Alexis (8) and Thomas (4).

Janet McPherson Pretto's husband returns in August from a year in Seoul, Korea; will be greeted by Jan and baby daughter Deborah Jean.

A May 10th note from Brenda Holbrook, via the Army-Air Force Postal Service, stated that her tour in Taipei, Taiwan would be over in less than a month and she was looking forward to a two-month leave before reassignment. At the time, there seemed to be a good possibility that she would return to Taiwan . . . and "glorious warm winters in Manila."

Barbara Stannard is currently working as Assistant to the President of Wilson, Haight and Welch, Inc. — an advertising agency in Hartford, Conn. She travels between the agency's three offices: Boston, Hartford, and Orlando, Fla., and enjoys the ski season each year. Judith Watson Lewis owns and operates Stepney Village Country Store.

Donna Marie Thomas
(Mary Panetta '56)

1959

The LEAVES proved beneficial to Brenda McLafferty Manchester of Thomaston, Maine recently. Brenda read that Linda Senter Wright '63 lived near by, called her, and they plan to get together soon. She and husband Walt are busy painting, papering and collecting antique furniture.

Cynthia Boynton Green and her husband will be stationed at Tachikawa Air Force Base in Japan for three years, while he serves as an orthodontist. Then back to Richmond, Va. where he will go into practice.

The Stockman Five
(Audrey Spawn '56)

1960

From Out West: Janet Edwards Tracy, husband Bill and daughter Kristen are living in Boulder, Colorado. Portland, Oregon is home for Susann York Stadtfeld and her husband. They enjoyed a vacation in Aspen on their way out and like West Coast living. "Still in love with the Pacific Northwest" is Judith Grace Lazarus and daughters Carol (3) and Linda (1). Elizabeth Bigelow works for three urologists in the San Francisco area; misses New England and hopes to be home for Christmas.

Deborah Philips Masing writes to the Office of the Recorder: "I am in process of applying for admission to the College of Nursing, East Carolina University. Please send a transcript of my Lasell work to the Director of Admissions. Wish, also, to report a change of address — from Calgary, Alberta to #48 — 800 Heath Street, Greenville, North Carolina."

Patricia Craig Riviello was Matron of Honor for her twin sister, Noel Craig, who married Dr. Carl H. Andrus on August 7, 1966. Noel is presently the psychiatric nursing supervisor at Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester, N.Y.

From Valerie Tarracciano Piazza: "Have been out of touch for too long! Thought I'd briefly recap why I am in Albuquerque — Apt. #7, 1920 Lomas Boulevard N. E. On June 5, 1965 I was married to Paul M. Piazza in Mount Kisco, New York. Since then we've been living at the above address where Paul is currently finishing his graduate studies in art history. We both love the Southwest. My sister, Patricia Tarracciano Ciccone '57, is living in Armonk (N.Y.), where she is a busy housewife with five small children — the oldest enters first grade in September."

Martha Wright was graduated from The American University in 1966 with a B.S. in Social Sciences, and is employed as a research assistant in the field of information sciences with Hermer and Co., Washington, D. C.

Working at the University of Arizona is Lenore Silvestro Neuweg, while husband Larry works on his doctorate degree. The Neuwegs were married in September, 1966, and love the Southwest.

Marjory Prezioso Delaney writes: "After graduation in 1963, I worked at Lord and Taylor's in NYC, took a leave of absence in the summer of '64 to travel Europe, and then returned to L and T until April, 1966. On Nov. 27, 1965 I married Thomas F. Delaney; Joan Barry and Arlene Jacopian were bridesmaids. We're now living in Yonkers, N.Y. — Tom is a private investigator for lawyers in the New York area; I'm a full time housewife."

Houston, Texas is the new home of Linda Norris Taylor and family. Bette Cole Burnham is spending the summer teaching swimming in Duxbury — son Michael is acting as "Life Guard."

Denise Nash Glynn and daughter Sandra Ellen recently visited with Denise's former Lasell roommate Heidi Mozden Wands and her three sons.

1964

Furthering their education: Patricia Washburn Mancivalano received a B.A. in English from North Adams State College in June. Linda Parmenter is a full time student at Boston University; recently finished her student teaching period in Newton at the kindergarten and 4th grade levels. Barbara Green has completed the first year of a two-year program at N.Y.U. Graduate School of Social Work and is working at Mt. Sinai Hospital in the psychiatric division for the summer. In the fall, she plans to return to N.Y.U. Susan Gordon plans to receive her Master's degree in Education from Lehigh University in September, and will teach elementary school in Philadelphia.

Gregory Scot McLaurin
(Kathy Barstow '58)

From Bristol, Connecticut, Sue Eckstrom writes: "Am presently employed as secretary to the Public Relations Manager of United Aircraft Corporate Systems Center, a division of United Aircraft Corporation. The work is fascinating; I do enjoy the opportunity of dealing with various news media, as well as the general public. Hope to have a trip to Miami in November. Occasionally see Lees Beckwith Ferguson, a dental hygienist here in Bristol; miss Jan Ramsbotham Hurt, who has recently moved to Ohio."

1965

College grads: Deborah DeStaebler from Boston University; Elizabeth Wright from Lesley College; Lydia E. Moissides from Aurora College. Elizabeth will teach the 4th grade in Millis, Mass. in the fall; Lydia goes on to graduate school at the University of Illinois.

The Springfield Mass. Sunday Republican notes that Diane Derrick was granted a B.A. degree by the University of Wisconsin this June; the Haverhill, Mass. Gazette reports that Marcia Warren, a graduate of Gordon College, was hired for a remedial reading Grade 5 class in the Georgetown school system.

From the Watertown, Mass. Press: Framingham State College graduate Wendy Myers has been hired as an elementary teacher in the Watertown public schools.

1967

Word has been received that Golnaz Hamedi, x-'67, has returned to Iran and is married to a young engineer, Bahram Sadii, whom she met in Boston while she was at Lasell and he at Boston University. They are living at her mother's home, and Goli is a junior at the University of Tehran majoring in English literature.

Prize Winner Michelle Ouellette with Mother, Bonnie Storer '63 and THE TV

THE ALUMNAE BAZAAR

The Third Annual Alumnae Bazaar was held on Tuesday, November 7, 1967 at Winslow Hall. Again this successful affair was under the direction of Chairman Rosalie Brightman Rosen '27; Lillian Reese Roche '50 served as co-chairman.

A profit of $4,349.58 was realized from the one-day venture; the entire amount has been directed to the Alumnae Building Fund. Sincere thanks are extended to alumnae who forwarded contributions for the individual tables; to the many alumnae who worked tirelessly before and on the day of The Bazaar. Redemption of books of trading stamps made possible the fine door prizes. Several alumnae were among the winners; The Prize, a portable TV, was awarded to Michelle Ouellette, daughter of Bonnie Storer '63.

Table Chairmen included: Toni Meritt Smith '23, Shirley Gould Chesebro '33, Nan Mondello Stramondo '43, Ann Fish Shriber '51, Janice Leavitt McCarthy '55, Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55, Penny Rafkin Hurwitz '56, Sandra Shelton Fitch '56, Harriet Wason Carter '57, Marion Heinsobn Mitchell '58, Pamela Smith Howland '60, Suzanne Spangenberg Straley '60, Glenda Green Kadlac '61, Carol Healy Butterworth '61 and Ann Conway Duplessie '63.

CLASS NEWS

A recent visitor to campus was Dorothy Turner Moulton of Medford and her daughter. Dorothy, who originally came from Vermont, said that she keeps posted on Lasell via the LEAVES and news from the Alumnae Office, and was especially interested in seeing Bragdon and all the changes that have taken place.

1914

Mrs. Catharine Bingaman has joined the College staff as a Resident Head. She is a daughter of the late Mabel Lord Shellabarger Preston '89-'91 and a sister-in-law of Mary Bingaman '14 and Katherine Bingaman Heron '15.

News from Class Secretary Dorothy Hartshorn Underwood: Myra Eby Craighead made such a fine impression on the "Hall of Fame" people when she went last year at Chick Evans (Esther Underwood's husband) request to accept an award for him that she was invited back this year. Myra is a loyal Lasell 1914er and would represent anyone well.

Our President Ruby Newcomb McCorkindale always has interesting news of her lovely family. Ruby and Roy celebrated their 50th this summer. Congratulations.

Alleda Burnett Arneson finds Winter Park Florida a very satisfactory place to live. She is looking forward to visits from her sons and their families.

Lena Vee Kelley Stone has thirteen grandchildren, and all but two gathered at Lake Huron last summer. What fun!

Charlotte Swartwout Quackenbush had a wonderful trip with her daughter Florence. She joined Florence in California at the end of June and drove home, covering 6,000 miles of beautiful country.

Marcia Fogg Moore and her husband Bob are happy to have their Toni back near them. Their Mary and family are near enough to visit. The Moore's celebrated their 50th this summer.

"I'm real proud of my son, but he has earned it," says Helen Baird Vance, speaking of son Sheldon's appointment as United States Ambassador to the Republic of Chad.

Vance, a career Foreign Service Officer, served as Deputy Chief of the United States Diplomatic Mission in Addis Ababa from 1962 to 1966. Since that time, he has served as a Foreign Service Inspector.

He earned his B.A. with distinction and honors in history and political science from Carleton College in 1942. After admission to the Massachusetts Bar and a short period with a Boston law firm, Vance joined the Foreign Service. Early overseas assignments included Rio de Janeiro, Nice and Martinique. From 1954 to 1958, he served as Chief of the Political Section in the American Embassy, Brussels. Vance attended the Senior Seminar on Foreign Policy in 1960, and served as Director of the Office of Central African Affairs in the Department of State from 1961 to 1962.

Vance is married to the former Jean Elisabeth Chambers of Blue Earth, Minnesota; they have two sons, Robert Clarke and Stephen Baird.

1915

With Holiday greetings, Ada F. Patterson sent a brief report of her year of 1967: "My feet got itchy last spring so took a trip through historical Kentucky; next I stood with one foot in Texas and the other in Arkansas at Texarkana. In Dallas we 'girls' made a beeline for Neeman-Marcus in search of a glamorous look — but we departed looking per usual. Phoenix, Old Creek Canyon, Grand Canyon, Petrified Forest, Painted Desert, Mese Verde National Monument and Colorado Springs seemed more beautiful than on previous trips. Later in the year I journeyed to Northern Michigan — on to Expo. Montreal, the lovely city, showed us a good time, but my feet were full of shoes, the distances grew longer each day — the steps more numerous. Had a delightful trip home along the St. Lawrence Seaway."

1918

The Kennebec Journal of Augusta, Maine, recently honored General Edmund W. Hill, husband of Mildred Cary Eaton Hill, for his work in beautifying the area around his home in Belgrade Lakes. Gen. Hill bought Frink Hill eight years ago and cleared away the land so that others could share the view and the abundant blueberries that grow there. Re-christened Blueberry Hill, the area has been maintained by the Hills ever since.

Dorothy Barnes Paine sends best wishes to the class; remembers her Lasell years as "very happy and profitable ones."

Rosenda Cabrera Matheis reports a most enjoyable trip overseas. "I went all around again because I enjoy seeing the places I liked," she writes, "and really liked seeing Russia and Czechoslovakia for myself. Paris and London fascinate me."

The Manchester Union Leader of Manchester, New Hampshire recently noted the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitman (Mildred Keasor).

1923

A "cheery hello" to the class from Marjorie Lowell Weeks, who now lives at Delray Beach, Florida with her husband and enjoys swimming every day.

1925

The Worcester, Mass. Gazette reports that Ruth Shepard Parmenter has been chosen music supervisor of the East Douglas School System.

Lois Bryant Warner sends in news of the following:

Helen Black Sprague and husband George are starting a new three-year venture. George is to be Managing Director of the European operations of The Kendall Company. Their address will be Roebuck House, Flat #50 Palace Street, London, S.W. 1, England.

Margaret Gordon Ferguson writes that she finally made the long-looked-forward-to trip to Europe last April; traveled both ways on the Queen Elizabeth and can't wait to do it again.

Barbara Cushing Jenkins and husband George celebrated their 40th Anniversary last December in Montreal.

Josephine Miller Berry's husband Hays has just retired and they will live in Old Saybrook, Connecticut on Hartlands Drive. The three Berry children have scattered in various directions — daughter Cynthia and husband in Rochester, N.Y.; oldest son Dean in Mobile, Alabama and Richard in Los Angeles, California.

Edna Hart Hoyt and husband Ken enjoyed a delightful 3000-mile trip through Utah and Arizona last summer.

Hi — 26'ers!!!

This is a message to all of you and I wish to thank some of the "doves" that have written to me and it would be a joy to hear from all of you. I will be happy to keep up with your news.

Dorothy Aseltine Wadsworth '26

Madeline Roth White has been traveling and stopped in Florida and saw Bertha Hooker Willey and also Doris Schumaker Walthers.

Grace Lawrence Groves and her husband have a winter home in Naples, Florida.

Dorothy Hale Brown writes from Fayetteville, New York, that her daughter Charlotte, Lasell '60, is now getting her R.N. in a nursing career.

I have heard from Margaret Anderson (Andy) Gage and she is very happily busy with her teaching and travelling. She has heard from Elinor Barclay Reehl who is now living in Los Angeles.

Our Betty Appel Morris is very busy working for the Bridgeport Housing Authority and enjoys being a grandmother to her two grandsons.

As for me, — I am still living in Winchester, the town I love. Herbert, my dear Husband of 35 years passed away suddenly with a heart attack. I have a lovely family, two daughters, Suzanne Wadsworth Jonas, Class of 1956, Deborah Wadsworth Hoyt, and Herbert Todd Wadsworth, Junior. The girls are each married to an Engineer and live quite near me, and Todd, Jr. is in College. I have 3 grandchildren. I am very busy in the community, Director of Winchester District Nurse, Co-ordinator of the Republican Club, Hospital, Wedgwood Club, EnKa and Winton Club. I find these activities helpful and rewarding.

All good wishes.

Dorothy Aseltine Wadsworth

From Gertrude Moeller Baum: "Moved in November from New York to New Haven. Our new address: 226 Fountain Street, New Haven, Conn. and as it was originally my home we have lots of friends here. Walter and I plan to travel and hope to spend several months in Portugal and Italy towards Spring."

1929

Alice Sherring Brown became the bride of John Lowell Lyman, Jr. on August 26, 1967 in Middlebury, Connecticut. Sherring is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Brown (Alice Pratt).

1930

Helen Morgan Riederer is enjoying her third grandchild — a baby girl. Second daughter Amber has retired from position of Asst. Dean of Women at Cortland State College in New York, and Amber's husband is at Cornell in Institutional Research.

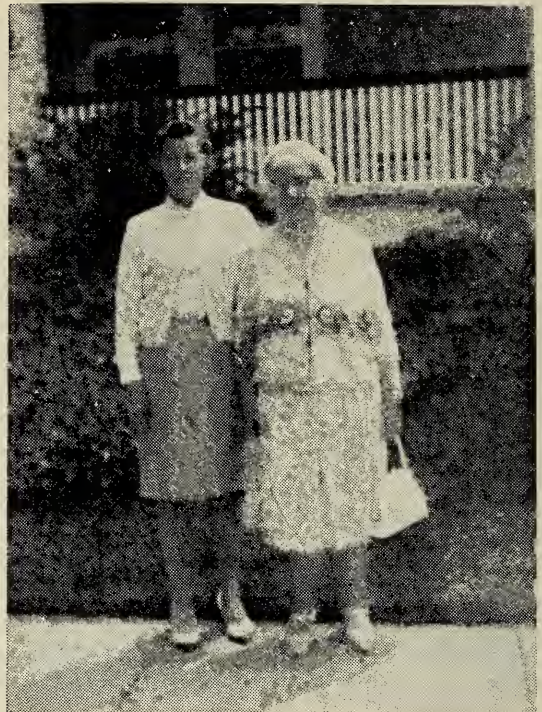

1932

Blanche Dougherty Horsman writes that she is still busy judging ice skating and often sees Mary Lib McNulty McNair at these events. Banny also reports that she is "struggling" with golf and spending much time babysitting for those grandchildren.

Lib Page Sealey's daughter, Mary Fleming, was married to Mr. Arthur Wood Brown on September 1, 1967.

Agnes Riley Van Santford sent "regrets" for the 35th Reunion, and: "We didn't get here (Jaffrey Centre, N.H.) until late June; now (late October) we are headed back to Palm Springs. However, we hope to return to our new (1809) home in Jaffrey Center in June '68 to stay for the duration!! I look forward to a visit to Lasell — to see the many changes. Very best good wishes to all."

In a Christmas letter, Helen Fitch Foley reports from Maine: Husband Tom still with the Sheriff's department; daughter Connie and family live in Westwood, Mass., Bud and family moved back to Maine the first of the year; daughter Libby and Bill (Giguere) presented the senior Foley's with a fourth grandson, Eric in May, 1967; Judy working with the Job Corps in Maine; Paul at the Maine Medical Center; Kathy graduates from high school come June and Ricky will finish 8th grade. Helen's mother, 82 years young, and her aunt, 85 years young are now living close by, and Helen still works as a teacher assistant.

August — 1967

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Bettina Potter Janse, whose husband Edward A. Janse passed away in June, 1967.

1935

1936

Janice Remig Kelley writes that her oldest daughter, Janice, graduated in 1966 from Ursinus College and was married last May. While Janice was attending Ursinus, Mrs. K. had "many pleasant meetings" with Ruth Rothenberger, former Dean at Lasell and currently Dean of Women at Ursinus.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Phyllis Gunn Rogers, whose father, former State Senator James A. Gunn, passed away last Fall.

Dr. Robert B. Sosman, father of Esther B. Sosman, died on October 30, 1967 in Plainfield, N.J. A physicist and chemist, Dr. Sosman was a pioneer in American ceramics and professor of ceramics at Rutgers University from 1947 to 1962. In 1953 he received the Albert Victor Bleiningner Award, the nation's highest honor in the ceramic field.

Dr. Sosman was physicist and assistant director of the Geophysical Laboratory of the Carnegie Institution from 1908 to 1928, and physical chemist and assistant director of the Research Laboratory of the United States Steel Corporation from 1928 to 1947.

A former chairman of the New York Chapter of the Appalachian Mountain Club, Dr. Sosman was the seventh person to travel the entire Appalachian Trail, from Maine to Georgia.

1938

The Sunday Register of New Haven, Connecticut recently cited Margaret McEnerney for her third-term election as Vice Commander for Women of the American Legion, Department of Connecticut. This is the top Legion women's position in the state. Margaret travels continuously with district, unit and department board meetings and testimonials, as well as coordinating all the volunteer work of the Legion at the VA hospitals.

Jr. Prom Queen, Patricia Redfield

"The five Birds and how they grew!"
(Jean Allen '38)

"The five Birds and how they grew!" explains Jean Allen Bird, in a recent communique. Peter is a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force currently in pilot training in Texas; Christopher is at University of Connecticut's Law School; and the other three? "They're involved in the usual boy-type activities — ice hockey, baseball, football and the heckling of parents! As for the parents, we are fine but beginning to feel middleaged!"

Betty Lloyd Fritch attended a Chicago Lasell Club luncheon last summer and reports that everyone enjoyed it. Hostess was Alice Wry Anthony, '24.

Jean Elizabeth Thomann, daughter of Barbara Jeppesen Thomann, graduated from Western College for Women last Spring and was married on June 29th. "It was quite a busy month for us," Barbara reports.

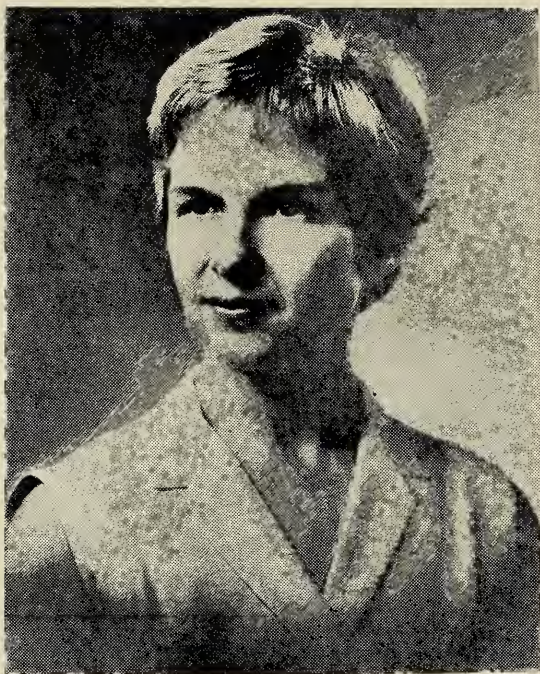

"Please consider me a Bostonian until you hear further," writes Carol Myers Lowe, who writes that she and husband Phil have taken a "giant step" and are trying New York, where Phil is affiliated with ITT.

1939

"Unfortunately, it has not been possible for me to return to Lasell since I graduated," writes Shirley Wood Bush, "but through the LEAVES I realize how much our campus and college has changed . . . perhaps I may join you all for our 30th Reunion. Meanwhile, let's have more news of our 39ers." Shirley's son, Kenny is attending Wake Forest University at Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

1940

It's a "boating family" for Barbara Fales Furlong. Her two sons have completed their sixth year of racing and are champions of Narragansett Bay in their class; she and Elton race their boat "once in a while" and sail most of the time.

Lora Green Buckingham x-'41

Golf is Nancy Bailey Black's forte. She won, last summer, the South Shore Women's Golf Championship for a record 10th time.

Dorothy Cooke Leary's daughter Jane is a junior at Connecticut College for Women in New London.

Pat Kieser reports a new address: 2815 Powhatten Pkwy., Toledo, Ohio. "It's a brick bungalow," she writes, "and Mother and I fell in love with it on sight." Pat took a Wilderness Society hiking trip last summer, and although forest fires prevented much of the hiking, she got to see Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

1941

Lorna Green Buckingham has been appointed to serve as Program Specialist for the million-member National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons, at headquarters in Long Beach, California.

1942

The Stoughton (Mass.) Chronicle and News Sentinel reports that Barbara Pullman Hugo won a $25.00 award in the New England Telephone's employee suggestion program. Her winning idea proposed an improved method of marketing forms.

Marion (Bubs) Waterhouse Scott writes: "We've been quite a mobile family these past 25 years, but it looks as if we shall stay put on the Sun Coast (St. Petersburg, Florida) for a while." Youngest daughter Sheila is a senior in high school; Susan a junior at Southeast Missouri State College; Bill a helicopter pilot in Vietnam.

Elizabeth Hutchinson Buttrick's husband is now headmaster of the Catlin-Gabel Lower School in Oregon; Dot Higson White's daughter Martha was married last August.

News of families: Terry Graham Lynch has three children, Robert Graham (17); William Charles (15) and Susan Kathleen (12). Barbara Thornburg Donnelly's son Shawn is a senior at Lawrence University, daughter Lela is a freshman at the Univ. of Virginia and Susan a senior at Culver (Ind.) High School. Lela and Susan spent six weeks studying in France last summer.

1943

Lynn Nurkiewicz Nicholas' husband is medical physician for the New York Jets. Son Chris is a freshman at Princeton; daughter Connie is a junior in high school and 12-year-old Bruce in Junior High. "All three are terrific students and good athletes," she says.

1944

"Just a note from the Schwartzes," reports Betty Walsh Schwartz, "to say we arrived at our new home on June 26th." Address is 93 Pond Rd., Wilton, Conn.; "a typical New England home on two acres of land with a brook . . . great country."

Emma Gilbert Carver '45 with Chip and Gibb
Kauai — June 1967

"Our third year in Short Hills (N.J.) — a long stay for us," writes Phyllis Bissell Tubbs. "All four children, ages 16 to four, healthy and happy."

Carol Crabtree, daughter of Lorraine Anderson Crabtree, was named Massachusetts Distributive Education Student of the Year and met with Gov. Volpe and addressed the House of Representatives. Carol is a student at Peabody High School, and represented Massachusetts at the National Distributive Education convention in Chicago last April.

Marilyn Ford Sampson reports a move from Windsor, Conn. to the foothills of the Adirondacks last summer. Her son Kent is a freshman at Springfield College, and she and Kay Chandler LaTourette toured Cape Cod.

Emma Gilbert Carver and family spent three glorious weeks in Hawaii last summer. Also spent a few days in San Francisco visiting brother Richard and sister-in-law Gretchen Hughes Gilbert, '56.

Edith Copp Carey's daughter Linda is a senior in high school and seriously looking into the possibility of entering Lasell next year.

Mim Day Butcher spent the summer as a group advisor to 11 children touring Europe. The five-week visit included stops in Rome, Florence, Venice, Lausanne, Geneva, Montreux, Paris, London, Windsor and an extra weekend in Edinburgh where Mim visited Berry Groff's former roommate. "A delightful experience," she reports.

From Sally Duncan Connor: Oldest son Gary is a junior in high school and a top cross-country runner. He won the state Intersectional Meet last November (Buffalo, N.Y.) and broke ten records in the past season.

The movers: Elsa Koehler Edwards and family recently moved east to Virginia from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Husband Bob has finished Command General Staff College and now is assigned to Washington; the Edwards hope to stay in Vienna, Va. at least three years. Nat Hall Campbell and family left Shelby, N.C. for Ridgefield, Conn. to move into their "new" 200-year-old house, after a bit of fixing up.

Joan Weiler Arnow and family are thrilled with son David's early acceptance to University of Pennsylvania. Audrey Mitchell McKibben, husband and daughter Donna vacationed in Britain this year.

The Wellesley, Mass. Townsmen reported that former junior high teacher Elizabeth M. Toscano had left the system to accept a position as faculty member of the Psychology Department of Springfield College.

Kay Poore Hamel sends news of the following: Meridith McKone Krieger lives in Belle Mead, N.J.; is busy as a housewife and enjoys golf and sewing. She recently spent a long weekend in Virginia and had visited with her sister-in-law Nancy Duclos Krieger ('47) on Long Island. Virginia Woodman Cordes, husband Charles and three children live in West Chester, Pa.; Ginny does volunteer work at the Chester County Historical Society, guiding and research, and volunteer work at the local hospital.

Dorie Oneal Becker was able to accompany husband Ed on a business trip to Europe for two and a half weeks in December, and spent time in Holland, France and Switzerland.

Carmen Welch Clark was one of those busy Boston career gals chosen to receive an "Office Orchard" write up in a recent Sunday Advertiser.

Anne Mastin Egner's children are Nancy, 10; Carl, 8; Corinne, 6 and Bruce 4. Diana Ewing Bowser writes: "Moved out of the city to Fort Phantom Lake but can't seem to catch fish. Water skiing and sailing take up many hours. If any travel to the Hemisphere in '68 and come through Abilene, please call."

1951

Nancy Mitchell Quinn sends most sincere thanks to The Class of 1951 for "the greatest Christmas." The holiday remembrance has made possible the acquisition of an electric wheelchair. Nancy began to paint seriously about two years ago; many of her paintings have been purchased by friends. She has exhibited in the Newton Free Library, at the Church of the Messiah in Auburndale, and more recently at the Charles River District Medical Society in Weston.

Joan Groccia Cowan appeared in the Boston Opera Company's production of "Moses and Aaron"; continues to sing regularly as lead soprano in a Boston church.

Two new addresses: Joane Cardinal MacMurray — 86 Sunset Avenue, Verona, N.J. 07044; Mary Jane White Miller — 713 Camp Woods Road, Villanova, Penna. 19085.

Paula Flath Hurley reports: Many things have happened . . . we've improved our 'ark' with a new furnace, back porch, sidewalk and fence; I've done groundwork for a community nursery school; Ed is going full tilt with the beauty salon and doing wig shows; Alison is busy at nursery school; Sue has grown to 5'1" at the age of nine; Todd has been growing too; my Dad still runs circles around the whole family. If all goes well, California will have nothing but sunshine for two weeks in April when the family descends from the big silver bird."

Joanne Monahan Garrity's Christmas letter came from a "temporary" address in Yorktown Heights (N.Y.): "We are still in THAT state of confusion; our house is STILL not ready! The girls have adjusted beautifully to the new school — they are in the normal pattern — I drive them to the usual bus stop each morning, pick them up in the afternoon, and they have made friends with our soon-to-be-neighbors' children. The twins are at that adorably active age — they play well together; then fight well together! Spent one fall day with Jean Schuster Robbins in her lovely home in Suffern. Her two boys were in school so I was not able to meet them. Jean had invited Georgia Bakes Sigalos (who came with four-year-old Kathy and baby daughter) and Janice Weyls Moore, who brought baby John."

In the news: The Manchester, Vermont Journal reports that Marjorie Flemer March is now director of the Zion Episcopal Pre-School; the Falmouth, Mass. Enterprise reports that Susan Glynn Anderson served as a volunteer instructor in that community's Summer Aid Volunteer Education (SAVE) program last summer.

From Andrea Zaletta Giovannello: "Bristol (Conn.) is treating me very well. Louis and I live in a cute 3-room apartment and we're having a little Cape Cod house built on the outskirts of Bristol. I've found a pleasant position in a radiologist's office."

From Janice Pasquale Barry: Life has been moving very quickly for me. After Lasell I went on to receive my degree in elementary education at Wheelock College. Taught second grade for two years in Quincy, Mass. and then married on April 17, 1966. My husband Frederick and I have been living in Germany for a year and a half; he is a First Lieutenant in the Army. We've had a wonderful opportunity for travel. We'll be returning to the States in January '68 with our new son David Frederick, three months old, and settling in the Boston vicinity. Hope to hear from some of my classmates in the area."

It's new addresses for: Maris Kleinman Delano, at 2006 Woodriver Drive, Apt. 26, Carbondale, Illinois 62901, and Claire Lipton Katz, at 777 Pelham Road, New Rochelle, N.Y. Claire adds: "We have recently moved from Bridgeport. Husband Jerry is employed by Burlingame Associates, Ltd., in Mount Vernon. Am keeping in touch with the Fairfield County alumnae; plan to join them at their meetings. Please extend my very best regards to all at Lasell." Jane Tosca May also reports a move, to 8425 Glenn Dale Rd., Greenbelt, Maryland 20770. Husband Don is a Sales Rep. with the Hotel Corporation of America with the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C. Jane is secretary with Northrop Corp., International Division in the Capitol.

From Virginia Josetti Meyerstein: "For the past five years I have been abroad; first at the University of Lausanne in Switzerland and then at the Sorbonne. Following that I was appointed to teach in a French lycee outside Paris. Two years ago I married a French citizen, who is presently employed at the Franklin Mint as an industrial engineer. We live at 202 Yarmouth Lane in Media, Pennsylvania. I should love to hear news of Lasell and especially of my former classmates."

The only teacher in the state certified to teach both the emotionally disturbed and the retarded, according to the Lawrence, Mass. Evening Eagle-Tribune, is Ruth Hyfer. She is now teaching emotionally-disturbed children at the Eastern Middlesex Guidance Center, sponsored jointly by Reading and North Reading.

Teaching also, is Linda Parmenter, fifth grade English in Westport, Connecticut. Linda is living with her sister Janet (Parmenter Ellinwood '56 in Darien.

Mrs. Roger Meyerstein
(Virginia Josetti '63)
December 23, 1965 Paris, France

New address for Carole Bradshaw, who works at Jordan Marsh, Boston in the Fashion Display Department. It is 282 Newbury St., Apt. 15, Boston, Mass. 02116.

Janie Pearson Kurz and husband Roger, will spend the next three years at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, where Roger is an Ensign in the Navy. "Couldn't be more pleased with our home port!" she writes.

From the marrieds: Gale Hutzler Roberts living in Chapel Hill, N.C. while husband Jim attends the University of North Carolina Law School. Tom and Janet (Ramsbotham) Hurt are off to Athens, Ohio where Tom is getting his Master's Degree at Ohio U.

Janet Slocum Shipe and family have been living in Spokane, Washington for a year now. Her husband is Branch Sales Manager for the Smith Corona Marchant office. Martha Burrell Foster and her two daughters have a new home in Danbury, Conn. Husband Howie is the Eastern Office Manager for Temescal Metalurgical Corp. in Wilton.

Career girls Sue Madigan and Virginia Maley are living and working in Hawaii. Jane Boyden is a social worker for the San Bernadino County Welfare Dept. in S.B., Calif. Ann Stern certified from Katherine Gibbs is an executive secretary for Avon Products in NYC.

Celinda McCoy Bankhead writes that she married in August, 1963 and has two daughters: Mary Eugenia (3) and Tallulah Brockman (1). The Bankheads live on a farm and have six ponies, seven burros and assorted dogs and cats.

From Norfolk, Virginia, Marion Bishop Kersh writes: "The past year has been hectic so say the least. In December, I had the first public showing of my Interior Design work. Did a complete decorating-design job on a beautiful old Georgian home in Virginia Beach. During the Christmas season it was open to the public — affording me a chance to acquire new customers with an assortment of design problems.

"In March of this year I did the interior design for the first Men's Hair Styling Salon in Norfolk. Since then I have been doing residential work for several clients; also going into free lance work from my home.

"Am looking forward to a visit with my Mother in Auburn (Mass.) in January or February. Shall make it a point to visit Lasell. I miss the many friends I made there."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Wendy Mertz McAuliffe, whose husband was killed in Vietnam. Wendy and her young son are now living in Florida with her mother (Helen Dermon Mertz x-'33) and sister Gretchen x-'68. Their address is 5861 S.W. 83rd Street, South Miami.

Susan Layng has sprouted gold wings and is flying off in all directions as a Pan American World Airways Stewardess. A recent graduate of the airline's International Stewardess College in Miami, Florida, she is serving aboard Jet Clipper flights from Miami to Latin America and the Caribbean resort islands, and across the Atlantic to Lisbon, Portugal. Sue — a graduate of the University of Colorado, was one of some 1200 young women from all parts of the world who, besides learning to produce and serve gourmet meals with Maxim's of Paris flair, mastered around-the-world time changes, international documentation and currency exchange, first aid, child care and the culture and customs of countries served by jet Clippers.

On the job: Marsha Shane Brann is teaching first grade at the Centre School in Hampton, N.H. Marsha graduated in June from Boston University. Ellyn Greenstein is teaching nursery school at the Prescott House in NYC; graduated from Mills College of Education last summer.

Gail Jacobsen has completed both her degree and internship training at the Pawtucket Memorial Hospital School of Medical Technology. Paula Burstein Bilow's new address: 165 West End Avenue, Lincoln Towers, N.Y., N.Y. Husband David is an architect.

The Lynn, Mass. Item reports that Judy Baker returned to Israel for five weeks this past summer, to check out the war damage. Judy revisited Beit Zera, a kibbutz where she spent a year working, and wrote home that life goes on as before the war . . . the women and children lived for six weeks in bomb shelters but all is back to normal.

From Linda Foster Nixon, postmarked Honolulu: "Greetings from Waikiki! David and I are on the first step of our trip around the world. Left Boston early in September and flew to San Francisco; then to Honolulu. "We're settled in an apartment near the beach and hope to stay until late Winter-early Spring before we move on to the Orient and Australia. I'm working for Kelly and have enjoyed a position with the Public Relations Dept. of the Hawaiian Sugar Planter's Assoc. It's really a small world — filled with Lasell girls. On a bus last week I ran into Lynn Erhardt and Karen Peterson. My best to you all."

Still in school: Judith Neitlich in her last year at Lesley College; plans to teach. Noel Manning at the University of Miami in Coral Gables; Linda Cheney at Katharine Gibbs in Providence; Beverly Spaulding at N.E. Memorial Hospital's School of Medical Technology.

The Lexington, Mass. Minute Man reports that Linda Condike has graduated from Chandler School for Women.

New addresses: Eileen Allen Gromko at 4125 Green Garden Blvd., Erie, Pa. 16509. with Saga Food Service. Susan Wakeman Husband Allen is a management trainee Meier living at 3645 North Cactus Blvd., Tucson, Arizona 85716. Husband Carl is studying for Master's Degree at the University of Arizona.

Mrs. Muriel Sheppard shares letters from two 1967 graduates — Jamie Miller and Sue Lillywhite. From 40 Owen Street, Hartford, Conn., Jamie writes: "I am tickled to death to say that I finally have a job as assistant in the Nursery Group at the Renbrook School in West Hartford. The school is fabulous — the people terrific. Am so excited I can't see straight!!! The summer was really hectic — took an instructor's course in riding at the Potomac Horse Center in Maryland; received a teaching certificate; spent the month of June in the horse barn organizing for my July camp work. It really was a success this year — very challenging. Two trophies were donated for the outstanding campers of the year — this added a touch of professionalism. Spent two weeks in Bermuda before coming to Hartford. Promise to come to Auburndale to visit with you before long. And from Sue: In September I shall be a teacher's aide for 14 mentally retarded children — am very excited about the work. I hesitated to accept the offer for I didn't have very much experience with these handicapped students. The head instructor and the school superintendent were terribly kind; I know it will be a most rewarding year.

And from the newspapers: Norrie Dotterer is studying at Katharine Gibbs in Boston; Margaret Borger attending Hillsdale Michigan College; Linda Hill an airline stewardess with Delta Air Lines. Base station is Houston, Texas.

Linda Smith is teaching at the new First Church Nursery School in Marblehead, Mass., and Claudia Miller and her family, was recently publicized in the Boston Sunday Advertiser. Her father is the national planner for the conventions of the American Legion, and the family moves each year to the city where it is held.

1967

To: Members of the Faculty, Staff and Administration
From: June Babcock
Subject: "Whatever Happened to the Class of 1967?"

The two lists enclosed herewith are being distributed to the faculty and staff as a partial, at least, attempt to answer the above question.

We are grateful to Mrs. Fager and Miss Little for preparing these lists for distribution.

TWENTIETH ANNUAL ALUMNAE COUNCIL MEETINGS

April 5 and 6, 1968

1968 Alumnae Council Panelists: l. to r. Angela Pennio Takessian '56, Martha Root '67, Carol Wolfenden '66, Barbara Stickle Mode '47, Penelope Thompson '54, and Frances Austin Ferris '37.

The 20th Annual Alumnae Council Session was held on April 5 and 6, 1968 at the College. Dr. James Nelson Goodsell, Latin American Editor of the Christian Science Monitor was the after-dinner speaker on Friday evening.

Saturday's program opened with the Annual Meeting of Lasell Alumnae, Inc. at Wolfe Hall. President Marilyn Blodgett Hall '46 called the meeting to order at 9:45 a.m. The Secretary's report was read and accepted; the Treasurer's report was distributed, discussed and placed on file. The Auditor's report was read, accepted, and placed on file.

Shirley Gould Chesebro '33, Alumnae Scholarship Chairman, reported that three scholarships, totalling $1150.00 had been awarded to members of the Class of 1968. In the past ten years, 41 students have received a total of $16,850.00 in scholarship aid from Lasell Alumnae, Inc.

For the Alumnae Fund, Louise Tardivel Higgins '37 announced that, as of April 1, 1968, $22,486.38 had been received from 1215 contributors. She also reported that Matching Gifts had added considerably to this year's Fund. There are 71 chairmen and 694 agents serving as volunteer solicitors in the 1967-68 Fund campaign.

Joan Kearney Cormay '51, a member of the Nominating Committee, read the slate of officers for the year 1968-69. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the following slate: President, Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55; 1st Vice President, Sandra Shelton Fitch '56; 2nd Vice President, Betty Lou Foy Reid '52; Recording Secretary, Betty Williams McGowan '47; Corresponding Secretary, Linda Nolan Ahern '55; Treasurer, Ruth Turner Crosby '42; Assistant Treasurer, Ruth Buswell Isaacson '36; Alumnae Fund Committee, Alice Pratt Brown '29, Mildred Bell Cole '31, Louise Tardivel Higgins '37; Scholarship Committee Chairman, Shirley Gould Chesebro '33. Directors include: Mildred Strain Nutter '17, Toni Meritt Smith '23, Dorothy Inett Taylor '30, Marjorie Furbush Gledhill '38, Camie Porter Morison '40, Virginia Wolfe Perkins '44, Marilyn Blodgett Hall '46, Judy Parker Haas '49, Janice Leavitt McCarthy '55, Penny Rafkin Hurwitz '56, Sue Spangenberg Straley '60 and Nan Sparks Hunter '61. Joan Kearney Cormay '51 will serve as Chairman of the Nominating Committee for 1969-70 officers and will be assisted by Edith Tacone Kearney x-'51 and Sally Remley Southmayd '62.

Lynn thanked the Board of Management for their assistance during her term of office; then introduced the newly-elected president, Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55. Marion presented Lynn with an engraved silver disc as a token of appreciation from the Alumnae. She then introduced Lasell's president, Dr. Vincent C. DeBaun, who spoke to the delegates on "Young People Today."

Following the morning coffee-break, the Council Session was reconvened. Marjorie MacClymon '32, moderator of the Alumnae Career Panel, introduced each speaker with a brief career resume. Participants of the 1968 Panel included: Martha Root '67, a member of the faculty at Perkins Institute; Carol Wolfenden '66, Vista Volunteer; Angela Pennio Takessian '56, a buyer for Grover Cronin's; Penelope Thompson '54, a New York State Probation officer; Barbara Stickle Mode '47, interior decorator; and Frances Austin Ferris '37, head dietician at Symmes Hospital, Arlington, Mass.

Miss Frances Atwood, Lasell's Head Librarian, was the speaker following luncheon at Woodland Hall. Miss Atwood presented an informative picture of the New Library. A tour of this handsome new facility closed out the 20th Annual Alumnae Council Session.

Respectfully,

BETTY WILLIAMS MCGOWAN '47

Recording Secretary

Lynn Blodgett Hall '46 greets newly-elected Alumnae President Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55

1905

It is with sincere regret that we report the death of Edith Burke Wells x'05 on March 10, 1968 at a Melbourne (Fla.) nursing home, where she had been a patient for the past eleven years. Mrs. Wells, the Lasell Baby, was born on January 21, 1884 in Bragdon's Senior Room. Her father, Professor Joseph C. Burke, was a member of the Seminary Faculty. To her daughter, Betty Wells Tuttle '29, Lasell Alumnae extend deep sympathy.

1906

Maude Simes Harding writes that the Christmas season brought greetings and good news of activity from Lucy Wilson Errett, Mildred Peirce Wise, Julia Potter Schmidt, Edith Anthony Carlow and from Marie Cogswell Gelinsky, who is in an Oregon nursing home.

1907

From Clara Huttenbauer Levy: "My husband passed away on July 30, 1967. Our eldest granddaughter, Jo Carol Levy (Radcliffe '67) was married to William Holway Hill on December 30th in Wellesley, Massachusetts."

Lilian Douglass Heeb reports that Ida Sisson Craver and husband were enjoying an early spring cruise to the Orient.

1908

From Ethel McCorkindale Harwood: "Due to the death of my daughter and the subsequent sale of my Longmeadow home, I am now living in a fine nursing home in Hampden."

1911

Vera Bradley Findlay brings us up-to-date: "Arrived home on Easter Sunday, having been away since October 24th — first to England and Northern Wales; then to Australia in November via The Iberia, P & O Line. Finally to New Zealand in January, where this time — my third visit to that marvelous country — I spent until March 13th; on the homeward trek, I enjoyed my tenth trip through the Panama Canal! Could write a book if time permitted."

1914

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Dorothy Smith Tolman, whose husband, Mr. David S. Tolman, passed away on June 15, 1968 in Brockton, Mass.

Dorothy Hartshorn Underwood forwards excerpts from the 1914 Round Robin letter:

Ruby Newcomb McCorkindale and husband had a wonderful 50th wedding anniversary, followed by a month's trip to Japan. Myra Eby Craighead plans to come to Clearwater in March; right now she is in Bermuda playing in a Bridge Tournament. Myra should be persuaded to send a story on the Craighead twins — nephews — whose life was depicted on TV early in November, in a story entitled "Grizzley." The feature is a study of a bear's habits.

Lena Vee Kelley Stone has an interesting project: she is beginning to make a "This is Your Life" scrapbook of pictures for her oldest grandson; will present it to him on his 21st birthday. Lena Vee hopes to have one ready for each grandchild.

Ruth David Giller's "thrill of the year" was a phone call from her son Edward while he was flying in a Government plane over the Pacific. Marcia Fogg Moore is fortunate to have her family all living nearby. She and Bob have already celebrated their 50th. Charlotte Swartout Quackenbush is also lucky to have her daughters as near neighbors. It is especially appreciated after you lose your husband, but I cannot complain because Deborah will return to Massachusetts this summer. She and I had a week together in New York in the early spring. She flew from Antwerp to be matron-of-honor for her cousin.

Both Mary Bingaman and Carolyn Moore plan to be in Florida in late March; I hope to see them and Alleda Burnett Arneson.

. . . D.H.U.

Dale Whipple Turnbull has "gone to Miami to live, to be near several members of the family. Do enjoy it at the East Ridge Lutheran Retirement Village."

Dr. Carol M. Rice is "helping, as a member of the Board, to get a country club established here in Sweet Briar. 1300 acres — in the foothills of the Blue Ridge — have been given to the county for a club. A gorgeous old southern mansion, originally the home of Patrick Henry's mother, will be the clubhouse!"

Janet Eaton Maynard '45 and mother,
Mid Cary Hill '18

Maude Hayden Keeney sent greetings from California, where she was visiting younger daughter, Elise. Maude's son-in-law, Capt. John Edgerton, who had been stationed at March AFB in Riverside, left in late February for Thailand.

1917

Ruth Burnap Jones and Mildred Strain Nutter joined forces; submitted the following news items:

Helen Stephan Sterley was a passenger on the SS Kingsholm for a South American cruise. She made several new friends and enjoyed every minute of the three-month holiday. On-shore side trips included a visit to the Inca Ruins and to the Chilean Lake district.

Fannie Gates Frey and husband had a short stay at the Greenbriar at Sulphur Springs en route to Arizona. Edith Holman Dolliver has been busy serving as chairman of the In-Town Training Center of the Long Beach (Calif.) Girl Scouts; is also active in the promotion of the Northern P.E.O. Home.

Marie Keppel Hawkins called at The Alumnae Office in October, en route to visit a daughter in Portland. Marjorie Morrison Coburn spent the Christmas holidays with a nephew in Washington; and while there enjoyed a visit with Rosenda Cabrera '19 at the Mexican Embassy. Caroline Moore '14 and Virginia Moore Starkey visited Lillian Astill Ainsworth in Sarasota; Mildred Strain Nutter had both fall and spring visits with her cousin, Lillian Astill Ainsworth.

Helen Saunders and Florence Bell Merrill had brief hospitalizations this spring; Gertrude Allen, Nora Hayward Rodd and Dorothy Deering Ewart all report: "Just busy, busy, — no special news."

Eugenia Skinner Shorrock writes: "Just four days before Christmas, my gift shop burned, set by an arsonist. My daughter (1917's Class Baby) and I plan to work at the Joyce Chen Restaurant in Cambridge."

The College has been informed of the death of Pauline Fera on December 21, 1967. We extend sincere sympathy to her family; more especially to her sisters, Lavinia Fera McKinney '16 and Harriet Fera French x-'18.

1918

Complete Reunion Report will appear in the Fall issue of The LEAVES

From Edmonds, Washington, Kathryn Craig Rowand writes: "We came here to live when my husband retired — and after our trip East to attend my 45th Reunion in 1963. The Pacific Northwest is beautiful country — we just love it! Sorry I shall not be able to attend our 50th, but shall be with you all in spirit!"

1919

Dear Girls,

Sybil Weymouth Braniff writes she is looking forward to 50th Reunion in June 1969. A note from Olive Chase Mayo mentions she is ready too. Olive has another granddaughter being married, and that she has been a great-grandmother for quite some time. And we do agree: she wears the honor well!

Betty Moyer Wilson and husband have truly been traveling of late — all 'round South America; more recently visiting the western countries of Europe. She too hopes to see us in June 1969.

Ethel Ramage Lougee and husband thoroughly enjoyed their extended trip to Florida — visiting along the way. We can count on Ethel's being with us in 1969.

You'll be hearing from me — with particulars — at a later date. Meanwhile, have a happy, happy summer; do remember: Our 50th — June 1969!!!

... Mercie V. Nichols

The State of Florida has captivated several '20-ers. Louise Furbush Herbert has moved to Delray Beach (Penthouse Delray Apt. 212, 1910 South Ocean Boulevard), and "would love to hear from anyone in the area." Frances Adams Pastene makes her home — seven months of the year — at 2552 South Federal Highway, Boynton Beach.

Ruth Davis Frost reports: "My banker-husband retired four years ago and since then we have spent two winters in Florida, travelled to Nassau, Hawaii and enjoyed two months of travel in Europe last year. We have three children and nine grandchildren who bring joy to us."

Dorothy Burnham Eaton and "husband called on Mrs. Bertha (Hooker) Willey and Helen Beede '21 when we were in Bradenton. We talked of old days and old friends, of the wonderful 'Helen's Night' at Pops, and of plans for the days to come. I have had two interesting poetry prizes recently, and my small essays on Our Two Acres continue the series in the Christian Science Monitor."

Eloise Carey Wadley enjoyed "a wonderful winter in Tempe, Arizona. Still helping to bring good music to Saginaw, Michigan; working part-time in the Auxiliary Gift Shop of the Saginaw General Hospital."

And from Rochester, New York, a note from Marion Eaton Gumaer: "My five granddaughters and three grandsons all live in Rochester so life is merry; I am compelled to keep up with the age in which we are living. My husband retired from Lincoln Rochester Trust Company and has gone back to the practice of law — his first love."

1921

From Sarah Wild Gordon: "Since my husband retired, I decided to join the ranks too. Have given up my duties with the National Pi Beta Phi Sorority; we have enjoyed the winters at our home in Alamos, Sonora, Mexico."

Esther H. Story is "enjoying retirement and learning to keep house and live outside a dormitory. When in the Rockport (Mass.) area, please come to call — and have a fine view of the sea."

We extend sincere sympathy to Dorothy Edwards Rodgers, whose husband passed away suddenly in January. Dorothy's son, David Rodgers III, and Karen Crafts, Lasell '63, were married in April 1967.

Doris Brown Bergin and husband, Fred, attended the Rotary International Convention in Nice, France in the spring of 1967, and are now contemplating a trip to Hawaii. Mr. Bergin is the retiring president of the Rotary Club of Montecito, California.

Harriette Case Bidwell is enjoying a long-planned-for vacation: on June 22nd she left on a nine-week tour of Great Britain, Scotland and other European countries.

Phyllis Rafferty Shoemaker was hoping to have an early summer vacation trip to Alaska. Vice-president of the Watsonville (Calif.) Community Hospital Service League, Phyllis is a member of the Committee to raise funds for a new hospital, to be ready by the end of next year.

Bertha Phelps Bogg "spent the winter at the Princess Martha Hotel in St. Petersburg, Florida; will leave in mid-April for Los Angeles; then tour all the State and National Parks. Hope to spend the summer months in Massachusetts and New Hampshire."

In April, Florence Day Wentworth wrote to say that her "dream vacation" — three months in Hawaii and California — was more wonderful than anticipated.

Peg Reid Perry's Florida stay included visits with Dorothy Ely Bigham '21 and Dorothy Balch McCormack '20.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Vera Clauer Hans, whose husband, Edwin, passed away in November 1967. Vera's address is 312 Rue Rabelais, Apt. 609, South Bend, Indiana.

1923

Helen Hinshaw Toohey sent regrets for the 45th Reunion, but "will make every effort to be on hand for the 50th. Love and all good wishes."

Claire Parker Everett and husband joined a group of Harvard College and Business School associates for a mid-winter holiday at the Princess Hotel in Bermuda.

Anne Daugherty Slater reports an October visit at the Homestead in Hot Springs, Virginia with Jean Merrick Moss. Anne adds: "The years have been so kind to Jean — she never seems to change in appearance, and has as much vitality as in school days."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Louise Orr Daniels, whose husband, Mr. Clifton A. Daniels, passed away on March 19, 1968.

Robert and Mary Frances Rowsey, grandchildren of Frances Royce Johnson '24

1924

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Adele Bigham Nelson, and to her daughter, Diane Nelson Cowan '51. Adele's husband, Mr. Wayne M. Nelson, passed away in February 1968. He was manager of the group and pension department of the Aetna Life Insurance Company until his retirement in 1962.

Elizabeth Anderson Hanna writes: "We are living at Clear Lake — retired — but far from a quiet life. We have just published a guide book for the State of Indiana — complete recreational information and vacation spots. 'The Hoosier Guide' makes its debut on March 12."

From Helen Robson Hamill: "It hardly seems possible that it is now over five years since I married and came to live in Florida. Keep busy doing work about the garden that provides more grapefruit, oranges and bananas than we can use. We also have a most successful tomato garden. Last summer we enjoyed a wonderful vacation visiting in Ireland."

Blanche Copithorn Balcom and husband are on an extended tour of the United States. The Balcoms have three sons; eleven grandchildren.

This April appeal from Barbara Cushing Jenkins: "I do wish 1925 girls would write more news to our secretary, Lois Bryant Warner; just a few lines would help our column in the LEAVES. Had a delightful telephone visit with Helen Black Sprague — as you may know, she will be living in London for a few years. Personally, I keep very busy and well. Our three sons are now married — Donald in Burlington, Vermont; Ward, in Concord, New Hampshire;

Richard, recently moved to Toledo, Ohio. We have six grandsons and two granddaughters — they keep life busy and interesting for us all."

Gertrude Kendall Lund and husband have been spending a few months in Southern California, where her daughter and family live. Gertrude's son, who also has three children, lives in Amherst, Massachusetts.

The latest word from Helen Duncan Devereux in Honolulu: "Thoroughly enjoying early retirement but NEVER BUSIER!!! Have had a very busy year and am rushing to finish taxes in time to leave for a seven-week's tour of South America and Alaska. Roy and I visited New England last October — somehow it didn't seem the same after losing my beloved Mother in November 1966, and no longer having access to our home where we four girls were born and raised!"

Betty Oppel Morris comments: "Status about the same as the last few years. I am still working for the Housing Authority; had a glorious trip to Europe in '67 and am looking forward to another in the near future."

In July 1967 Charlotte Russell Pellini joined the staff of the Institute of Mental Health, Rhode Island Medical Center, as Chief of Social Services.

Carolyn Duncan Long is the proud grandmother of a future Lasell-ite. Carolyn adds: "My Lasell roommate, Edith Thorpe Van Dine is a busy grandmother too. Her son has two daughters, and on November 1, 1967 twins, Sarah and Derek, were born to her daughter Mary Van Dine Whitehead. Edith and I feel there's just cause for much celebration."

A. Kathryn Royce serves as Director of the Portsmouth District for the New Hampshire Federation of Women's Clubs, plus chairmanships for the Red Cross, Cancer and Heart Associations. She is also a member of the Alumni Council of Nasson College.

The January newsletter from Edith Hussey Adams came from West Main Road, Little Compton, Rhode Island. It reads, in part: "As many of you may know, Kip decided in October to retire from General Radio, and we quickly went to work to clean house, sell it, lease a place in Little Compton, and move out of Massachusetts.

The next move is to either buy a house here or build on the lot we bought two years ago. We shall probably build — that will keep us occupied for this year.

"Inspired by two enthusiastic friends, we've taken a part-time job. It involves an annual trip, calling on florists to sell subscriptions to a small brochure that has been selling successfully for many years. Our territory is the Southwestern United States; the annual trip occupies January, February and March. (Sounds rather wonderful, since the porch thermometer at Sudbury showed 15 degrees below zero the day the movers came.)

"There's more good news from 1967. We acquired a lovely daughter-in-law when John graduated from the University of Chicago in June and married Nancy Houghten in July. They have joined the Peace Corps, finished three months of training in Hawaii, and are starting two years of teaching in Malaysia at Penang — 'the Pearl of the Orient'.

"Prospects for another lovely daughter-in-law look very good, since Trudy Koch of Newbury, South Carolina, and Kip, Jr. announced their engagement last year. Kip, Jr. has been doing well as a consultant for a firm of management engineers.

"We sincerely hope that last year was a good one for you, and we extend warmest good wishes for a very happy 1968!"

Helen Cole Chalfant now considers Miami her permanent home, for "after all I have been here 15 years. One son is an Episcopal clergyman in Clearwater; the second son is a teacher in Chevy Chase, Maryland. My daughter and husband live in Boston. Any and all '28-ers who may be in this area, do come to call."

Bernice Kent Ennis repeats: "It has been great fun, over the past years, to have private reunions with Lillian Bethel, Eleanor McKenney Black '30 and Mac MacClymon '32 at the Cape or at Eleanor's in Bristol, Rhode Island. Last summer we had a marvelous visit with Tina Finlayson Dana and husband Ellis while they were vacationing East from their state of Wisconsin."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Helen Head MacFarland, whose mother, Mrs. Owen B. Head, passed away on December 24, 1967.

1929

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace S. Woodworth (Katherine Braithwaite) of the engagement of their daughter, Sally Florence, to Dr. Andrew Buffington. Sally is a member of the graduating class of the New England Conservatory of Music; her fiance prepared at Phillips Exeter Academy and was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, from which he received his doctorate in physics in 1967.

Mary Groff Cooper writes: "Without sounding too much like a representative of our local Chamber of Commerce, would like to suggest that if you can plan a weekend or longer trip, you come to our Pennsylvania Dutch Country. You would have a delightful vacation and if you would just give me a call, I'd enjoy taking you on a personally conducted tour!"

Constance Chalmers Harlow is now dietitian at the University of Maine York Cafeteria, which feeds 700 students daily. Connie finds it "very interesting work with fine people to work for — most important."

From Eleanor Pitcher Hansen: "Two major events of the past year for us: the marriage of our daughter last September to a fine broth of a lad' from Dublin, and the purchase of a winter home complete with pool et al, just south of Miami."

And this proud announcement from Catherine Morley King: "I am a grandmother

Debra and James Frey
Grandmother: Julia Klingensmith x-'28

six times! One son lives in Rhode Island; the other, in California; but we do have one daughter and one grandchild within ten miles of our home. There are plenty of excuses for travelling!"

Frances Brown Winthrop "moved to 21 East Main Street in Mystic, Connecticut in January from Canandaigua, New York. Have four children; ten grandchildren."

Also reporting a new home and new address is Julia Clausen Bowman: 2186 Wembley Park Road, Lake Oswego, Oregon, 97034.

Raytheon Company has announced the appointment of Margaret A. Wethern as Principal Assistant Secretary. Duties of the position include; maintenance of corporate minute and record books, preparation for meetings of directors and stockholders; arrangements for communications and services to stockholders; management of signing authority procedures; and liaison with transfer agents, registrars, stock exchanges and Secretaries of State. Margaret has been employed in the Office of the Secretary since 1961. She holds degrees from the University of Wisconsin and Columbia University Teachers College, and did graduate study at the University of Wisconsin. Prior to joining Raytheon, she taught Business Education and Theatre Arts at Lasell.

The Public Relations Office of Quinnipiac College has issued the following release: "Promotions in the English Department involved Mrs. Florence Fitch Osborn. Mrs. Osborn, a native of New Haven now living at Mount Carmel Avenue, Hamden (Conn.), is married to the college's Financial Aid Officer, Harold Osborn. She was graduated from Lasell Junior College, and received her baccalaureate with a major in English and Phi Beta Kappa distinction at the University of Connecticut in 1960. She earned a Master's degree with English major at Wesleyan University in 1964. An active journalist, and author of two books on Bridge, she took writing courses at New York University while serving as a columnist for the Associated Press and the New York Herald Tribune. Mrs. Osborn joined the Quinnipiac faculty in 1965 and has introduced major endeavors in the creative arts program."

In the early spring Dorothy Meeker Pearce wrote: "We have just returned from a Caribbean cruise; on board we met Helen Schroer Weldon '24 of Mansfield, Ohio."

From Sue Morgan Williams: "In retirement we are having a busy and happy life. Spent five weeks in St. Croix — as we have the past three winters. Our daughter and family (three lovely girls) live ten minutes away in Killingworth (Conn.). Mother and Dad moved down from Auburndale five years ago — they love their new home and yard."

Marguerite Boyd Green writes from Gloversville, New York: "We have two sons and a daughter — all are married and living hundreds of miles from us. I still sing in the church choir and am treasurer of the Congregational Church. How about that???"

And from Dorothy Camin Rozan in Lansing, Michigan: "Six active grandchildren, all living here — luckily, bring much joy. Still very busy with my work at the Family Service Agency."

Elinor Taylor is "about to end a teaching career in Business Education — have a year to go to make 35 years. Following graduation at Lasell, I attended Syracuse University, where I received a B.S. in 1934; have a M.Ed. from St. Lawrence."

1931

Marge Keller Mayer is proudly announcing the arrival of granddaughter, Katherine Ann, on January 16, 1968. The equally proud father is Marge's younger son, George.

And Betty Condit Kessel tells us: "My daughter, Barbara, had her first child — our first grandchild — Jennifer Lynn, on November 13, 1967 in Topeka, Kansas. Our second daughter, Harriet Ann, was married on December 16, 1967 and will be living in Lima, Peru. She was graduated in June 1967 with honors from Wheaton College."

Karin Eliasson Monroe's daughter, Sally, was graduated in June from Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, where she majored in pre-Foreign Service. Sally was Queen of the Mary Washington May Court.

Jane Porter Brown writes of the engagement of her youngest son, Peter, to Miss Vivienne deMuth, a graduate of St. Luke's School of Nursing in New York. Having completed a year of active duty in Vietnam, Peter is now attached to the Navy Finance Office in New London, Connecticut.

Blair Whittier Shepardson writes from nearby Sherborn: "Floods and winter ravages from ice dams on our ancient saltbox roof being uppermost in my mind, it is not easy to conjure up news of any interest! My husband's plans for retirement are set for 1969; we have many plans afoot."

Marjorie Magune Curtis reports: "1967 was a strange year for me: Spent three months in St. Petersburg, where my 85-year-old mother was hospitalized. In July we met our Frank's wife for the first time

Louise Newell Audette '33 with granddaughters Mimi and Jeni

— they were married in California two years ago. Son Gordon, with three years of service in the Air Force, is now at Salem State; we see him and his wife quite often. Daughter Caro and her three live nearby. We ended the year — Christmas Day — with a fire in our home; for three months we have been living with my brother while waiting for painters and carpenters to complete the repairs."

1932

Helen Fitch Foley writes: "Have just returned from Phoenix (Ariz.) where my daughter, Judith Marie, was married on March 30th to Thomas H. Bischoff of that city. On December 20th, daughter Connie (Mrs. C. L. Smith of Westwood, Mass.) presented us with our fifth grandson, Kevin William. Younger daughter, Kathy, will graduate from high school in June; son, Ricky, from grammar school. Rick will attend Cheverius High School next year."

Althea Ward Currier continues to enjoy her duties as "receptionist at a portrait studio in Caribou (Maine). Having much fun too with my first grandchild, Jason Dale, age eight months."

Betty Parrish Newman promises: "One of these days I hope to come to Reunion and to see everyone. Our summer looks like a busy one — Tom graduates from Princeton in June; Patricia plans a July wedding. Jody, our eldest daughter, and her daughter, Beth, will be matron-of-honor and flower girl."

Grace Wellington Hebach x-'33

Enid Jackson Giles reports a beautiful trip to Europe in April, when she visited her daughter, Kay, who was studying in Florence, Italy.

From Vero Beach, Florida, Minerva "Dickie" Pritchard Barratt writes: "My husband took early retirement last year. This is a wonderful spot and we love everything about it. If you're ever down this way, please come to see us."

Jane Ellison Ragan is "now teaching music in three country schools in Santa Rosa County, grades 1-12 in each school. My husband is with the University of West Florida, now in its first year of operation. We plan to move in June to the vicinity of Dudley, Massachusetts, where Phil will be chairman of the Management Department and professor at Nichols College of Business Administration."

1933

Louise Newell Audette plans an early summer visit in Illinois with son Dana and family.

Grace Wellington Hebach is assistant to the Head Teller of the Provident Institution for Savings in Boston. Grace and her husband celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary in Florida.

Barbara Erickson Rogers has been "enjoying a sabbatical from many years in the real estate business. My husband is the golf pro at our country club; I am trying to get interested in the game. Son, Terry, is doing well at Columbia Graduate School of Business after graduating from Yale in June '67."

A proud grandmother of two — Nancy, 6; Jeffrey, 4 — is Frances Rothenberg Watchmaker.

In August Hope Decatur Rowland will be attending the Second World Congress on Reading in Copenhagen.

Jeanne Heilig Noack writes: "Not much activity here since Jack graduated from high school last June. We still make flying trips to Dallas to visit our daughter and her two children, whom we consider to be the cutest grandchildren in the world!"

1934

Helen Gibbs Studley grows "more and more involved with volunteer work. It takes quite a bit of time, and I just don't keep in touch via correspondence with my Lasell friends — BUT I do think of you all — and often."

1935

Josephine Moore Gulnac was married at her home in Sharon, Connecticut, on May 11, 1968 to Mr. Verner Alexanderson of Neshanic Station, New Jersey. The couple was attended by Miss Jill Gulnac, daughter of the bride, and E. F. W. Alexanderson II, son of the groom. Mrs. Alexanderson is Director of Admissions at Wykeham Rise School, Washington, Connecticut; Mr. Alexanderson, a graduate of Amherst College, is a senior management analyst with the American Cyanamid Company.

Virginia White Wardwell and husband spend the winter months in Bradenton, Florida. They are but a few blocks away from Mrs. Bertha (Hooker) Willey and Helen Beede '21, and have enjoyed many evenings of bridge together.

From Marjorie Long Maish: "Our daughter Elizabeth and her husband, Peter Uhlen-dorf, have presented us with a beautiful granddaughter, Kristen. Our daughter, Sally, was the American Field Service candidate from Framingham South High School, and spent the summer of 1967 in Tarino, Italy."

The State of Maine's 103d Legislature last July designated The Lakewood Theater as the official State of Maine Theater. State Theater Day was Friday, June 28, 1968, and a brief ceremony preceded the matinee performance. The honor was accepted by Elizabeth Swett Mills, daughter of Lakewood's founder, the late Herbert Lindsey Swett. She is married to Grant Mills, president of the theater. Lakewood is now operating for the 68th season; we extend congratulations to the Swett family; to Lib, to her mother, Fancher Sawyer Swett x-'11, and to Eleanor Swett Richards '38.

Molly Upham Menges has sent the current address for Winifred Kelley, HS 32-36, WP 27-32. Winna is now Mrs. John E. Hart, 43 Main Street, Buzzards Bay, Mass.

1936

Peg Pearl Ide confesses: "Life goes on at a dizzy pace for us here in Danville, Vermont. I am twice a grandmother — Tim and his Mary now have two sons, and, of course, they are the most. Bill was married last July; he and his wife live in Montpelier so we see them often. Mary is a junior at Marietta College (dean's list!), and Rob is a busy high school junior. I am still the school lunch manager for the local grade and high schools. This is the first year in ages I haven't been attending night school — working toward that degree I never quite got. Thought I should rest my head a bit, so have enrolled in a sewing course in tailoring. Dick keeps busy with his two jobs — the grain mill and the bank; in his spare time, he has been breaking and training a Morgan colt."

Marian Burke Walkey has "five grandchildren, including a set of identical twin girls. Keep busy with town activities and manage an annual Florida vacation."

Dorothy Paine Chaucer writes: "Our oldest son is in California with the Coast Guard; middle son will be a junior at Boston University in September; and our baby will be graduating from high school in June and entering Northeastern University in the fall. Volunteer work and art lessons keep me busy."

The latest from Virginia Hall Warren: "Still a busy mother and housewife — with three healthy teenagers at home. Son George graduates from high school in June and plans to enter an Eastern college in the fall. I teach Arts and Crafts part time at the local YWCA and 4-H Groups."

Adelaide Shaffer Campbell has been elected the first woman to head the 2800 Realtors of New Jersey.

1937

Betty Harrington Van Huysen brings us up-to-date with the activities of her family: "Kristin (16), using babysitting funds, is on a three-month tour of Europe with friends. Lisa (18), graduated from Pittsford High, will attend the Cheadle Hulme School in England for a year before going on to Western College for Women. Bill and Butch keep us all up to our necks with Boy Scout doings."

From Anne Campbell Terrill in Bethesda, Maryland: "After returning from Florida in late March, we were involved in several local projects, plus entertaining out-of-town guests. The golf course is beckoning, too, at this season of the year — it is the one hobby which Jim and I share and enjoy. Our married son, Jim, is stationed with the Navy in Alaska; David is a freshman at the University of Tennessee's Dental College."

A new address for Irene Dreissigacker Brimlow: 32 Barcelona Drive, Elnora, New York; and this added word: "Brian has been transferred to the Albany Sears Store as group credit manager. The twins are loving Lasell; #1 son is with an insurance company in New York; #2 son, now a licensed mortician, has just completed Army basic training; and David, the only one at home with us, is finishing his junior year in high school."

Glennys Preston Allicon and Patricia Bixby McHugo '43 are busy with plans to reorganize the Vermont Alumnae Club.

Janet Owens DeArment writes: "Our son, Jim, and wife have presented us with a darling granddaughter — surely makes us feel old and brittle!!!"

From Isabel Wyatt Asselta we learn that her daughter, Beverly, is working in Rutland, Vermont; son, John, attends Lexington (Mass.) High School.

Babe Beamer Dahlberg, 1937's official hostess in Hawaii, enjoyed a "brief but delightful visit" with Ginna Webb Tompkins in March. A July postcard from Priscilla Grieg Jones reads: "Babe and I had a wonderful reunion — after 31 years we recognized one another immediately. Did so enjoy seeing two of her lovely children."

Betty Black Boynton reports for the Class of 1938: We mailed postcards to the loyal gals who continually support The Alumnae Fund, and are happy to share a few of the replies:

Winnie Aldrich Chapoton writes that she was transferred to Austin, Texas (8317 Tecumseh Drive) in June '67. Her older son is a freshman at Southwest Texas State College; her daughter, a junior in high school. Winnie finds that she never seems to locate where there are former Lasell classmates; would love to see any who may be travelling Texas-way.

Ruth Fulton Griffin must certainly be bursting with pride. Her Bruce is Bowdoin '69; Shirley is Wellesley '70; Michael, Williams '71, and Nancy is a member of the Class of '69 at Haverhill High.

Marie Bruns Dodge writes from Yonkers that son Pete, returned from three tours as a fighter pilot with the Navy in Vietnam, joined the reserves, and two weeks later his unit was recalled. Marie's second son, who will graduate from college in June '68, is also scheduled to join the Navy. Her daughter will enter college in September. The Dodge's have one grandson, Lance.

Margaret McEnerney continues to make a name for herself in the ranks of the American Legion. The New Haven Register reports that Mac is "one of the few women in the State ever to hold a position of commander of an overwhelmingly male American Legion post, (Derby 24), when she was elected for her third term as vice-commander for women of the American Legion, Department of Connecticut."

Audrey Spiller Smalley is working at the Concord (Mass.) Craft Shop. Her son, Stephen, has just completed his first year at the Graduate School, University of Pennsylvania, College of Veterinary Medicine. Married daughter, Sandra, has a darling daughter.

Harriet Newcomb Stoughton's Nancy is a student nurse at the University of Wisconsin; Betty Harrison Hartley's Sally Jane is a freshman at Bradford Junior College. Betty's other daughter, Betsy, and husband are students at the University of South Carolina.

The older daughter of Betty Lloyd Fritch is an American Airlines stewardess, based in Chicago. Son Bruce, a 1968 DePauw graduate, will be married this summer.

Mary (Penny) Brett Wiss and Tom have a beautiful new home in the Pocono Mountains. Their daughter Lynn, mother of one child, lives in Massachusetts; Sue is living in New Jersey; Sally is with an advertising agency in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania; and Tom IV is a sophomore at New Jersey's Blair Academy.

Shirley Hanson Carter, a member of the Duxbury School Committee, has two sons at Tufts University; daughter, Carol, is a teaching fellow (mathematics) at the University of Wisconsin.

Faye Wadhams Smith's twin daughters, Melinda and Melissa, are members of Lasell's graduating class; Ned II has transferred to the University of Hartford.

In December, Olive Boynton Garron welcomed home her older son, Rich, after his year in Vietnam. Rich and wife are now at Fort Riley, Kansas, where he is completing his tour of duty. David, a student at the University of Connecticut, will be married to a college classmate early this summer.

Lee Shepard Wilgus lists her own record: M.A. Degree, Columbia University, 1949; P.D. Diploma, Columbia University, 1955, 1949-1955: Vocational Psychologist, Department of Labor, New York City; 1955-1961: Rehabilitation Director, Clark County Sanitarium, Springfield, Ohio; 1961- to date: Director of Rehabilitation and Social Service, Montgomery County T.B. Clinic and Stillwater San., Dayton, Ohio.

The death of Irene Gahan Burbank was a shock to us all. She was an ardent and devoted community worker in the Springfield and Longmeadow area. In addition to her husband, Rene is survived by three children, Lee, Bill and Betsy. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family.

. . . B.B.B.

From Helen Forsberg Powers: "The program for the Annual Alumnae Council Session is most interesting; but shall have to 'regret'. Janis is on a double semester program; Andrea's schedule is a tri-semester affair and it seems that someone is passing in and out of the house with a suitcase all the time. I try not to make too many commitments ahead which will add to the total family confusion."

Janice Marr Demer reports that the Washington, D. C. Club held a luau on March 3rd which was "well attended." 39-ers in attendance included Ruth Bull Reed and June Peterson Blanchard. Janice and husband have now moved to an apartment, "since our two children are away at college and our oldest is now married to a Marine Capt. . . . we have a 14-month-old granddaughter." New address is: The Kenwood, 5101 River rd., Chevy Chase., Md. 20015.

Another move: Betty Wallace White and family to Canada (66 King Street, Niagara-on-the-Lake), where husband is Director of the Electronic Furnace Plant at Chippawa for the Norton Company.

Weekending at various scenic spots is great fun in a camper for Katharine Farnell Guay and family. Husband Harold is bank manager for Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco; the Guay's (son, Tim is 11; Paul, 10) have lived in San Mateo, Calif. for the past twelve years.

"Unexpectedly met Mary Bryan Rooney last summer at Osterville, Mass.," writes Peggy Fish Allsopp. "Neither of us recognized one another for quite awhile and then such a reunion." Peggy's daughter, Sheryl, is a sophomore at Connecticut College for Women.

From Richmond, Virginia, Emily Crump Ramstetter '29 sends this adventuresome news — which, we trust, will be followed by a detailed account: "Dorothy Carneal Bowles has been signed by National Educational Television to go to American Samoa for two years. On February 27th, Dottie and her two sons left for Pongo Pongo, where she will be a member of a team that will evaluate the efficiency of TV teaching on the Island."

Family news: Norma Jacobus Riddle announces the marriage of two of her daughters this winter. Barrie wed Jon Stephen Cosse of Brielle, N.J., both are teachers, and Diana married Colgate senior W. Drew Poston, also of Brielle. Youngest daughter Pamela will attend Marjorie Webster Junior College in the fall.

John Marbach, husband of Peggy Christiansen, was appointed a Judge of the County Court of Westchester by New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller the first of this year.

"Wonderful having a daughter at Lasell," writes Barbara Albrecht Minnig. Jan Robinson Williams is bookkeeper at Fitch Senior High School, Groton, Conn. where husband Bob teaches Physics. Their son Arthur is 12; daughter Mar Lou, 9.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Mary Curtin Duane and to Cora Pratt Gillett. Mary's younger daughter, Jane, was killed in an automobile accident in April in Framingham, Mass.; Cora's husband, G. Forrest Gillett died suddenly in June.

1940

The Meriden (Conn.) Record reports that Euphemia Burr Gardner received her bachelor's degree from Central Connecticut State College this spring; the same time that her daughter, Euphemia, received her degree from the University of Conn. Both mother and daughter plan teaching careers.

1941

We are happy to report that Gene Grant has been "found." She is Mrs. Fred H. Mensinger of 435 North Olive, Modesto, California 95350. Gene has one son, William Rudolph (Rudy) born Sept. 30, 1952.

The annual winter party of the Buffalo Lasell Club was held at the home of the Cochrane's (Dorothy Tiffany x-'29) . . . we had a perfectly marvelous time as we always do," writes Ginny Black DeLong.

Trips and travels: Judy Birch Williams, husband Carter and their four children traveled to Expo, NYC, Washington, D. C. and Williamsburg last summer, before returning to the West. Marie MacGregor Woodward and Walter took a Spring trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Marion Thomas Ashenden is busy with the Holbrook Kindergarten, Inc. which she has run for the past fifteen years, and the Ashenden School of Dance and the Three Pines Day School, which she also operates.

Lea Armand Boyle's daughter Laurel now attends Lasell, and Nancy Keach Paine, a secretary in the Alumnae and Development Office at Thayer Academy in Braintree (Mass.) reports that son Alan is a "typical nine-year-old . . . active in Cub Scouts, Little League, etc." Nancy's husband is a wholesale flower grower in Randolph.

Barbara Ann, daughter of Ann Buckle Fischer is working for Glamour Magazine's promotion department. Son Arthur is a sophomore at Nichols College of Business and Jim, 17, is a junior at Wardlaw Country Day School in Plainfield, N.J.

Norma Forsberg Burman writes: "We have lived here in Solon for almost seven years and last weekend Helen (Forsberg Powers '39) finally got out to see us. She and George and their youngest daughter, Robin, spent the weekend. They have a daughter at Alfred University and en route they picked up her belongings. On their way home they were planning to collect another daughter who attends William Smith College.

"We have started looking around at a few colleges ourselves for son Curt, who will be a senior in high school in September. Our daughter Cindy will be entering her freshman year and is quite excited about it.

"I am working four days a week and enjoy it very much. When I graduated from Lasell as a "Medical Secretary" all those years ago, I never expected to be in the accounting department of any company. I work at a small industrial company in Solon and have done everything from operating a panel switchboard and a TWX machine to the usual shorthand and typing; more recently, a Burroughs check-writing machine.

"Solon is about 25 miles from Cleveland, and we are considered in the Greater Cleveland area. We do miss the beauty of New England but we love it here."

Phyllis Johnson Klein writes that her daughter, Mary Louise Beach, graduated with a number of honors from Revere High School in West Richfield, Ohio. She received the Chrysler Award for good citizenship and also was vice president of her class, secretary of the Y-Teens, a member of the National Honor Society, the Student Council and the Class Council.

Roommates Elizabeth Allen and Mary Ellen Metzger Simpson both wrote to report they keep in touch. Mary Ellen's son Glenn, 18, entered the Navy in April. She and Diana, 16, Lois, 14 and John, 12 are looking forward to their annual vacation.

Nancy Larsen Holbrook and family planned a Scandinavian trip this summer, especially "fishing on the famous Laerdal River."

"And the beat goes on," says Claire DeConto Trodella as she reports on family news. The Trodella's have moved to Winchester, have sons at Tufts, U. of Miami and junior high school. Claire reports that she has joined local garden and toastmistress clubs, and is working in the field of mental health and retardation.

Marcia Corey Hanson's daughter Lorna will enter Lasell in the fall. Barbara Leonard Wiser is a full time teacher in Brookfield (Conn.) High School. Husband is Director of Athletics at New Milford High. They have three children — two daughters and a son.

Ted Martin, son of Hazel Strachan Martin, is a freshman at the University of Massachusetts and a member of the National Ski Patrol. Daughter Nancy is a junior in high school.

Barbara Walworth Starr writes that they continue to love living in Vermont — Burlington. The children are growing up. Suzanne, 17, is a senior at Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield and Edward Jr. will be a sophomore at Deerfield Academy in September. Dave is 11 and happy skiing, and playing basketball. Barbara writes "I see Betty Polhemus Parker and Vicki Muehlberg Warner x-42 in New York occasionally."

Marion Johnson Drennen writes: "the years go by so fast. Our children are busy in all directions. Karen, 22, is working and living in N.Y. and loves it. Sandy, 21, is a secretary at a bank in Montclair, N.J., lives at home and has a steady beau. Peter, 18, is a freshman at the U. of Oklahoma."

Margery Ray Blackett: "I certainly enjoyed the news of Reunion. Daughter Jean is working very hard at Denison U."

Dorothy Higson White: "Son Ozzie has been accepted Early Decision at Brown University. He is delighted and we are for him."

And from Sue Naeher Morgan: "Rod Jr. is in the Marine Reserves — took a year off from Dartmouth College to get his service over with. Paula is in her first year at Middlebury; Amy now attends the local grammar school. Rod continues to love his work and Mom has finally mastered the art of keeping house in England. The shopping defeats me. You walk, walk for a pound of butter! We were back in the states in April and are looking forward to going again next year. Our address Forest Green, Hartfield, Sussex, England."

1943

Betty Gorton Collier has an extremely interesting job with the Better Rochester Living organization. A volunteer, she helps families in the inner city to become home owners. She writes that she has direct contact with eight families who are now renting while remodeling their future homes, and finds it very rewarding.

Betty Schmidt Morrill and family spent a month in Jamaica last January. "We rented a beautiful house," she reports, "And the golf course was just great. Hope to return next year."

Graduations keep them busy: Barb Birch Manning's daughter Debbie from high school; she'll enter Lasell in the fall. Barb's Sue is a sophomore in high school and Dave a sixth-grader. Barbara Thornburg Donnelly's youngest graduated from high school and son Shaun from Lawrence University. Grace Marble Philbrick's only son, Ray, graduated from Huntington School for Boys and will enter Babson Institute.

Betty Bradway Lee writes from England, where the Lee's have lived for almost three years: "Two oldest girls — Betsy 16, and Nancy, 15, are away at boarding school here and are anxious to continue their education in good old U.S.A. — seriously considering Lasell for one! We have had one exciting trip on the continent and plan another this summer — to Holland, West Germany, Austria and Switzerland."

The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard Times reports that Jean Campbell has been appointed Executive Director of the local YWCA. Jean, who went on to receive degrees from Pembroke College and Hartford University has been active in Girl Scouting.

Elfreda Reck Dubin and family love to ski. Daughter Jackie attends Lasell, Robert is 15 and Sarita, nine. Elfreda visited with Shirley Haviland Woody last year.

Statistics from Joyce Flynn Douglas: U. of Vermont, 1947 B.A., Middlebury College 1949 M.S. Married; three sons. Serving on local board (Kimberton, Pa.) League of Women Voters.

Besides her own Barbara, 19, Jinny, 12 and Jim, 10, Kate Cogswell Darnton and husband have had a foster child for a year.

1945

Theresa L. Bergeron says "Hello" to all 45-ers. She was recently promoted to Group Chief Operator (S.N.E. Telephone Co.) in Danbury, Conn. Irene Evangelisti writes that she still lives on the shore of Bantam Lake (Conn.) and is waiting for 45-ers to drop in; looking forward to next reunion.

From Marjorie Olson Bjork: Son is at Clark University and daughter Carol just graduated from high school. Virginia Wolfe Perkins' daughter Sharon will enter Lasell this fall.

Movers: Elaine Macdonald Aldrich and family to Illinois (850 Timber Lane, Lake Forest) where husband Art is now treasurer of Science Research Associates. Joy Cartland Fowler's husband recently retired from the Air Force; Fowlers now live in Orlando, Florida (4408 Blonigen Ave.) where he is teaching and coaching at a junior high school.

Meri Zanleoni Goyette is a Director and member of the Board of Trustees of The Arts and Science Center, Nashua, N.H. The March 16th edition of The Nashua Telegraph reports: "The art world took a cue from politics last Sunday and staged another 'first' here in Nashua in the midst of the swirling activities preceding New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary. On the day when Nashua played host to two major political candidates, Richard Nixon and Sen. Eugene McCarthy, members of the Arts and Science Center donned their dungarees for a 'paint-in.'"

"To lead them in their efforts to spruce up the walls for a forthcoming exhibition, they called upon a leading figure in the art world, Santo Graziani, noted artist and head of the Worcester Museum School of Art. At the Center, thanks to the hard work of Graziani, his wife and other members of the Center, more than 200 original paintings by New England artists will be hung on the newly painted walls for the public to see, to rent and to buy."

The newspaper account included a charming photo of Meri with Graziani and his wife.

From Patricia Luther Wilkin: "I am teaching our local Head Start class this year and love it! It's good to be teaching again and since it's only mornings it fits in perfectly with my home schedule. Both Bob and I have joined and become active in the NAACP this year and find it a rewarding experience. Bob is an advisor for our church's campus organization and we so enjoy our contacts with the students. Both our girls are thriving and we are grateful for the advantages this small college town offers them."

Mary Ann Donahue '53 and Tab Hunter in a scene from the "Fickle Finger of Fate"

1953

Our sincere thanks to Mr. William Donahue for his thoughtfulness in sending word of daughter Mary Ann's accomplishments. A January issue of the Arlington (Mass.) Advocate printed picture and story:

Shown above are Tab Hunter, the star, and Mary Ann Donahue in the role of the embassy secretary in the movie, 'Fickle Finger of Fate,' now playing at several theatres in the Boston area. Not only in person but co-incidentally in a current film did Mary Ann Donahue return to Arlington after two years in Spain with the movie industry. While home, she made the rounds renewing old acquaintances and also arranged a get-together that resembled a miniature reunion of the Arlington High School Class of 1951. After the Arlington sojourn, she went on to New York, her home away from home, where she was given a heart warming party by a number of her former associates in the field of television and in the theatre. Previous to going abroad, Mary Ann was right hand man — or Gal

Friday — to Allen Funt in the Candid Camera show. Early in the year, Mary Ann will be flying back to Madrid where further exciting experiences await her in the world of making pictures.

Pat Pugliese Streibel shares the following:

"Barbara Corkum Metzger and husband Phil are living in Greenbrae, California. Barbara is employed as a secretary for Hardwood Design Company.

Marilyn Messer recently moved to California and is teaching elementary school in the San Francisco area.

Toni Palmer Nathan and husband Tom recently purchased a new home in Delmar, N.Y. Meredith Gowdy also lives in Delmar. Kathie Rebbmann Royka and husband Randy are living in Watertown, Mass.

My husband Max and I recently purchased a home in Rochester, N.Y. where he is employed as an engineer with Eastman Kodak. We spent New Year's Eve with my roommate Karen Asklar Grow and her husband Terry. Best to all the gals in Cushing House '64".

Jo Ann Simonson Sklar is now secretary to the president of Greer DuBois Advertising in New York. Linda Pillarella West received her B.A. from the University of Connecticut this year and will work for Systems, Consultants, Inc. in Washington, D. C. Her husband is an Officer Candidate in the Army Corps of Engineers.

Amey Eckles received a B.S. in Recreation and Elementary Education at Michigan State. She is now establishing a recreation program in the town of Blue Hill, Maine.

Susan Childs Merrick reports that she ran into Linda Parmenter at a wedding in Melvin Village, N.H. Sue's husband is a reporter and the Merrick's have become quite involved in politics, especially the N.H. Presidential Primary. Linda writes that she is teaching English at Hillspoint School in Westport, Conn.

From Kathryn Germanow Morton: "Finished Master's Degree in Education at the University of North Carolina in Aug. 1967 and taught remedial reading in Durham." The Morton's moved in June to Columbus, Ohio where Bob will intern at the Ohio State Medical Center.

Jan Slocum Shipe and husband were transferred to Portland, Oregon last fall and have purchased their first home. Spent Christmas on East Coast and visited Nancy Schneider Grinstead x-'64 in Virginia.

Gini Maley and Sue Madigan have been living and working in Hawaii for over a year; Sue is a government secretary and Gini, an executive trainee for Liberty House. Barbara Fischer is now an Editor for Glamour Magazine in N.Y.C. Ann Stern works in the home office of Avon Products and Betsy Gegler at Harcourt, Brace and World. They often lunch together.

1965

Linda Foster Nixon reports that she and husband enjoyed six months in Hawaii (while there ran into vacationing Carolyn Erhardt, Martha Wright and Karen Pedersen) and now plan to move on to Australia, the Orient, Greece, across the continent and back to Boston in time for Christmas.

In the air: Marilyn Gail Paganelli earned her wings from Trans World Airlines and has been assigned to TWA's Star Stream jet fleet, based in San Francisco. Janet Sherlock is flying with Pan American World Airways from Seattle to Alaska and Hawaii.

Elisse Allinson Share and husband have moved to 753 Classon Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y., where he begins internship at the Jewish Medical Center Hospital.

Elinor Stone Ross' husband graduated from pharmacy school in June; they have bought a home in Sharon, Mass. Ann Lessner Chorches has moved to Silver Spring, Md. where husband is a third year medical student. Carolyn Derby Neal's new address is: Branford Hills Apts., Apt. 2B, 99 Florence Rd., Branford, Conn., following return from Germany.

Nancy Weiner Juman and husband now living in New Jersey where he is associated with Allstate Insurance Co. Nancy often sees her Lasell roommate, Linda Shafer Polevoy '64.

Anne Greenberg graduated from Pratt Institute in Brooklyn this June. Gretchen Boyer is working at the University of Washington Hospital and going to school at the University. "Love the Northwest," she writes. Ann Mattioli received her B.A. from Russell Sage in June '67 and is now a caseworker for the Hartford Office of the Connecticut State Welfare Department.

Susan Dangel writes: "In February started my new job as Executive Secretary to Program Director of radio station WEEL. Our offices and studios are located on the 44th floor of the Prudential Tower in Boston." Louise Schwartz Rose is working for the M.I.T. libraries as editor of one of their publications while husband studies for his Master's Degree in electrical engineering.

Deborah DeStaebler is teaching fifth grade in Acton, Mass. and Mary Griffin will begin teaching this fall in the Methuen School System.

From Andrea Mattisen Brown: "My husband and I are still active in both the Opera Guild and I in The Boston Ballet Society, but I am concentrating my efforts more for the ballet. I have just been elected Secretary of the Boston Ballet Society for the coming two years; this position also places me on the Board of Directors for the Boston Ballet Society.

"We are now in the process of planning a champagne reception for Carla Fracci, prima ballerina at La Scala, Pearl Lang and Jean-Pierre Bonnefous, premier danseur of The Opera de Paris after the performance of Les Sylphides on April 26. This is just one of the areas in which the Boston Ballet Society performs. We also solicit contributions, present lecture demonstrations explaining ballet at schools and colleges, send out brochures, newsletters and other mailings, answer phones at the Company office as well as at the theatre, sell subscriptions, and tickets before the performance, help out backstage and in general, provide a pair of hands whenever they may be needed."

Report from Blaisdell includes: Julie Bergen is in Oceanside, Calif. where she loves working for an insurance company; Dede Nigohosian O'Donnell lives in Westport, Conn.; Rhoda Adelman is a teacher in Billerica and lives in Boston and Nelda Sogoloff is saving her pennies for a California vacation.

Haskell House has tried to keep in touch and sends in the following "condensed version of our happenings during the past three years":

Janie Horton Young x-'65 and family live in Conesus, N.Y. where husband Clark works for Mohawk Airlines. Sheryl Chapman graduated from Oakland University and is now working for the Meadow Brook Theatre as assistant to the property manager. Vacations were spent in Hawaii and San Francisco.

Melissa MacVaugh has been working in Aspen and San Francisco since she left Lasell, as a ski bum, telephone operator and poodle clipper. She is now a full time Creative Arts major at San Francisco State.

Margo Yonker graduated from Marietta College with a B.A. in Psychology and now teaches retarded children in Boston. Sue Layng graduated from the University of Colorado with a major in Political Science and is a Pan Am stewardess flying the South American route.

Before her marriage, Sally Beaven Garfall went to Hawaii and visited Lila Halperin who works for a travel agent in Honolulu.

Dedi Derrick and Linda Loving graduated from the University of Wisconsin and are finishing up at the University of London, art history division.

Sibyl Ryan lives with Cammy Hough in N.Y.C. and is secretary to the vice president of Lord and Taylor's. Karen Langley taught emotionally disturbed children for two years in Boston; is now a teller in a Boston bank.

Laura Johnson Race lives in Seattle where husband Ronny is finishing up Masters in Oceanography and Geology. Laura works at I. Magnin and Company.

Annie Miller works in Boston; Alan and Cindy (Ames) Rutan live in the Hub.

Pat Wolf and Cammie MacMillan both attended the University of Colorado and both are proud bearers of the "MRS." title: Cammie to Dick Brams and Pat to John Chernesky.

Since leaving Lasell, Lynn Wemple has been to Hawaii, Guadaloupe and Europe. She graduated from the University of Denver with a major in art and teaches 300 deaf children in Denver.

Marjorie Kaiser, a '67 Home Economics graduate of Syracuse University was recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Science Division, Omicron Nu. Marsha Howe will be a senior at Keene State College in the fall; major, Education.

Recent grads: Alice and Nancy Reeves from Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Michigan. Both will teach in Akron, Ohio come fall. Lois Sawyer from Springfield College with B.S. in Elementary Education. Hopes to teach on a Navajo Indian Reservation. Elinore Lowe from Whittier College. She will teach after returning from an extended tour of Europe. Susan Campbell from the University of Rhode Island with a degree in Child Development. Hopes to work in Boston in a hospital play program.

From the working gals: Sharon LeVan is an Assistant Account Executive for Johnston, Inc. Advertising Agency. Colette Matlack taught migrant workers' children during June and July and after a month of travel planned to teach English at a Friend's School in the New York area. Linda Jeanne Fagan is employed by the law firm of Hargraves, Karb, Wilcox and Galvani in Framingham, Mass.

From the marrieds: Marcia Moore Reed is an executive secretary for UNIVAC Division of Sperry Rand while husband attends Rutgers Grad School. Susan Higginson Viault is a secretary in the Athletic Dept. of Columbia University where husband Ray is studying for his Master's. Lynn Stern Fields lives in Queens; husband Steve is an editor for Electronics Magazine.

We thank Miss Constance Milner for sharing a Christmas letter from Carole Howe, R.N. Carole spent three months as a staff nurse at the New England Deaconess Hospital and is now a member of the Frontier Nursing Service. Her letter reads in part:

"In late September, I found myself in a plane bound for Lexington, Kentucky — just before takeoff I experienced a moment of panic as the full impact of the meaning of this trip was made more clear to me. The spirit of adventure returned as the monster of an aircraft lifted from the earth carrying me away from all that was familiar to a new period of my life.

"After a long winding bus ride, I arrived in Hyden — population 600 — a small community nestled in one of the many narrow valleys of the Appalachian range in Eastern Kentucky. My journey ended with the jeep ride up a steep, curving, ledge-like road which led to Hyden Hospital and Hagggen Quarters located on a spur of Thousand Sticks Mountain.

"For those of you unfamiliar with FNS, it is a non-profit organization, a living lesson in practical humanity, founded in 1925 by Mary Breckinridge, nurse-midwife, a truly remarkable woman. Her aim was to minister to the health needs of an isolated people, showing how up-to-date medical care in rural and remote areas could dramatically reduce high maternal and neonatal death rates — a task at which she succeeded.

"FNS, serving a 7,000 square mile two-county area of 17,000 people, operates a 28-bed, 12-bassinet hospital, combination outpatient department and emergency ward, and 12 districts branching from six rural nursing centers, with a staff of two female physicians and approximately 25 nurses and nurse-midwives. In addition, FNS offers a Frontier Graduate School of Midwifery, which has over 300 graduates, some presently serving in 44 countries throughout the free world. The school is now recognized as the foremost training center of its kind in rural America.

"Originally there were no roads so the nurses made all their home visits on horses. However, the working of coal mines has been largely responsible for the opening of many new roads cutting deep into the woods. Jeeps have replaced the horses and mules, though there remain a few places where the only way in is via mule or on foot. When the land was settled, folks built along the creeks, used the creeks as thoroughfares; and so it remains today. People live on "Hell-fer-Sertain Creek," "Twisten Sour-wood", "Mudlike" or jest up yonder, beyond the next holler."

"I was surprised to find so many of the nurses were young, recent graduates, and as new to FNS as I. Have made many new friends among these nurses who all have the same spirit of adventure and willingness to give of themselves. They come from every state in the Union, from Mexico and from England — I have gained not only new medical knowledge, but have learned about people and about my own country. We have to create our own entertainment — but we do have a piano and TV. Last month I drove 60 miles to a concert; last week, 75 miles for shopping.

"At first I was dizzy taking in all the new sights and experiences such as innumerable swinging bridges, steep mountain after mountain, hillside cornfields, tobacco barns, blackfaced coal miners, 40-ton coal trucks barreling around endless curves, small dilapidated shacks each with its wringer washing machine on the sagging front porch.

"While at Flat Creek — one of the nursing centers — I came to know some of the isolated mountain folk, visited in their one or two-room shacks where a family of perhaps eight or ten live without toilet facilities, running water or electricity, and where ceilings and walls are papered with newspaper or pages from a mail order catalogue. I have found the people friendly and likeable; am truly grateful that I have had the opportunity to learn about this remote section of my country; to gain insight into these people who are too often the subject of jests and ridicule."

Jean Alice Segaloff returned to Lasell for the opening of her exhibition of pen and ink drawings and mixed media paintings last winter. The exhibit was displayed in Carter Hall. Jean is currently associated with the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary where she does medical illustrations and photography.

Margaret Ann Gilmour has completed her junior year at Syracuse University where she is majoring in elementary education. Margaret is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Carol Ann Shapiro began her internship for medical technology at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford, Conn. in July.

LASELL MEDALLION AWARDS

For the first time in Lasell's history, awards were made to distinguished Alumnae. Following the formal Dedication Exercises of the Library on June 15, 1968, Dr. Vincent C. DeBaun continued:

We now come to a ceremony which is an entirely new one at Lasell. We anticipate, however, that it will be an annual event at Reunion each June — an occasion to extend honor to special members of the College community chosen by a committee appointed by the Alumnae Board of Management. In part, the formal memorandum establishing the award reads as follows:

"The award — a bronze medallion approximately three inches in diameter — may be made to any member of the Lasell Junior College family who, by virtue of distinguished service to the College or to society at large, has brought added honor to the name of Lasell. The award could therefore be made to an alumna, faculty member, administrator, trustee, staff member, or any other person connected with the College."

These medallions, I am privileged to report, are the gift of Mr. Chester H. Lasell of New York City, a grandson of Josiah Lasell, co-principal of this institution in the period 1852-1861, and brother of our founder, Edward Lasell. We are deeply grateful to Mr. Chester Lasell for making it possible for us thus handsomely to memorialize his forebears and pay tribute at the same time to our outstanding alumnae and friends.

Five awards will be made today. Three recipients are present. After their citations are read, will they please come forward and receive their medallions from Mr. Wilder N. Smith, Chairman of our Board of Trustees.

The citations will be read in chronological order, by class affiliation.

CONSTANCE E. BLACKSTOCK

It is significant we recognize Constance E. Blackstock, Lasell 1909, in excerpts from the words of her former Lasell associate, Ruth Emery '23. (From the LEAVES, June 1954:)

"At some time in its history almost every school is fortunate enough to have on its staff an individual whose rich personality impresses itself on every department and who becomes at last a part of the treasured tradition of the institution.

"Miss Blackstock first came to Lasell as a student from India in 1907, having left her missionary parents and come to this country for her secondary education. Constance went on to Goucher College and then returned to teach English at Lasell in 1924. Those of us who knew Miss Blackstock as a colleague remember especially the warmth of her hospitality. In her little apartment at Clark Cottage she managed a kind of gracious living that was unique on the campus. The tea, made on a forbidden hotplate in the bathroom, toast produced miraculously from an antiquated grill, delicious little cakes from the village, became with her a ceremony, a way of life.

"To the students Miss Blackstock was a highly inspiring teacher, her Modern Drama the most popular course in the school. Here students discussed the plays of O'Neill, new in the '20's and in their stark realism somewhat shocking to the more sheltered members of the class. Here, too, her students came in contact with the keen analysis and criticism of a well-trained intellect but also with the broad compassion of a person to whom nothing human was alien.

"When Miss Blackstock left for India in 1936, it was expected that she would return at the end of the year. But when the year was over, because of her outstanding gifts, great pressure was put on her to stay. India was launching a new programme in the field of education and had great need of well-trained teachers. So she decided to stay and there spent most of the rest of her professional life."

Before her final retirement, though, she did return to her College and served once again, this time as a house resident who continually gave inspiration and guidance to devoted students. A Lasell Medallion is therefore awarded to Constance E. Blackstock, of the Class of 1909.

Margaret Trice Gibbens x-'16 and Helen L. Beede '21

MARGARET TRICE GIBBENS

Margaret Trice Gibbens, of the Class of 1916, a native Virginian, educated at Lasell in Massachusetts and at the Universities of Virginia and Florida, has attained extraordinary regional and national recognition.

Despite having lost her sight at the age of nine, due to glaucoma, she has never lost courage or good cheer, but has effectively completed courses of college work, married happily, and successfully reared three sons who are today outstanding contributors to their chosen fields.

Throughout her adult life she has devoted herself to encouraging handicapped people and helping them to fulfill their potentialities.

A resident of Florida since 1925, she is founder and first president of the Miami Hearing Society, and has served as Chairman of the Exceptional Child Committee of the Florida Congress of Parents-Teachers Association, and as a member of the National Committee for Employment of the Physically Handicapped. She has been the recipient of numerous awards within Dade County and the State of Florida, including Outstanding Woman of the Year in 1957, and Outstanding Handicapped Person in 1958, as well as the Good Neighbor Award and a certificate of merit from the State of Florida as a nominee for Mother of the Year in 1963. A past chairman of the National Hearing Society Convention and National Federation of the Blind. Mrs. Gibbens has also found time to be twice past-president of the Lasell Alumnae Club of Southern Florida.

A Lasell medallion is therefore awarded today to Margaret Trice Gibbens, of the Class of 1916.

The retirement in June 1967 of Helen Lothrop Beede of the Class of 1921 brought to a close the longest Lasell record of any college employee — 48 years — beginning when she was an undergraduate music major, and ending after 42 years of service with the College, the last 25 years as Recorder. "The oldest living inhabitant", as she frequently called herself, she surely knew more Lasell students over the years than any other present member of faculty or staff.

Furthermore she knew them well, often far better than they suspected. As Recorder she knew their high school records and entrance qualifications. She arranged their class schedules, tabulated their absences, kept track of their grades and class standings, sent transcripts to colleges where they hoped to transfer, and maintained individual files of student statistics.

Among other data she possessed was an encyclopedic memory of Red Sox box scores and batting averages. It is persistently rumored that last year's triumph in the American League was a tribute to her devotion over many decades.

"Keeping track" of students also included for many years assisting with the Orphean Club. In recognition of that service, the May 1967 Lasell Night at Pops was dedicated to Miss Beede. A sell-out crowd of alumnae and friends returned to Symphony Hall in tribute. The 1967 issue of the LAMP, student yearbook, was dedicated to her "with gratitude, with admiration and appreciation." Miss June Babcock, Dean of the College, commented: "Every Lasell student at one time or another has been in to see Miss Beede. Many have had occasion to turn to her long after having left Lasell. And for faculty, Administration and staff, 'Ask Miss Beede' became a way of life."

A Lasell Medallion is therefore awarded today to Helen Lothrop Beede of the Class of 1921.

Two medallions are awarded today in absentia.

MRS. ALICE HILLARD SMITH CORBIN

Although not an alumna of the College, Mrs. Corbin's interest in Lasell has run deep and true ever since 1912, fifty-six years ago, when she became an instructor in physical education, a post she held until 1923. She is a descendant of the distinguished Hillard family, which had resided in the Auburndale area for four generations before her own birth. It therefore seemed fitting that her professional life should find its fullest expression at Lasell.

At first an energetic and inspiring teacher, and a cheerful guide and counselor, upon her retirement from athletic pursuits, Mrs. Corbin later became a valued member of the Board of Trustees of the College. For many years she journeyed long miles by motor from her present home in San Antonio, Texas, to visit her beloved Lasell once again. Her letters, sprightly and charming, attest to her devoted interest in numerous small details; they also give evidence of her continuing generosity in the form of numerous contributions.

I am privileged to read the enclosed message from her daughter, Barbara Smith Huntington of the Class of 1922, written on Mrs. Corbin's behalf:

May 28th

My dear Dr. De Baun,

"It touched me deeply to receive the notification that my mother, Mrs. Corbin, has been one of those selected to be awarded 'a medallion for distinguished service' to Lasell.

"Her interest, staunch belief in the ideals for which Lasell stands and loyalty have been manifest since her first affiliation with the College over fifty years ago. Certainly this is a remarkable tribute to my 'Little Lady' — one which means as much to me as it does to her.

"On Mrs. Corbin's behalf may I extend her gratitude for this singular honor, as she regrets that she cannot be present to accept the award in person."

Cordially yours

Barbara Smith Huntington '22"

MAUDE SIMES HARDING

Our final award today goes to Maude Burbank Simes Harding of the Class of 1906. A poet of grace, insight, and sensitivity, her career was clearly foreshadowed when, at the age of ten, she submitted her verses to The Youth's Companion and received the then princely sum of three dollars, in those innocent days before the turn of the century.

In the years to follow, her poems appeared in The American Poet, American Poetry Magazine, The Christian Register, The Christian Science Monitor, Pictorial Review, Poet Lore, Sonnet Sequence, Wings, Youth, and numerous other periodicals of national circulation. Two collections of her work, Water from a Wooden Bowl and Lilies for Eros were printed and widely acclaimed as being "abundantly revealing of the mind and character of a remarkable woman."

Also an innovative and stimulating teacher, she taught classes spanning the reach from the primary level, at the Woodland School, through intermediate levels at the Chamberlin School, Sargent College, and Pine Manor Junior College, up to Boston University. For grade school, she wrote a textbook, The New Junior Grammar, and edited The Children's Own Book of Letters, Stories and Poems. At the other end of the scale, she inaugurated classes in creative writing at the university level for students who wished to explore and improve their talents. In this period her great output included numerous plays for schools and colleges, plus essays and articles for educational journals.

She was president of the Class of 1906, past-president of the Alumnae Association, and a Life Member of both Lasell Alumnae Incorporated and The Lasell Corporation.

I am privileged to read the following note from Mrs. Harding:

"As a life member of the Alumnae since 1906, I have watched with great interest and pride the growing power of Lasell.

"Sixty-two years ago our class, numbering 36, was the largest ever to have been graduated from what was then Lasell Seminary.

"To measure by the number of graduates of today is, of course, an indication of growth, but that is not the kind of growth I mean. I look for the development of each girl who has received from the school real potential for future living to which she can in some way vitally contribute.

"Most humbly I shall treasure this tangible honor, and I hope, even at the age of 83, to bring continued credit to the school I love. Thank you for believing that I shall be worthy of it.

Maude (Simes) Harding"

TO ALL ALUMNAE:

We invite you to submit names of Lasell classmates or associates, whom you consider eligible for Medallion awards.

Please include specific personal qualifications and list of accomplishments. Recipients of 1969 awards will be selected by April 15th.

Send your suggestions not later than March 15, 1969 to:

When we were Juniors, I am sure we all felt that a 50th Reunion was a time for others to feel sorry for the old "gals". But not so for the 1918 gals. I believe others rather envied our pep and enthusiasm, for that is what the fourteen members brought back to Lasell; only wish more of our class could have been present for the festivities.

On Friday night we enjoyed a buffet supper in Woodland. Our President, Dot Barnes Paine, gave us each a lovely gold corsage with a gold "50" on it. We attended the Saturday luncheon and Library Dedication; met at the Wellesley Inn for a "red and white" dinner (carrying out our class colors).

Three brave husbands — Ted Hill, Gene Paine and Jack Stone — joined us for a cup of cheer before dinner but had their meal elsewhere in the Inn. A silent moment was given to the memory of the sixteen deceased members of our Class.

On Sunday Dr. and Mrs. De Baun tendered us a fine Brunch, made all the more pleasant by the attendance of Constance Blackstock '09, Helen Beede '21 and Marge MacClymon '32. The good-byes came much too soon, but the memory of 50th Reunion will be held in our hearts forever.

Mid Cary Hill

News from those attending Reunion include the following: Dot Barnes Paine: Said the 1800-mile journey from Pratt, Kansas was well worth the trip.

Mid Cary Hill: Married Carl Eaton in 1922, lived in Winchester, Mass. for 40 years. Widowed in 1957; remarried in 1962 to Major General Edmund W. Hill, USAF (ret), who was a childhood friend in Norwich, Connecticut. The Hills are world-travelers, having flown around the globe in everything from commercial luxury liners to an AF transport plane "with 165 servicemen and me"! Mid has one daughter, Janet Eaton Maynard '45 of St. Paul (Minn.) and two granddaughters.

Elsie Flight Wuestefeld: Happily married since 1923; three trips to Europe; treasurer of Corepois Sunshine for the East these past 20 years. Elsie has an adopted daughter Carol Wuestefeld Sampson '56 living in Cranbury (N.J.) and three grandchildren.

Barbara McLellan McCormick: Married 32 years, lived in Dorchester (Mass.) until three years ago. Now in Rockport (Maine) and loves it. Barbara belongs to the garden club and women in council, also served 22 years on a Red Cross Bloodmobile.

Huldah Mathews McKnight: Son Bob, a graduate of Carnegie Tech, is a mechanical engineer. Daughter Ann, graduated from Penn. State, is married to Dr. Kenneth Greenawald and lives in San Antonio, Texas. Huldah's husband passed away in 1957 and the following year she became social director at the University of Pittsburgh and remained there for nine years. Now she is a member of the staff of Robert Morris Junior College.

Ruth Newcomb: Trained at Mass. General Hospital after Lasell and went to Falmouth on Cape Cod to do public health nursing. In 1934 Ruth adopted a baby girl, who is now married and Ruth is proud grandmother of three. They spend a month or more with Ruth in Falmouth each summer; Ruth enjoys Florida living in the winter months.

Esther Norcross Dougherty: Lived in Sheet Harbour, Nova Scotia for 15 years while husband owned and operated the Halifax Power and Pulp Company; now lives in Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Irvina Pomeroy Cooper: Following Lasell, Irvina graduated from Forsyth Dental Infirmary. Has been married for 45 years; daughter Elizabeth is married to Dr. Howard J. Eddy, Jr., a prominent surgeon. The Coopers have traveled twice to Europe and give color slide programs for local organizations. Irvina's hobby is hospital volunteering — this is her 24th year. They live in Chicago.

Roxana Stark Burns: Grandmother of 13, Roxana writes: "Manage to keep busy just housekeeping on a farm for my husband and one son who lives at home, and occasionally visiting grandchildren".

Helen Warner Gaukler: Was so pleased to return to Lasell from Pontiac, Michigan. Has been active in Red Cross work for many years. Helen's son, Robert, is a child psychiatrist and has five daughters ages 7-14, which keep grandma pretty busy.

Helen Smith Stone: Helen and her husband moved 11 years ago to New Canaan, (Conn.) after 32 years on Long Island. They have two sons and a daughter and seven grandchildren. Helen reports that she was so pleased to see classmates at Reunion and wish more had been there.

Harriet Morris Kenney: Graduated from Ohio State University in 1921, taught general science in Toledo High School. Married in 1924 and moved to Weston, Mass. Has two daughters and two grandsons. Spent time in New York when daughters skated at The Hotel New York; was wardrobe mistress for several Broadway shows. Widowed in 1964, Harriet spends winters in New Jersey and Long Island with her daughters and summers in Hampton, N.H.

News from the questionnaires includes:

Constance Allen Dunbar and husband live in Boca Raton, Florida and love it. They have 3 sons and 10 grandchildren. She writes: "Do remember me to all — sorry I can't be with you".

Mary Fiske Cass, who lives in Winchester, enjoys a summer home in Conomo Point, Essex.

Kathryn Craig Rowand (Casey) and her husband have moved to Edmonds, Washington and love living where everything is so green (especially after the dry climate of Montana and Wyoming). She is so disappointed not to be with us as she had such a good time at our 45th in 1963. Her family consists of two sons and four grandchildren.

Adele Chaffee Higgins of San Anselmo, California writes: "I am sick at having to change my plans for coming to Reunion . . . I have been widowed for 13 years, lived in the same neighborhood for 43 years; have three daughters and 14 grandchildren, one now married. Am grey and elderly, but still healthy, thank goodness. My love and best wishes to all".

Elaine Eaton Underhill lives in Medford Lakes, (N.J.) and says she would be thinking of us all on the 14th, 15th and 16th, and wishing she could be with us. She was married in 1921, has three children and 12 grandchildren — 10 boys and 2 girls. Her husband passed away in 1958. In 1962 she retired from her job of 15 years and went to live with her daughter, Lois (named for Lois Nichols) and is now "head man" in charge of her daughter's home and 4 grandchildren while her daughter is teaching nursing. She sends greetings to all.

Harriet Fera French, who was a member of our class for one year, transferring to Northwestern, lives in Scarsdale, New York, but she and her husband spend very little time there as they travel a great deal. Her sister, Pauline Fera '17 passed away this winter after a long illness and her other sister, Lavinia '16 lost her daughter-in-law a few months later. Harriet and Carroll will be in England for the month of September this year. She sends greetings to the Class.

Helen Hart Lind now lives in Round Pound, Maine. Due to the arrival of house guests, she was unable to attend our festivities.

Anita Hotchkiss Scott was in Canada, so missed our 50th celebration.

Marjorie Kunkel Brown still lives in Bluffton, Indiana but spends winters in Florida. She sent such wonderful pictures of herself and husband. Marj. writes: "I will miss seeing all of you at our 50th. It seemed far away at one time but the years have slipped by so quickly. We have 2 daughters, Harriett and Kay. Harriett has three girls, Marjorie 16, Anne 14, and Mary Ellen 9. Kay has one son, Bill 8, and little Kay 6. With best wishes to everyone in the Class of 1918".

Almira Shepard lives in Washington, D.C. She had hoped to be with us but can't make it. She retired from the Navy Department in 1956 after 37 years with the Federal Government and is leading a very active life.

Annie Stronach, who was with us in 1963 sends greetings to all and is sorry she cannot be with us.

A letter from Gail Wilson Boynton, enclosing a picture of herself, Lois Nichols Arnold and Mary Casey, says that she sees many Lasell girls often, among them Mercie Nichols, Ethel Ramage Lougee, Olive Chase Mayo and some members of the 1919 Class. She and her husband live in Hanover, (N.H.), but spend part of the winter in Mt. Dora, Florida and the summer in Maine. She has 2 sons, 4 grandsons and 1 granddaughter, who might be a potential Lasellite.

Gladys Wright Webb also sent a picture of herself and was sorry not to be with us. She had planned to come with her daughter, Nancy Webb Canepa '51, but due to the illness of Nancy, could not make the trip. Gladys has been a widow for 22 years, has two daughters and six grandchildren; still lives in the home where she was born in Auburn, New York. She enjoys travelling, spending winters in Florida or California — last year in Hawaii and this coming fall goes to England and Ireland.

Grace Tredway Davies lost her husband about 16 years ago. For several years she was a House Mother at Ohio State University, but is now a House Mother at the Kappa Alpha Theta House in Delaware, Ohio, and is most enthusiastic about her life there. She has two sons and one daughter and eight grandchildren. Grace was unable to attend Reunion but spent a week in September with Mid Cary Hill in Maine, her first trip East since Lasell days.

Cornelia Gaty's home is in La Jolla, California, too far away for her to make a quick trip to be with us. She is attending a Memorial Service out there for her sister-in-law who passed away last winter. She sends best wishes to all.

The Class extends sympathy to Margaret McIntyre, whose husband, Dana C. Hoffman, died on July 7, 1968.

45th Reunion Dinner
Woodland Country Club
June 15, 1968

With only seven members of the Class of 1923 in attendance, we nevertheless had a happy time at our 45th Reunion. We were present at the all-Alumnae luncheon in the newly-enlarged Woodland dining room, after which we attended the Dedication Exercises of the beautiful new Library. Lovina Smith Steffian, whose husband was the architect for the building, joined us briefly for the ceremonies.

Those present for the day included: Florence Boehmcke Edmonson, Dorothy Millspaugh, Margaret Bullock Reid, Ruth Dinsmore Sayward, Lucy Kellogg Pels, Ethel Cole Hoose and Antoinette Meritt Smith.

Florence and Nance were staying at Woodland, so the other girls visited with them until dinner time. Because of our very small number, no reservation had been made for dinner; Wilder Smith, a member of the Woodland Golf Club, was our host for dinner there, and everyone seemed to enjoy it immensely.

It was decided by those present that the $36.48, on deposit in a savings bank, would be given to the Library Fund for purchase of books to be selected by Librarian Frances Atwood. The Dorothy Merwin Brown Memorial Fund, now totalling $192.14, will also be directed to the Library; these purchases to be marked with appropriate In Memoriam bookplates.

For the very first time, Dree Smith Stone was unable to attend our Reunion. From her new Florida home, she sent a long newsy letter, which was read at the dinner meeting. We were disappointed so few members returned the Questionnaire, but were very pleased to hear from the following who could not attend: Ruth Hopkins Spooner, who was travelling "round the world"; Anne Daughterty Slater and Claire Parker Everett, who were entertaining house guests;

Evelyn Shidler Robertson, who thoughtfully enclosed a recent photo of herself and her husband; Elizabeth Mitchell Ridout, who sent regrets from Aiken, South Carolina; and from Luella Bassett Maynard x-'23.

Even though our group was small, we did have lots of fun, enjoyed every minute of Reunion, and managed to add $250 as special contributions to 1923's Alumnae Fund total for the 1967-68 campaign year.

. . . A.M.S.

And recently Jean Merrick Moss wrote: "I have just returned from the West Coast, where I met my California children in Las Vegas over the Labor Day weekend. We all had 'a ball' and 'lived it up' for four days. The weather was ideal.

"The day before I left for home I met Pinkie (Louise Puckett Neill) and Gifford (Florence Gifford Fleming) for dinner at the Statler Hotel in Los Angeles. It was just as tho' the clock had been turned back. I cannot remember when I have enjoyed an evening so much. They both came to my room for the Happy Hour and we all talked at once. Gifford still has the petite figure that we all envied so much in Gardner. Pinkie was full of Amanda Blake's (Pinkie's daughter) latest escapades in 'Gunsmoke'. They were both interested in the fact that through Mary Anne we have finally discovered Rosalie's (Gruhn) whereabouts after all these years. Liz and I wrote to her last winter and I had a wonderful letter in return. Rosalie's name and address: Mrs. Rosalie Eiseman, Kingston Arms, 500 South Washington Drive, Sarasota, Florida 33577.

"Anne and Bob Slater drove East last spring and I met them both in Atlantic City. Bob was attending a four-day banker's convention, so Anne and I had a wonderful visit together. Before they went home, they spent two days with me in Elizabeth."

Hurrah for our 35th Reunion! It was a "fun" occasion for 17 members of the Class of 1933 and our guests. We missed the absent classmates, but were delighted to hear from many of them.

Our Class was lodged in the new Woodland, an excellent location, just down the stairs to the cafeteria! The following girls registered for the weekend: Bunny Bardua Childs, Grace Dunne Walker, Shirley Gould Chesebro, Libby McIntire Bennert, Hazel Merritt Bliven, Jean Murphy Aneda, and Virginia Ogden Hayes. After morning coffee on Saturday, Jimmie Breed Solberg, Betty Hayford Stewart, Amoret Larcher Skilton, Louise Newell Audette, Charlotte Phillips Wilkins, Nancy Skiff, Grace Wellington Hebach, Ruth Wyand Thissell and Ruth Stafford Clark joined them for an exciting buffet luncheon. Martha Palmer Mack joined us for dinner at The Pillar House.

A pleasantly warm June evening, the quiet laughter of many diners, and the soft glow of lights provided the setting for our Class Dinner at The Pillar House. Our Miss Mac (McClelland) and our adopted Mac (Marge MacClymon '32) were our very special guests. At each place setting we found a gold and purple tied gift box, which held a beautiful amethyst-jeweled, lucky scarab pin. The attractive centerpiece also proclaimed our class colors in purple fleur-de-lis and yellow daisies. Our weekend offered a wonderful opportunity to relive our Lasell days, and to renew friendships.

Although Faith Barber Brandt could not be with us, we learned via telephone that her son, Richard, who has been in the Marines for three years, will be honorably discharged in July and plans to attend the University of Hartford in the fall. Faith was very proud to report that Richard had been awarded the Purple Heart. Faith's daughter, Linda, graduated from the Oxford School this June; plans to attend Eisenhower College in September.

We should all be very proud of Helen Bardua Childs, who is currently listed in "Who's Who in American Women". She is a Christian Science practitioner and has an office in New York City. Her daughter, Rosalind, after graduating from Pine Manor and Skidmore, attended the University of Florence Graduate School of Fine Arts. She is now assistant to the vice-president of J. Walter Thompson, a New York advertising firm. Her son, Richard, after graduation from Daycroft School and Principia, received his M.A. from Columbia. He is assistant product manager of the Colgate-Palmolive Company. Bunny's youngest, Randall, is a paratrooper at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. She has managed to leave her busy life long enough to enjoy many pleasant vacations, including visits to Europe in '65, to the British Virgin Islands and Great Britain in '66, and to Antiqua during the past two winters.

Helen Breed Solberg has moved into a beautiful new home at 82 Wild Grove Lane in Longmeadow, Mass. The location lives up to its name as Jimmy reports seeing foxes in the area. Her son, Kristian, has completed his tour of duty in Germany, and now works at an Army base there. He and his German-born wife, Brigitte, have a daughter, Astrid, born July 21, 1967. Linda-Marie, Jimmie's daughter, is a member of Lasell's Class of 1969.

Grace Dunne Walker, as charming and as full of fun as ever, came down (or is it up?) from Maine for Reunion. Her son, Craig, is married and has one child. John, #2 son, is in the Navy. Sara graduated from high school this June. Grace still does substitute teaching, and is on the Board of Directors for a School Administrative District.

Lt. Gordon Chesebro, USA, is Shirley's only unmarried child. He leaves for Viet Nam in August. When asked about hobbies, Shirley wrote: "Hobbies! Gardening — except 'field-hand' would be a better description of my efforts. Sailing — when the sun, wind, and water are just so. I don't care to come home dripping wet any more; somehow the ocean is much colder and wetter than it used to be." Her special interest is granddaughter Allison, daughter of Nancy Chesebro York.

Betty Hayford Stewart writes: "Have one son, Malcolm, a graduate of the University of New Hampshire. He married Joyce Stiles in '63; they now live in Gorham (N.H.), where he is teaching social studies and working for his master's degree. They have one son, James, now three years old — my pride and joy, needless to say. My life is pretty much centered, at present, about my job — clerk-typist for an advertising firm. It is varied and interesting work. Occasionally, attend the Mothers' Club of my church; still enjoy 'antiquing' with my friends the Blivens (Hazel Merritt) . . ."

A June wedding in Michigan kept Jeanne Heilig Noack from our reunion, but her interesting note helped to bridge the years. She writes: "Since Jack graduated from high school last June, and with Cynthia living in Texas, life has been much quieter. Spend a great deal of time sewing for Cynthia and her two children . . . in the spring and summer I keep busy in the garden. My neighbors have a flower shop and greenhouse in Battle Creek, and I receive from them all the plants I want. In return, I help them during the busy seasons, which proves a great deal of fun. As for trips . . . we fly to Dallas at least once or twice a year; this past Christmas we 'detoured' to have a visit in Miami with my brother." Jeanne's nephew, shot down while flying a Navy photo-reconnaissance plane, has been a prisoner in North Vietnam since May 1965. Jeanne recently talked with Virginia Stout Kithill x-'34, who owns and operates an antique shop in Richland, Michigan.

Mary Hill Davis has joined our ever-growing group of grandmothers. Her daughter, Janet, has a son, Erik Christian Petersen, born November 6, 1966. Mary's son, Steven, was married in Boston in 1967. We learned from Mary's brief note that she had just returned from two weeks in Bermuda.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Amoret Larcher Skilton's husband, Thomas. Fortunately, Amoret's daughter, Audrey, is still at home with her. Audrey hopes to be a journalist. Her son, Peter, is a student at Pennsylvania State. Amoret does volunteer work at the University of Pennsylvania, teaching English to foreign students. She is a deacon at her church; enjoys attending garden and Republican club meetings. Like many of us she, too, is a lover of antiques.

Dr. Harry W. Bennert Jr., Libby McIntire Bennert's older son, is now a Navy doctor and lives in Japan. He has a son, Eric; Libby's daughter, Susan, is the mother of David and Jeanne LaFrance. Younger son, Donald, attends the University of New Hampshire.

Hazel Merritt Bliven's son, Capt. David M. Bliven, has completed two tours of duty as an Army helicopter pilot in Vietnam. He returned from duty in Germany last December, and was in New Hampshire with his wife, Jean, and spent a month in New Hampshire with his wife, Jean, and their son, Danny. Hazel's daughter, Jean, will soon be moving from western New York State to Maine; Hazel will assume the baby-sitting duties during the changeover. At present, Hazel is chairman of her church Circle Group, and is also active in the Mothers' Club and the Board of Directors of the Women's Union.

Clark Cottage — Reunioners 1968

Anna Mills Koeck has four grandchildren — John, Kimberlee, Bobby and Tonia. Anna's new address is Castle Rock Road, Lake Hopatcong, N. J.

It was certainly a most pleasant surprise to see "John" Murphy Aneda. The terse message sent to Shirley in May: "Am thinking it over, Love, John" had a happy ending, she came! Johnny is as pert and trim as ever. She works full-time at the University of Delaware as a secretary in the Dean's office. Her daughter, Jean, is a school teacher. Her married daughter, Judy, will soon be moving nearer — Judy's husband has been transferred to Bainbridge, Maryland. John is planning a trip to Hemisphere this summer; is looking forward to visiting friends in Texas.

Louise Newell Audette reports: "I am still organist and choir director at Central Congregational Church (Derry, N.H.), and much involved in church work . . . right now catering for four different banquets within the next three weeks. Active in D.A.R. and two Women's club groups. My husband is retired now and we have disposed of four of our apartment houses, still retain one large one — which we aptly named the Widow's Retreat. Flew to Illinois in November to visit my son and family and my brother's family — it was a Newell clan get-together in the midwest. The immediate Newell group — my six brothers and sisters gather twice a year at my home with my 87-year-old mother, who is active in church work and still drives a newish Rambler."

"Hi! Sorry — but unable to attend," writes Charlotte Ockert. "I am well — busy — continue to enjoy summers at the shore. Had a good visit with Harriet Smith Rawson at the Southern Connecticut Lasell dinner at the Mermaid Tavern last spring. Hello to all; hope to be with you for the 40th — whew!"

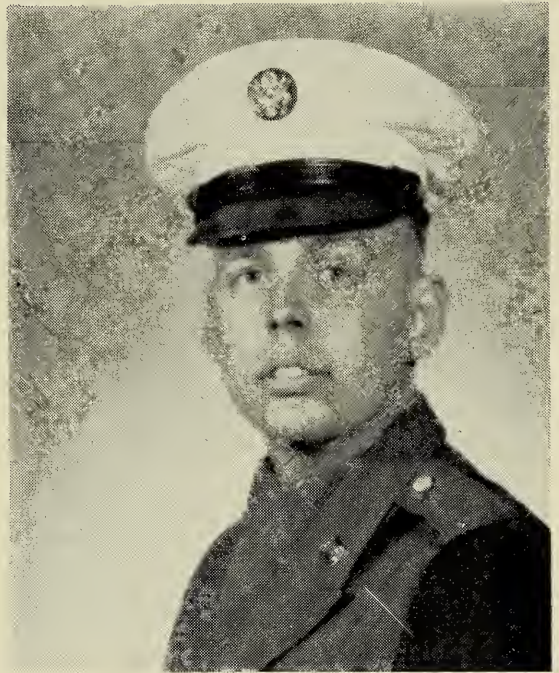

Virginia Ogden Hayes, who succeeded her late husband as president and treasurer of C. I. Hayes, Inc. and Hayes Heat Treating Corp., has been involved with plans for the plant's expansion. Of course, Oggie's chief delight is her granddaughter, Wendy Barrows, now three years old.

"Am looking forward to seeing everyone again. It has been a long time," wrote Martha Palmer Mack. It was indeed wonderful to see her at Reunion. Her son, John, a golf enthusiast, is a student at Lunenburg High School, which his sister, Elizabeth, also attends. Martha's hobbies are her gardens — flowers and vegetables.

A cottage in West Harwich on the Cape claims Charlotte Phillips Wilkins and her family during the summer. Daughter Linda (Wilkins Saporoff '65) is secretary to the president of Teck Built Homes; Linda's husband is attending medical school. Daughter Marcia's husband recently received his M.B.A. from Harvard Business School; son Curtis is a student at Olivet College in Michigan.

Bertha Root Smith wrote: "Regret very much that I will not be in Auburndale for our 35th. Our son, Peter, is graduating from the University of Virginia that weekend. Please give my best regards to all. Had a good visit in '66 with Miss Mac when she vacationed in Florida. We love life here in Sarasota — it is the greatest!" Bertha's married daughter, Linda, lives in Boston; has an excellent position in the Geology Department at Boston College.

Angelita Santiago Gebelein's achievements are stupendous; you will read more about her in a future issue. Angie has been a Board member of eleven organizations, and has served as secretary to the Board of the American Red Cross as well. She is past president or chairman of another impressive list of public service organizations, and still has had time for travel in Europe, Canada, U.S.A., the Virgin Islands and her native Puerto Rico. She writes: "In recent years my husband and I have had the honor to be written up in the following — The National Social Directory, Who's Who in the East, the recent Royal Blue Book of London, England (Coronation Edition, 1968), The

Kristian Breed Solberg
(Helen Breed '33)

National Gold Book. As I review my life, I can't help but think how fast the time has gone, and how very grateful I am to Lasell for giving me so wonderful an education." Angie's son, Arthur, a graduate of Wentworth Institute, is now attending Roger Williams College. Daughter Carol, an alumna of Dana Hall and Vassar, is now a buyer at Sibley's Department Store in Rochester, New York. Carol's doctor-husband is affiliated with Strong Memorial Hospital. They have one child, five-year-old Lynn. "How we all adore our blonde, blue-eyed granddaughter," Angie adds.

Nancy Skiff is a secretary at Southern Connecticut State College. "No special news — just looking forward to the annual Fort Lauderdale vacation — and to my first possible Social Security check!"

"Sorry, I just can't make Reunion," writes Harriet Smith Rawson. Harriet has been a legal secretary for the past six years; she has been singing with oratorio and church choirs for more than twenty years. In January, she and husband visited Quantico, Virginia to see their son commissioned as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps. Harriet's younger daughter, Susan Jane, is a junior at Simmons.

From Barbara Stover VanDeBogert's note we quote: "Had hoped to come with Alice Fernandez Harkins, but we just couldn't make it. Wish I were with you all — do have a great time. Would be delighted to see any classmates who come this way — Bangor, Maine." Barbara is enjoying her part-time work at the local library. Daughter Ann, married last November, now lives in Germany with her Army husband. Son Peter is a senior at Tufts.

Last fall proved to be a rewarding time for Ruth Vassar Bailey. When she and her husband returned from Hawaii, where they had taken a "dream trip" to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary, he received the honor of Outstanding Citizen from the Chamber of Commerce for "his outstanding contribution of interest, time and effort in the civic progress of Easthampton (Mass.)". Ruth and Jack plan another trip this fall — to Switzerland, Austria and Italy. When in Easthampton, Ruth enjoys bridge, gardening and golf. Ruth adds: "Certainly will miss not being with you at Reunion — very best good wishes to all '33-ers."

In 1962 when Ruth Wyand Thissell married the brother of her late husband, Walter, she acquired two step-children and six step-grandchildren. With her daughter Jean's son, Ricky, and son David's little David and Robert, Ruth has the impressive number of nine grandchildren. Ruth continues her interest in painting, and has added to her hobbies, the breeding and raising of toy poodles.

We were delighted to see Grace Wellington Hebach x-'33. Grace is a transit teller and assistant to the head teller at the Provident Institution for Savings in Boston. She is a member of the Forthian and Coenonia Clubs of Somerville, and the Savings Banks of Massachusetts Club of Boston.

Ruth Stafford Clark's daughter, Jeanne, graduated with honors from Simsbury (Conn.) High, and plans to enter Smith College this fall. Jeanne was awarded an Aetna Life and Casualty Clubs Scholarship for demonstrating leadership and scholastic excellence, a scholarship from Smith College and a special award from Simsbury High School "in recognition of consistent superior academic performance." She is a member of the National Honor Society and received a National Merit Letter of Commendation. Ruth is currently historian of the Abigail Phelps Chapter, D.A.R., and a member of the Board. Last year she became a member of the Society for the Descendents of the Founders of Hartford.

The 1933 Class Roster has been mailed to all who ordered. There are a few additional copies available — send seventy-five cents and postage. We extend most sincere thanks to Helen "Sis" Burwell for her invaluable assistance in compiling the information.

1938's 30th Celebration

Faye Wadhams Smith reports:

Flossie Kent Flynn and Audrey Slawson Drake "trained" it from Garden City to Hartford to drive to Lasell with me on Friday, June 14th. We were greeted at Woodland, as only the two Miss Mac's could greet anyone, remembering our names, children and grandchildren. We were disappointed to learn that only ten classmates had made reservations for our 30th. However, the ten who came were the greatest, and looked twenty years younger than in student days.

Cappy Gardiner Aque was first to join us, and after an excellent dinner at Woodland, Flossie regaled us and other Reunion groups with hysterical stories until bed-time.

On Saturday morning The Group began to gather: Betty Shultz Stewart, Millie Royce Moffett, Ellie Pierce Puffer, Ellie Skinner Stoughton, Miriam Nye Newcomb, Myrtle Sylvester Ensor and Arlene Wishart Sylvester. Arlene, as usual, had name tags and flowers ready for us, as well as plans for our evening banquet at The Highlands Restaurant — everything planned to perfection.

Tap Tardivel Higgins and Tillie Parmenter Madden joined us for luncheon and brought us up-to-date with news of 1937. The dedication of the fabulous new Library was most impressive; we agreed we had the rightest year for Reunion!

Arlene invited all to her Woodland Road home for "tea time"; then off to The Highlands for a superb dinner; Ruth Meighan Gillette flew in from Florida "just in time". We talked well into the night; shared millions of pictures of our offspring — and theirs; moved along to Weston to Tap's lovely home.

Sunday morning came much too soon; we managed to struggle to breakfast; said our farewells with great promises to do a lot of groundwork to make our 35th a huge affair.

From all of us who were on hand in June, may I say a very special Thank You to Arlene for planning so happy a party.

As the Reunion information blanks were returned, we began to assemble news from classmates all over the country. Among those heard from was Virginia Squiers Read, whose photo showed that she is prettier than ever. She and husband, Bob, have raised three children and seen them all through college. Daughter, Priscilla, also has her master's degree in social work. Son, Bill, is in management field and Charles is a sales engineer.

Faye Wadhams Smith's twin daughters, Melissa and Melinda, graduated from Lasell in June. Her adopted daughter is a freshman at Briarcliff. Betty Lloyd Fritch couldn't make Reunion because of her son's wedding; but sent best wishes.

Nan Fishing Feuling has a two-year-old granddaughter, Marianne. Son Danny is a junior at Drake and engaged.

Betsy Bassett Wells became grandmother for first time last February; lives in Alaska; but plans to return to Portland, Oregon this year.

Ellie Loeffler Olsen's son's college graduation interfered with Reunion plans for her.

Audrey Spiller Smalley has two children, Stephen, finishing his first year of graduate school at the University of Pennsylvania, College of Veterinary Medicine; and Sandra, who is married. Audrey works in the Craft Shop in Concord.

Dorothy Woodward Grindell must be a busy gal. Son, Barry, has five children; daughter, Jean, two.

Margaret McEnerney missed Reunion due to family illness, but promises to be with us in '73.

Miriam Nye Newcomb has three daughters and one granddaughter, two siamese cats and a job!

Arlene Wishart Sylvester celebrated her 25th wedding anniversary last June; husband is now president of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital medical staff.

Elaine Meiklem Sargent has five children; summers in East Hampton, Connecticut and winters in Newfane, Vermont.

Ritamae Hinchliffe McCusker missed Reunion because daughter Kathy graduated that weekend.

Audrey Slawson Drake's daughter, Ellen, is now teaching in Long Island. Al graduated from Norwich University and is now in flight school in Texas. Third child is in high school, fourth and fifth in grammar school and last we heard, Mama was taking off for Europe!

Alice M. (Si) Seidler goofed and made other plans for Reunion weekend. She promises to do better next time.

Betty Harrison Hartley, when last heard from, was a grandmother and promised to let us know where Sally Jane decided to go to college.

Harriet Newcomb Stoughton is still in Milwaukee (Wisc.), and her daughter Nancy is a senior at the state university. Husband is manager of Manufacturing Administration at Globe Union, Inc.

Alumnae weekend proved warm and sunny. Many of our classmates took advantage of the new after-Commencement arrangement, arrived on Friday and enjoyed two days of dormitory living. We all had a great time together chatting and catching up on activities of the last twenty-five years.

Those who were able to attend were: Anita Mangels Sampson, Barbara Krause Casey, Betsy McMullan Roche, Shirley Candee Barry, Polly Redfield Potter, Jean Brigham Martin, Barbara Pearson, Shirley Perkins Tuttle, Eloise Moffett Harper, Lynn Nurkiewicz Nicholas, June Allen King, Shirley Wolcott Wells, Carol Wadhams Wolcott, Nan Mondello Stramondo, Marie Good Ashman, Elinor Kuchler Hopkins, Valeria Graybill Rellstab, Joan Hunting Connell, Elaine Towne Batson, Frances Beebe Jones, Eleanor Conlon Smith, Edna Lyons Gray, Alice Moran Leonard, Clarice Lothrop Davin, and Nathalie Monge Stoddard.

From the questionnaires that were returned, we received a great deal of news. Any of you who have not returned your questionnaires, we would still like to have them returned in order that the records can be brought up-to-date and addresses may be verified.

Jane Norwell Chamberlain in Atlanta, Georgia now has six children, ranging in age from 22 to 9 years old. Her oldest graduated from Loyola this June, her second daughter is to enter her junior year at Oglethorpe College in Atlanta, and number three child enters Sacred Heart College in North Carolina in the fall. Jane's husband, Bill, was transferred to Atlanta as National Contract Sales Manager for E.T. Barwick Mills, two years ago. She keeps busy with the younger kids at home and as president of her church women's club, entertaining foreign visitors for a community project, and with golf, tennis and bridge.

Ann Mazmanian Killian has one son who is attending the University of Mass. She had just returned from a pleasant trip to Switzerland. Carol Wadhams Wolcott and her husband have a lovely daughter, Wendy, who is now married. They also have a son, Samuel Andrew. Carol is working in the Bloomfield Library.

Shirley Wolcott Wells is practically a next door neighbor of Carol's. Shirly's son, Bob, is entering his Senior year at Yale and daughter, Nancy, will enter Lasell in the fall. Shirley works in the Town Manager's Office in Bloomfield.

Trudy Baninger Duquette has four children from 18 to 14 years of age. We were sorry to learn that Trudy's husband passed away in 1960, and extend our belated sympathy. Trudy's older son has just completed his freshman year at Parsons College, Marlou is a sophomore at the Howard School for Girls in West Bridgewater, Mass. and will enter St. Margaret's School in Waterbury in the fall. Nancy, her fourteen-year-old, enters Northfield in the fall, and David, who is 13, is in the seventh grade. Trudy has bought an old home on the Cape and she and the kids are having it restored and spend the weekends commuting from Bristol, Conn. to the Cape.

Betty Gorton Collier has four children. Betsy and Paul have just completed their Freshmen years at Connecticut College and Yale, respectively. Ann is a high school freshman and Susan is an eighth grader. Betty and Stan lived for three and a half years in Scotland. Betty is very active in a project called Better Rochester Living. It is an Inner City project to help people purchase their own homes.

Jean Dewar Warren (Nonee) has four children. Congratulations are in order in their household as Nonee and her son both received B.S. degrees this June. Nonee majored in psychology at Northeastern, and her son, David, received his degree at Tufts. Nonee will continue her studies at Tufts and hopes to get certified and work eventually as a guidance counselor. Her other children are: Marcia 19, Kimball 15 and Andrea 11.

Jimmie Hickman Gant keeps busy as a wife and mother. They have three children. Bob is a sophomore at Franklin and Marshall College. Sue, a freshman at Bucknell, and Billy, a freshman in high school.

Betty Moore Young has two children. Richard will be a freshman at Hampden Sydney College in Virginia in the fall, and Ellen has just completed her freshman year at Stuart Hall Preparatory School in Staunton, which is Betty's alma mater. Betty's husband is in the hardware business in Virginia.

Priscilla Spence Hall and her husband are now in Florida. She is the Administrative Assistant for the East Ridge Lutheran Retirement Village in Miami. Priscilla and husband, Allen, had a great trip to the West Coast on a Conference trip and flew over 8000 miles in a week.

Eleanor Millard Parsons has four children. William is married and doing graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, Ellen is a freshman at Kalamazoo College, James, a high school sophomore, and Bradford, in third grade. Ellie does graduate work at the Chicago YMCA, and her husband is Dean of Rockefeller Memorial Chapel at the University of Chicago.

Elizabeth Duerr Brownell's daughter, Rebecca Elizabeth, was married on June 29th. Rebecca will enter her senior year at University of Mass. in the fall and had a roommate, Cynthia Knowles, who is a Lasell '67 girl. Elizabeth enjoys sewing, gardening, camping and traveling.

Janet Ryder Robinson's husband passed away last November. We extend to her and the children our sympathy. Jan's older daughter, Judith, is married and has a son. Nancy, Janet's second daughter, is engaged and works in a hospital.

Barbara White Sengstaken has three children. Nancy has just completed her first year at Lasell. Bruce is 16 and in junior high, while Shelley 10, is a fourth grader.

Isabelle Hunter Webber has three daughters, 18, 16, and 10. She is doing secretarial work and enjoys being organist and choir director of her church.

Muriel O'Connor Lee is secretary to the Personal Assistant to the President of the World Bank in Washington. She attended the World Bank Annual Meeting in Brazil with a side trip to Peru in the fall of 1967.

Barbara Schaufele McBride received her bachelor's degree after Lasell, and is now working for her Master's. She is teaching third grade for the second year and loves it. Barbara writes that her husband has passed away. Last summer she traveled to Europe and in February she vacationed in Puerto Rico.

Mary Franklin Woods writes that she is now happy to be once again in New England after 21 years in New York. Her daughter, Debby, has one more year and she'll be off to college. Penelope is thirteen. Frankie's husband is with G.E. and was transferred to South Portland, Maine, so they are living at Cape Elizabeth.

Betty Petterson Leonard, we are sorry to learn, is now widowed. She has a married son, Stephen, who is a student at Northeastern, and a younger daughter, Susan.

Penny Pendleton Howarth has been conducting Physical Fitness Courses in towns throughout Massachusetts. She studied with Bonnie Pruden. Her husband is the Executive Director of the Fitchburg Y.M.C.A. Their son, Richard, is entering his senior year of high school.

Frances Beebe Jones enjoys gardening, bridge, reading and volunteers at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. They have 2 children, Tom and Debby. Fran and her husband enjoy traveling and have been to Puerto Rico, the Caribbean, Jamaica and California.

Polly Swan Balthasar has two children, Janey, 16 and Bruce, 14. Polly and Don are in the San Diego area, where Don is Manager of the Islandia Hotel on Mission Bay.

Barbara Scott Wilson has five children.

Rebecca Elizabeth Brownell
(Betty Duerr '43)

Her oldest son, Scott, is married and Barbara is now a proud grandmother. Her daughter, Meredith, is going to the school of Dental Hygiene at the University of Vermont in the fall. The other children are Carol, 15, Barbara Ann, 11, and Ricky, 8. Barbara's husband is with Rock of Ages in Vermont.

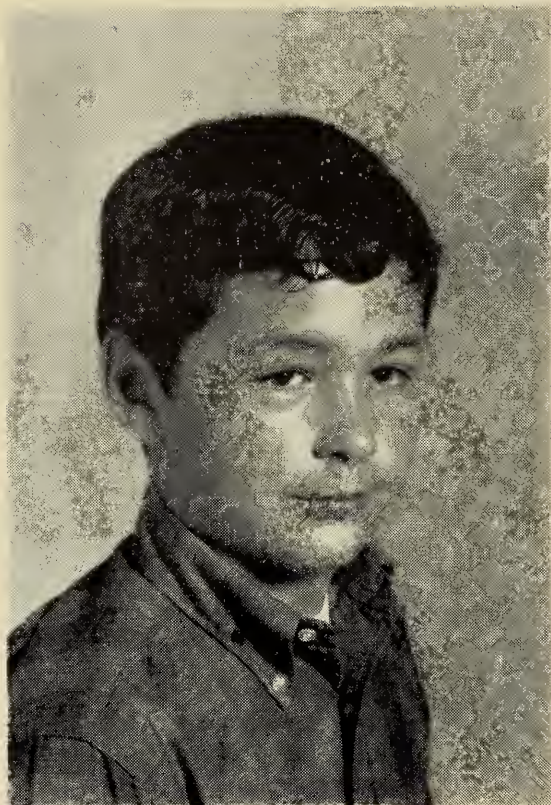

Ann Preuss Gillerlain has three children: Mike, Debbie and Brian. Mike is at Westminster College in Pennsylvania, Debbie has just completed her freshman year at Syracuse, and Brian is a busy high schooler. Ann is President of her garden club and a trustee of the Nature Center in New Canaan. She often travels with husband, Bill, on business trips.

Marian Rushton Miller has two sons: Rick, 17 and Jeff, 16. She received her B.S. at University of Colorado and is now working for her teaching credentials at California State in Fullerton.

Marie Good Ashman has three children: Patricia, Pamela and Geoffrey. Patricia is a Senior at University of Mass. Marie works part-time at the Peabody Museum at Harvard.

Anita Mangels Sampson has three children: Judi, 21, Roy, 17 and Kenneth, 11. Nita has enjoyed little theatre groups and likes to knit and sew.

Lynne Kuch Jones has two children: Barrie, who is entering her senior year in Needham High; and Bruce, a sophomore at Noble & Greenough. We have met Lynne and the kids skiing several times and the entire family enjoys the sport. The family spend their summers at West Hyannisport.

Brian J. King
(June Allen '43)

Beverly Harris is our authoress. She has co-authored a book with George O'Day called "Sail in a Day." Beverly has her own business doing public relations, publicity, sales promotion, advertising, etc. in Boston.

Anita Scott Wanner has two children: Suzanna, 19 and Lucinda, 16. Suzy has just completed her first year at Mount Holyoke; Lucinda is a junior in a New Haven preparatory school. Nita collects antiques and modern art. She also keeps busy with community projects.

Barbara Birch Manning lives in Westboro, Mass. and has three children: Deborah, Susan and David.

Mary Ledbetter Bastean lives in Houston, Texas and has two children: Mary Anne and Carol.

LaVerne Atno Olson's son, Kenneth, will be a senior at Grove City College, in Pennsylvania, and Kristie is a fifth grader. LaVerne is also active in church and community affairs.

Marilyn Isenberg Barnes is working for her B.S. in math at Monmouth College. She is taking a course in Computer Programming at present. Her children are: William, 21, Patrick, 19, Timothy, 16 and Jefferson, 13. Meril and her husband went to Wimbledon, England for the tennis matches in June.

Lynne Nurkiewicz Nicholas's husband practices internal medicine. Her son, Christopher, will be a sophomore at Princeton in the fall. Connie is a high school senior and Bruce is in eighth grade. Lynne's husband is so involved with the New York Jets, they all call him "Coach."

Nancy Wells Harris has three children: Peter, at the University of Michigan. Bob, at Western Michigan University and Carolyn, in high school.

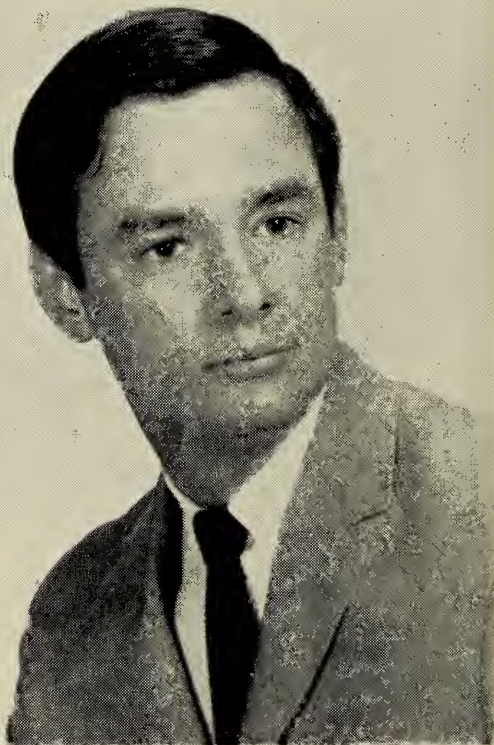

Eloise Moffett Harper is a busy lady. She is involved in the Women's Symphony Society, a group that helps Golden Agers, work at the Juvenile Detention Home and Court, Art Association and Forward Inc., a group working with militant, often-arrested Negro youth, to help them to get on the right track. Muff has two children: Jeffrey, 16 and Jill Ann, 14.

Shirley Perkins Tuttle is a busy mother of five children: Roger, 21, Susan, 20, Judith, 16, Janis, 12 and Stacey, 4. Susan has completed her freshman year at Lasell.

Edna Lyons Gray has three children: Jim, Martha and William. Jim is now a student at Cornell.

Barbara Pearson is working at Conrad & Chandler and has served as an elected member of the Waltham Republican City Committee for twenty years. She also enjoys travelling.

Patricia Rogers Brookhouser received her B.A. from Ohio Wesleyan University after leaving Lasell.

Michael Allen King
(June Allen '43)

Marjorie Langworthy Hegeman spends time teaching Sunday School and is Superintendent. She has two children: David, 10 and Susan, seven.

June Allen King has two sons: Michael, a sophomore at University of Mass. and Brian, who is in junior high.

Jane "J.L." Glassbrook Hamilton writes that she is now the proud grandmother of Michael and Michelle Hartigan, the children of her daughter, Gail. J.L. was traveling in Europe this summer.

Elaine Towne Batson has two children: Russ, who is at Worcester Poly Tech, and Sharon, who will enter University of Conn. this fall.

Edith Harrington Harcum has six sons and one daughter. David is in Veterinary Medicine at University of Pennsylvania, Weldon and Bill are both at University of Delaware and Dennis will join them at Delaware this fall. That has got to be some kind of record with four in college all at once.

Barbara Krause Casey has two daughters: Julia, 18 and Betsy, 12. Barbara spends a great deal of time around boats. After two years' work they launched an antique, 1895, motor launch, with a past history of rum running and Casco Bay mail boat.

Jean Brigham Martin has two daughters and a son. Both of the girls are now married. She enjoys her two German shorthair pointers.

Rosie Staples Conard and her family all seem to enjoy sailing and skiing. They go up to Okemo in Vermont for skiing. The boys, Hunt, who is at Colgate and Kyle, ten years old, keep the house active.

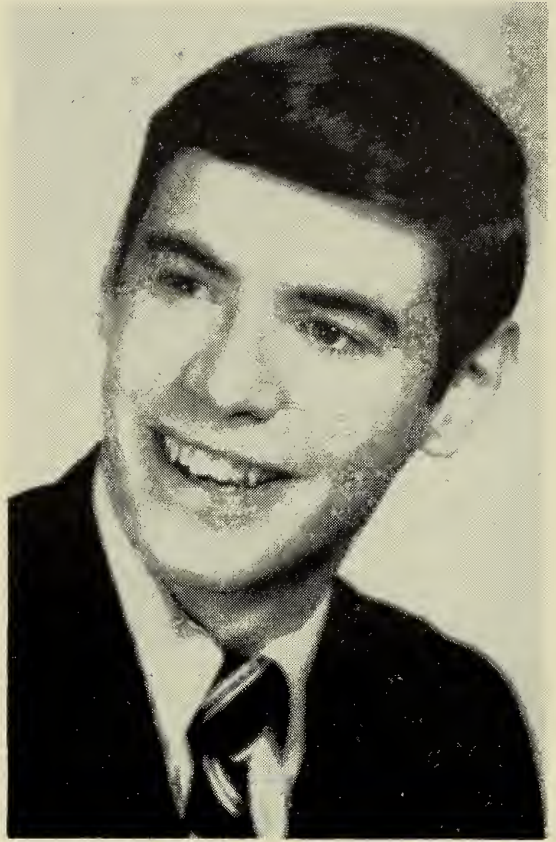

Jane Cook Cardoza makes her home in California now and enjoys it out there. She and her husband and the children, Gordon, 16, Bruce, 14, and Nancy, 8, all enjoy camping and keep on the move in their newly renovated Van.

Olga Costes Urban, a Navy wife for twenty years, has lived with the family on Guam and for three years in England, in addition to many other Navy bases. Tom will be off to Amherst in the fall, and Cindy, 12, is blonde and blue-eyed. Olga's husband, John, will be retired from the Navy this summer, but they will remain in Arlington.

Doris Irving Plummer has a daughter, Nancy, who will enter Colby Junior in the fall. Doris is Business Manager for a girl's independent school. She writes that her husband, John, has passed away.

Jean Hunting Connell and her husband both traveled from Albany to be at the Reunion.

Eleanor Conlon Smith and her husband, Jim, have a young son, Jackie, and now live in Chelmsford, Mass.

Tom Urban
(Olga Costes '43)

Valerie Graybill Rellstab lost her husband, Herman, in June 1967. She has two children, Debra and Douglas; and is a school library secretary.

Ellie Kuchler Hopkins lives on a farm in Katonah, N.Y. with her husband, Ferd, and children, Travis and Nancy.

Betsy McMullan Roche returned to Lasell for the first time since graduation. She and Bob have four sons: Ian, Peter, Geoffrey and Michael, and a daughter, Leslie. Bob is with Zippo in Toronto, and he and Betsy are both active in politics as a hobby in Canada. Betsy's mother is now living in England, as is her brother.

Shirley Candee Barry has three children: Candee, Nancy and Wendy. Shirl worked for the art department of an advertising agency in New York after leaving Lasell.

Polly Redfield Potter and her husband have a son, Christopher, who is now 22.

Esther Roth Garbe is a dietitian at the White Plains hospital.

Alice Moran Leonard has two sons. The older boy is at the University of New Hampshire and the younger boy is in high school. Alice is working as a decorator at Jordan Marsh's new store in Burlington, Mass.

Patricia Ann and Deborah Jean Lee
(Mary Small '48)

Nan Mondello Stramondo and Sam have a little girl, Lesa, who is seven. Nan was executive secretary to famed physician, Dr. Richard Overholt, at the Deaconess Hospital, until her marriage.

Nat Monge Stoddard has three children. Meredith will be a senior at Ithaca College, majoring in speech therapy and pathology, Jan will enter Colby Junior in the fall, and David is a high school sophomore. We all enjoy skiing in the winter and swimming in the summer. Church and community activities seem to keep us very busy, with a special interest in the American Field Service exchange student program. Reunion was fun and we wish more could have attended, but it is a very busy time for all, we realize. A special thanks to Nan Stramondo, Polly Potter, and Fran Jones for helping me with the plans.

1948

The Class of 1948 had a jolly good Reunion. Those attending were: Lois McLucas Martin, Elaine Burrell King, Norma Noyes Bouchard, Ginny Chinian Alyanakian, Sophie Cramer Stewart, Mayanne Murray Lynch, Cora Lou Buffum Hall, Mary Small Lee, Sophie Sofronas Johnson, Veronica Aslanian Blacquier, Dotty Page Kuehl, Joanne Block Nichols, Jeanne Williams Walz, Linnea Kneller Mix, Barbara Street Berry, Freda Alexander, Connie Barry, Chris Laaby Wellemeyer, and Norma Demerjian Barmakian. Lois McLucas Martin, who drove from Doylestown, Pennsylvania, won the prize for the greatest distance travelled.

Unfortunately, time did not permit a formal and general announcement at the Alumnae Luncheon. The Beryl Groff Memorial Fund was donated to the New Library; six books of painting have been purchased; each volume marked with a memorial plate. The Skira Art Books include three volumes of Italian Painting, two volumes of Spanish Painting and one volume of Gothic Painting.

Those of us who "never say goodbye" went to the Holiday Inn for cocktails and dinner. We took pictures beside the pool, swapped tales of various interesting experiences and opinions. We even had a very interesting elevator ride.

Many thanks to classmates who returned questionnaires. Those who "just forgot," please drop me a line.

... Mary Small Lee

It was simply GREAT to see the gals who attended our 10th Reunion. Only wish more might have joined us. Those present at the luncheon included:

Sandy Fookes Adler, who is married to a Lt. Com. in the Navy. Sandy says they moved more than a dozen times since their marriage, now live in Gales Ferry, Conn., where Sandy—in addition to her duties as housewife and mother—finds time for Cub Scouts, church secretarial work and choir. She and Roy have three children, two boys and a girl.

Nan McAuliffe Clare is a medical secretary. She and husband Arthur live in Arlington, Mass.

Pat Woolley Cronin lives in Old Saybrook, Conn.

Susan Clary Delahunt lives in Norwell, Mass. Her five children (four boys and a girl) range in ages from eight years to six months.

Jean Wynott Delahunt (she and Susan Clary are sisters-in-law) also lives in Norwell. Jean has three children—two girls and one boy.

Melanie Grill Dufine is a lingerie designer in New York City.

Nancy Cincotti Emmons lives in Newton, Mass. with her husband and their two children, Randy and Howie. During the school year, Nancy is a part-time varityper for a printing company.

Betty Anderson Fairchild lives in West Hartford, Conn. She has three sons; is busy with PTA activities, Junior League (of which she was president for two years), bridge clubs and church groups.

Meade Simpson Fasciano and her dentist-husband live in Reading, Mass. They have two daughters and a son.

Connie Baker George and family live in Amherst, N. H. Her husband is an engineer; they have two children. Connie is a member of the Board of the League of Women Voters and of the Junior Women's Club.

Sue Allen Good lives in Lexington, Mass. Her husband is a school teacher; the twin boys are seven; a daughter is six and youngest son is four.

Cynthia Clary Grace lives in Wellesley, Mass.; has three children.

Ginny Huelsen Hayden lives in Newton, Mass. Her five children make for a very busy household.

Donna Purrington Keith lives in Fairfield, Conn.; has three children—two sons and one daughter. She is a past president of the Lasell Alumnae Club in Fairfield County. Donna's other activities include Newcomers' Group, Junior Women's Club, bridge and guitar lessons.

Laurel Krebs, who received an advanced degree from the Drexel Institute of Technology, does personnel work in Boston.

Judy Gray Lane lives in West Peabody, Mass.

Brenda Weinstein Less lives in Peabody, Mass.; has two sons. Her husband is a school psychologist for the town of Peabody.

Gail Jackson is now a celebrity. Using the professional name of "Loring," Gail enjoys a busy singing engagement schedule in New York, Boston and Canadian cities.

Elaine Tracey McCarthy and husband are "loving" their new home in Abington, Mass. An acre of land provides plenty of room for their three children (two sons and a daughter) and for their large collie, Brandy. Elaine writes: "Debbie is our little dancer—she really loves tap and ballet; Paul, Jr., the baseball player; and Kevin, the chief mischief maker."

Marsha Singer Marshall lives in Framingham, Mass. She has two daughters and a son.

Janet Hicks McCoy lives in Salem, N. H. Early in 1966 the entire family (Janet, husband, son and daughter) traveled through Europe; visited relatives in Ireland.

Mary-Lou Riordon McLean lives in Marshfield, Mass.; has a son and daughter. Mary-Lou was a much-appreciated volunteer Reunion worker.

Jan McPherson Pretto came with Betty Anderson Fairchild.

Lynne Mahoney Simmonds lives in Danvers, Mass.; has three children. Lynne teaches Sunday School and is active in local church work.

Barbara Bronstein Wolsky lives in Danvers, Mass. Two sons keep her more than busy.

Judy Butler Weppel admits that "life is wonderful" in Fairfield, Conn. with her husband and son. Judy has recently retired as president of the Fairfield County Alumnae group.

As for myself—Marion Heinsohn Mitchell: after seven years of living in Newton, Doug and I, with our two sons, have just moved to a new home in Wayland, Mass. Am kept busy with my husband's secretarial work and with the activities of Scott and Glenn. Have enjoyed working with the Alumnae Bazaar Committees.

Joining the Class of 1958 at the evening party at Colonial Ten Acres in Wayland were:

Barbara Allen Bibbo and husband Tony. They have a son and a daughter; live in Wellesley Hills. Barbara is a part-time secretary in her husband's office.

Mary Landini Doyle and husband Edward. With their three daughters they live in Dedham.

Helen (Duff) Mowat Hirst and husband Paul came from Wollaston.

Alba Spinale Kenney and husband Bob live in Bedford, Mass. Alba and Bob have three children, two daughters and one son.

Sandy Wilson Joyce came with husband John. Sandy is more than busy with their three sons, Scott (3) and the 16-months-old twins.

Sandra Sheller Lewis and Bill came for a "vacation" weekend from Philadelphia. They have one daughter.

Barbara Clark Owen and husband Ray live in Needham with their two sons and a daughter.

Betty Wellington Travers and husband Tom live in Greenville, Rhode Island; they have one daughter.

News from the questionnaires from classmates unable to attend Reunion will be compiled for a later issue of the LEAVES. If you have not returned your questionnaire, please be sure to send it early in the New Year. My new address is 22 Westway Road, Wayland, Mass. 01778.

1963

A lucky 13 members of the Class of 1963 met for their fifth Reunion this past June, reports co-ordinator of events, Susan Nanry Ferriman. The group attended the Buffet Luncheon and Library Dedication on campus, and enjoyed an evening banquet at The Highlands Restaurant in Newton.

Highlights from the many questionnaires received, include the following:

Mildred Panetti Gibson, and dentist husband, David, are living on a Navajo Indian reservation in Arizona. She writes: "We are 50 miles one way from a store and 200 miles from a big city . . . there are many points of interest here; the land is most educational. We took a nine-hour, sixteen-mile mule trip to the bottom of Grand Canyon—how thrilling to see thousands of years of rock. We had a great but sore trip.

"Navajo people are interesting to help. their culture is so foreign to ours, but they are slowly accepting our educational and medical assistance. Dave is responsible for the dental health of three schools and occasionally offers medical aid. The physician comes here once a week from sixty miles away. I plan to work in a mission hospital as soon as an opening is available. As of May '68, there seems to be no shortage of teachers or nurses on the reservation.

"Indian arts and crafts are indeed lovely. We are starting a small collection. All in all, experiencing a marvelous two years (time's up June 1969) but looking forward to return to the East. If anyone would like more information, please feel free to write me: Mrs. David Gibson, Lower Greasewood Health Station, Ganado, Arizona 86505."

Happily married with one or more babies are Massachusettsites: Hedwig Mozden Wands of Agawam; Priscilla Dorman Kirby of Wellesley; Genevieve Abbot McNamara of Melrose; Ruth Dunn Souza, South Dartmouth; Bonnie Campbell Waterhouse, Chelmsford; Sandra Damigella Nelson, Melrose; Lorna Melnick Macdonald, Brookline; Bonnie Storer Ouellette, Waltham.

In Connecticut, 1963 Lasell mothers include: Carol Schaller Rooney, Wethersfield; Ellen Horwitz Roseman, Bloomfield; Deborah Begg McKinney, Vernon; Cornelia Bessemer Hatfield, Stratford; Brenda Altman Berman, Bloomfield and Karen Fox Evans, Hartford.

New York mamas include: Loel Mercer Poor, Rochester, and Marjory Prezioso Delaney, Yonkers; Patricia Lucy Bull is in Cape May, N. J.

Others from around the nation include Paula Ritz Curran of Hobart, Illinois; Linda Senter Wright in Thomaston, Maine; Avery Leach Bullock of Bowie, Maryland; Dorothy Andler Silber of Nashua, New Hampshire and Gail Grange Johnson of North Hampton, New Hampshire.

A round-up of the singles shows that Judith Young teaches dancing and is a secretary for Randolph Mfg., travelled to Hawaii. Barbara Donovan is a legal secretary; Margot Harcher was graphic designer for "Family Circle" Magazine and now is associate director of the Mead Library of Ideas, New York City. Susan Goldman, formerly fashion coordinator for Saks 5th Avenue, now occupies same position for Stern Brothers, New York City. Martha Wright is an information analyst in Washington, D.C.

Claire Lipton Katz writes: "A brief summary . . . attended University of Massachusetts summer school, then University of Bridgeport until 1966. Married in September '66, moved to New Rochelle, New York in August '67 when husband, Jerry, accepted job at Burlingame Associated, Ltd. and still here! Love the area — so much to do — but can't get used to being away from New England. Since November have been employed as office manager, receptionist, secretary, etc. at a medical lab . . . love this job. Am active member of local chapter of Hadassah and Fairfield County Lasell Alumnae. Jerry is training for his private pilot's license which is quite exciting."

Working wives include Barbara Freer Urquhart, who, as an operating room staff nurse, works with an open-heart surgical team in Boston; June Swinimer Panuschka, a medical secretary for a surgeon in Norwood; and Betty Wild Frazier, who has her own occupational therapy practice. Sylvia Starr Irwin is a buyer for a men's store in Connecticut; Judith Higgins Schlegel, executive secretary to stockbrokers and Carolyn Byrne Lass a commercial teller in New Britain (Conn.) Bank and Trust. Harriet Shapiro Nirenstein does substitute teaching; Anne Klein Panoff, an executive secretary for Beechnut, Inc.; Barbara Zommer Westcott, a secretary in New York; Sonny Phillips Hall and Marjorie Myles Miller, both New York secretaries.

In New Jersey, Bonny Rogers Collins works for two doctors and Californian Bette Unger Kiernan, teaches the deaf. Michelle Roberts Turner, also in California, is an executive secretary and Nancy Sparrow Billings is assistant manager for Saks Fifth Avenue in San Francisco.

Linda Stevens Kupper is a passenger agent for United Airlines in Colorado; Ohioan Susan Ramsay Davis a secretary; Carol Boyle Walsh is a medical secretary for a plastic surgeon, moved to Florida in July; Joan Ray McClure is resident manager of a 63-unit apartment building in Falls Church, Virginia; Polly Lavin Fontana works for State of Vermont.

Priscilla Jank Merrill writes: "Couldn't believe our 5th Reunion was this close at hand! Following the birth of our bouncing baby girl, I returned to my job as secretary-receptionist to a well-known southern construction company. My husband is a full-time student at Alabama Institute of Aviation Technology and will finish July 1969.

"Last winter Mary Lou Colby Daly and her husband were stationed at nearby Fort Rucker, Alabama and I had a delightful time yakking with her. My mother has moved to Dothan, as my father passed away four years ago and it is certainly wonderful to have some family here.

"Would love to hear how everyone is, and especially if anyone is living close to Dothan . . . address is 113 N. Roberta Avenue, Dothan, Alabama."

Other news from the questionnaires: Sarah Hirst Zvonkovic spent time with Army husband in Taiwan, and then Missouri, before he became "civilianized" and now is attending University of Hartford (Conn.); Mary Lou Colby Daley's husband is currently on tour in Vietnam; she is living in Connecticut near her parents while he's away. Gail Ferrucci Camputaro lives in New Haven with her hubby.

Other "housewives" include Deborah Potvin Little in Wheaton, Illinois; Sandra Stabl Thomas in Middletown, Rhode Island; Beverly Benedini Schlanger is now at home in Barre, Vermont with daughter, two years old.

And finally, a note received in August from Susan Greenslade Brooks from Nantucket: "Hi everyone—Thought I would tell you all that we have returned from Alaska and are living on Nantucket. If you should come to the Island, do be sure to get in touch. We left for Alaska in October 1965; Dick was to be stationed at Anchorage. We were there two years; moved to Fairbanks for the remaining six months of the Army tour. Son, Seth Anderson, was born there on November 7, 1967. Last April 29th we left for home with fifteen beautiful days of driving."

TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL ALUMNAE COUNCIL MEETINGS

March 28 and 29, 1969

The Twenty-First Annual Alumnae Council Session commenced Friday evening, March 28, 1969, with a social hour preceding dinner in Woodland Dining Room. After a most elegant and delicious buffet, Marion Bredehoft welcomed all and introduced the head table. Miss Smith and her "crew" were applauded for their superb dinner. Marion introduced guest speaker, Dr. Harry V. Anderson, Assistant Dean of the School of Education at Boston University. "Europe Through the Anderson View Finder" provided a most entertaining talk.

The Annual Meeting of Lasell Alumnae, Incorporated was called to order on March 29, 1969, in Wolfe Hall.

The Secretary's report was read and accepted; the Treasurer's report was distributed and placed on file; the Auditor's report was read and placed on file.

Shirley Chesebro '33 Scholarship Chairman, reported that three Alumnae Scholarships, totaling $2,100.00, had been awarded in 1968-69. In the past ten years, forty-two girls have received $18,150.00 in scholarship aid from the Alumnae Association.

In the absence of Joan Kearney Cormay '51, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, Lillian Bethel '28 read the slate of officers and directors of Lasell Alumnae, Incorporated for 1969-70. Marion asked that the Secretary cast one vote for this slate as read:

President: Marion Nutter Bredehoft '55

First Vice Pres.: Sandra Shelton Fitch '56

Second Vice Pres.: Penny Rafkin Hurwitz '56

Recording Secretary: Betty Williams McGowan '47

Corresponding Secretary: Linda Nolin Ahern '55

Treasurer: Ruth Turner Crosby '42

Asst. Treasurer: Ruth Buswell Isaacson '36

Alumnae Fund Committee: Alice Pratt Brown '29

Mildred Bell Cole '31

Louise Tardivel Higgins '37

Scholarship Committee Chairman: Virginia Wolfe Perkins '44

Directors: Mildred Strain Nutter '17

Toni Meritt Smith '23

Dorothy Inett Taylor '30

Shirley Gould Chesebro '33

Camie Porter Morison '40

Marilyn Blodgett Hall '46

Kay Woolaver Parsons '46

Mary Small Lee '48

Judy Parker Haas '49

Betty Lou Foy Reid '52

*Marilyn Senior Legg '60

Nan Sparks Hunter '61

*Linda Foster Nixon '65

Nominating Committee for 1970-71 Officers:

Lucinda Nolin Johnson '55, Chairman
 June Cherry Bruns '42
 Lois Hutchinson Woodward '51

Mrs. Bredehoft then called Mrs. Ruth Lindquist to the podium. Mrs. Lindquist, Chairman of the College Science Department, and a member of the faculty since 1944, will be retired in June. In recognition of her interest in the College and in the Alumnae over the years, she was awarded a Lasell Medallion. Mrs. Lindquist was given a standing ovation by all Council delegates.

Marion introduced Janet Sheffer '69 President of the Executive Council. Janet's subject was Campus Life Today.

After a coffee break, Marjorie MacClymon '32 introduced the Alumnae Career Panel. The panelists included:

Carole Howe '67—Frontier Nursing
 Judy Gray Lane '58—Urban Renewal
 Jean Campbell '44—Executive Director New Bedford YWCA
 Adelaide Shaffer Campbell '36—Real Estate Executive

The after-luncheon speaker was Mr. Stephen Power, Account Executive with American Mail Advertising, Incorporated of Waltham.

The Twenty-First Annual Alumnae Council Session was adjourned at 2:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
 Betty Williams McGowan '47
 Recording Secretary

*Resigned 9/69. Unexpired term to be completed by Louise Pool Langley '46 and Susan Shaw Abbott '61.

made by Miss Alice May, Bursar—Lasell Junior College

1899

Evelyn Ebert Allen writes from New York City: "June marks the 70th anniversary of my graduation from Lasell Seminary. Not many can boast of such an event. I have watched with interest the growth of Lasell Junior College through the years and am proud of its achievements."

1903

From Helen Ebersole Swartzel: "I am almost 92 years old now—though can't believe it myself. Am living in a retirement home because I elected to remain in California after my husband died instead of returning to an Eastern climate. My year at Lasell is one of the happiest memories—love the College and am very proud to belong to her."

1906

Maude Simes Harding comments: "Two more of our small group have slipped away this year. Edith Anthony Carlow in the spring, after a long illness, and Lucy Wilson Errett in August. Lucy had been ill since May, but up to that time was very active as leader in several organizations. She received the American Library Association trustee citation as well as the Illinois Library honor. Memorials may be sent to the Kewanee Public Library."

To Alumnae Fund Chairman, Louise Tardivel Higgins '37, Mildred Peirce Wise wrote: "I am writing to you personally because I was so amused when my younger son, Timothy Fuller, who lunched with me one day recently told me that he had composed the letter of solicitation used by the Fund Committee this year. I send most appreciative thanks for all Lasell has meant to me and to my sister, the late Beth Peirce Bittenbender, and to our mother, Annie Kendig Peirce, who graduated in 1880. Mother was the roommate of Lillie Rose Potter."

Mary Florine Thielens Peeples "recently returned from a three-month tour—my second trip around the world. Have been giving many lectures on my trips with a table of souvenirs, native dances and songs. Sister Elizabeth (Thielens Miller) is now a great-grandmother. With a sixth generation of our French family of Thielens we recently held a three-day reunion here in Chicago."

Lilian Douglass Heeb '07 and Korean Friend
October 1968

1907

Jennie Drew Hinman writes: "Mr. Hinman and I find interesting projects to keep us busy and are in usual good health—considering our ages. Did so enjoy a letter from Fern Dixon Leahy with all the Lasell news."

1909

We are grateful to Constance Blackstock for sending a recent copy of the Toronto STAR. The issue carries a picture of Mary and Constance Chappell, twin sisters who received Imperial decorations from the Japanese government in recognition of the many years they spent teaching Japanese girls. They are the first Canadians ever to be awarded this special honor. The decoration is given to foreign citizens who have contributed distinguished service in the fields of culture, education and social welfare.

The twins and Constance (B.) were Lasell roommates—third floor in Clark Cottage.

Josephine Woodward Rand shares Christmas greetings from classmates:

From Julia Crafts Sheridan: "Think of you so often and say each time I go to Boston, I'll contact you — but always seem to be in a rush. The Inn fire has taken an awful lot out of me; I spent so many years there. Phil and I had a fine week's vacation in Bermuda last August. When I left Maine in November, I went to Hattie Wetzel Bryan's in Longmeadow (Mass.) for a few days. Mike Steinman Bryant flew from Buffalo; we arrived within ten minutes of each other. Wish we could get the Class Letter started again. Marion Hale Bottomley has offered to keep it going. Am looking forward to the usual frequent meetings with Irma Levi Levy in Saratoga."

From Julia Hamilton Peters: "Had a card from Tot (McLean Hunt) proposing a trip, which would really be a treat — can't leave Julius, however. It is lovely here in Coronado during the winter months, and most interesting in Montana the rest of the year. Sorry about the Class Letter — such a pleasure to keep in touch with our fine girls."

From Tot McLean Hunt: "Always so glad to have your Christmas note. Do you know whatever became of the Class Letter? Julia (Hamilton Peters) and you are the only ones with whom I keep in touch. Often think of our visit in that lovely big kitchen!"

From Irma Levi Levy: "Yours was my first Christmas card — and as always, a truly lovely one. Have talked with Julia (Crafts Sheridan) several times since her arrival in Florida; tomorrow we go to the Garden Center for the Christmas display and luncheon. I am looking forward to the after-Christmas Tea given each year at the Casa Mar Apartments on Siesta Key. The manager there is a Lasell girl — Bili Baxter Perkins '36. Have I written to tell you I broke my arm last April? Even now I must bathe the arm in melted paraffin and take exercises. What is new concerning the 1910-ers and Where, oh where has our little Class Letter gone?"

From Betty Martin: "Always very glad to hear from Lasell friends. Have had a recent cataract operation; now I can see to read, thank heavens."

From Marion Hale Bottomley: "I trot along at a rather slower pace — but keep busy. Mary (Bottomley '42) is Recorder at UVM! I do quite a lot of work at the Medical Center Library — but don't go out in the evening except for something very special, like a good Symphony Concert. Ann and family (Brett, 14 and Lisa, 11) come soon for a week of skiing. Grandma will see them at breakfast and dinner — and enjoy that!"

From Julia terKuile Brown: "Don't look my way — I am on the dubious list. Had to go into the hospital in August; am very limited in my activities. My young people are on the move — Barton recently inaugurated his second huge G.M. plant in Antwerp, and was decorated in the name of the King for contributing to the economy of Belgium. Dwight, Diane and their darling Christopher spent Christmas here — that was a good tonic."

From Mildred Snyder Grant: "It is always so good to hear from you a little bit before the holidays so I can really take time to enjoy your note. Living within two blocks of the University, I have found a few of the students, who, in spite of outward appearance, seem to be worthwhile and mature. I feel that it is the love of publicity and desire to 'conform' that makes them as they are, and that this phase will pass — perhaps even in our lifetime. Does anyone know anything about the Class Letter? Do you realize that in two years we shall be 60-year graduates? I am making the most of belonging to the group of '50-year and over' graduates from Newcomb, having worked about 18 years as a day assistant to housemothers there. the Traffic Lady calls me 'emerita' and issues me a faculty parking sticker for my car. Old age does have some advantages!!!"

And from Constance Blackstock '09: "Had a hurried but lovely weekend at Lasell in June when they dedicated the beautiful new Library. To my great surprise I was one of the fortunate alumnae to receive an award. I felt very much honoured but also very humble. There were several of my former students at the Reunion, and I enjoyed talking with them; rejoiced in their development."

Cards were received from Mildred Goodall Fairbanks, Margherita Dike Hallberg; from Mr. Jack Courtney, son of the late Mary Lumbard Courtney, and from Mr. Thomas Turner, Jr., son of the late Mabelle Shuttleworth Turner.

The Concord Trip — 1909

In answer to our request for help in identifying the members of the "Concord Trip — 1909", Winifred Whittlesey Knowlton writes: "The serious looking female in the back row, second from the left, with the air-plane hat, I believe is me!"

Clara Parker Colby thoughtfully forwarded an item from the Manchester (N. H.) Sunday News, which carried a detailed story of the retirement party for Lucinda Nettel Bangs. Mrs. Colby's summary reads: "Lucinda Victoria Nettel Bangs (Queenie, as we always called her) retired from newspaper work after forty years. She was social editor of one newspaper in Manchester; when that was bought and became the Manchester Union and Leader, she did social work as a member of the night staff.

"In 1927 she married Howard Bangs. He and his brother purchased the Old York (Me.) Transcript and started the Ogunquit Compass. Lucinda ran the paper for two years after her husband's death; sold it in 1943.

"She then returned to Manchester and became Society Editor of the New Hampshire Sunday News. She was asked to chaperone Miss New Hampshire to the Atlantic City Pageant; continued this delightful chore for six years.

"Lucinda wrote her own 'farewell' copy; concluded the story by reporting a statement made by a man in the composing room. He said: 'It is nice to be important but it is more important to be nice. And we all know that through the years, Queenie has been nice.'"

Winifred Whittlesey Knowlton '12
Christmas — 1968

1915

What a glorious October — 1968 — this has been for us stay-at-homers: The World Series, Three men blasted off for eleven days in space, the Olympics in Mexico City and last, but surely not least, our 1915 Class Letter arrived. What more could one ask?

A cheery note from Irene Ball Sill tells of having spent six weeks this past summer with her daughter in Pennsylvania. Irene reports that she can see so very much better after the series of eye operations a year ago. She now has two great-grandchildren.

Elizabeth Beach Bierer's daughter and family were having a visit in South America. One granddaughter was to teach in Puerto Rico; two grandsons are in college.

Katharine Bingaman Heron and her sister Hannah (Class of 1914) have traveled a great deal, both abroad and here at home, visiting friends and relatives.

Martha Schumann Laubenstein and her husband were given a surprise party when they celebrated their fiftieth anniversary recently and though belatedly, we would like to extend our heartiest congratulations. Although they do not travel very far these days they enjoy it through their four grandchildren's trips into foreign lands and their own children's travels as well. We missed some news of Ida Laubenstein Moyer.

Ada Patterson, in spite of poor health, is one of the most active girls in our class, belonging to so many different organizations and travelling so much. This summer's vacation was to the Gaspe Peninsula.

Florence Evans Valpey is the same cheery old friend who keeps in close touch with many Lasell friends. As Flos lives near the center of our country, she seems to be the Hub of 1915.

We were sorry Margrethe Bauman felt unable to enclose a letter for our Round Robin this time, but she did mention that her sister Helen and Helen's husband had spent the summer in Grayling with her.

Catherine Carter Rasbach's letter was gay with a "lilt in her note and a song in her heart". We are always happy to hear from this little girl who has a refreshing outlook on life.

We have a new address for Myrtle Brix Spangler (Mrs. Harrison Spangler): 1000 S.W. Vista Avenue, Portland, Oregon 97205. Myrtle found her large home too lonesome after her husband's death and, also, too much of a temptation for burglars, for it was entered twice, once when Myrtle met the prowler "head-on". A most nerve-wracking experience! Now she lives in a pent-house apartment overlooking the city with a gorgeous view of Mt. Hood. Myrtle is another classmate who loves to travel. Last year, with a friend, she travelled through Portugal, northern Spain and then spent a month in Morocco. Went over the Atlas Mountains into the desert far enough to see the Blue Men of the desert.

Katherine Hoag Norgren enclosed delightful pictures of her husband and herself taken, perhaps, on their fiftieth anniversary. "K" still loves to attend concerts, lectures and dramatic productions.

Ethel Murray Kuykendall is the same jolly girl she always used to be in spite of the devastating blow of losing her husband. At the time of writing her letter she and her family were worried that her grandson would have to give up attending Law School on account of being drafted for the Army.

Clara Paton Suhlke was good enough to enclose a clipping about the resignation of Lasell's President, Dr. De Baun and, right here, may we extend our best wishes for success in his new field of endeavor! Lasell again is very fortunate to have the gracious Miss June Babcock as Interim-President.

Vilette Peck Crawshaw's letter is missed but we are delighted we still have two of her poems for us to enjoy. We shall look forward to hearing from her the next round.

How proud we are of the splendid work Ida Beane Rice continues to do as she helps unfortunate girls and women win back their self-respect and rightful place in the community. We are not surprised that the idea of a "Halfway House" is spreading to other states for it is such a worthwhile thing to do. More power to you, Ida, in your constant effort to make the world better for those who need help and encouragement.

The best of luck to you all and "may you walk on the sunny side of the road"!

. . . N.W.C.

We extend our most sincere sympathy to Nell Woodward Collins, whose husband passed away on November 24, 1968.

1916

We are indeed pleased to report that Margaret Trice Gibbens is again enjoying good health. Enroute to Miami — after attending the 1968 Reunion Weekend, followed by summer visits with relatives in Virginia and Georgia — Margaret suffered a heart attack; was taken from the plane to a Jacksonville hospital.

Lavinia Fera McKinney comments on the passing of her sister, Pauline Fera '17: "She was a wonderful person, and had many friends. Over the years she enjoyed a close friendship with her former Lasell roommates, Dicky Buettner Janusch '17 and Josephine Burt Wright '17, as well as with Frances Hunter Roberts x-'18." The Class extends sincere sympathy to Lavinia and to Harriet Fera French x-'16.

Maude Hayden Keeney and sister Ruth (Hayden '20) had an April vacation in Nassau. Maude sends identification for the "family group" picture. Rear row, l. to r.: Florence Keeney Havens '48, son Richard, Ruth Hayden '20, and Florence's husband, Everett; front row, l. to r.: Sharon Havens, Maude Hayden Keeney, Alan and Philip Havens.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Jess Sheperd Brennan, whose husband, Mr. H. Mott Brennan, died on July 18, 1968.

Mildred Strain Nutter enjoyed a mid-winter vacation visit in Sarasota with her cousin, Lillian Astill Ainsworth x-'17. One day they lunched with Henrietta McCulloch x-'17, who inquired for many Lasell friends. Henrietta's present address is 1102 North Street, Peoria, Ill.

1918

The Class of 1918 enjoyed two reunions in Maine this summer. Early in the season, Mid Cary Hill entertained at her Belgrade Lakes home; in August, Lydia Adams Godsoe was the Camden hostess. Barbara McClellan McCormick and her husband attended both parties, as did Mr. Judson L. Smith and his bride. Mr. Smith's first wife was the late Octavia Hickcox.

Our 50th Reunion was truly very enjoyable. Wish all 1919er's had come!

Friday, June 13th, proved fun meeting all the "girls" staying at Winslow Hall; the girls and their husbands who were stopping at nearby Holiday Inn joined us for supper.

Saturday was a busy day. Wearing our class colors, a corsage of purple and white flowers tied with gold ribbons, our class was given VIP treatment, campus tours by car, seeing all that is new at Lasell and being nostalgic visiting old familiar places. By noon we were quite ready for the delicious Buffet Luncheon for all Reunion Classes in Winslow Dining Hall. We heard speeches about Lasell today — the future. Hearing, too, from those who were honored to receive Lasell's treasured Medallion. Closing the campus festivities of the day was the Reception at the Library, a beautiful new building dedicated in June, 1968. May I add, we 50th Reunioners decided to make our Special Gift to the Library. You will hear more in later news.

After the reception all returned to their various week-end homes to make ready for our Class Dinner at Pillar House. There we met more girls we had not seen before for cocktails, we found our places in a private dining room; twenty-four of us to be served a delicious dinner in such good company.

Ethel Ramage Lougee, our President, gave remarks of our yesterdays and today. She closed with a silent prayer and all joined hands in remembering the girls who have left us during the years. Sarah Hopkins is the last one to have gone. She in recent years had done so much in rehabilitation work after her own long illness.

Marguerite Houser Hamlin showed us good slides taken twenty and thirty years ago, scrapbooks compiled from our 1917-1919 Lasell days, along with more recent pictures and clippings of Lasell. All this kept us in a talkative gay mood.

Sunday we attended a delightful Brunch at the President's Home. This was given especially for our Reunion Class by Lasell's acting President, Miss June Babcock, and other Lasell dignitaries.

I'd like to list those who did come and repeat what all seemed to say "A successful Reunion and didn't we have a good time."

Margaret Stewart Bartlett sends "a few lines for the LEAVES. Mr. Bartlett and I still live in Webster (Mass.). He has an insurance business here, but when he retires, we plan to move to Eastham on Cape Cod, where we have a new year-round house. Am looking forward to an early summer tour of England, Scotland and Ireland. Our two daughters, husbands and families will join us at the Cape for August vacation. Do hope the Class of '20 will make a special effort for Reunion 1970!"

Dorothy Burnham Eaton writes: "My husband and I had a fine trip West after visiting with our daughter in Orlando, Fla. While in Sarasota, we called on Mrs. Bertha (Hooker) Willey and Helen Beede '21 — both blooming under the Florida sun. We also had a brief visit with Bili Baxter Perkins '36 at Siesta Key. After visiting Big Bend National Park in Texas (one of the wonderful spots in this country), we journeyed west and north to more gorgeous scenery. On our way home we stopped to have lunch in Glen Ellyn, Ill. with Peg (Perley) and Jack Downey. Old friends filled our conversation: Fran Adams, Kay Rice, Freda Griffin, Doris Brown. Peg is the same attractive, talented girl — we wouldn't have missed the visit with her and Jack for all the scenery in the West."

Helen Beede's summary of 1968 Christmas messages includes several Lasell classes. We suggest you read them all —

Anne O'Brien Ryan '35, a social work supervisor, is finding her task a bit chaotic these days!!! Her son, Jim, and family are now stationed in Taiwan; Paul and wife are in Gainesville (Fla.), where he attends the University; Kevin and family are now in Pittsfield and Anne enjoys frequent visits with them.

Mildred Birchard Pentheny '38 says Bill is now Manager of the Screw Machine Department of Gillette Safety Razor Company. Linda is in her third year teaching at Plymouth Carver High; Billy is at Higgins Classical Institute, Charleston, Maine — hoping to enter University of Maine or Paul Smith College of Forestry next year. Jane is in the fifth grade.

Gertrude Horner Mosher '32 is now living in Clearwater, Fla., at 1433 South Belcher Road.

Betsy Bassett Wells '38 is back at their old home in Portland and got settled just in time for Steve's wedding. He and Nancy are in their fourth year at Willimette University.

Ruth Rawlings Mott '21 and
Doris Brown Bergin '21
Santa Barbara, Calif. — April 1969

Ruth Upham Petremont's ('36) grandson, David Upham Bailey, was born last June.

Mabelle Hickcox Camp '34 said that 1968 was a busy year with their only child graduating from Middlebury in June and getting married in September. She is now living in California while her husband studies at Berkeley for his doctorate.

Marjorie Lind Maxwell '39 wrote that their son, Shep, was being married in Fort Lauderdale on the 28th. He's building a drive-in restaurant in Coral Gables and they are all very happy and excited because he's continuing what they worked so hard to start.

Ruth Fulton Rardin '40 wrote that Cynthia ('68) is now a full-time librarian at the Needham Public Library, with engagement and wedding planned for next July; Jimmy goes to Bryant and Stratton. Ruth still teaches Nursery School three full days a week.

Lorraine Anderson Crabtree '45 says they have a granddaughter, Kimberly Ann Adam, born November 16th to their eldest daughter, Carol, who is living with them as her husband is in the Naval Air Reserve. Marcia is 16 and busy in school and it's a busy household.

Mary Ann Mayer Hereford x-'58 writes that she hopes to try for more schooling this spring. Marieanne has been a Den Mother for three years and son, Pon, is a Boy Scout, Mike is in Cubs and daughter, Kathy, started Brownies.

Lora Lee Shin '57 lives at 126 Main Street, Northfield (Mass.). Lora is teaching at Northfield School for Girls and her husband is teaching at Northfield and Mt.

Hermon. Lora teaches 25 hours a week and works with the advanced students as she has two assistants who teach the beginners. Her children are in 4th, and 2nd grades and kindergarten.

Sarah Fletchall '31 wrote: "Last year I sent only three cards, did not complete the long Christmas list or notes. Enroute to Maine for the holidays, I lost my suitcase, which contained the cards I intended to write as well as many cards received before Christmas. Among other things in the suitcase were a few pieces of heirloom jewelry — of much sentimental value to me and they cannot be replaced. Shall spend the holidays in Maine with my niece and her family. Enjoyed last summer at the Sea Pines Camp on Cape Cod — my fifth season there."

The Elrod (Allison Starr '39) Holiday letter reads, in part: "Our family in Pleasantville (N. Y.) is now four in number, since Joanne is married and living in Rockville, Conn. Harold has continued teaching at Columbia and Allison has been working as secretary at St. Theresa's Rectory in Briarcliff. Carolyn is in her junior year at Pace College and Terry is a senior at Pleasantville High School. Family highlight of the year was our vacation in the Maritimes and Newfoundland. Terry, Allison and Harold rode many ferries and travelled many hundreds of miles of gravel roads to reach 'The Gateway to the North', St. Anthony, at the northern tip of the western peninsula of Newfoundland. We camped out on immaculate camp sites, sighted our first icebergs, visited many small fishing villages, and enjoyed talking with the residents. On our return from St. Anthony, we took an early-morning ferry to Labrador and Quebec. The scenery, though rocky and barren, has its own type of beauty. Finally, homeward-bound, we stopped to visit Allison's aunts in Nova Scotia, and to spend several days with her parents in St. John.

"Our plans for next year — Harold's sabbatical — are still somewhat uncertain, with a year in England being quite probable. If we should go, Terry would start college in England, and Carolyn would continue her college studies here."

The January 1, 1969 issue of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Post-Standard carried the headline "Congratulations 1968 Women of Achievement". Among the eleven women to be recognized was Adele Bigham Nelson. The article reads in part: "Adele

Nelson is an energetic woman with great empathy for the aged. Her work with senior citizens can be traced back to 1928 when she launched her career as a volunteer worker through Junior League."

"Since then, this tall, gracious and animated woman with sparkling eyes, has become a professional in dealing with the oldsters in our community.

"Perhaps her most significant achievement is one which began 18 years ago and continues even today. Mrs. Nelson was on hand when the Corinthian Foundation Inc., established the Wagon Wheel Senior Citizens Center in 1951, to fill a great unmet community need. In the past 13 years, she has served as vice chairman and board member of the Wagon Wheel.

"Mrs. Nelson, executive director of the Corinthian Foundation and the Wagon Wheel since 1963, has piloted a broadly diversified program for the center's membership which has increased from an initial 60 to more than 1,200.

"Succeeding Mrs. Marcelle G. Levy as executive secretary of the Council on Aging, a division of the Council of Social Agencies, she is a founder of Meals on Wheels, a supportive service project of the council, which supplies hot meals for shut-ins.

"Representing Central New York on a five man State Council on Recreation for the Elderly since its inception in 1956, she continues to encourage the establishment and operation of municipal recreational programs for older men and women — programs which can qualify for state aid.

"Working with the New York State Legislative Committee on Problems of the Aging, she served as the editor of the State Directory of Golden Age Clubs and Day Centers. For six years, she was director of the Senior Citizens' Center at the New York State Exposition, sponsored jointly by the legislative committee on problems of the aging and the state office for the aging.

"When the Council for the Aged was eliminated, she continued with similar duties as planning associate for the aging for the United Community Chest and Council of Onondaga County.

"To fill a gap in the field of leisure time activities left by the termination of the Council on Aging, she established the Council on Recreation and Education for Senior Citizens in Onondaga County. Projects initiated under her leadership include the weekly column in the Post-Standard, "Silver and Gold," which publicizes activities and information for and about senior citizens.

From 1924

"The recipient of the 1963 Rotary Community Service Award for her work in the field of the aging, Mrs. Nelson is a member of the National Council on Aging as well as the Gerontological Society."

Mrs. Nelson attributes her success to the discipline of her Junior League training, to the understanding and encouragement of her children and her late husband.

Lasell proudly adds her congratulations to Adele and to her daughter, Diane Nelson Cowan '51.

To Lois Bryant Warner the holiday greetings brought news from classmates:

Helen Wahlquist Shennig and her new husband have moved to Ft. Myers, Florida. Helen retired as Town Clerk of Granby, Conn. last summer.

Ruby Holabird Keeler, who now lives in Ridgefield, Conn., had a joyous reunion with her youngest son, who returned from Vietnam in September after five months of silence. Ruby's four children and 10 grandchildren were together for the first time in four years.

Estelle Jenney is very busy in her "retirement", keeping her hand in one day a week on her old job, enjoying Boston Symphony concerts and monthly Travelogues and keeping in step with her 83-year-old mother.

Edna Hart Hoyt also has problems keeping up with her 82-year-old mother, who travelled with a friend on a seven-week trip from Boston to California to visit Edna. Edna, mother and friend are hopping to Hawaii for a look-see. Back in the fall, Edna and husband, Ken, travelled East again, through Nevada, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona — Mesa Verde National Park and south rim of the Grand Canyon. Edna is a strong rooter for the beauty of our own U.S.A.

Barbara Cushing Jenkins is still dividing much of her time between her three married sons. Spent the holidays with the youngest, Richard and his wife, who live in Michigan.

Josephine Miller Berry is now living in Old Saybrook, Conn. and enjoys retirement. She and husband, Hayes, also do a bit of travelling to visit sons in California and Alabama. They also acclaim the beauty of "our country".

Margaret Gordon Ferguson keeps busy in Troy with church work and Garden Club. She also divides some of her time between daughters, Cynthia and Nancy.

Christine Chamberlin Kenney and husband, George, residents of California for many years, may venture southeast again for a visit. They are looking for some of our nice "Florida" sunshine. We'll try to keep it for them.

Madeleine (Rothie) Roth White writes: "Have just received a letter from Anita Krakauer Doerr's husband saying that she passed away the 28th of August quite unexpectedly at her home in Torreón, Coahuila, Mexico of a heart attack. Her husband Phil was with her; they had just returned from a trip to Mexico City, where they had visited the day before with the Jack Ryans (Bertita Krakauer '24)."

And from Margaret "Andy" Anderson Gage: "The only news I can think of is that after spending part of our Easter vacation here at the Heritage House (an old New England home built in 1877) at Little River, on the ocean about 125 miles north of San Francisco, we plan to visit Minerva Damon Ludwig '27. The weekend after that Dorothy Hale Brown will be with us in Sacramento, having flown from her home in Fayetteville, N. Y. to visit relatives near Los Angeles."

Dottie A. (Aseltine) Wadsworth writes: "Hello again! Here is a bit of news of '26: Dode Schumaker Walthers enjoyed a visit with her son and daughter and the seven grandchildren — all of whom live in the North. Gertrude Moeller Baum writes that she and her husband (now retired) spent three months in Florida enjoying the warm climate; they spend spring, summer and fall in Connecticut. Gertrude had a good visit with Edith Thorpe Van Dine '27 and Helen Earle Potter x-'24, who spend winters in Florida. I am fortunate to have my two married daughters living near me and my four darling grandchildren. My son will graduate from college in June. My charming Mother is just wonderful and will have her 90th birthday in December. We all have a happy time with the four generations together. Love to you all and do let me hear from many of you."

Class of 1929

REUNION 1929

June 1969, our WONDERFUL 40th! Maybe this is not even an adequate word to describe it, but it is the one each who was there has used. Those who were not there could hardly be expected to believe what a remarkable experience it is to meet again, on campus, classmates of 40 years ago. Everything is changed, but just the same, too.

Auburndale has been added to and taken away from. The Massachusetts Turnpike swishes by and the railroad station is gone. The Woodland of 1929 is a community of new homes and a new Lasell dormitory. Beautiful Woodland Road is still a charming, tree-lined, New England street.

The new Woodland dormitory is there, right next to Gardner, and it is where all returning alumnae were housed. One whole floor belonged to '29, including social room and kitchenette. The 18 who stayed on the campus agree, it is the way to enjoy reunion the most.

Of those who have been returning, either regularly since 1949 or at least once before were: Margaret F. Allen, Hilda Doyle Armstrong, Julia Tiffany Brand, Alice Pratt Brown, Ellen Zacharias Cullen, Maude Williams Gittleson, Jane E. Gray, Marjorie Parrish Green, Myra Page Haven, Dorothy Cole MacRae, Emily Crump Ramstetter, Janet Kaufman Robinson, Betty Wells Tuttle and Phyllis Beck Van de Mark. Four were back for the first time: Kay Edwards Bennett, Marion Roberts Dyer, Helen Ohm Kingsman and Margaret Contrell White.

Dormitory living has much to commend it, even more in the new, improved buildings and without restrictions, than in our student years. Those staying on campus as well as others who came, made good and constant use of these facilities, during the day, in the evening and on into early morning hours. Seeing each other for the first time after five, or 40, years is great sport. Most have changed, some, in face and figure. But with recognition and matching names to people, comes the first fun of being together again.

Teddy and the alumnae staff, as well as the school, did themselves proud in arrangements for the weekend. Activities were well planned with time in between to explore additions and to revisit the nostalgic spots. The cafeteria is in the new Woodland. The room is large, light and attractively appointed. The serving line is noteworthy for efficiency and also the cordiality of each of those who served. Miss Elizabeth Smith, the manager, is a genius with menus and meals.

Saturday schedule began with Coffee Hour in the student center, located in Woodland also, ground level below the dining room. Each returning class had its own gathering corner, designated by class banner. It was during this time that class pictures were taken. The ALL Alumnae Luncheon followed. A splendid buffet was spread in the Woodland dining room with tables reserved for each class. President of the Alumnae is charming and gracious Marion Nutter Bredehoft, '55, who conducted a program of recognitions and alumnae business. Twenty-Nine, one of the larger groups in attendance, came in for a generous share of comment. In the afternoon there was a reception in the new library. Officers of the Alumnae Association were there, as well as directors of Lasell. Miss Smith prepared a delightful claret punch, among other goodies, for the occasion. The library is an impressive addition to the campus. It adjoins Winslow Hall.

The climax of our Wonderful Weekend was our own class dinner. This was held at The Highlands in Newton. Here again, the management of the restaurant outdid themselves in catering to our enjoyment. Teddy even saw to it that we had roses on the table that were a close approximation to our class flower, the Sunburst. (Florists seem to have forgotten about the real item.) In addition to the campus group, those who came were: Rosamond Cornell Cannon, Marion Kingdon Farnum, Preble Borden Gruchy, Verita MacLeod Haines, Margaret Wethern and Kay Braithwaite Woodworth.

Ronnie invited all of us to her home in Wellesley for the evening and most of us went. She has been disappointed that more of us have not responded to her offer, several years ago, to send her news from time to time which she could pass along to The Leaves for all to read. It would, indeed, be marvellous if the 1929 section of the magazine could be a source of keeping in touch through items and pictures. Let's DO it. Write to her: Mrs. Madison M. Cannon, Jr., 25 Sterling Road, Wellesley, Mass. 02181 so that we can be informed about each other. At a previous reunion, Ronnie was designated as our Class Secretary. Since 1964 she has been keeping money that was left over from the 35th. We decided to use some of it for a gift for Marjorie MacClymon, Alumnae Secretary, who has been so very helpful to us.

The girls who came for scheduled events, or who ran in during the day, some who did everything with us except sleep in the dormitory, were: Esther Angel Frank, Constance Chalmers Harlow, Marjorie Winslow MacCuspie, Marjorie Schaller Schoonmaker, Dorothy Hayward Sutherland, Barbara Goodell Trott and Isabelle Daggett Wilson. Counting all who were there at one time or another, there were 31, almost a third of our entire class. And we wished for each and everyone who could not be with us.

Among the unscheduled incidents were Mydie's spots of comedy, especially modeling the scantiest of sandals; Janie, playing and singing, newer songs but the same Janie; Teddy and Em setting off the burglar alarm taking the short way out of the library; and Zip at the piano, taking us back to Cap and Gown and Class Night days. Spread out in our social room for reminiscence and enjoyment were yearbooks and pictures from 1929, pictures taken at intervening reunions and the great stack of replies to the news-gathering form sent to each in preparation for the occasion. At all times cameras were clicking.

The bon mot for all time came while the group was gathered in the social room. Kay looked around the circle and remarked that maybe the ones who had been coming to reunions felt they knew each other, but that she had the feeling she had never really known anyone in those student days. And Marion said: "That's it. Come back to reunion and find out who you went to school with!"

Marge and "Mac" McClelland, our campus contacts, and also Magee, who still lives in Auburndale, joined us at breakfast Sunday morning. Marge opened her little package and seemed pleased with the jade earrings. Later, on a picture-of-Bragdon post card, she wrote: "The ears and I will remember You and Your 40th with much affection." This last meal together was pleasant and a little sad, because we had to say our goodbyes and begin to separate. All agreed, it was a remarkable reunion.

A covey of White Doves, Maudie, Betty and Marion flew to Mydie's home in New Hampshire following reunion to continue festivities there for a few days. Jointly they commented on the highlights of the weekend and Mydie wrote: "We all were in favor of the opening cocktail party, felt it brought us together quickly. We wondered if the passing of members could be noted:

Jean Ayr Baker
 Betty Barker Abondolo
 Katherine Bedard Woodward
 Margaret Heath Lee
 Kathryn Kimble Caldwell
 Marjorie Knowles Latessa
 Mary Korper Steele
 Clarice Liscomb Dykeman
 Nancy Mackie
 Barbara Powers Gans
 Dorothy J. Siller
 Jean Starkey McCarthy
 Helene Swick Brady

We did not know the weekend of the 13th, that Catherine Morley King died on June 11 in Evanston, Illinois. She leaves a husband, two sons and a daughter, and several grandchildren. The loss is shared by Lasell's Class of '29.

Magee took Margie (Parrish) to Logan Airport and Em went along to check bags for a later flight. It was a bad day for flying, and after a lot of problems Marge arrived home six hours late. But she wrote: "I really enjoyed reunion, but think I'll return on Monday the next time and have a little time in Boston. It would be nice also to have the Barn open for Souvenirs. The meals were delicious and our dinner at the Highlands superb. It was a wonderful experience and one to remember for the next five years."

Margie should have had her six-hour delay with Magee and Em instead of en-route. It would have been used to glimpse the changed, yet much the same, Boston. Prudential Center, Holiday Inn and modern City Hall dominate the newness, but Beacon Hill retains its charm, the State House dome gleams in the sunshine and Trinity Church is still in its place, though about to be submerged in the shadows of skyscrapers.

Magee wrote: "It seemed as though there was more warmth, a closer, more appreciative, more relaxed feeling throughout our sessions this time. Several gals that I never knew before appeared to me this time as lovable people."

In addition to the composite letter from the White Doves that Mydie wrote, Betty added another comment: "Still talking about the wonderful time we had at the reunion — it was the best ever. Looking forward now to '74. Don't think I'd ever get up north if it weren't for our get-togethers! It is a wonderful incentive."

And Maudie: "Each Reunion seems to get better and better and whoever had the idea of having it after commencement so that we could all be together as we were, certainly had a great idea. Already looking forward to our 45th."

On gorgeous, goldenrod stationery, Jan wrote: "Can't believe forty years have gone by. We sure didn't act our age and our sense of humor sure made the Reunion a lively, laughing success."

Teddy has been pleased with expressions of thanks from so many for all she did to give us such a good time, and protests: "I'm not at all sure I deserve the credit."

Times have really changed when our Student Council President, Janie, says: "The thing I liked best about our 40th reunion was, of course, meeting classmates and renewing old friendships. Then, I sure liked the cocktails."

But Zack, our "woman of few words", summed it up with: "Our 40th was Wonderful, Wonderful, Wonderful."

Truly a distinctive class, 1929.

Harry I. Taylor of Columbus, Ohio, has been named manager of the Worcester group insurance office of The Paul Revere Life Insurance Company. Harry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Taylor (Dorothy Inett).

Clara Dietz Rosenburg sends a new address: 770 Boylston Street, Apt. 12-I, Boston; and adds: "My husband passed away nearly a year ago. Have moved into town — at the Prudential Center. Am looking forward to an early summer trip to Europe."

1931

The year has proved an unusually sad one for Fran Wynkoop Benjamin. Her husband, Jack, died suddenly on March 14th; her mother, after a long illness, on July 21st. Fran's father died on October 15, 1967 in Saginaw, Michigan. Her new address is 1965 S.E. 5th Court, Apt. 207, Pompano Beach, Fla.

1933

Virginia Ogden Hayes is enjoying a new apartment at 53 Strathmore Road, Edgewood, R. I. "Alice is within two minute's drive and ten minute's walk — this is better for both of us — and Wendy, too!"

Mr. and Mrs. Homer A. Rawson (Harriet Smith) announce the marriage of their daughter, Susan Jane, to Mr. Howard Arden Zacur on Saturday, August 30, 1969, in Miami, Florida.

From Tucson, Arizona, Betsy Swift Coyle writes: "We are happy here but like to think that the day will come when we will be able to relax and enjoy the lovely scenery, weather and climate. Our oldest daughter, Dorothy, lives with us plus her husband and four children), so I have been able to truly enjoy four of the six grandchildren. Oldest son lives in the Chicago area; middle son operates a ranch deep in the mountains here (he is still single); littlest son (tho' he is the biggest) is finishing his hitch in the Army and is safely back from 'Nam. Our darling baby Helen is a second year student at the University of Arizona. She is engaged to be married and no doubt will trip down the aisle next summer." Betsy's address in Tucson is 2360 East Elvira Road.

Marjorie Shetland Bates announces a change of address — "We are leaving Arabia in late May; our contact address will be c/o F. W. Bates, Jr., 250 S.W. 19th Road, Miami, Fla. We shall be in New York City until mid-October; will drive to Florida, getting there by Thanksgiving."

1934

In September '68, Dell Masterjohn was among seven Johns-Manville employees honored upon their induction into the New York headquarters chapter of the company's Quarter Century Club. More than 500 members, friends and guests attended the dinner, the 39th such annual function, which was held at the Hotel Commodore, New York.

Del is a technician with the controller's office of the J-M Celite Division in New York. Since joining the company in 1943, she has also been associated with J-M International and Pipe Divisions, primarily in financial duties.

Nina Keppler Dusenbury x-'34 has been appointed program representative of the Newton Red Cross.

The Class extends sympathy to Edith Downey, whose mother, Mrs. John E. Downey, passed away on November 2, 1968.

1935

Eleanor Gebelein Greene exclaims "our son Gardiner Gibbs Greene, Jr. and his wife presented us with a grandson, our first, on July 3, 1968".

1936

A September letter from Ray and Bili (Baxter) Perkins, managers of Casa Mar Apartments, Sarasota, Florida, reads in part: "Buenas Dias: That is just about the extent of our Spanish, but when accompanied with a smile, as well as the little word 'gracias,' we found to be words most appreciated by our Mexican friends. On vacation in May we drove to McAllen, Texas, crossed there into Mexico. Then in the time we had, we saw as much of our neighboring country as we could (with a week in Mexico City to attend the Rotary International Convention). The roads were far better than anticipated; the people, friendly and interesting; and the scenery, spectacular."

Virginia Hall Warren sent an announcement of the marriage of her daughter, Janet Lee Theurer '65. Janet was married to Lt. Richard John Nelson on February 14, 1969 at the Mirimar Naval Air Station in California. Ginny's third daughter, Marilyn, will be enrolled at Lasell in September 1969. And Ginny adds: "We are moving to Atlanta in June — the real estate agent who sold me our new home there was Shirley Raymond Fricks '39. I was overjoyed to find my first friend in Georgia was a Lasell girl." The new address for the Warrens: 4989 Vernon Oaks Drive, Dunwoody, Ga.

Midge Reed Colley writes: "Had a good visit with Deb York in Florida in May, and one which included Jinny Johnston Loud. Had a great time reminiscing and we all enjoyed being together. We have a little granddaughter, Lynn Christine, born last October. Our youngest son John is now with the Army in Korea. I still work, and from my office on the wharf I can see the fantastic crowd of people here in Provincetown. Plan to see you all at Lasell in 1971."

Nancy Wendt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendt, Jr. (Ruth Keyes) became the bride of David Myers Graham, Jr. on May 3, 1969 in Tuxedo Park, N. Y. Nancy, a stewardess with Pan American World Airways, was graduated from the Masters School and in 1966 from the University of Colorado.

Early in July, Emily Hubbel Weiss wrote to Tap Tardivel Higgins: "Husband Gerry, our 14-year-old Emmy, 11-year-old Bonnie and I enjoyed a three-week tour of Europe in April, during which time we visited Holland, France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. The family returned home and I continued through the British Isles with two friends for two more weeks. In Paris we were shown about by our eldest son, John (27), who is working this year on a Harvard Fellowship getting material for his dissertation in European History. He returns to Harvard in September and in one year hopes to have his doctorate. He announced his engagement to us in front of the Trevi Fountain in Rome. John and Heather Bastow (whose family lives in West Springfield, Mass.) will be married in June 1970. Heather is living in London this year, studying the English educational system; will receive her Master's in Education at Harvard next June.

"Our second son, Rod (25), just received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from San Francisco Theological Seminary in June. He is married to Nancy Mahood Weiss, a Mount Holyoke graduate, whom he met while attending Amherst.

"We are a spread-out family. Star, our 21-year-old daughter, is touring this summer for nine weeks with another girl. She will be a Senior at Denison University in Ohio.

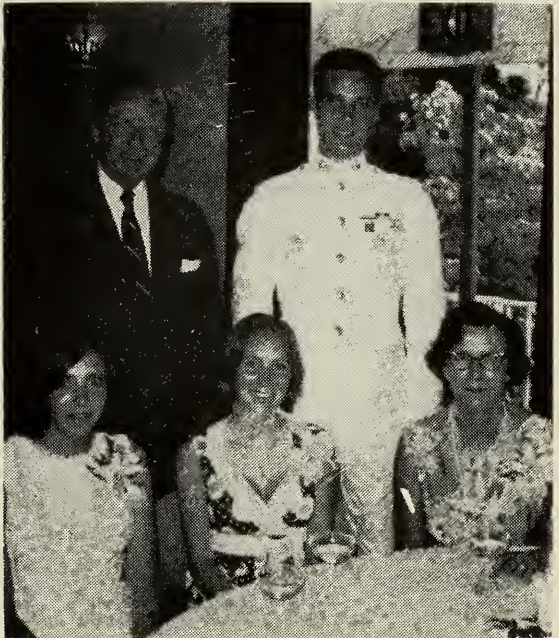

"Often think of my two happy years at Lasell, and contrast it occasionally, as I am sure many of us do, with life at college today. Do hope to make it to Auburndale for our 35th Reunion."

From the Christmas letter of Anne Campbell Terrill: "Our son, Jim, and daughter-in-law, Sandi, kept us posted during their months of Navy life at Adak, where Jim was assigned as Naval Communications Officer and Sandi was occupied teaching. We were delighted to welcome them home in September, when Jim received orders for a transfer to NSA at Bayley's Crossroads in Virginia. Sandi is already making excellent use of her decorating and homemaking skills; Jim E. his proficiency with tools in getting their home nicely furnished, painted and draped.

"Communications with David, after he entered the freshman Dental Class at University of Tennessee in Memphis, have been mostly by phone. Recently, he has been investing in several necessary dental instruments for class work — even the drill piece!

"Among our pleasant memories for this year was a vacation visit in Pensacola —

The Gager Family

so many gay times; then a pleasant visit in Mobile, plus a stop in Montgomery.

"Jim's work as Director of National Center for Radiological Health continues to offer a constant challenge — even more so with recent reorganization of many phases of HEW departments. After months of hard work, hearings, meetings, etc. it was gratifying to him and his colleagues when the Radiation Hazards Act of 1968 was finally passed by Congress.

"Some new volunteer work, added to two "left-overs" from '67 kept things humming along for Anne. Helping as Chairman of the Maryland-Virginia Team Match Association to coordinate the match schedule for the season, attend all matches and officiate at board meetings was a busy assignment. Church duties as a member of the Session, along with minor jobs for PHS Wives' Club and our Officers' Club used up spare time. Since August, a part-time job with a local hardware firm has offered a new challenge."

And a happy P.S. to Anne's report: "Lots of fun and excitement here with our new granddaughter, Kimberly Anne, born on March 13, 1969."

Dorothy Forsstrom Spotanski writes: "Would love to come to Lasell for the 1969 Commencement — I know the Brimlow (Irene Dreissigacker) twins are among the graduates. My daughter, Judy, will enter Skidmore in September — she will be near Renie so expect to have a visit."

Hersilia Baker Enz x-'38 is the Executive Director of the Taunton (Mass.) Girls' Club.

From Ritamae Hinchliffe McCusker: "We moved the end of August to a lovely three-bedroom townhouse at 3520 So. Wakefield Street, Arlington, Va. 22206. My daughters and I enjoyed a trip to New Britain in October, for my niece's wedding — and my parents 52nd wedding anniversary. Sorry I didn't make Reunion in June. The weekend was a busy one — daughter, Kathy, graduated from Junior High School on Friday and Nancy was leaving for a camping trip".

Anita Howry, daughter of Peg Jones Howry, was graduated from Monte Vista High School in June and entered University of California at Santa Barbara in September. She received the Gold Crown Award for a combination of academic achievement, leadership and citizenship.

From Audrey Slawson Drake: "Our oldest son, Al Dickinson, is a helicopter pilot in Vietnam. This spring he was married to Janet Lee Jewett (Lasell x-'66). Daughter, Ellene, is working at the Fifth Avenue Public Library."

The latest word from Virginia Allen

Hartwell comes from Bluebird Trailer Park in Los Angeles. Her husband, Giff, has been named by The Trustees of the World Radio Missionary Fellowship to serve as Television Deputation Representative for 1969.

Margaret McEnerney has been elected Commander of the John H. Collins Post, American Legion, Derby, Conn. She is the first woman to hold this position. "Mac" joined the veterans' organization in 1947, a year after she was discharged from the Waves.

1939

Mary Bryan Rooney writes: "Our oldest son, Gene, Jr., graduated from Georgetown in 1967 and is an Ensign, flying out of Pensacola. #2 child, Ellen, entered Dunbarton College of Holy Cross in Washington, D.C. in September. The three younger children are at home."

Jessie E. Page has been elected an investment officer by the board of directors of Old Colony Trust Company in Boston.

Sheryl McElrath, daughter of Peggy Fish Allsopp, and Richard M. Barnes were married recently in Chatham, N. J. Sheryl, a graduate of Chatham High School, attended Connecticut College.

Marge Dietz Jacobs was unable to be at Lasell for 1939's Reunion. She and her husband were attending their son's graduation at Dartmouth.

Peggy Christiansen Marbach writes: "Had high hopes of getting to our 30th Reunion — but there is a family wedding the same weekend. Life has quieted down a bit since John is not campaigning. As hectic as it was, I enjoyed every minute of it."

Louise Lorion DeVries writes: "Now that we have two granddaughters, ages four and one, I have gone back to college and hope to become a Nursery School teacher. Our Twins are juniors in college and Doug is a senior. He was a National Park Rangers in Gettysburg this past summer. Jim is a "Tour Escort Guide" for Greyhound in 11 western states".

Marie (MacGregor) and Walter Woodward drove to Houston, Texas to an automobile convention then flew to Acapulco, Mexico for a few days in February.

Mary Hale Shaner is working as secretary to the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Bradley University.

Jane Nicholson, daughter of Mary Doig, was awarded bachelor of arts degree from Cedar Crest College. Daughter, Ann, is attending Skidmore and Gale is a junior high student.

To Ginny DeNyse, Marvine Weatherby confesses: "Guess age is here — I am quite satisfied to be on the earth rather than rocketing to the moon! Hope to visit New York early in the year — trust we can get together."

A postcard view of London's Admiralty Arch was addressed to The Alumnae Office. "Just to tell you again The Reunion Luncheon was just lovely. How Lasell has grown in these twenty-five years!!! Am now enjoying my very first visit to England — with more traveling on the Continent to follow. Barbara Pearson."

1945

Cary Eaton Maynard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Maynard (Janet Eaton) became the bride of Mr. Joseph M. DeCenzo on June 20, 1969 at an evening ceremony at St. Mary's of the Lake Church in White Bear Lake, Minnesota. The bride, granddaughter of Mid Cary Hill '18, was graduated in May from Wellesley College; the groom, a Harvard College graduate, is a fourth year medical student at the University of Vermont Medical School.

see Lasell and ALL the many changes. Shall do my best to come for a visit in the spring."

Patricia O'Neil Messmore writes that "1968 has been a busy year getting settled in our new home in Concord, Mass. Time passes so swiftly it's hard to believe our daughters, Kathy and Ginny, are both in Jr. High School. Both love "noise", music, sports, especially the Red Sox, and horseback lessons. Both girls made the honor roll in school."

Janice Claire Sharkey and Lawrence William Parsons were married on August 24, 1969 in Belmont, Mass. Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Parsons (Kay Woolaver).

We thank the Boston Herald-Traveler for granting permission to reprint Laura White's recent story, "Impulse Led to Buying Home of Tranquility".

The house at 93 Main St., Hingham, looked like any other 1700 house that suffered growing pains during the Victorian era, and was waiting to blossom into 20th Century maturity.

During the 13 years that Dorothy (Papani) Palmer had lived in Hingham, she passed it many times without so much as a second glance. She was perfectly content living in the multi-level contemporary home she had designed at World's End.

"But one day, funny as it may sound, I felt a vibration, figuratively, as I walked past the house. I knew I was destined to own it. I rang the doorbell, asked the owners if they'd like to sell it, and last year we moved in," said Dorothy, an artist, practiser of yoga, and a student of the mysteries and philosophies of the Orient.

Dorothy's interest in the East is reflected

Nicholas and Dorothy Palmer
(Dorothy Papani '47)

throughout the house. Oriental music softly reverberates in and out of the 15 rooms. Ethereal and mystical, floral and figure paintings done by Dorothy cover most of the wall space. And sunny tones varying from pale yellow to a mustardy-gold dominate the color scheme.

"Eastern sages believe yellow is the color of wisdom and contentment," said Dorothy.

One of the first changes Dorothy and her husband Bob made upon moving in was to paint the exterior a bright gold.

Next she tackled the kitchen, and designed a rustic breakfast area and functional working facility around an old brick fireplace. The ceiling was lowered and replaced with old barn boards.

Pots and pans hang within easy reach over the work island. And there's a large butcher's block where Dorothy often rolls dough for homemade pasta — her specialty.

The Palmers like the outdoors and added a patio made with bricks taken from some of the Victorian homes torn down in the Back Bay and on Beacon Hill.

The Palmers are a many-faceted family. Bob, a graduate of the Coast Guard Academy and now in electronics, is an antique auto buff and has completely restored a 1931 Cadillac. The boys — Nick, 11, and Bobby, 9, ski, sail, play baseball and love music.

"They paint, too. When they were small, I used to set up easels for them in my studio, so we could all work together," said Dorothy.

Dorothy devotes most of her day to painting. Some of her works have been used as illustrations for books and greeting cards. But she writes, cooks, and plays several musical instruments as well.

"Everyone has so many things within herself, if she'd just take time to explore beneath the surface," said Dorothy. No two days have to be alike or routine if you develop many interests. And you never get bored. Bob understands and encourages my work. He even makes all the frames for my paintings," said the vivacious artist.

Bob is even restoring the old livery stable at the rear of the property and plans to make it into a studio for Dorothy.

Annette Chase Scribner x-'48 writes to Mary Small Lee from 42 Walnut Road, South Hamilton, Mass. "I loved the Reunion news included in the Leaves. You put a lot of work into assembling all that, and I am one who "forgot".

Lasell has been coming back to me in unlikely places. We have an old Victorian house in Hamilton and while tearing old linoleum from the floor, I came across a picture of Lasell girls — vintage 1914!

Last summer we bought a farm near Wolfeboro, N. H. The entire family pitched in to restore the house and we discovered a suitcase labelled 'Miss Joanne Eaton, Lasell J.C.!' The farm was the Eaton family homestead and it would appear we were classmates — Joanne Eaton Friborg.

Now for Scribner statistics. Because of aforementioned property, my hobbies now consist of cement mixing, paper hanging, etc. My husband, George, has his own business office at home — I do the secretarial work. Our eldest son, Scott, was a National Merit Finalist; is majoring in Physics at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York. Sandra, a high school senior, hopes to major in physical education. Steve is a sophomore and plays varsity basketball. Schuyler, 12 years old, shovels snow for a living. Business has been good."

Many and sincere thanks to Kay Poore Hamel for serving as co-ordinator for the 20th Reunion. The Class of 1949 initiated a new format for Reunion — the girls (and husbands and children) met at Chandler House, which served as a day-long "home away from home". A picnic-style supper was one of the highlights. Kay writes that the consensus of opinion in regard to the campus headquarters was "great", "fabulous", "most fun because of the informality". The following news was gleaned from the returned questionnaires.

FOUND: Virginia Byrnes, Mrs. Niels H. Fischer, 55 Chapman Road, West Hartford, Conn.

NEWS: Barbara Berry, Mrs. James F. Roberts, R.R. #2, Box 242, Lexington, Neb. Children: John, Dan, Steve, Virginia and Lorrie. Barbara a Brownie Leader, Sunday school teacher, Taxi driver (for own family), PEO officer, and enjoys playing bridge. Husband owns and operates a commercial feed lot feeding over 15,000 head per year. He is also taking flying lessons and farms many acres of corn and alfalfa. Barbara and Jim had a delightful trip to Hawaii early this year.

Betty Ann Felker Hancock hoped to get to Newport, Vermont for a visit with Pauli Donaldson Converse and to New Jersey for a visit with Pat Lane Harlow while her son, Peter, was at camp on Lake Winepesaukee.

Martha Hurd, Mrs. Russell Davenport, RFD #1, Tower Road, Shelburne Falls, Mass. Martha's children are: Marjorie, Christine, Barbara, Norman and Abe Jay. When not chauffeuring the children and husband, Russ, Martha is Vice President of the Ladies Aid and is expanding their Maple Syrup business — Martha makes all the candy and keeps the books. Russ is Treasurer of Cub Scouts, dairy farming, haying and sugaring in the spring. Russ is President of Berkshire Pioneer Maple Producers. Martha keeps in touch with Carolyn Lowe Jones in Philadelphia, and also sees Nancy Curtis Grellier at least once a year. Still loves to sew and daughter, Marge is rated in top 10 in Western, Mass. 4-H club.

Sally Morgan, Mrs. Martin F. Raftery, 18 Irving Street, Norwood, Mass. has two children, Suzanne and Lynn. Sally keeps busy with home, P.T.A., gardening and writing. Hubby is a Manufacturers Representative in Electronics. Several of the former Lasell girls in vicinity meet once a month for conversation and coffee. Included are Jean Wormuth Craig, Violet Drulie Dhimos, Jewell Ward Ganger, Frances Smith Macdonald, Joan Thornton Briand, Beverly Peterson Bentley, and Dorothy Lindstrand Magnuson.

Joyce Rathbun, Mrs. Donald Spadone, 66 Viennawood Drive, Rochester, N. Y. has four children, Donald Paul, Cynthia Joyce, Christopher Scott and Richard Allen. Joyce keeps busy with her "4" and a large 10-room house, also finding time to play bridge and enjoy her garden interests. Don is a lawyer and is involved in many local and civic groups. In May the Spadone family flew to Alaska for three weeks and really "saw the 50th State".

Jean Sargent is Mrs. Robert S. Lee of Box 321, Beverly Farms, Mass. Her children are Cynthia, Peter and Sally. Jean's activities include sewing, a part-time job at a local church, gardening, skiing, and sailing. Bob is Vice-President of Hotwatt, Inc. of Danvers. In 1968 Jean and Bob took a trip to the Virgin Islands and chartered a 30 ft. sailboat. In March 1969 they made a trip to San Francisco.

Nancy Sondles, Mrs. George Janiszewski of 1149 Colgate Drive, Monroeville, Penna., has two children, Michael and Timothy. Nancy, a Red Cross Gray Lady, enjoys distance swimming. They are enjoying this suburb of Pittsburgh very much and hope to settle here permanently.

Ann Challice, Mrs. Kendall B. Castle, 65 Poplar Way, Rochester, N. Y., has three children: Lynda, Bill and Douglas. During the school year, Ann works three hours a day in the school cafeteria; does volunteer work at two hospitals and teaches Sunday school; was involved in Little League this past spring and summer and is active in high school alumni association. Ann's husband is vice-president of a small glass container company. The family enjoys their cottage at The Thousand Islands.

Nancy Curtis, Mrs. Arthur W. Grellier, 35 Pennymeadow Road, Sudbury, Mass. Nancy's children are: Barbara, Robert, Richard and Alison. Nancy and husband enjoyed a Carribean cruise last winter.

The address of Pamela Johns Leighton is 858 Barretts Mill Road, West Concord, Mass., where she lives with her two children, Debbie and Chris.

Patricia Lane, Mrs. David Harlow, 6 Hathaway Lane, Lake Valhalla, Montville, New Jersey, has three children, Ivan, David and Jane. Pat does part-time secretarial work and is a member of the Garden Club and keeps fit by playing tennis.

A new address for Carol Dunn Polvere is 65 Gould Road, Andover, Mass.

Marilyn Weeden, Mrs. Robert B. Davidson, Jr. lives at 12 Crane Avenue, West

Peabody, Mass. Her children are: Carole Jane, William Arthur, Janet Ann and Douglas Andrew. This past year the Davidson's had an 18-year-old exchange student visiting them for a month from Norway.

Nancy Lawson, Mrs. Richard K. Donahue of 52 Belmont Avenue, Lowell, Mass. Children are: Gail, Tim, Mike, Nancy, Dickie, Danice, Steve, Chris, Tara and Philip. Straw, busy with the above, plus PTA, Parish Council, "Y" Physical fitness assistant instructor and plays tennis both in winter and summer. Husband, a lawyer, is busy earning money for the family, and serves on the local hospital's Board of Trustees; is active in numerous community affairs.

Jane Wadhams, Mrs. Charles S. Hazen of 10 Oxford Drive, West Hartford, Conn. Children, Betsey, Linda and Pamela; Betsey enters her senior year of high school in September '69. Jane's husband, an executive with Connecticut General Life, is involved with various insurance groups. Jane accompanies Chuck on spring and fall trips — which have included, San Francisco, Greenbrier, Hollywood Beach and Jamaica. Chuck is the 1946 Class Secretary for his alma mater, Trinity. Jane's Lasell contacts include Eunice Buell Earle x-'49, Pat McCarthy Treat (whose husband manages a nearby Howard Johnson's), and Pauli Quilty Connolly, her neighbor "around the corner".

Joan Nelson, Mrs. Werner Peterke, 515 Maple Street, Annville, Penna. Children, Erhard, Reiner, Detmar and Hamlin. Joan adds: "My husband has just completed exams for his Ph.D. in economics — now for the thesis!!! He teaches economics at Lebanon Valley College in Annville. I plan to teach a few art courses this summer in Lebanon — the age group includes three-to-six-year olds, so I shall take the three older boys with me."

Blanche Westhaver, Mrs. Joseph W. Gauld, Hyde School, Bath, Maine. She writes: "I would like to congratulate Louise Tardivel Higgins '37 for the very fine letter of solicitation to the Alumnae Fund. It was a job well done! My husband is the headmaster of a new prep school for boys — so perhaps we are particularly cognizant of the necessity for fund raising. Our prized possessions are Malcolm, 15; Laurie Jean, 12; and Georgia Blanche, 6."

Norma Vigrestad Schlobohm writes: "After living in London for three years, and six months in Johannesburg, South Africa, we are happy to return to the States. My husband has been appointed manager of export sales for the Jeffery Mining Machinery Company in Columbus. I am enjoying all the luxuries of super markets, dish washers, washing machines and shopping in beautiful suburban centers".

Nancy Bean Lord writes: "Still operating and loving Hatchet Mt. Camps. Son, Jeff, 16, a junior counselor, attends North Yarmouth Academy. Daughter Tracy, 14, ninth grade; Pete, 10, fifth grade; and husband, Jack is resident manager in Maine for Middlesex Mutual Insurance Company.

Lorraine LeClaire Ridgeway is active as leader of a troop of 36 Junior Girl Scouts; as a member of the Board of Directors of the Westfield Women's Club and Program Chairman of the Garden Club. Lorraine recently passed the "belt" exam in Judo and is working toward a Brown belt. Daughter, Leslie is also a judo student. She and Carl enjoy ball-room dancing and young Carl, III, entered 2nd grade this fall. Dear Classmates, Sometimes it takes a special occasion to gather us together to renew friendships. This is exactly what happened on October 11, 1968 at The Meadows in Framingham. The 20th Reunion of the Newton High School Class of 1948 gave me a chance to see several Day Hops — Lasell 1950. Among the first I met was that brown-eyed happy girl, Marnie (Marguerite) Nahigian who with hubby, Ed Sarkisian, were enjoying the festive time. Curly-haired Debbie Brush was there with husband David Morse; she hasn't changed a mite in her eighteen years away from Lasell. Debbie told me about a great train ride they had taken with their three children from Northampton to the West Coast. Anita (Angelus) and Nick Koulopoulos were enjoying the music of the years 1948-1950. Dottie Engel Brimblecom x-'50 and Monk told me with much pride they had a new baby (four months); their eldest, Lee, is a freshman at Lasell; Scott is ten. Nancy Shaw Foss is living in Wellesley, where she and Ira are still very active in Scouting with their three sons. Carmen Welch is now Mrs. Donald P. Clark; her address 72 Charlesbank Way, Waltham, Mass.

As for me — I am just like the rest of you, taking vitamins to keep up the pace and putting on a little weight. The job at the YWCA of Manchester, New Hampshire is a challenging one. Restoration work of our 1709 New Hampshire Cape continues; the three children are beginning to burst its seams with their activity. Our daughter, Deirdre, was a member of the Junior Olympic Swim Team and had a great time. She has gathered a few New England trophies, and we are all enjoying her miles in the water.

The Cormays
(Joan Kearney '51)

Dear '50-ers, when you come to New Hampshire, why not plan to warm your toes by our fireplace and your heart in our country kitchen.

Joan Robilotto Gibson has recently moved from Tokyo to Singapore. Joan writes: "For someone who never expected to travel and always wanted to, I have been doing more than allright for the past few years. Thank heavens, the children adjust very easily. Margie is 12; Susie, 10; and John, 5. Margie is showing interest in Lasell because of my talk, the LEAVES, and the newsletter — and of course, the 1950 yearbook! Right at the moment, I am afraid we will not be in the States in time for Reunion next June — but promise Jay and I will drive to Auburndale one day during the summer to see the many changes made during these twenty years!"

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Florence "Kelly" Mangan Putnam, whose husband, Bob, passed away in August 1968. The Putnams have five children.

Mr. William J. Donahue, father of Mary Ann, has been belatedly nominated and elected to the Sigma Epsilon Rho Honor Society for his scholastic excellence while an undergraduate at Northeastern University.

In June of 1962, Mr. Donahue was a much publicized figure because of his singular accomplishment in graduating with the top of his class at the unprecedented age of 57. As the press pointed out on that occasion, he was six years older than Dr. Asa S. Knowles, President of Northeastern University, from whom he received his degree.

Within the scope of the family, Mr. Donahue had his work cut out for him in trying to measure up to the standards established earlier by his daughter, Mary Ann, who had been graduated cum laude from Boston University and who had been elected to Who's Who in American Colleges for her outstanding achievements in the academic community.

Lillian Medhurst Meiggs writes: "It was with sincere regret that I was unable to attend my 15th Reunion. I sincerely hope time and circumstances will allow me to return in the near future. From all that I have read about in the bulletins, I am sure I would find the campus greatly changed.

As you note from our new address (801 W. Long Lade Road, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan 48013), we have moved again, but this time, not very far. After four years as Assistant Chaplain and Master in Religion at Cranbrook School for Boys, my husband, Bill, was offered an opportunity to teach Humanities at Groves High School in Birmingham, Michigan. It was an opportunity that he felt would challenge his talents and thus the reason for our move. In just a short time, it has proven a very exciting area both for the teacher and the students.

Our children, Wayne, a 9 year old with many talents, and Cheryl, a 7 year old turning from little girl to little miss, are both involved in a new school which is dedicated to the Continuous Progress Program, which is a far cry from my elementary education. It was with great excitement at a school meeting, that I met a fellow Lasell classmate Lyn Lyons Van-Handel! And it was an even greater coincidence to find that she and her family live just six doors from us! Lyn moved here last April — it was her first move and my ninth — and here we are just six doors apart! The world gets smaller with every move we make.

We find our summers just as active as the rest of the year. The children attend a six-week summer day camp at Cranbrook; Bill is a riflery instructor at the boys' camp and I had the privilege of teaching Arts and Crafts, which has been just a hobby for many years, to some 120 girls from 6-12 years of age, at the girls' camp. Two years ago we purchased a camper which has opened many new and interesting vistas to us. And so the years fly by!"

1958

A follow-up note from Bette Hambro Burnes: "Dave and I enjoyed our trip in the West in August. First we went to Berkeley, California where the U.S. World Games for the Deaf tryouts were held. People from all parts of the country gathered for the track and field, tennis, swimming, wrestling, table tennis and volleyball tryouts. It was an interesting experience for us to meet all the people. The team from Hawaii was extremely good in volleyball and it was exciting to watch them. There were forty people, 25 men and 15 women in the tennis tryouts. They picked the first four women and four men for the tennis team for the Deaf Olympics. We were placed sixth which wasn't too bad because the finalists spend all their time playing tennis while we enjoy skiing and golf as well. After touring in San Francisco, we flew to Los Angeles to visit my father.

"Our children are at The Clarke School in Northampton; come home on weekends and long vacations. They do very well and we are very proud parents. I have a little 'at home' job — am secretary-treasurer of the Clarke School Alumni Association. We publish the bulletins four times a year; plan annual reunions and larger reunions every five years.

"Occasionally we drive through the Lasell campus, and have noticed the many changes. Would love to tour the new Library. Very best regards to Miss McClelland, Dean Van Etten, Dean Babcock, Mrs. Lindquist and Miss Watt."

Joyce Stirling Wyatt has been busy in the Junior Women's Club of Middletown, Inc. She writes "I am a charter member, having served as Parliamentarian the first year and as Publicity Chairman the following year. The activities of this club are many and very rewarding.

Our sons, Marty and Doug, are growing all too rapidly. It seems impossible to me that these two large boys are mine! Daughter, Wendy, though physically handicapped, is doing far better than expected and we are very grateful and overjoyed.

I hope to return to Lasell soon — love the campus and all the memories that go with it. We visited with Marion Oliver Sutherland recently. She, Art and their beautiful daughters, are all fine. It was a lovely day — reminiscing about old times".

Helen Lundberg, Mrs. R. David Carter, has a new address: 15 Westmoreland Drive, Yonkers, New York 10704. Helen has two children: Marion Helen, age 10 and David Douglas, age 5.

Kim Steen Odle made the long drive from the West to East. She writes: "Husband, Bill, arrived back from tour #2 in Vietnam on March 12th after 13 months. In two weeks we sold our house, packed the car and headed to our new duty station, Philadelphia, Penna. We have found a house in Willingboro, N. J. on 50 Windsor Lane.

Our son Billy is 4 years old and daughter, Julie, is 2 years old and full of the dickens. Bill will be working with the Reserves in his new job and is looking forward to it.

On our way East, we visited the Grand Canyon, White Sands, New Mexico, and Carlsbad Caverns. After six years in California, it's nice to be east again, though I'll miss California weather.

Hi to all old friends — and anyone in our area, give a call".

Betty Hood Russian sends the following news: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welch (Nancy Morse) announce the arrival of their first son, Jonathan Edward on September 9, 1969. Gerry Weidman Wright has a new address: 650 Parkhill Road, West Peterborough, Ontario, Canada. Gerry's husband, who received his doctorate from M.I.T., is now employed by G.E.

1963

Ruth Dunn, Mrs. Paul V. Souza, sends a new address: 111 Queen Mary Court, Williamsburg, Virginia 23185. Paul Vincent, Jr. was born on November 11, 1968 and Paul, Sr. works for Dow Badusche as textile engineer in research and development.

Maris Kleinman Delano has been awarded a federal fellowship for graduate study in the area of emotionally disturbed children. Maris will study for a master's degree, at Southern Illinois Uni-

Judith Ann Cacase is employed as a Staff Nurse in the Operating Room of the New York Hospital.

Dear 1963 Classmates,

I have been thinking about Karin Skooglund's letter and have finally gathered my thoughts together for an answer. I wholeheartedly agree with her on several points. Not only was it discourteous for 270 members of our class NOT to reply to Sue Nanry Ferriman's letter, but it was downright rude. It would have taken but very little time to fill in and return the Reunion Questionnaire.

I also agree that a 5% turnout at the Class Dinner was disgraceful! However, perhaps Karin does not recall the opening address that Dr. Tewksbury gave on our very first day at Lasell in 1962. He was very emphatic that the next two years were not to be the most important of our lives and that we should strive to be good students while keeping in mind that our goal in life as women was to some day be a wife and mother; and to provide for a family, or to lead a rewarding life as career women. I am of his opinion and hope that all who listened that day are too.

Another point that has been "bugging" me for some time is the very poor response we have for the annual Alumnae Fund Drive. Among the class totals, ours continues to have a very poor record — both in number of contributors and in the amount of contributions. Let us all try to improve our image!

Bonnie Storer Ouellette
10 Wagon Wheel Rd.
Sudbury, Mass. 01776

1964

Janet Ramsbotham Hurt writes from Athens, Ohio: As of Christmas 1967, I have been writing a 'Conversite Letter' to all the 1964 residents. Realized after reading through Christmas cards that I had heard from just about everyone, and thought other classmates would be interested in what was going on too." Sincere thanks to Janet for the following:

Alix Boone Graham
30 Hillside Street
East Hartford, Conn.

Alix recently returned from a glorious trip to Aruba, St. Croix, Bermuda and New Orleans. Since the fall of 1968, she has been working for Allstate Insurance Company as a Personal Lines Underwriter.

Jane Boyden
21 Westgate, #5
Chestnut Hill, Mass. 02167

Since leaving Lasell, Jane has attended the University of Arizona and received a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Redlands in California. She worked in California for quite awhile in the San Bernardino County Welfare Department and returned to Vermont a year ago this month. Jane and I spent some of last summer in Europe together—Holland, Germany, and England. Jane is now living in Chestnut Hill and working at Filene's. She is planning to go to summer school to get her teaching certificate, teach next fall and work for her Master's.

Carolyn Fogg Yaekel
28 Bobrich, #15
Rochester, New York 14610

Carolyn was married in 1966 and worked as a buyer for a department store in Rochester and later in a bank. As of December 1, 1968, Carolyn and Carl have a son.

Barbara Fischer
1428 Evergreen Ave.
Plainfield, New Jersey

Editor with Glamour Magazine in New York.

Linda Giering King
1016 Sperry Road
Cheshire, Conn. 06410

Linda and Jeff have two lovely daughters. Jeff is quite busy with the management end of the largest Grant's store in New England.

Mary Jo Grumbacher
4455 MacArthur Blvd., N.W.
Washington, D.C.

Living and working in Washington, D.C.

Sally Hemenway Hall
Washington Park Drive
Norwell, Mass. 02061

Sally and Gordon have bought a home in Norwell. She is an instructor at the Telephone Company in Boston.

Sue Hodges Metzger
61 Genung Road
Ithaca, New York 14850

Sue worked for two and a half years as a Medical Secretary until Todd was born in 1967. The Metzgers recently added a daughter to their family in August '68.

Marcia King Boiros
1055 Beacon Street
Brookline, Mass. 02146

Marcia was married on December 7, 1968 in the Boston College Chapel. Marcia is finishing up her Master's in Social Work at Boston College and George is serving in Washington, D.C. with Uncle Sam's Army.

Susan Madigan Kobza
6732 A Spaulding Ave.
Ft. Sill, Oklahoma 73503

Susan and Gini Maley were working together in Hawaii until Sue's Marriage, May 25, 1968, which took place in Hawaii. Gene is with the Army until April and from there they aren't sure.

Jane McKee Rozes
1301 Hamilton Blvd.
Hagerstown, Maryland 21740

Jane and Art have bought a lovely home in Hagerstown. Art is with the McKee family's hardware business and using much of his law school background. Charles Arthur was born in December, 1967.

Linda Pillarella West
RA 11802111
HHO 8th Logistical Command
APO New York 09019

Linda finished her Bachelor's Degree at UConn in June of 1968 while Ron was getting his. After attending Officer Candidate School in Washington, Ron was assigned to Italy where they have been this past year. They have travelled extensively in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Metcalf
(Nancy Guttman '64)

Lynn Rosenbush Davidov
2209 Rogene Drive, Apt. 202
Baltimore, Maryland 21209

After working for a radio station in Baltimore for awhile, Lynn was married and they now have an 11-month-old daughter, Amy.

Barbara Zink Kanzinger
1931 North Cleveland
Arlington, Virginia

Barb was married in 1967 and she and Bill lived in Virginia while he was in the service. Barb worked in Washington and saw Mary Jo Grumbacher often. In August, 1968, Bill's tour of duty was over and they took a fabulous tour of the U.S. and have recently settled in Washington, D.C. Bill is going through a 6-month training program with the Marriott Corporation in the hotel-management field.

Janet Ramsbotham Hurt
59 Franklin Avenue
Athen, Ohio 45701

After working for a laboratory in Boston, I was married in 1966 and moved back to Connecticut and worked for a surgeon for two years while Tom finished up his Bachelor's. We have now gone through his M.A. and are in the process of getting his Ph.D. at Ohio University. I am working for the Vice President for Research.

1965

In early October, Sandi Perkins Jones wrote: "Upon graduation in 1965, I took a position with the New Hampshire-Vermont Hospitalization Service as steno-secretary.

Fifth-year Reunioners

Worked at this position for two years with steady advancement and recently received a sizeable promotion. Am now employed with the same firm as an Executive Secretary to the Director of Hospital Relations. This has given me ample opportunity to utilize the skills learned at Lasell. It is amazing how easy it is to secure advancements with good training.

"Two years ago this month I married Don Jones, a Connecticut native, he is now working in Concord as a funeral director. We have recently acquired our own home and manage to keep busy bettering our purchase. Don is now serving as Vice President of the local Jaycees; I recently finished a term as President of the Jaycettes; am currently a representative to the State Jaycettes.

"Have recently seen Ellen Bond Kane and Sue Childs Merrick '64. My Lasell roommate, Nelda Sogaloff, is quite a career gal. Her August vacation was spent in California.

"Mother (Jane Upton Perkins '47) kept very busy this summer with a new vacation home on Webster Lake, Franklin, N. H. Don and I spent our vacation at Nantucket and loved every minute of it. Special and best greetings to Miss McClelland and Mrs. Lindquist, and every good wish for a most successful year at the College."

Sandi's new address in Concord (N. H.) is 9 McKinley Street.

Marilynn Paganelli has completed the Trans-World Airlines training course at Kansas City, Mo. She is currently based in San Francisco.

Lydia E. Moissides is progressing well toward her Ph.D. degree in Organic Chemistry at the University of Illinois. Lydia writes: "I expect to receive my M.S. in June, 1969".

Joan Brignano is enjoying life in Hawaii. Her address in Honolulu is 1414 A Pensacola Street.

Brenda Anderson Gardner has been an instructor in baton twirling in Woburn, Mass. The course, sponsored by the north-suburban Y.M.C.A., is offered to girls from first through twelfth grade.
